

Students Vote On TUB Constitution

Members of the student body will go to the polls today and tomorrow to vote on the proposed new constitution of the Student Union. Voting will be conducted in the main lobby of the Union building from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The new constitution would change the make-up of the Union's Board of Directors. At present the Board has 18 members selected by the Board on the basis of prior service.

If the new constitution is adopted, the Board will have six members elected by the student body at large, and six members selected by the Board. The president of the Board would be selected from its members.

The constitution must receive favorable votes from two-thirds of the students voting in the election.

If approved the constitution will go into effect February 1, 1965. The present members of the Board, who were elected under the provisions of the current constitution, will retain their positions on the Board until October 15, 1965, at which time they may be re-elected.

Soggy Celebrators Keep Spirits High

Things were wet all the way around for Mackay Day celebrators this weekend. But although the weather put a damper on many of the outdoor activities, celebrators spirits were high and the spirits flowed during the three day festivities.

The celebrating was the last in college for those who will be graduating in a few weeks or those who won't be able to return after final exams in two weeks.

The big trophies given for song teams went to Sigma Alpha Epsilon for "Lonesome Cowboy." Members of the team were Bud Olsen, director, Sig Rogich, Tom Hart, Tod Brendlen, Don Hackstaff, and Rod Stuart. This is the second year in a row the SAE's have taken the trophy.

Final Drama Production . . .

'Waiting For Godot' Plays Wednesday Thru Saturday

The final drama department production of the 1963-64 school year begins tomorrow in the Fine Arts theater. "Waiting for Godot," by Samuel Beckett is a play about a man's search to reach his fellow man.

It is known as an "absurdity" play. According to Mr. Robert Strane, director, the term is used in referring to man's sense of purposelessness and futility.

The story tells of two ex-music hall tramps who spend day after day awaiting the arrival of a mysterious person named Godot. Godot never arrives. The tramps, Vladimir and Estragon represent all humanity in the sense that everyone is waiting or looking for something.

Beckett views mankind as being made up of individuals who wander eternally alone but still tries to reach his fellow man. Who Godot is, no one knows. Beckett, when asked, said had he known, he would have said so in the play.

Beckett's play typifies an anti-literary approach to the theater after World War II. The play's dialogue is sparse staccato style. Illogical sequences are the outcome of the writer's obsession with the "impossibility" of human communication.

The action of the play rises from the characters' attempts to prove they exist.

The production, beginning tomorrow at 8 p.m. runs through May 9. Seats may be reserved at the box office in the Fine Arts building. Students are admitted group was the Pi Beta Phi team singing "Wind Song." Winners were: Diane Beyer, Penny White, Karen Phillips, Virginia Frost, Jeanne Van Wagnen, Jacki Uhalde, Sandra Hay, Marcia Bernard. Jane Elliott directed.

Alpha Tau Omega and Kappa Alpha Theta were awarded trophies as the winning combination in the obstacle races. Each was given a trophy for being the first to make it from the Quad through Manzanita Lake under freezing conditions and with crazy antics to perform.

Gamma Phi Beta was awarded a trophy for having 100 per cent of its women dressed in costume on campus Friday. The SAE's were given another trophy — this one was for having the highest percentage of beards grown for the Mackay Day festivities.

without charge. General admission is $1.25.

Cast members for "Waiting for Godot" are: Mike Keenan as Estragon, one of the tramps waiting for Godot; Allan Crawford, Vladimir; Maurice Beesley, Pozzo; Jim Heron, Godot's messenger boy; and Michael Thompson, Lucky.

Sets and lighting are under the direction of Robert Ware.

Drew Pearson To Talk Friday Night

A big name in newspaper reporting circles will speak on campus Friday night. Syndicated columnist Drew Pearson will wind up the year's TUB lecture in the New Gym at 8 p.m.

Pearson's controversial column, "Washington-Merry-Go-Round," appears in newspapers throughout the United States. He is usually the first reporter to relate any "misconduct" in Washington to the rest of the country. He keeps a close eye on government activity.

Pearson is one of the few newspaper reporters to have the distinction of being criticized by White House administrators who felt the wrath of his pen.

The ceremonies will be held from 10 a.m. until 12 noon. Distinguished military and civilian guests, university deans, and President Charles J. Armstrong will join Governor Grant Sawyer in reviewing the ROTC brigade and presenting awards to outstanding military cadets.

