Regents Hassle Over Committee

Nevada Southern Regents, Richard Ronzone and Archie Grant argued vehemently in favor of a permanent committee of three or four regents to look out for the needs of the smaller campus at a Saturday meeting of the board.

The development of the Nevada Southern is presently under the direction of Ad Hoc Committee which meets periodically with Nevada Southern administrators.

This temporary committee is made up of Ronzone, Grant, and Dr. Juanita White of Boulder City.

CHAIRMAN AGAINST

Dr. Fred Anderson, regents chairman, argued against the proposal, saying "if you establish a permanent committee for the southern campus there will be others who ask for representation."

He added, "It's a question of whether you want to create pressure groups."

Anderson further said he could see no reason why the ad hoc committee could not accomplish the same ends as the lasting body.

GREATER INSURED

Grant said the fast growing southern campus would be greater insured of having an influential voice in policy making if a permanent committee were created.

Anderson, however, said, "just because an institution is growing is not reason enough to form a committee. There is no reason the ad hoc committee couldn't continue to exist from year to year while certain problems are evident."

Regent Procter Hug, called the formation of such a committee, "wise but not logical."

"When you have a separate school it makes sense to have good communication," said Hug.

Dr. Charles Armstrong, university of Nevada president said the proposed permanent committee, "needs some study."

The matter will be discussed further at the October meeting of the board.

Downers To Host Dance Saturday

Nevada's goodfellowship group, the Sundowners, are hosting an all-school dance this weekend at the fairgrounds.

Sponsored by the Downers, the "Meet-Ball" will be held at the fairgrounds building from 8 to 12 midnight. Music will be provided by John Winn and the men from the Driftwood Lounge.

Prior to the dance the Downers are holding a Turkey Shoot at Horseman's Park—at the end of Skyline Blvd.

Admission to the dance and Turkey Shoot will be $1 per person.

Regents Honor Prof. Higginbotham

Professor Alfred L. Higginbotham, chairman of the department of journalism, was honored by the Board of Regents Saturday when the Regents officially proclaimed the Journalism Department as the Alfred L. Higginbotham Department of Journalism.

The regents honored Higginbotham for "his great contribution to journalism," and elaborated in a resolution, stating, the professor has developed an entire generation of journalism graduates. They said he has been a distinguished member of the faculty since 1923.

CONTRIBUTIONS

The resolution added that he: "Developed the journalism program as part of the Department of English, and through careful guidance made this program so successful that it eventually led to a Department of Journalism." "Products of his department can be found throughout the ranks of journalists in the United States and in many foreign countries, many of whom have earned outstanding reputations within their profession," the board added.

PRESS ASSOCIATION FOUNDER

The board also noted that Higginbotham was "one of the founders of the Nevada State Press Association and has served as executive secretary since its inception; that his contributions have earned him such honors as president of Kappa Tau Alpha, the journalism scholarship society; national vice president of Sigma Delta Chi, the professional journalists' society. Student Union To Honor Chancellor

The Student Union Board of Directors is hosting a reception for the new University of Nevada chancellor, N. Edd Miller, Friday, September 24 in the Travis Lounge of the Student Union from 10:30 to 11:30 a.m.

The purpose of the TGIF reception is to acquaint new and old students with the new chancellor.

All University students and faculty members are invited. Coffee will be served.

AWS Council

The first AWS Council meeting of the year will be held at noon tomorrow, in the Travis Lounge of the Student Union, announced AWS President, Robin Schoff.

All old and newly elected members are urged to attend. Activities for the coming year will be discussed, and plans for the AWS Fashion Show will be outlined.

was also a member on the accreditation board for the American Society of Journalism School Administrators; chairman of the editorial board of the Journalism Educator; regional judge for the Pulitzer Prizes in Journalism."

RISE TO EDITOR

Higginbotham, a native of Ohio, served with the Army during World War I, received his B.A. and M.A. degrees from Oberlin College in 1920. While working for the Cleveland Plain Dealer, he rose from reporter to state editor.

Heading west, he became an English professor here in 1923. When he arrived there was only one course in journalism, but in 1926 he was named professor in charge of journalism.

In 1936 he was appointed professor of journalism. In 1942 he became head of the Department of Journalism, which had been molded by him. In 1947 he was designated chairman.

