MANZANITA LAKE was the scene for the last leg of the Obstacle Race.

Sundowners Hold Initiation During Mackay Celebration

Knights of the road, Chicken chasers, and personificaters of good fellowship and cheer, the Sundowners tapped new members over the Mackay Day festivities.

One of the oldest organizations on campus, the Downers were formed after World War I. Originally their initiates were required to hop a freight to San Francisco with their pockets empty.

Soon this was deemed too dangerous and the annual tradition of chicken chasing was adopted. Neophytes are now compelled to grab a chicken, wherever they may find one, and accompany the hapless fowl from downtown bar to bar.

The Sundowners are the second oldest college drinking club in the United States. The oldest is the Wiffinpoofers of Yale.

SAE, Gamma Phi, Phi Sig's First In Obstacle Race

Phi Sigma Kappa, Gamma Phi Beta and SAE won the obstacle race competition this year, according to Larry Stiff, Mackay Day Chairman.

There was a two-way tie in overall house participation in beard growing between SAE and ATO. Each house had 100 per cent participation.

Artemisia Hall won the girls costume participation. There was a four way tie between Artemisia Hall, Pi Beta Phi, Gamma Phi Beta and the Tri-Delts. The award was given to the group that registered their percentage first.

Awards were given for individual beards ranging from darkest to lightest and longest to thickest.

Western wear was the apparel of the Mackay Day celebration.

Senators Elect Prexy Tomorrow For First Time

Tomorrow night's Senate meeting agenda includes the election of a new Senate president and the approval of five ASUN presidential nominations.

This is the first year in which the senate has been able to elect its own presiding officer. Until a new constitutional amendment was passed by the student body this year, the ASUN president was the chairman of the student legislature. The only stipulation for being elected as president is that the senator must not be a senator-at-large.

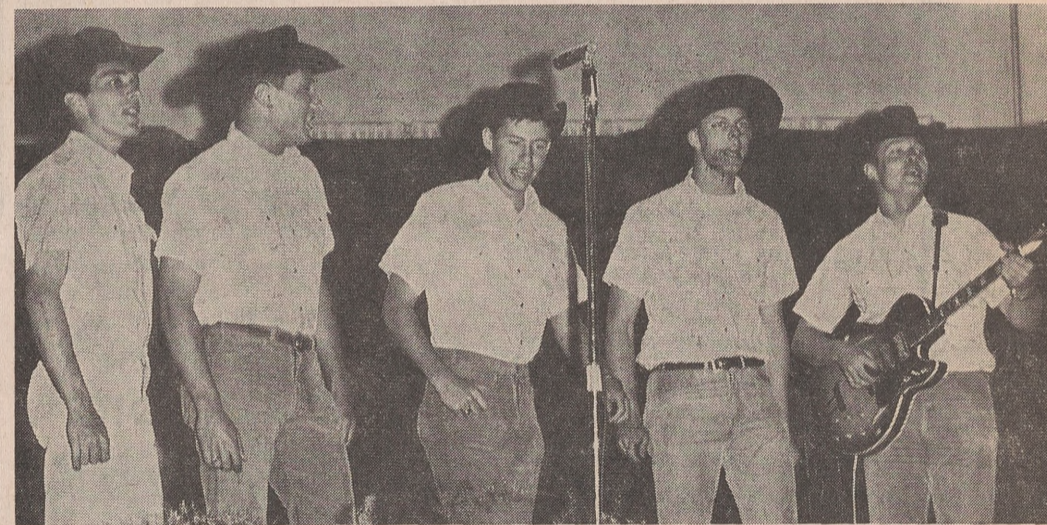

The presidential nominations are for chairmen of Mackay Day, Winter Carnival, Homecoming and Wolves Frolic. Also, the nomination for ASUN historian must be approved, as all appointments are by a majority of the Senate members present.

Those nominated by ASUN president, Mike Ingersoll, for chairmanships of special events are: Craig Howard, Winter Carnival; Dave Russell, Homecoming; Mike Stephenson, Mackay Day; and John Gascue, Wolves Frolic. Elfrena Sewell is up for approval as ASUN historian.

Ingersoll said that he is in the process of planning for the establishment of a new presidential cabinet, a custom instituted by past ASUN president, Keith Lee. "The purpose of the cabinet," Ingersoll stated, "will be to provide communication and coordination between the various aspects of student government."

THE WOMEN'S SONG TITLE went to Pi Beta Phi. The winners were represented by Penny White, Jane Elliot, Marty Kleinfelter, Jackie Uhalde, Jodie Thompson, Ginny Gilbert and Cynthia Strang.

ALPHA TAU OMEGA sang "Wine Soaked Gems of Dubious Origin and Other Rubbish" to take the Mackay Day song title. Members of the team include Calvin Reed, Mike Griffin, Bennie Ferrari, Wayne Miller and John Utt.

