Centennial Operetta to Be Cancelled?

Annual AWS Fashion Show Tomorrow

Tomorrow the presidents of the campus fraternities will be pursuing their usual sport, girl watching, for a new reason. It will be their job to select the candidates for the AWS Best Dressed Coed contest. All the coeds are eligible.

One winner will be chosen by the AWS from the girls picked by the fraternity presidents and the announcement will be made at the AWS Fashion Show which will be held at the Travis Lounge tomorrow at 2 p.m.

Besides the announcement of the best dressed coed, the Panhellenic council will present an award to the sorority with the highest pledge, class grade point average.

The clothes for the Fashion Show will be furnished by Joseph Magnin of California and Nevada. The models will be: Camille Richards and Gretchen Geyer, Independent; Karen Isbell and Diane Harwood, Delta Delta Delta; Betty Boyd and Suzanne Martin, Kappa Alpha Theta; Marylynne Fry and Lyn Armbruster, Pi Beta Phi; Jeanette Stoddard and Vicki Geertsema, Gamma Phi Beta.

Tickets will be sold at the door for $1.50 and the money will go toward the AWS scholarship.

Nevada Students To Be Selected For Who's Who

Nominations for Who's Who Among Students In American Universities and Colleges for the year 1964-1965 are now being accepted in the office of Acting Dean of Men, Dean Hathhorn.

Any organization or individual may make a nomination, although any individual selected for "Who's Who" in the past cannot be considered.

The candidate should be of senior standing in 1964 or 1965 and must have a minimum grade point average of 2.43.

Any nominee should have a record "which denotes quality of leadership." All chairmanships should be listed by year, as should all activities and participation in sports and other school organizations.

Hathhorn said forms are available in his office and will be available to living groups and departments. Deadline is October 22, 1964, at 4 p.m.

FASHION SHOW: Models for the annual AWS fashion show to be held tomorrow include (l. to r.): Vicki Geertsema, Suzi Martin, Betty Boyd, Karen Isbell and Camille Richards.

Lee to Meet President Johnson

Lee, along with nearly one hundred other student leaders from across the country, were invited by the President to a reception to be held at the White House tomorrow. Following the reception the student leaders will hear remarks from the President, Robert McNamara, secretary of defense, and Ambassador Adlai Stevenson.

The students will then attend a buffet dinner at which Lynda

Johnson, the President's daughter, will be hostess.

The invitation to Lee came in the form of a letter from the President to Dr. Charles Armstrong, University president. President Johnson explained the purpose of the meeting as informational. He said, "Naturally I have a great interest in the young leaders who are emerging in our colleges and would like to get to know them and their thinking as much as I can."

Lee will return from Washington Monday. While in the capitol he will stay at the home of Nevada's senior United States Senator, Alan Bible.

Lack of Support From U of N Students

The fate of the Centennial Operetta scheduled for October 19-23 is still uncertain. The operetta is designed to take the place of this year's traditional Wolves' Frolic and is to be the University's contribution to the Centennial.

Pi Sigma Alpha Meeting Set

Eligible future members of the University of Nevada Chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha, national political science honor society, will be guests at the first chapter meeting for the current school year on Thursday, October 8, according to Paul Boeyink, president.

Opportunity to join PSA is open to university students who have acquired at least ten hours of semester credit in political science studies, one class of which must be upper division work. A 3.0 GPA in these subjects must be maintained with an over-all GPA that ranks in the upper third of the student's class.

Students meeting these standards with an interest in political science and membership in Pi Sigma Alpha are asked to contact Mr. Boeyink or Mrs. Dolgoff, political science department secretary, in room 116 of Fleisch-

Dr. Forbes Joins Nevada Faculty

The University of Nevada History department has announced the addition of Dr. Jack D. Forbes to the faculty. Dr. Forbes formerly taught at San Fernando Valley State College.

In addition to his position as an associate professor of history, Dr. Forbes will serve as the acting director of the Center For Western North American Studies, which will attempt to establish a research center on the University of Nevada campus.

Professor Forbes' field of study has been mostly concentrated in the area of interethnic relations, particularly those between Indians and white men. Included in his list of publications are four books, "Apache, Navaho and Spaniard," "The Quechans: Warriors of the Colorado," "The Indian in America's Past," and "Frontiers in American History."

He is married and has two children.