The most coveted award, the Governor's Medal, will be presented by Governor Sawyer to the ROTC cadet who has demonstrated exceptional proficiency in military science, observance of the rules of military courtesy, and intelligent attention to duty.

The ceremonies will start with a concert by the Sixth US Army, Band, followed by drill presentation by the University of Nevada Sierra Guardsmen and the Sixth Army Honor Guard.

Also included will be a fly-by of US Army aircraft, sky diving by the University Sky Divers, Nike Hercules missile display, and a civil defense display.

Also performing for the Governor's Day celebration will be Nevada's ROTC band, a 55 member unit under the direction of Cadet Warrant Officer Charles B. Seifers and Dr. John Carrico of the music department. It is one of the largest ROTC bands in the West.

State Songsters Picked

The Phi Sigma Kappa song team, which placed third in Saturday's competition, has been named Nevada's official Centennial Song Team by Governor Grant Sawyer.

One of their songs, "Nevada, Crown Jewel of the West", was given the honor of being Nevada's official Centennial Song. All songs were written and composed by Phi Sigs Steve Baring and Don Bell. The others were titled "Down In The Sutro Mines" and "Gold, Gold, Gold."

The Phi Sig team was invited by the Governor Saturday to represent Nevada at all Centennial functions.

New Faces of 1964

Drama Coach Robert Strane has retired the old team to the showers of the Olde Gyne for the Directing Class's production of "The Taming of the Shrew." Filling the positions vacated by the old guard are a number of comparatively new and fresh faces for the theatre gridiron (the framework of steel which supports the rigging employed in flying scenery).

Allan (Skinny Legs) Crawford, the passing wizard of last season's football squad, carried the ball for much of "Waiting For Godot," the final production of the season. Allan had a one-liner in "Volpone," but the character of Vladimir furnishes him with his first major role on our stage. He plays one of the two bums waiting for the nebulous Godot, who never appears.

Interrupting the more than tedious waiting is the appearance of Pozzo and Lucky, portrayed by Maurice Beesley and Mike Thompson. This will be the second major role for both of these fellows.

The Boy is played by young Jimmy Heron, who is perhaps best remembered for his stirring performance as The Gong Boy in "The Emperor's New Clothes." The boy arrives at the end of each act to inform the bums, Estragon and Vladimir, that Godot will not arrive today, but surely will come tomorrow.

The other major role is filled by Mike Keenan, the only old trouper in the cast. In this production, Mike completes his sixth lead in as many Robert Strane productions. Neither Mr. Strane or Mr. Keenan plans to return next year. Both move on to greener pastures. They, however, will work together again this summer in the Aslo Comedy Festival. Mike will portray Sir Toby Belch in "Twelfth Night" under Mr. Strane's direction.

Mr. Thompson and Mr. Beesley will also journey back to Florida with Mr. Strane as part of the Aslo Company.

"Waiting for Godot" is admittedly about nothing. As one of the characters says "Nothing happens, nobody comes, nobody goes, it's awful." Mr. Beckett, himself, says he is not sure what the play is about. Godot is the one thing in life everyone is waiting for. It might be God, love, wealth, — anything. When Samuel Beckett was asked who Godot was, he answered: "If I knew, I would have said so in the play."

The play is classed in the contemporary vein of the Absurdities. It deals with the absurdity of the human condition, non-communication between individuals, and the ridiculousness of almost everything.

All this is said not to discourage, but rather to prepare the people who would enjoy a truly different theatrical experience. Even an entire sunset is done in less than 45 seconds. That is really absurd, but no more so than the foolishness we have to go through to make such a phenomenon take place.

Constitution Should Be Approved

The proposed new Student Union Board Constitution's fate will be decided today and tomorrow by the student body. It must receive the approval of two-thirds of the students voting in the election.

The new constitution combines the merits of the present apprenticeship system with the more democratic concept of election of Board members by the student body.

It is a constitution that has been the subject of many hours of hard work and study by both the members of the Board and the ASUN leaders. It is a workable constitution that meets the demands of those who oppose the present one.

The Student Union Board has done a tremendous job in providing outstanding lectures and entertainment for the student body throughout the year. The Board deserves the support of the student body in this election.

Meeting Called For Activities Calendar

The activities calendar for the fall semester will be planned at a meeting tomorrow at 4 p.m. in Ross Hall.

Miss Morrison will provide a tentative list of Student Union and ASUN functions for the coming year.

Hunt's Paper Wins Again

Junior electrical engineering student Dan Hunt has won another prize with his paper on "A Magnetic Suspension System". He placed second in the Student Paper Contest, held as a technical session of the IEEE Region 6 Annual Conference.