During World War II he served as Nevada educational representative to the U.S. Office of Censorship during World War II.

Nevada Grad Makes Good

A University of Nevada Journalism graduate, Walter Wilcox, has been elected president of the American Society of Journalism School Administrators.

The former Nevada man is chairman of the Department of Journalism at the University of California in Los Angeles. ASJSA is the world's largest organization of journalism schools. The University of Nevada is a member.

Professor A. L. Higginbotham, of the Nevada Journalism department has served as both secretary and president of ASJSA.

Wilcox was chosen for the top post at the annual meeting of organizations of Journalism educators at the Syracuse University in New York. Both he and Higginbotham were on the program several times and Higginbotham was elected to the executive committee of the new newspaper division of the Association for Education in Journalism.

Citizenship On And Off Campus

An Open Letter To The New Student

By DR. SAM M. BASTA, Dean of Students

Pictured in a local newspaper some months ago was a group of fraternity pledges collecting "political debris" after a stormy general election. They were voluntarily giving of their time to help keep the city beautiful. That was responsible citizenship.

Last spring a group of University students along with interested faculty members motored to Carson City to lobby for passage of a new Civil Rights Bill — the bill was passed. A righteous cause supported by responsible citizenship.

The Christmas season of last year saw women students of Juniper, Manzanita, and Artemisia Halls, along with their counterparts in sororities, provide a joyful Christmas for underprivileged children. They were giving voluntarily of their time to help some one less fortunate than themselves. In so doing they were being good neighbors — and that is part of the business of being good citizens.

Good citizenship, like charity, begins at home. The University is temporarily a second home for students and these examples suggest some of the opportunities for practicing good citizenship on and off the campus. There are many other examples drawn from other organized or unorganized groups, from the smallest of political discussion groups or the large, campus-wide governing organizations.

CITIZENSHIP

The vast majority of students attending the University have acquired their citizenship by birth and residence. However, throughout history, men and women have worked and died to make this citizenship a precious heritage. Citizenship is real. It is dynamic. It means active, intelligent participation in university, local, state and national affairs. Principally it means rights, duties and opportunities.

Far too many students are unaware of their rights as citizens. The Nobel Getchell Library is crowded with books about them — some written by our own faculty. All of us must understand our rights if we are to use them properly. They include, among others, personal rights of life and a whole range of important liberties such as freedom of speech and the press. They include political rights, and economic rights of property and contracts. In addition, each person has assurance that there will be no interference with his freedom to worship according to his conscience. These are the right of counsel, jury trial, and other safeguards to protect individuals with "due process of law."

LAWS OBEYED

However, of specific significance and considered as equally important is the principle that alongside these rights are duties and responsibilities which every student should study, understand and fulfill. One of these duties is to obey the law and assist in law enforcement. These responsibilities are basic in a democratic society for orderly and group living. Another duty is that of performing military service and other lawfully constituted activities in defense of our country and liberties. A third is the duty of paying taxes to share in the costs of government. A fourth is actively participating in a responsible role, in community affairs, including of course activities within our own university community. However, it must be remembered, as part of the privilege attendant upon academic freedom, students are expected to act with responsibility and a high mindedness which subordinates self to the well-being of the total community.

There is a fitting relationship between rights and duties. Equal rights under the law means equal responsibilities to the law. The duty of obedience to law, for example, does not imply that one has to accept every law as being desirable. There is a traditional and historical right of dissent that may escalate to duty-level when a citizen is convinced that an existing law or policy is not in the public interest. To obey the law while speaking out for repeal or change is a mark of a truly public-spirited citizen. However, this does not mean that force or "coercive negotiations" infested by emotionalism should be substituted for reason, judgment and intelligence. Effective citizenship is lacking if one does not speak out when silence may be easier, if one does not express his position when the majority holds another view, if one does not use his rights by thinking out loud and discussing community problems.

UNDERSTANDING CITIZENSHIP

Obviously this is by no means a complete list of a citizens rights and duties. However, those listed above are important. Once a person understands their meaning for himself, he will be well on the way to a mature grasp of citizenship.