The Centennial Operetta has been plagued with many problems since its conception, chiefly by the lack of students willing to try out for the production. As of date, only a handful of students have expressed a desire to be in the production. The operetta is to be produced by the Music Department with lyrics by Dr. Ronald Williams and is to be directed by Dr. William C. Miller of the Speech Department.

The State Centennial Commission has allotted $5,825 for producing the operetta. The operetta was to have spent two or three weeks traveling around the state and was to have been presented in Carson City, Tonopah, Winnemucca, Las Vegas and Panaca.

Since time has grown short, there is now a tentative plan to scrap the operetta and substitute a concert reading which would be produced by the Music Department. Such a concert would be presented Oct. 21-23 in the University Theatre. A similar concert, based on Abraham Lincoln's Freedom Train, would be produced and presented in Carson City Oct. 27-28. Such arrangements would be in lieu of traveling to other cities in the state, as was originally planned for the operetta, with the possible exception of Winnemucca.

An emergency meeting of the University Centennial Commission was called Sept. 25 to discuss the fate of the operetta but no solution for saving the operetta was agreed upon. The exact fate of the operetta will be determined this week by the total number of interested students who have tried out for the production.

Even if the required number of students required to produce the operetta are cast, the opening of the operetta would be delayed two or three weeks, according to Dr. Miller, and would not possibly be ready for presentation by Homecoming weekend.

THE SAME OLD BRUSHFIRE

The campus literary magazine, the BRUSHFIRE, is once again the subject of controversy. At the first yearly meeting of the ASUN Publications Board, a motion to withdraw financial support from the magazine was defeated by one vote. Most certainly the issue will be raised again.

The BRUSHFIRE was severely attacked last year for its content which was described by many as low caliber.

The reaction to last year's magazine from the student body was something other than overwhelming endorsement. Yet the members of the Publications Board decided to let the waste of money continue.

The policy of the BRUSHFIRE says that its purpose is to encourage students to express and develop themselves literarily. If this end was accomplished to any extent, the money spent would be a good investment. However, judging from last year, only a "select" few authors will be accepted.

Many of the poems were as subtle as the material found in "True Confession," and were hardly worthy of the attention of the student body.

This year's publication promises little improvement over last year. The staff is composed of many of the same people and it can be expected that the same few people will be published.

This issue is simply whether or not the members of the student body should pay $600 to finance the BRUSHFIRE again this year. The Publications Board has said "Yes," let's hope the members of the Board will change their minds.

From The Tail of The Herd

By Phil Herd

JUST AS HERB KANE does not write for the S. F. Chronicle, Phil HERD does not write for the Sagebrush. It is H-U-R-D. There! I got my name in the paper.

I GUESS things are settling back to normal after a hectic registration. The freshmen are walking around campus with that arrogant I-know-where-I'm-go-in-don't-anybody-bug-me look in their eye. Saw a bunch of Tau pledges crashing end over end down the stairs in the TUB in chase of a wild-eyed active. The surf party in the basement of the library is becoming a nightly thing again (maybe we could hire the "Neanderthals" for the library and set all that noise to swingin' rhythm). Yeah, things are back to normal, I guess.

WHO IN THE WORLD is that waitress in Roberto's? WOW Don't let anybody tell ya that old Roberto doesn't know how to pack 'em in at lunch time. "Roberto," I said, "to what do you attribute your booming business?"

"MAN CANNOT LIVE by bread alone," he said with a devilish flicker in his eye.

WAS THAT Colonel Gundlach I saw selling razor blades and Gillette Foamy in front of Ross Hall? So that's why no beards are allowed.

GOOD OL' PROF. HIBBARD is still lecturing to standing room only crowds in his geology and minerology courses. You've probably spotted him sauntering around campus in his wild Ivy League clothes, or tellin' risqué jokes in the TUB.

What's with all this excitement about having a Tom Jones dinner? I hear they hold one six nights a week in the dining commons.

This University is spending entirely too much money on electricity. The classrooms are too brightly lit. C'mon Board of Regents, let's have some action! Some people even have to wear shades in class!

THERE IS NO truth to the rumor that Dean Sam Basta swims across Manzanita Lake with the ducks every morning before breakfast. Sometimes he doesn't even have a chance to eat breakfast.

EVER COME INTO the TUB early in the morning for some coffee to wake up before that first class? They must make that coffee with water out of Manzanita Lake. Remember Opreation Mud? It's memory lingers on in that coffee. And if that don't wake you up the Dave Clark Five and the Beachboys screaming out of the jukebox will.