Last month Hunt's paper won first place in the departmental contest on campus.

The IEEE Region 6 Annual Conference was held in Salt Lake City, Utah last week. Region 6 comprises the area of the U. S. west of the Rockies and includes 35 Universities offering electrical engineering.

Zetka Elected New GDI Prexy

The Independent Council held its annual election of officers April 26. Those elected were: Art Zetka, president; Sharon Barrett, vice-president; Monty Robinson, treasurer. The office of secretary is still vacant.

The members present at the meeting discussed revising the old OASIS constitution. The final draft of the new constitution will be ready by next semester. Also discussed at the meeting was the council's activities during the fall semester.

Let's say for a minute, this is you.

Once you wear the gold bars of a second lieutenant in the United States Air Force, what's in store for you?

Well, you may fly an aircraft entrusted with a vital defense mission. Or you may lead a research team tackling problems on the frontier of knowledge. You'll be helping to run an organization that's essential to the safety of the free world.

Sounds like you'll be called on to shoulder a good deal of responsibility, doesn't it?

But when you come right down to it, that's what your college years have been preparing you for. You've got ability and a good education. Now's the time to put them to work!

You'll have every opportunity to prove your talents in the Air Force. By doing so, you can put yourself and your country ahead.

If you're not already enrolled in ROTC, you can earn your commission at Air Force Officer Training School—a three-month course that's open to both men and women college graduates. To apply, you must be within 210 days of graduation.

Letters To The Editor

Miss Frost Tells The "True" Story

Editor, the Sagebrush:

First of all, the true story! The Miss Rogero phoned the Pi Beta Phi house on Sunday afternoon, the Pi Phi song team chairman was not present. It was pointed out to the sub-editor that said chairman should at least be consulted before any data was given to the press by any member. A quick call to Barbara Heath, overall chairman of Mackay Day song teams, indicated that Mrs. Heath had neither been consulted nor informed of the proposed article. Whether she would have approved the release of information is an moot matter. At any rate, she had not been given the opportunity to decide.

The Pi Phi theme was withheld. Miss Rogero called again on Tuesday and stated that unless the theme was released to her, a picture of the Pi Beta Phi song team would not appear with the others. Miss Rogero felt it was unfair to the other sororities who had revealed the information requested. The Pi Phi's disagreeing that the themes and songs should be printed in the Sagebrush before the luncheon agreed that their song team's picture be withheld as a matter of principle. Miss Rogero later stated that all information concerning the song team would be published despite objections.

If the "freedom of the press" half of the campus publication is incensed, perhaps they should lower the flame long enough to consider what they stand for. The word "freedom" implies a distinction between liberty and license. Newspapers are free to print anything they like, barring libelous material. They are not free, in obtaining material, to negate the rights of others in order to exercise their own rights. If the withholding of information is to constitute a violation of freedom of the press, then the Defense Department of the United States of America has been acting unconstitutionally for some time.

The "lesson in public relations" might be developed further by Lesson Two: that a partially-kept secret has in fact drawn many crowds! Pictures of the various song teams have been published in the Sagebrush in the past. This is a bit different from a revelation of all the information, and it may well be a better public-relations policy. Everyone may assume, for example, that the Pi Phi's pictured will constitute a song team and that that song team will have a theme. "What will the Pi Phi's be singing?" is a bigger drawing card than, "How will the Pi Phi's be singing the songs the Sagebrush said they would be singing?" (Our theme is not, incidentally, "Songs My Jailwarden Taught Me.")

Traditionally, themes in general on this campus have been little short of sacred. Living-group unity and the general spirit of anticipation are promoted by the idea that no one will know what anyone else is doing until exactly the right moment. Would Miss Huefle advocate that an article be published describing the Homecoming floats the day before the parade? I doubt it.

We do hope that the three silverfish in the Sagebrush office will be extended a cordial invitation to come to the luncheon anyway.

VIRGINIA FROST
PI BETA PHI

(Editor's Note: For your information, Miss Frost, what is and is not printed in the Sagebrush is not a decision for Mrs. Heath, you, or any of the members of your sorority to make. It is strictly a staff decision.

Our job is to inform all of our readers and not to molly coddle your sorority or keep your secrets for you. The Pi Phi's were in a decisive minority. The other houses released the information without creating a petty fuss.