In the University as well as at home you are a citizen, and the University is especially concerned about establishing and providing both learning experiences and a rich community life that will promote and develop your training in good citizenship. But the academic community is special for one reason: it is a community of scholars — students and teachers. However, this does not imply that you abandon the rights and responsibilities of state and U. S. citizenship. Rather, you retain these and assume new and special responsibilities and privileges. Some of these privileges at the University are: (1) instruction from teachers trained for their profession, leaders in their fields — many of them known through the nation and the world for their knowledge and scholarly achievements; (2) use of extensive physical facilities — a physical plant built up by public and private funds during the past 100 years by the citizens of Nevada for the college training of youth; (3) the opportunity to develop one's faith and philosophy of life through voluntary religious groups which

State Welfare Should Come First

The days of high school rivalry are gone for University students. Now the only rivalries should be on the football field, or striving to help one's fraternity, or sorority, or perhaps any justifiable cause.

But this surely doesn't include juvenile rivalry between the two campuses in the state, which both need each other, and which are vying for the same goal . . . better educational facilities.

Saturday, the Board of Regents met and discussed a proposal asking for a permanent committee to study the Southern campus. The result was a story in papers throughout the state saying the meeting resulted in heated words between the Regents.

It is doubtful that much support was gained on either side from students when they saw how well this University law-making body works together.

This year will probably see many conflicts between the two campuses. And rightly so. The two schools are at a most important phase of growth, and funds, etc., cannot always be distributed to please both sides.

But we as students of the University of Nevada should overlook such trivialities and foolishness as burnings in effigy, or student protest marches.

Indeed we should strive for the University of Nevada, support her colors, and argue she is best.

But at the same time we should strive for her largest benefactor, and the benefactor of education all around us — the state.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

WHILE WE'RE AT IT, MISS DOANE, WHY DON'T WE PLAN A SECOND SEMESTER SCHEDULE FOR YOU, ANYWAY? — JUST IN CASE!

What's New, Pussycat?

Congratulations and good luck to all of the sororities and fraternities on their great pledge classes . . .

At the U of N this summer several bachelors succumbed and several "misses" became "Mrs.". Among them were Gamma Phi Margaret Lewis and Ron Lee, Theta Sandy Saviers and SAE Steve Gaylord, Pi Phi Sally Lombardi and Johnny Thorman, Tri-Delt Janet Stoggsdill and Jack Byrom, Pi Phi Judy Crossett and Tommy Duke, Len Mackedon and ATO Larry Farrow, Adele Pinkerton and SN Doug Fletcher, Barbara Leonard and Bucky Barkman, Theta Jill Freeman and SN Cam Solari, Gamma Phi Jeanette Stoddard and Tony Trevino, Toinette Pardini and SN Bob Hamilton, Tri-Delt Toni Poloni and Bruce Jackson, Gamma Phi Donna Burkham and Bill Daniels, Marsha Berger and SAE Rick Heaney . . .

ATO Terry Ronin was baptized with beer (2 glasses) at the Little Wal Friday night by an angry Tri-Delt — all that just for kissing another girl? . . . "Housemother" Art Kess is managing Mackay Manor with new wife, Karen . . . The new Gamma Phi house is a Beaut! . . .

Engaged couples on campus now include Theta Phyllis Teipner and SN Roy Pike, Gamma Phi Lani Pew and Lambda Chi

Cleve Crudgington, Leah Geyer and Willie Chism, Pi Phi Penny White and SAE Joe Mayer, Theta Nancy Englehard and Gary Busch, Maryann Meyer and Brian Randall, Ronnie Loverin and Phil Solaro, Sherry Burroughs and ATO Corky Smith, Tri-Delt Karen Isbell and SAE Dale Shute . . .

Mikki Bagby, green freshman who is looking for a big name on campus was "out to lunch" with past and present, Keithie and Foote — how impressive . . . From what I hear the Tri-Delt houseboys are really ATO hunks . . . No longer footloose and fancy free and very happy about it are Tri-Delt Chris Barger and SN Doug Loberg, Judy Weishaupt and ATO Steve Hansen, Denise Kuehns and ATO Carl Bossieux — they're pinned . . .

Sensational Johnny Rivers coming to Harolds Club in October. Petula Clark in November . . . As a result of a lucky Keno ticket SN Steve Brown summered in Europe — sigh . . . Also, this summer SAE Arne Nossun went home to Norway for a visit and came back engaged . . . The big attraction at the ATO beer bust Saturday seemed to be ATO pledge Rusty Jones' roadster — several girls were lucky enough to get rides . . . diggin' you, Mr. Marshall . . .