IF YOU HAPPEN to drop in the Wal over the weekend, ask Vel (the huge, tough lookin' bartender) how the "World Champion" Los Angeles Dodgers are doin' this year. You probably won't get served, but he'll tell ya how the Giants are doin'.

College Freckles

FRIDAY has fallen again, now let me surmise briefly what else has fallen this week (so to speak). Another weekend looms before us—let's hope it will be as fruitful as the previous one.

VARIOUS couples have blissfully settled down by getting pinned or engaged and even married. The University of Nevada couldn't seem to cope with Dave Montgomery better known as "Tree" but Karen Phillips Montgomery has no objection. The couple were secretly married in June. All goes well!!!!

Other notables not quite making it to the altar are Tri Delt Clyda Hooper and Snake Petri, Theta Judy Morrison and Sigma Nu Rusty Nash (its about time), DDD Diane Hartman and Rick Anderson. A long distance call from Germany also will put U of N alums Sue Ellen Small and Ty Cobb up to the big cross in February.

THIS PAST WEEK Theta Gretchen Kaiser has been wearing high neck blouses for a cover-up? Hope her annual pictures provide a similar cover up for "Moses" the Monkey.

WHY NOT ADHERE TO TRADITION
SATURDAY NIGHT'S Pledge Presents

left much to be desired. People sobered up at every bar line but couldn't work it off on the dance floor. Why not let the fraternity houses show THEIR male initiative with "presents" of their own. Nice try but . . .

LOOKS LIKE this weekend ASUN president Keith Lee will have to give up Camille and the charleston for Lynda BIRD and a tux. Can you imagine an ATO at the White House. Gobble Gobble!!!!

Eight Tri Deltas have invested their weekly allowance for a new type of amusement. With Carolyn Cademartore as instigator they have found a new way to build up their leg muscles other than climbing the hill to school.

POINT OF INTEREST
One of the University's legendary figures, Harlan Heward has returned to the metropolis of Reno. The University stood him for two years, let's hope the city can.

ANOTHER POINT OF INTEREST
SIGMA NU PRESIDENT Skip Avansino wil obviously not be selected as public relations man of the year. Moral: "Think before you speak!!!!"

Words From The John

By John Slansky

ONE OF THE FELLOWS from the Electrical Engineering department called me the other day and asked that I mention them. He said that they felt left out. He suggested that I mention watts new over there and talk about current problems and shed some light on some rather shocking switches which transformed the department. One of which is the tour conducted daily to illuminate the dim views of many students on the campus. I told him that I would have no part of his puny humor.

I AM A VETERAN OF R.O.T.C. Every now and then some of my close friends, also ex-R.O.'s, and I get together and tell R.O. stories. We did this last night and it brought to mind a game we used to play called FACE. Face is a lot of fun if you know how to play it. Any number of players can participate and all you need is a drill field, a uniform, and a member of advanced R.O. First off everyone mills around in a confused and disorderly way until the R.O. shouts, "TOON. . . , FAAW. . . LIN" Then everybody stands in a line. (Note: nobody in the ROTC department speaks English very well). Next he hollers "TENT . . . HUT", which means where soldiers stay. Now you are ready to play face. "RAT . . . HUH, LEP . . . HUH, BOWT . . . HUH, FORE . . . D . . . HARCH, TREA AH . . . HARCH etc. There are the basic rules and terms you must know in order to play. The object of the game is twofold: one the part of the R.O. it is to confuse you, (if he does and you so something wrong he gets to yell at you and call you names) and on your part it is to understand what he is saying and FACE whatever he wants you to face. In the game you are called "AWRITECHEWPEOPLE" and the R.O. is called "SUUURRP". If you are still unsure about how to play FACE, go up to the Military Department on Tuesday or Thursday and watch.

HOW LONG MUST we, the Associated Students of The University of Nevada, be subjected to the rule of the police state and be at the mercy of the Campus S.S. men. Day and night they prowl the confines of our Alma Mater issuing warrants which are about as justifiable as Dauchau was. They are actually members of the Nevada Highway Patrol, which is a fine law enforcement agency, assigned to the University. My understanding of their duties is to prevent serious traffic violations on or about the grounds of the University. It is my belief that they do not fulfill this function because: they are too busy citing students for more serious crimes like leaving an engine running for more than thirty seconds while parked within one hundred long paces of the football field, or drinking coffee, or talking with officers of the Reno Police Department.