Student Union Ordered To Stay Solvent; Fee Raise Voted On Thursday In TUB

The Student Union Board has been ordered to stay in the black by the Board of Regents. They must now budget in the following years on the basis of their opening cash balance for the beginning of the school year, plus their guaranteed receipts, according to Keith Stephens, vice president and finance director of the student union board.

Perviously the board assumed it would make money from special events, and operated with the assumption that this would be guaranteed receipts. By the time the board realized they were seriously in the red, it was too late to back out of contracts which had already been signed.

Formerly, according to Stephens, it was too easy to go in the red. "It wasn't really the students or the board's fault," he said, "There was just too much enthusiasm over special events."

ENTERTAINMENT

The board has procured such top-rate entertainment as Peter,

Paul and Mary, Johnny Mathis, Stan Getz and others for the University in the past.

"By virtue of a loan from the Board of Regents the Union Board has wiped out its deficit of last semester, but it still needs the fee raise which is to be voted on this Thursday," says Stephens.

The board has been able to hold its expenses down by watching things, and the January student fees were sufficient to cover part of the deficit, says Stephens.

But if students wish to continue the Student Union program, the board must have an increased income from the fees because of increased operating costs.

SELF-SUPPORTING

When the building was first completed in 1958, it was supported by the Board of Regents. But as Bill Adams, director of housing and Student Union program, said to the Sagebrush last week, in 1962 the Attorney General of Nevada declared the Student Union self-supporting.

Frost, Jane Elliot, Marty Kleinfelter, Jackie Uhalde, Penny White, Jodie Thompson, Ginny Gilbert, and Cynthia Strang.

Delta Delta Delta sorority was second.

The men of Alpha Tau Omega's song team are, Calvin Reed, Mike Griffin, Bennie Ferrari, Wayne Miller, and John Utt.

Stephens said the board is now completely self sufficient. Due to the buildings' increased cost of maintenance and raises in janitorial salaries the board must have more income.

"We just want to keep up the building or else we must cut the movie and special events programs," said Stephens.

UPKEEP COSTS

The board now pays 25 cents a square foot for heat, light and power to Buildings and Grounds. Brian Whalen, the University Engineer may reappraise this cost and raise it this year, said Stephens. This year the Board paid $5,500 to Buildings and Grounds.

The board originally paid 18 cents a square foot, but the addition of the new wing and air conditioning has raised this, he added.

Song Teams Should Be Judged On Singing Ability; Not Humor

University of Nevada students were treated to a "Wolves Frolic" in May at the Mackay Day song team luncheon Saturday.

Alpha Tau Omega won in the men's division and the women of Pi Beta Phi were victorious for the second straight year.

Indeed the Taus were an entertaining group, and the audience was more than pleased with the performance. But they did not deserve to win the event. And the judges that gave them the victory must have earned their music degrees in the days when the only instruments were bottles, bells, and combs with wax paper on them.

It is unfortunate that song teams are not judged on singing ability. Judging sheets allow a team to score 70 maximum points. And 80 per cent of these have nothing to do with actual singing. They range from costumes to stage presence.

If the song teams are judged on audience response, then surely no one can argue that Juniper Hall did not deserve to win the event. The women's presentation of "Joy Ruled The Day And Love The Night" received more laughs from the audience than any other performance.

This year's joke should serve as an example of what not to do next year.

One judge, Al Saliman from Carson City, commented about the ATO songsters, saying the group had "no talent, no blend, no pitch but good arrangements." Mr. Saliman felt this was good enough for a maximum of ten points in the overall performance section of the judges' ballot.

Saliman's judging was so different from the other judges that many who attended the function might wonder if the Carson City music teacher had the right song team festival in mind when he wrote his "esteemed" comments on the ballots.

The total difference in the first and second place team, according to Saliman, was 24 points. The final outcome showed a difference of eight points between the winners and the runner-up.

I am not condemning the winning song team, but I am condemning the method of judging. Song team competition should be based on singing ability. If we want a comedy hour, a special program should be set up for just that.

And if we want a comic critic, Mr. Saliman is the man for the job, as he displayed at the song team luncheon. Music judging should be left to qualified individuals.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

As a friend of the former Mackay Day Queen, Miss Jill Black, I was quite surprised to find out that she is married. I had the understanding, as do many others, that Miss Black is in Madrid Spain studying on a Fulbright Scholarship. As her friend, I would like to know what goes. Will you please check your facts, and print your findings?

Barbara Cooper
Sincerely,

Editor's note . . . The Sagebrush erroneously said that Jill Black was married. She is, as you say, in Madrid Spain studying on a Fulbright Scholarship.

... Queen Carolyn received roses and a kiss from Mackay Day chairman, Larry Stiff.