WANTED: one girl for SAE Von Cannon to fall in love with . . .

106 Accept Sorority Bids As Rushing Comes To An End

A week of rushing came to an end Saturday when 106 coeds accepted invitations to join the four Greek letter sororities at the University of Nevada.

The week long rush program began last Sunday afternoon with a tea party at each of the four houses. All of the new women participating in the rush program attended each house during the afternoon.

The sororities, Pi Beta Phi, Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Delta Delta, and Kappa Alpha Theta also sponsored parties for prospective pledges on Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, followed by Friday's "preference night", which included two parties for those women receiving invitations by the sorority that wished to bid them.

Rushes were permitted to attend no more than two functions, followed by their declaration of preference at 9 p.m. in the Education Auditorium with the Panhellenic Council.

On Saturday morning, bids were picked up in the Student Union Building.

The women of Delta Delta Delta received the largest number of new women with 32. Included among these are, Katherine Anne Barrett, Reno; Lynn Irene Baughman, Boulder City; Ingrid Ann Broten, Reno; Zoe Ann Catalano, Roseville, California; Susan Shepard Elliot, San Anselmo, California; Suzanne Ferris, Reno; Cyndia Ann Gallagher, Fallon; Barbara Audrey Gardner, Reno; Robin Gassiot, Olympic Valley, California; Joan Ellen Hamlyn, Madrid, Spain; Susan Marie Hansen, Reno; Claudia Elaine Hartman, Los Altos, California; Susan Karen Kees, Reno; Annette Knous, Ely; Judy Mae McGinnis, Reno; Susan McGovern, San Francisco; Mary Diane Nelson, Incline Village; Lane Oesterle, Concord, California; Judith Ann Phillips, Bishop, California; Ginger Ann Roberts, Reno; Deborah Suzanne Rose, Reno; Mary Elizabeth Samon, Reno; Patrice Semenza, Reno; Toni Dee Semenza, Reno; Christine Skaer, San Anselmo, California; Jill Pamela Spatz, Reno; Sandra Lynne Swan, Columbus, Ohio; Pamela Turner, Hillsborough, California; Nikki Tyler, Stewart; Claire Wagner, Reno; Joan Welsh, Sacramento, California; Sherryl Wiley, Reno.

Pi Beta Phi pledged 27 women. The new affiliates are: Delores Rene Barcellos, Yerington Patricia Bollesen, Reno; Sally Colton, Reno; Janice Marie Day, Sparks; Pamela Hall Dayton, Arlington, Virginia; Nancy Ann Drake, Reno; Jacquelyn Fabian, Chico, California; Carol Garaventa, Reno; Barbara Gottschalk, Reno; Carolyn Hall, Reno; Myrtle Jane Hawkins, Reno; Jacqueline Jaurugiuto, Reno; Dorinda Landa, Reno; Stephanie Lorigan, Reno; Katherine Matley, Reno; Deborah Moore, Las Vegas; Georgia Jean Nannini, Reno; Linda Anne Pietropaolo, Reno; Carolyn Lee Polish, Reno; Karen Ellen Rix, Sparks; Eleanor Rodriguez, Reno; Susan Lynn Stiff, Columbus, Ohio; Suzette Dee Swanson, Reno; Jennifer Thornton, Reno; Linda Vargas, Reno; Sharon Gay

Wilson, Reno; Judy Ann Wood, Reno.

Twenty four new rushees have accepted invitations to pledge Kappa Alpha Theta. The 24 are: Linda Audrain, Reno; Sarah Gates Babcock, San Mateo, California; Lynne Beeghly, Reno; Jane Ellen Beloso, Reno; Cecilia Christian; Sacramento; Andrae Dube, Carson City; Michele Jane Elcano, Alexandria, Virginia; Janet Susan Emmons, Reno; Ardyth Felesina, Sparks; Charlotte ean Ferrari, Reno; Nancy Gamble, Newport Beach, California; an Elizabeth Hannifan, Fallon; Frances Ellen Jones, Reno; Edith LaFond, Reno; Linda Mary Lang, Grass Valley, California; Barbara Jean Nelson, Reno; Susan Eileen Nelson, Reno; Patricia Mary Poe, San Jose, California; Pamela Adams Quilici, Reno; Toni Marie Robustellini, Reno; Linda Lorraine Ruecki, Reno; Julie Anne Savage, Reno; Jean Ann Urrutia, Reno.