Law enforcement anywhere should be carried out efficiently and fairly or not at all. Too many visitors cars have been towed away at a cost of $15.00 which makes me suspect things that I cannot print about the towing company and the Campus Police.

Newman Club Aids Cemetery

Locating and plotting out the historic Virginia City Catholic Cemetery will be the first project to be conducted by the campus Newman Club this fall. The undertaking is the organization's contribution to the Nevada Centennial.

Because the cemetery has been untended for many years, grave locations have become obscure and a mapping is necessary. Through contacting residents of Virginia City and through records in the chancery office of the Diocese of Nevada, here in Reno, identities of the graves will be confirmed.

By doing this service the club will be eligible for a $100 reward for aiding the preservation of historic sites.

The day will end with a free hot dog and marshmallow roast. All members of the Newman Club are welcome to participate. Transportation will be furnished and the group will be leaving St. Alberts at 9 Sunday morning, October 4.

Weir, ATO Prexy, Kidnapped; No News on Bowery Dance

At 1:45 p.m. last Tuesday, Paul Weir, president of Alpha Tau Omega was to be interviewed by the "Sagebrush" concerning the annual ATO Bowery Dance. At 1:43 p.m., Weir was kidnapped from the Student Union Building and taken on a traditional ride after putting up a hard struggle.

Every year the ATO pledge class tries to take the Worthy Master and the pledge trainer on a ride during the week preceding the Bowery. If caught, the victims usually do not make it to the dance, and the pledges take over their dates.

It has been nine years since both the Worthy Master and the pledge trainer have been taken on rides. Bob Murphy, this year's trainer, went into seclusion after Weir was captured. The rules state that he needs to hide for only three hours after the capture of the Worthy Master.

This tradition has been carried out since 1921, when the first Bowery was held. This dance is limited to ATO members and their dates only, and will be held tonight at 9 p.m. "Roaring Twenties" costumes are worn.

Unless he escapes, Paul Weir may be in a cage somewhere at the present time, or slowly walking back from some point far beyond civilization.

Dr. Robert Weems Back From Meet

Dr. Robert C. Weems, Jr., professor and dean of the college of business administration, attended the annual state meeting of the Nevada Association of Real Estate Brokers and the Utah Association of Real Estate Brokers last Monday through Wednesday.

On Tuesday the two groups met separately and Dr. Weems reported on what the University of Nevada offers in the field of real estate. The business administration department offers courses in the field and also sets the standards for real estate broker licenses.

Dr. Weems feels that more courses should be offered on both the high school and college level, and that the standards for passing the licensing test should be raised.

Foundation Will Give Fellowships

The Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation is offering 1,000 fellowships in 1965 and 1966 to prospective first-year graduate students who are preparing for college teaching.

Through this fellowship, which is supported by the Ford Foundation, a student is fully supported for one academic year at a graduate school in the United States or Canada. Interested applicants may contact Dr. Earling Skorpen, the representative of the foundation on campus and a member of the Department of Philosophy.

Those who are eligible for this fellowship are men and women who have promise of outstanding intellectual abilities, who are graduates of or seniors in colleges in the United States and Canada, and who are not registered in a graduate school.

The candidates will be nominated by faculty members no later than October 20, 1964. Dr. Skorpen stated that the nominees will be selected on "native ability, solid undergraduate preparation for graduate study leading to the Ph.D. degree, competence in foreign languages or other required subjects, ability in writing of essays and reports on independent work accomplished. Regional committees will then weigh the candidates capabilities and potential.

Chuck Burr, Aggie Student, Attends Danforth Program

Chuck Burr, a graduate of the University of Nevada School of Agriculture, was chosen this summer as one of 43 agriculture seniors throughout the United States and Canada to attend the "Danforth Summer Award Program." The program includes a one month all expense-paid visit to St. Louis, Missouri and parts of Michigan.

Burr spent the first two weeks of his tour in St. Louis, where he was the guest of the Purina Company. Here he spent most of his time visiting hospitals, chemical companies, and research farms. The second two weeks were spent at "The American Youth Foundation Camp" in Minivance, Michigan, where the 43 seniors participated in a Danforth Development Program designed to create mental and physical excellence.

While attending the University of Nevada, Burr was a member of Blue Key, Coffin and Keys, and served as chairman of the Upperclass Committee.