Nevada Trackmen Humiliate Cal Aggies 104-41 As Burrell Leads Pack Attack

Coach Dick Dankworth's track forces rebounded from last week's loss to Sacramento State to trample the highly-rated Cal Aggies 104-41 in a dual meet in Davis California Saturday.

The University of Nevada captured 12 first places and either tied or set six new meet records. The Wolf Pack now has a record of 4-1 in dual competition and has served notice that it will be tough in this week's FWC championship meet.

The nation's number one collegiate high jumper, Otis Burrell, set a record in his specialty and also whizzed to a 14.7 clocking in the 120-high hurdles to tie that record.

DOUBLE WINNER

Star sprinter Houston Williamson was another double winner, for Nevada taking both the broad jump (12-8) and the triple jump 45-4½. The triple jump mark was a new meet record.

A mild upset occurred in the mile run where Nevada's Jose Valle defeated teammate Don McCarthy. Valle ran a 4:15 four lapper for another meet record and a stadium record. McCarthy stormed back to take the two-mile.

Burley Alex Darnes heaved the discus 166-7 7/8 for another meet standard.

MEET RECORDS

The Cal Aggies also grabbed two meet records with former prep flash Nils Venge streaking to a 1:55.2 clocking in the half-mile to beat the Pack's Ron Lee by six tenths of a second.

In the shot put, Henry Pfrehm of the Aggies won easily with a toss of 56-7½ to beat Howard Briles of Nevada by six feet.

Both relays were taken by the Silver and Blue thin clads with the quartet of Dick McCoy, Burrell, Phil Henrikson, and Williamson winning easily with a time of 43.3 in the 440-relay—another record performance.

Former Nevada intermediate hurdler Steve Holloway was the victor in his event with a record breaking performance of 38.8 for the Cal Aggie Mustangs.

SACRAMENTO NEXT

On the basis of the season's performances, Sacramento State and Nevada appear to be the favorites in the FWC meet, which will be held Friday and Saturday in Sacramento.

The Hornets topped the Pack forces by 11 points a week ago. However, the Reno crew looked stronger this week. Until last year, Nevada had won five consecutive FWC titles. Sacramento St. snapped the Pack's victory skein last season.

Wolf Pack Nabs 16-15 Win In Nitecap; Humboldt Takes First

Nevada gained revenge for a loss to Humboldt State in the first game of a baseball double header by edging the Lumberjacks 16-15 in the second game. Humboldt shutout Nevada 9-0 in the opener.

The loss in the first game seriously hurt Nevada's bid for a FWC championship, as league-leading Sacramento State beat Chico twice on the same day.

The Humboldt game was played at Moana Stadium. Dennis Filkins allowed only five hits in shutting out the Wolf Pack. Dan Keller received the loss for Nevada.

The second game saw Nevada stage a big seven run rally in the sixth inning. Nevada scored on five singles and three walks.

Owen Toy homered with nobody on in the fifth, and Bob Gillham hit another in the ninth.

... Some couldn't make it through the festivities.

Nevada Coed, Donna Carlson, Is New State Parallel Bar Champ

Donna Carlson, representing Nevada's women's gymnastics team, competed in the Western Division Women's Gymnastic Meet in Las Vegas Saturday evening. She performed on the uneven parallel bars and in vaulting. She is the newly-crowned Nevada State Champion on the uneven parallel bars.

On May 22, Miss Carlson will go to Sacramento to compete in an open women's gymnastic championship meet. Coach Lee Newell feels that this will be her toughest test.

The women's gymnastics team, comprised of Donna Carlson and Sandy Pierce, under the Women's Recreation Association, in its first year, is composed of Donna Carlson and Sandie Pierce.

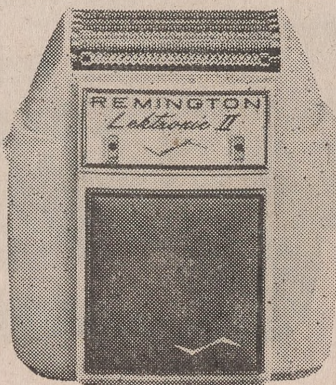

Newell feels the team may have as many as 12 members next year. He said the biggest handicap faced in fielding a team stems from the lack of a high-powered gymnastics program for younger girls.

Stiff Says Mackay Day Went Well

Mackay Day Chairman Larry Stiff said that the Mackay Day celebrations went off very well this year, considering the obstacle thrown at the Mackay Day Committee.

This year's committee was plagued by cancellations on entertainment, said Stiff. "It was also hard to publicize the event due to Easter Vacation," he said.

"But everything just fell into line and went off well in spite of the difficulties," he said.

Stiff suggested that if next year's chairman, Mike Stephenson, wants to get some big name entertainment for the 1966 festivities, he should get to work on it now or at the beginning of next semester.