If all the newspapers withheld all the information they were asked to withhold, there would be very little news printed. The article was not "proposed" to you. You were informed that it would be published with or without the Pi Phi's.

The Sagebrush is a newspaper, Miss Frost, we had to think of those people who were not at the Mackay Day luncheon. You should realize that the campus, and least of all the Sagebrush does not revolve around Nevada's fraternities and sororities.)

New YWCA Head Installed May 6

Yvette Hash, sophomore philosophy major, will be installed as campus YWCA president succeeding Ruth Friedhoff, at a dinner meeting Wednesday night at 6 p.m. Hostess will be Mrs. Elizabeth Bailey at her home, 910 W. Sixth street, assisted by other members of the advisory board.

Mrs. Frank Peterson of Minden will discuss the changed basis of membership in YWCA, as defined at the organization's recent national convention in Cleveland, where the requirement that voting members sign a pledge of Christian faith was eliminated.

Mrs. Peterson is a founding member of the University association, and a former YWCA board member at both UCLA and the California at Berkeley. She has also had experience in the Girl Guide movement in South Africa, where she lived for a number of years.

The meeting Wednesday night is open to non-members who are interested in YWCA work.

Senate Will View New Constitution

Senate will once again tackle the problem of approving a new constitution tomorrow night when the steering committee will present a final draft of the proposed new ASUN constitution and by-laws.

May 15 Book Deadline

All books borrowed from the Getchell library must be returned by May 15 at 5 p.m. During finals, books may be used in the library only.

Credit for final grades cannot be released for any student who has not returned all library materials.

The senate will also elect three new Student Judicial Council justices for next year to fill vacancies caused by the graduation of Jill Black, Joan Westfield, and Bob Alward.

The meeting, which will be held at 7 p.m., in the Travis Lounge, will be the final one of the year for the senators.

Other senate business includes the appointment of committee members and chairmen for the new committees created by Keith Lee, ASUN president, and reports from both ASUN vice presidents.

Don't!

... don't pour it down the side?
(We'd rather you wouldn't)

Of course, a lot of people do pour beer down the side of the glass. They say it keeps the head down.

It sure does. And we think that's a shame.

Maybe it sounds silly, but we spend more dollars on just the bubbles than any other brewery in America. Instead of pumping them in mechanically, we let Budweiser create its own bubbles with our exclusive Beechwood Ageing and natural carbonation. It takes a lot longer to do it this way. But it's worth it.

When those bubbles get together at the top of your glass you've got a better head, a cleaner taste, a smoother, more drinkable beer. Budweiser even smells better (really ... just take a sniff next time you pour).

So let that Budweiser fall right down the center of your glass. Let it splash around and froth and foam. We went to a whale of a lot of trouble brewing the finest beer on earth, and we'd hate to think you'd missed even one little bubble.

Twardokens May Coach Ski Team

The University of Nevada Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation has recommended that George Twardokens replace Chelton Leonard next fall as ski coach.

The proposed change is in line with the policy of shifting to fulltime staff members in teaching and coaching positions.

Along with this announcement, came word that Richard (Dick) Dankworth, on leave of absence and doing graduate work at Stanford University, would return for the 1964-65 school year.

LEONARD OUTSTANDING

Dr. G. A. Broten, chairman of the Physical Education Department, explained the change, "Leonard has done an outstanding job for us and we certainly appreciate the work he has done. But we are gradually going to full-time staff members and we are now in a position to make the skiing-teaching situation a full-time job."

Twardokens came to the University in the spring of 1963.

He has had an extensive background in skiing in Europe and the United States. He was a member of Poland's Olympic fencing team in 1952.

Leonard became ski coach at the University in 1953. In 1958, he was named Coach of the Year by the West Coast Sports Writers Association.

He served as executive director of the National Ski Association in Denver from 1960 to 1962 and returned to the University in 1963.

Dankworth joined the University coaching staff in the fall of 1956. He is a native of Los Angeles, California.

Powerful Sacramento Nine Crushes Nevada Title Bid

League-leading Sacramento State spoiled Nevada's chances for a Far Western Conference baseball title last Friday afternoon by crushing the Wolves, 12-5 and 14-1, at Moana Municipal Stadium.

The Silver and Blue slumped to a 4-5 league record with the two losses charged against them. The Hornets, now 9-1 in FWC play, are in excellent position to annex the title.

Nevada bats were as cold as the whipping Sierra winds as Coach Bill Ireland's crew could amass only 11 hits in both games, far below their recent average.