Manzanita Sees Honkers Again

As long as there has been a Manzanita Lake there has been fowl play.

Until Juniper Hall was built, the great Canadian Honkers would swoop down over Northern Hollow Crouch, where the student union now stands, and make a landing on the lake. With the building of Juniper Hall and the other new buildings around the lake, the Honkers lost one of their favorite spots because they did not have room enough to take off.

There have always been ducks and a few geese. There even used to be two swans.

Back in the school days of Dean Sam Basta, in the late thirties, there were two magnificent swans. One died of old age and the other became rather cantankerous because he did not have a mate. The one remaining swan finally died about 1940 and all that has been seen on the lake since are a few ducks and geese.

This last June, however, Mr. Maurice Shephard, an alumnus business man in Reno, offered the University two swans as a gift.

Presidnet Armstrong heartily agreed that the swans would add to the beauty and stature of the University.

The swans are now enjoying their new home on Manzanita Lake and are getting along with the ducks just fine.

If anyone would like to get a good look at them, Dean Mobley and Dean Barnes feed them every afternoon around five o'clock.

Their wings have been surgically clipped and they have been inoculated for all diseases.

Union Board's 2nd Lecture Tuesday; NATO Delegate

France's representative to the NATO alliance, Pierre Emmanuelli, will speak Tuesday, 8 p.m., at Jot Travis Union Building.

The Frenchman is the second speaker in Union Board's Fall Lecture Series. He follows Tran Van Dinh, who spoke on South Viet Nam last week.

"France and the Atlantic Community" is the subject of Emmanuelli's talk.

In addition to his NATO activities, he has an extensive background in French public affairs. In 1945, Emmanuelli was appointed Press and Information Bureau Chief to the French Secretary General. He was appointed secretary-general to the Association for Free Enterprise in 1947.

Since 1959, Emmanuelli has been executive secretary for France to the Atlantic Community. He is responsible for publicizing the NATO alliance throughout France.

Since his appointment to NATO, the executive secretary has visited most Western European countries and travelled throughout Africa. He has been in the United States eight times since February, 1961.

Activities Parade Draws 13 Organizations

Joining the activities parade Tuesday in the TUB lounge were 13 campus clubs of departmental, religious and political affiliation.

Students filed along the horseshoe arrangement of club tables gathering pamphlets and information from representatives of each club.

ASUN Second Vice-President Judy Morrison reported a good turnout at the event. Invitations were sent to all non-honorary clubs, and more than half participated, she said.

The activities parade was an annual event until last year. In the fall of 1963 plans for the parade folded due to the inadequate response in previous years. However, ASUN officers got so many complaints at its absence, it was decided to revive the event.

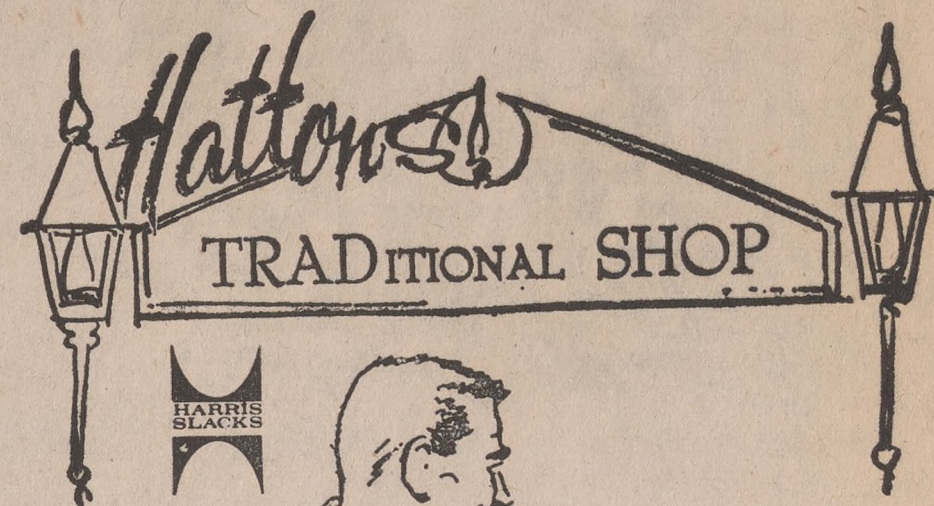

It's an excellent way to introduce new students to campus organizations which they otherwise might ignore," said Judy Morrison. "Students can quickly become acquainted with the facilities and activities of a club without going through the formality of a meeting."