"I started in December and had two last minute cancellations just before a contract was signed," said Stiff. Next year's chairman should get contracts signed as soon as possible, he added.

Stiff mentioned that he was happy with the way students were careful in the handling of firearms on campus. He said no one was hurt and people were careful around crowds.

University Begins In Elko

By BOB ALWARD

The law establishing the Nevada State University received the signature of Governor Lewis R. Bradley on March 7, 1873. About a year after, the work of the University was begun at Elko with seven pupils and one instructor whose title was Principal of the Preparatory Department.

During the period of eleven years in Elko, no attempt was made to offer work of University quality. The school was officially designated as the Preparatory Department. There was not even real demand for high school grade work. The attendance never exceeded thirty-five students and most of these attended only in the winter.

NEW LOCATION

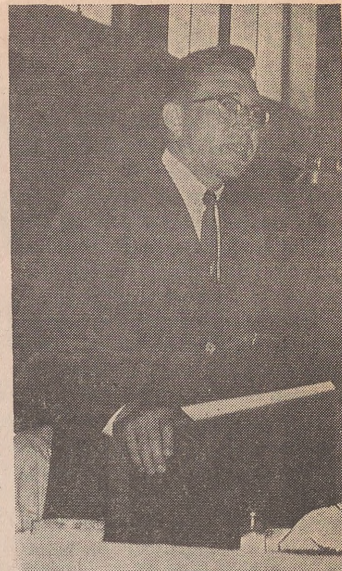

Twelve years after the founding of the University, Governor Bradley signed the bill moving the location of the University to Reno. The enrollment for 1889 showed a marked growth in the University with 127 students.

This was due, in part, to the University's more central location. But another and more potent influence other than the location of the University was at work. There was a growing demand in the state for higher education, first for high school and then for university work.

During the early period of the University's life in Reno, the school made considerable growth in numbers of students, instructors and equipment. It was during this period the University first received benefit from the Hatch Act which appropriated $15,000 annually to the Experiment Station.

APPROPRIATIONS

The Morrill Act also appropriated $25,000 annually toward the work of instruction in subjects related to agriculture and the mechanic arts. By previous acts of Congress, the University had received 132,000 acres of land. The interest on the proceeds in 1904 amounted to $6,000 annually.

... Governor Sawyer spoke at the Mackay Day luncheon.

The SAE's received the trophy for the obstacle race.

University Shows New York Musical Tomorrow Night

A musical production directed to the audience will be presented by the University Theatre on May 5-8 and 12-15 in the Fine Arts Theatre.

The "Fantasticks" is a humorous musical love story which has been running in New York for several years and is now running in San Francisco.

Director of the play, Robert Erickson says the most of the action is aimed at the audience—which is unusual for a musical.

"Much of the musical takes place on the front edge of the stage," says Erickson, "and the actors speak to the audience."

Erickson says the "Fantasticks" had fabulous success in New York and in San Francisco.

"We were lucky to get the play," the Director says, "It's extremely valuable property."

Nevada is the only University within a large radius of the Bay Area that managed to obtain the musical.

Erickson says he cast several persons in the "Fantasticks" who have had very little dramatic experience. "Drama majors aren't the only ones who can appear in University Theatre Productions," says Erickson.

Basically the play is simple moving story about two young people who discover the meaning of love. Two interfering mothers complicate their lives.

The lead roles in the "Fantasticks" are played by Cleve Canepa and Marsha Marvel. El Gallo, the narrator, is portrayed by Don Hackstaff. Binkey Thompson and Sheryn Abrahamian are the two mothers.

John Gascue has the part of the old actor, Dave Phoenix plays the man who dies and Kim Waldo plays the mute.

The musical score of the play is directed by Jerald Reynolds and Mark Duty is the assistant director.

The "Fantasticks" is based on a short play by Edmund Rostand—who is the author of Cyrano De Bergerac.

Straight from the bottle?

Some people say they like their beer right from the bottle or can. No glass, please.

Well, that's okay for a fishing trip or something... when carrying along a glass is pretty clumsy. But when a glass is convenient, we think it's a shame not to use it. Keeping Budweiser® inside that brown bottle is missing half the fun.

See for yourself. Open a bottle of Bud and let it go tumbling into a glass. The natural carbonation will kick up a clean, white head of foam. And notice the lively bubbles as they keep streaming up to the top. They let that famous King-of-Beers aroma get through to you.

Now hold your glass up to the light. See how clear and brilliant it is? Our exclusive Beechwood Ageing has a lot to do with that. We go to a lot of trouble to brew a beer that performs like this. So you can't really blame us for wanting you to get it at its best, can you?

Just for fun, pour your next four or five bottles of Bud into a glass. If you don't agree that the extra taste, clarity and aroma make a big difference, go back to the bottle.

We won't say another word.

it's worth it...it's Bud.