A seven-run second inning led to the Pack's downfall in the opener. Collecting a total of 12 safeties in the initial contest, the Hornets rolled to a 12-1 lead after five frames before the home team could dent the scoreboard.

Four doubles were included among the hosts' nine safeties in the first game. The two-baggers, by Rod Mathisen, Bruce Nickerson, Joel Glover, and Nik Walters, were instrumental in the losers' five tallies.

NEVADA PITCHERS FAIL

Three Nevada hurlers, Dennis Scott, Dan Keller, and Fred Dalimore, paraded to the mound in the opener. Scott (2-4) took the loss.

Hornet bats exploded for the long ball in the nightcap as the winners socked four homers among their 11 hits.

In addition, Sacramento hurler Jim Thomas mastered the Wolves on a two-hitter, striking out nine in the process.

The pace-setting Hornets also got off to a rousing start in the second game. The winners, with four in the first, three in the second, and four more in the third, streaked to an 11-1 lead after three innings. They added three more in the fifth to complete the scoring.

Round-trippers were slugged by SSC's Minnick, Chuck Swimley, John Olander, and pitcher Thomas.

NELSON LOSES FIRST

Starter Jim Nelson dropped his first decision of the season after winning five straight. He was relieved by Carl Bossieux before the game was called at the end of six innings.

Both of the losers tallies in the final contest were singles as the Nevada attack continued to deteriorate as the day wore on. The Wolf Pack had been hitting the ball well in the last few weeks, but the Sacramento pitching silenced these bats considerably.

Nevada's overall mark stands at 11-10 after the disastrous Sacramento series.

Thinclads Down Humboldt In Chilly Dual Meet

Nevada's track team fought off rain and cold to romp to an 83-58 victory over Humboldt State in the last dual meet of the season before the FWC finale. The dual contest was held at Redwood Stadium in Arcata, California last Saturday.

The Pack took 10 out of 17 first places with Dick McCoy leading the way with first places in the 100 and 220. The blond sprinter was timed in 10.0 in the century and 22.8 in the furlong. However, these times are well off his best efforts of 9.8 and 21.4.

880 SWEEP

Nevada's Bud Forman scampared to a stadium and meet record of 1:56.5 in the half mile. He was closely pressed by teammates Tex Mock (1:56.8) and Al Maher (1:57.5).

Although Nevada was without the services of ace quartermilers Fred Williams and Tim Anderson, they swept the 440. Bob Sinnott was first to hit the tape, followed by Phil Henrikson and Keith Mattson. Sinnott was timed in 50.8.

Another first place was turned by the Pack's Jim Humphrey. The former Whittell flash ran 15.5 in the 120-high hurdles.

Weightman Jim Christensen of Nevada picked up an unexpected victory in the javelin with a toss of 165-5.

In the pole vault, freshman John Hancock cleared 12-6 for another of the Wolf Pack's victories.

Nevada swept to victories in both the relays. The Pack four-some of Phil Henrikson, Jon Key, Stu Schraeder, and McCoy raced to a 43.6 clocking.

The Lumberjacks pressed the Silver and Blue in the mile relay but the Nevadan's came out on top with a time of 3:24.7.

The other Nevada victory was scored by Larry Moore with a six foot effort in the high jump.

The home team was not without its stars. The Lumberjacks had three double winners in Bill Ferlatte, Bill Hook, and Tom Farmer.

Ferlatte beat Nevada's Russ Sheltra to the tape in the mile with a time of 4:34.7. Skip Houk of Nevada pressed the Humboldt runner closely in the two-mile and lost by only two seconds. Houk was caught in 9:39 for his best time of the season.

Brawny Bill Hook won both the shotput and discus for the 'Jacks and Farmer copped the triple-jump and broad jump.

The Wolf Pack's depth paid off in the meet as they came up with many key seconds and thirds.

Golf Team Stopped At Three

Humboldt State College snapped the Nevada golf team's victory string at three by edging the Wolves, 12-9, at Arcata, Calif., Saturday.

Playing with only four men, the visitors were forced to forfeit one match. Ace golfer Pete Wishney was left home because of illness.

Mike Knight of the Nevadans took low medalist honors by downing Dave Sesna of the Lumberjacks, 74-76. Joe deArrieta was the other winner for the Wolf Pack. He defeated Jeff Johnson, 75-81.

Nevada's losses came when Tom McCleary lost to Bob Perry, 83-79, and Larry Swecker was tripped by Dan Mellem, 81-78.