Clubs represented at the event were: Newman Club, Student

National Education Association, Campus Players, Young Republicans, Young Democrats, Associated Women Students, Student Union, German Club, The International Club, Spanish Club, Campus Christian Association, YWCA, and ETA Epsilon.

All the clubs are open to everyone.

Twardokens New Coach for Wolf Pack Ski Team

The new varsity ski coach is George Twardokens. He came to the University of Nevada one and a half years ago and since then has been an instructor in the Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Twardokens was born in Poland and later attended the University of Warsaw, where he attained a Master of Science degree. While there he was a cross country performer for the ski team and became a certified ski instructor and examiner for the Polish Ski Association. At school he also became highly interested in fencing, and after graduation he represented Poland in many international fencing meets. He competed in the 1952 Olympic games at Helsinki and in 1958 won a bronze medal in the saber division of the World Championships in Philadelphia.

Instead of returning to Poland after the meet in Philadelphia he asked for and attained asylum in the United States.

The next four years he spent in New York State. He taught two years at a high school in Buffalo and spent the other two as the Physical Director of the Highland Park Y.M.C.A. In 1962 he moved west and worked in avalanche control in Squaw Valley.

One year later he came to the University of Nevada. Twardokens recently fulfilled the citizenship requirements and is now a citizen of the United States.

Pack Tackles Santa Barbara

Athletic supporters and sports fans of the Wolf Pack, do not lose hope, the Pack has TWO chances to bring home a victory this week as both the varsity squad and the frosh team will be in action.

The varsity squad will be looking for its first win of the 1964 football season as they meet Santa Barbara in their third game of the season while the frosh team will be looking for its first win in three seasons as they open their four-game season this Saturday night against Shasta J. C.

In their last two games the Wolf Pack has shown it is capable of scoring but it has also displayed it is more capable of letting its opponent score.

In order to get on the winning path the Wolf Pack will have to toughen its defense and get the offensive unit to work together all the time not just in the second half.

The Wolf Pack's offense has always looked better in the second half therefore I'd suggest either letting the team warm up 30 minutes earlier or Coach Trachok giving his half time pep talk before the start of the game.

It may be the Wolf Pack is just resting for the opening of the conference season or they're not showing anyone their new secret offense to be used in conference play, but whatever they are doing they'd better get "hot on it".

On the other side of the field, hopes are high this season for the frosh team. They have been working out for the past three weeks under the direction of their new coach, Bill Daniels.

The team has looked good in scrimmage and for the first time in three seasons the frosh team may win a game or, maybe even have a winning season.

mann Home Economics building before 4 p.m., Monday, October 5.

Initiates to the organization will be sworn in at a joint dinner meeting with the local chapter of the American Society of Public Administration later this month. Both chapters will receive their charters at that time. Dr. Donald Bowen, national official in both PSA and ASPA will officiate.

"It is the intent of PSA at Nevada to become a working organization on campus, to bring prominent speakers to Reno, to promote interest in government, to promote activities related to public affairs, and to generate interest in the political science discipline," said Boeyink.

Pi Sigma Alpha was founded at the University of Texas in 1920. It now has over 100 local college and university chapters. In 1949, it became a member of the Association of College Honor Societies. "A chapter at this university affords qualified members the honor of membership in the only political science honor fraternity," said Boeyink.

Strong Year for Ski Team

Ski coach George Twardokens is highly optimistic about the coming ski season. Six veterans from last year's team are back to form the nucleus of this year's squad.

They are: Mike Burnetto, a cross country and alpine performer; Greg Austin, a cross country competitor; Chris Mazzola, an alpine performer; Lane Monroe, a four-way man, who has placed high in many ski-meister contests for the University of Nevada; Arnie Nossom, a talented jumper and cross country man from Norway; and Bob Hamilton, who is now not enrolled but is expected back for the second semester and the ski season.

Two lettermen, Gary McCoy and Dennis Agee, who were expected to give the squad added depth this year, have not returned to school this semester for personal reasons.

Also expected to help the team are: Martin Murphy, last year's intramural champion; John Hancock, a sophomore from Reno High School; and an impressive turnout of fifteen freshmen.

Coach Twardokens will start the practice season shortly with a general conditioning session, after which will follow a period of more strenuous and specific training. After this the team will take to the snow.