Gamma Phi Beta received 23 new pledges. New affiliates include, Kathleen Ann Arneson, Reno; Laura Arbrose, Quincy, California; Ellen Bedell, Reno; Wendy Jane Blecka, Wells; Emily Louella Breen, Reno; Susan Ann Carey, Reno; Emily Carpenter, Woodside, California; Julia Cassinelli, Reno; Roberta Cone, Las Vegas; Jacqueline Ennis, Virginia City; Pamela Ann Fraser, San Francisco; Donna Evelyn Hage, Sparks; Francine King, Pleasanton, California; Nancy Krushane, Carson City; Melani Ann Murray, Columbus AFB, Mississippi; Linda Marie Patrucco, Reno; Lauri Reginato, Reno; Rennell Trosi, Reno; Irene Turchyn, Reno; Donna Yini Watts, Winnemucca; Sherry Wood, Zephyr Cove.

AWS Meeting Tomorrow In Union Building

Associated Women Students Judicial Council will meet Wednesday afternoons at 3:30 in the Hardy room of the Jot Travis Union Building.

Women students who have violated AWS regulations under Council jurisdiction should check the campus list posted in the dorms and sorority houses. Students will also be informed by the dorm vice-president or sorority housemanager to attend the meeting.

Judicial cases are first presented by the officer of the living group in which the violation has been made. The violator then presents her case before the group and Assistant Dean of Women, Roberta Barnes. After consideration of the case and circumstances, the Council hands down a final decision.

Football Rally Scheduled For This Friday Night; Sparks First Home Tilt

The first home football game will be celebrated Friday night with an all-school rally at 8 p.m. A snake dance will precede the rally. Students in all living groups and off-campus are invited to participate.

The snake dance will start in front of the Jot Travis Student Union at 7:30 p.m. with students living off campus and in dormitories. The snake dance will then proceed to the Greek living houses, wind through the campus, and end in Mackay Stadium.

A bon-fire built by Sagers will be lit. The Pep-Pack will lead several songs and cheers and the football team and coaches will be introduced. The Alma Mater will close the rally, and a Sunday dance will follow.

Jot Travis Union Student Pool Hall Will Open Today

NEVADA STUDENTS enjoy the new facilities in the Jot Travis Student Union. The new pool hall will be opened to ASUN members and faculty today.

Shuffleboard, Billiards Offered

This morning at 9 a.m., the Jot Travis Union pool room officially opens to all University of Nevada students. Situated to the left and behind the snack bar, the room has one pool table, one billiard table and a shuffleboard table.

Opened as a project of the Student Union Board Activities Committee, the room is in operation on a trial basis. "Should any of the pool room facilities be damaged or stolen, the pool area will be closed immediately," stated Tony Oxborrow, student union board president, who added pool will be free all day today. Beginning Wednesday, pool will be $.50 per hour per person, or $1.50 per hour for a group of four or more.

Cues may be obtained in the Student Union Office by leaving either a valid driver's license or university I. D. Tables may be reserved in advance by phoning Ext. 291 or by going into the Union office.

Tables have been set up for food and beverages, and vending machines will be added in the near future. Tentative plans include a ping pong table and a juke box.

Russell Outlines Homecoming

1965 Homecoming activities are being planned announced Dave Russell, homecoming chairman. Activities will be held October 27, 28, 29, and 30. This year's theme is American Travelog.

FROLIC HELD

Activities will include the homecoming parade, football game with the Cal Aggies, cross-

Capable of speeds better than 2,000 mph, the YF-12A is the hottest aircraft around. Now Maj. Walter F. Daniel, test pilot for the YF-12A, answers your questions about the world's fastest manned airplane and America's Aerospace Team.

(Maj. Daniel, a test pilot since 1954, is a member of the Society of Experimental Test Pilots. He received a B.S. degree in Aeronautical Engineering from the University of Oklahoma. In February 1962, he set world class time-to-climb records in a T-38 jet trainer.)

Is the YF-12A the world's fastest manned aircraft?

It certainly is. On May 1 of this year the YF-12A (formerly known as the A-11) reclaimed the world absolute speed record from the USSR. It was clocked at 2,062 mph over Edwards Air Force Base.

How big is the YF-12A?

The exact dimensions of the YF-12A have not been released yet. But it's approximately 100 feet long, with about a 50-foot wingspan. That's half again as big as our present interceptors!

Is the Air Force training many men as pilots these days?

Yes, very definitely. In spite of all you hear about unmanned vehicles, the human pilot is still very much in the picture. As a matter of fact, the Air Force pilot quota is on the increase.

What other kinds of jobs does the Air Force offer?

Since it's one of the world's foremost technological organizations, the Air Force has plenty of openings for scientists and engineers. There are also many challenging and varied administrative-managerial positions.

What do I have to do to become an Air Force officer?

Air Force ROTC is the best way to get started as an Air Force officer. The new two-year Air Force ROTC program makes this method available to men who have already completed a year or two of their college education. For college graduates, if you did not take advantage of ROTC, you can still get started through Air Force Officer Training School (OTS), a three-month course open to both men and women.

Can I keep up my studies while I'm in the Air Force?

The Air Force encourages its men and women to continue their educations. For instance, you may qualify to study for a graduate degree during off-duty hours, with the Air Force paying a substantial part of the tuition.

What kind of future do I have in the Air Force?

A bright one. As we move further into the Aerospace Age, the Air Force is going to grow even more important. And you can grow with it!

United States Air Force.

Wolf Pack Loses Heavily 47-0 To Strong Defense

Long Beach State capitalizing on a strong defense, sound passing, and excellent running drubbed the University of Nevada Wolf Pack Saturday night 47-0. The loss was the first of the young season for the visiting Nevada eleven.

The 49ers were in trouble at the beginning when Nevada recovered a fumble on the 49er 20-yard line. But a tight defensive stand by Long Beach stopped the Silver and Blue drive on the six yard line.

From there the home team 49ers began their strong attack.

LONG BEACH SCORES

Long Beach quarterback Jack Reilly threw four scoring passes, three to split end Shelly Novack, added to an offensive game that netted 500 total yards, including three touchdowns on the ground.

Nevada gained a total of 168 yards, with 62 of them coming by way of the passing of Sophomore quarterback, Cris Ault, who finished the night with 12 for 20. Jack Schwella, senior, starting his first game for the Pack grabbed five passes for 35 yards; Earl Nursement four for 23 yards, and Art Bayer three for 35.

Long Beach's Novack led all receivers with 136 yards and six grabs. Reilly, former junior college All-American completed nine of 13 passing attempts for 164 yards.

PACK STOPPED

After the opening period, Nevada's attack never got underway, while the Long Beach offense poured on to a 27-0 half-time advantage.

The 1964 season opener saw Long Beach smash the Wolf Pack, 53-6, behind a team that received national recognition on the basis of an 8-2 season.

Nevada will host Willamette University in the season opener at home this Saturday.

IFC Meet Tonight

The University of Nevada Interfraternity Council will hold its first meeting of the new year tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Hardy Room of the Jot Travis Student Union, according to Tammy Conklin Interfraternity president.

The meeting will include discussion of initiation and pledging rules among the fraternities, and is open to all interested parties.

Intramurals To Begin Monday

Lee Newell, director of sports, announced the intramural season will begin next Monday, Sept. 27, with baseball.

All teams wishing to participate should sign up before that time in the intramural office, located in the new gymnasium.

Newly enrolled students will be eligible, except for a letterman who has lettered in the particular sport being played. Teams will be available for faculty and graduate students.

The fall sports schedule will include the cross country, golf, tennis, volleyball, and baseball. Team managers should contact Mr. Newell before Sept. 27.

An activities parade will be held Tuesday, Sept. 28th in the Travis Lounge of the Student Union from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The purpose of the parade is to inform students of the existing campus organizations, and to enlist their membership in these clubs.

Interested persons should contact Michon Maupin, ASUN 2nd vice president, in charge of clubs and activities in her office in the Student Union, or phone 329-0484.

International Confab

The International Relations Club will hold a coffee hour Thursday night from 3-5 p.m. in the Travis Lounge, according to the club's president, Paul Baidwan.

The purpose of the organization is to promote better understanding between the American and foreign students on campus. In addition, foreign students can become more acquainted with the American way of life.

A speaker will be present. All are invited.

From the End of the Bench

By MIKE SMITHWICK

There is no way anyone can cover up the 47-0 defeat the Wolf Pack suffered Saturday at Long Beach. This was the second time the University of Nevada has lost to the Long Beach State b9ers, and it is the second time they have lost by 47 points. The reason for such a large gap in the score may be the fact that Long Beach State College is three times the size of the University of Nevada, and is allowed to give scholarships to athletes. But whatever the reason, the fact still remains that Nevada was over-matched and lost by 47 points.

However, the score often hides the strong points of the losing team. Because even though the University of Nevada lost, there were some tremendous individual efforts displayed at Long Beach by Wolf Pack football players. Fullback Joe Sobeck carried the football thirty times into the Long Beach line and managed to make yardage every carry. (He was so tired after the game, he couldn't take his uniform off.) Split-end Jack Schwella caught every pass thrown to him. His first reception was a touchdown bomb, but his feet landed two feet out of the end zone, his second pass was in the dirt and he still came up with the ball.

But individual efforts don't win a football game. It takes teamwork. And Nevada was no match for team work between Long Beach's little All American quarterback and overwhelming line.

... Nevada Dean Writes On Citizenship

spiritual and moral values, and (4) active participation and support, a most important responsibility in student government — an help relate ones technical skills to a scale of opportunity open to each and every student. However, membership in the university community, like membership in any community, means more than privileges. It also means responsibilities, all along the line, responsibilities of applying one's self to the serious business of being a good student — academically as well as non-academically. One responsibility is preparation for a career and a future life — using these years at the university intelligently and constructively in the pursuit of an educational goal. It is also a duty to practice, by precept and example, unswerving honesty in and outside the classroom in all pleasing conduct. Another duty is that of helping to maintain this university in its search for truth and the advancement of learning.

CITIZENSHIP IS LEARNED

It must be emphasized and re-emphasized that the mark of good citizenship does not come to one like a free gift, neatly wrapped and delivered. It must be learned from parents, teachers, pastors — then study and the inter-action of groups to which one belongs. Good citizenship is something one achieves through serious and continuous effort within the classroom, out-of-class activities, association with others, and active participation in student government.

The doors to good citizenship are open to you at the University of Nevada. It is suggested you use them. However, in using them, remember this: just as citizenship in state and nation means more than paying taxes and voting, so citizenship in this community of scholars means much more than payment of fees and observing the formality of class attendance. Good citizenship on and off campus means freedom, individual responsibility, and intelligent participation in community affairs.

CONDUCT

To help you understand your responsibilities in these areas, some things are expected of you in your behavior and conduct. The university expects that each student will obey the laws that the state and local authorities have made. Besides these, there are certain rules and regulations that the university wishes to emphasize and, of course, there are certain types of behavior which are unacceptable.

Conduct on campus, in the classroom, and at all times, should reveal your maturity, sense of responsibility and moral standards. Courtesy to instructors, to other students and to the public is expected of each one of us and a failure to show this type of responsibility is the type of conduct which is unfavorable. Each student is expected to be honest in his work. Dishonesty in assignments, examinations or other academic work is considered a very serious offense by the faculty and other students.

The university insists that the property of the university and of other students should and must be respected. Theft of any kind, whether of money or other property, is unacceptable within university rules. The destruction or mutilation of books, magazines or other library material in the university libraries is another type of conduct which is not acceptable. Equally so is damage to or destruction of the buildings or equipment of the university.

Drinking on campus, in the residence halls or other university property, is another type of behavior not approved by the university. Drunkenness or any other type of behavior which is disturbing or disorderly reflects on the university and therefore, is contrary to the best interests of the university and other students.

RULES PROVIDE BETTER LIVING

In general, these are some of the things to which each student should be alert. Besides these are rules in the various residences for students. Most of these rules are there simply to provide for better living for everyone, such as concerns noise, use of facilities and the way bills are handled. The university has certain standards established concerning entertainment hours, and so forth. Each student should acquaint himself with these rules.

The office of Student Affairs in cooperation with the student Judicial Council (all students) has been delegated the responsibility to take necessary action in any case where the behavior of the student reflects unfavorably on the university or is unacceptable behavior in the terms described above.

It is understood, of course, that the vast majority of students need no code super-imposed upon them — and that incidents of misbehavior or misconduct has not been a serious problem of this campus.
