Popular Song Trio To Appear In Gym

The Lettermen will appear tonight at 8 p.m. in the new gym, blending their voices on folk songs, new and old.

These young men have appeared from coast to coast in Hollywood, Las Vegas, San Francisco, Washington D. C. and many other cities. They have performed on a variety of national television shows, including Ed Sullivan, Steve Allen, and the Tonight show.

Their honors include two Grammy awards, three Bill-board awards, and two Cashbox awards.

Tony Butala, Jim Pike and Bob Engemann as individuals make up the group known as The Lettermen. Their voices are all within the same vocal range, making it possible for them to interchange their parts, and permitting each member to do solos.

Included in their singing program, will be a bit of comedy, and some vocal impressions as they provide their own accompaniment.

Tickets will be on sale until 5 p.m. today, in room 104 of the Student Union building.

Gym doors open at 7:30 p.m.

Candidates Set For Tuesday Election; Talk On Programs

By HAMPTON YOUNG
Assistant Editor

Political fervor is at a high as politicians "plaster" the campus with posters and wear their cheeriest smiles for tomorrow's primary elections.

Several candidates are in the running with the major offices of freshman and senior class president up for grabs. Four candidates are vying for frosh president.

Bill Waller is a 17-year-old Phi Sig from Reno. A graduate of Reno High, he was president of Junior Achievement of Reno and was their national representative for four years. Waller wants to see, "a united freshman class, one everyone will be proud of in their senior year."

Frosh-Soph Day

Roger Diedrichsen, an 18-year-old SAE from Sparks, is a graduate of Sparks High. At Sparks he was president of the Student Body and a 3-year football letterman. Diedrichsen wants the frosh to have representation in Senate. He also wants to see "more participation, on behalf of freshmen, on Frosh-Soph Field Day."

ATO Mike Koizumi, 18-year-old graduate of Wooster High was freshman class president and senior vice-president.

Koizumi would like to see freshmen represented well. He says the "frosh haven't as much representation as they should have."

Thomas Meyers is an 18-year-old graduate of Manogue in Reno. A Sigma Nu, he was senior class president, sophomore class treasurer and went to Boys State while at Manogue. Meyers would like to see the freshman class united as a foundation to better enable them to run affairs in their Senior year.

More Participation

Three men are competing for senior class president. ATO Bennie Ferrari, a 21-year-old from Kings Beach, California wants to see more participation by seniors and a bigger and better senior ball. Ferrari wants to see a senior gift that will endure and be remembered.

Ferrari is president of UNCOC

(University of Nevada Cadet Officers Club) and is co-chairman of the Military Ball. He is a transfer from the University of San Francisco where he was on the freshman class committee.

SAE Jim Baker, a 21-year-old from Reno, wants to see more enforcement and improvement of past campus traditions. Baker, past IFC President and rush chairman, is a member of Blue Key, Sundowners and Coffin and Keys. He is on the Upperclass Committee. He was on last years Homecoming Committee, and was Ugly Man.

Other office candidates include:

Hank Williams is a 21-year-old Sigma Nu from Reno. He's a member of Blue Key and was in Sagers. He has been on past Winter Carnival and Homecoming activities, and was treasurer and house manager of the Sigma Nu house.

Williams says he wants to represent everybody. He says people on senior committees will be chosen on their abilities and not on their connections. Williams would also like to see more and better job interviews for seniors.

For the College of Business senatorial seats: Bill Isaef, and Independent: Riley Beckett, a Sigma Nu; and two more Independents, Bruce Stephenson and Ernie Spaulding.

Senatorial Seats

Vying for the College of Education senatorial seats are: Tri-Delt Ronda Wilson-Reid, Independent Barbara Cooper and Pi Phi Sheila Dwyer.

Neither of the Senate races will have a primary, however.

Candidates for the office of freshman AWS Representative are: Susan Nelson, a Theta; Kay Barret, a Tri-Delt and Delores Baccellos, a Pi Phi.

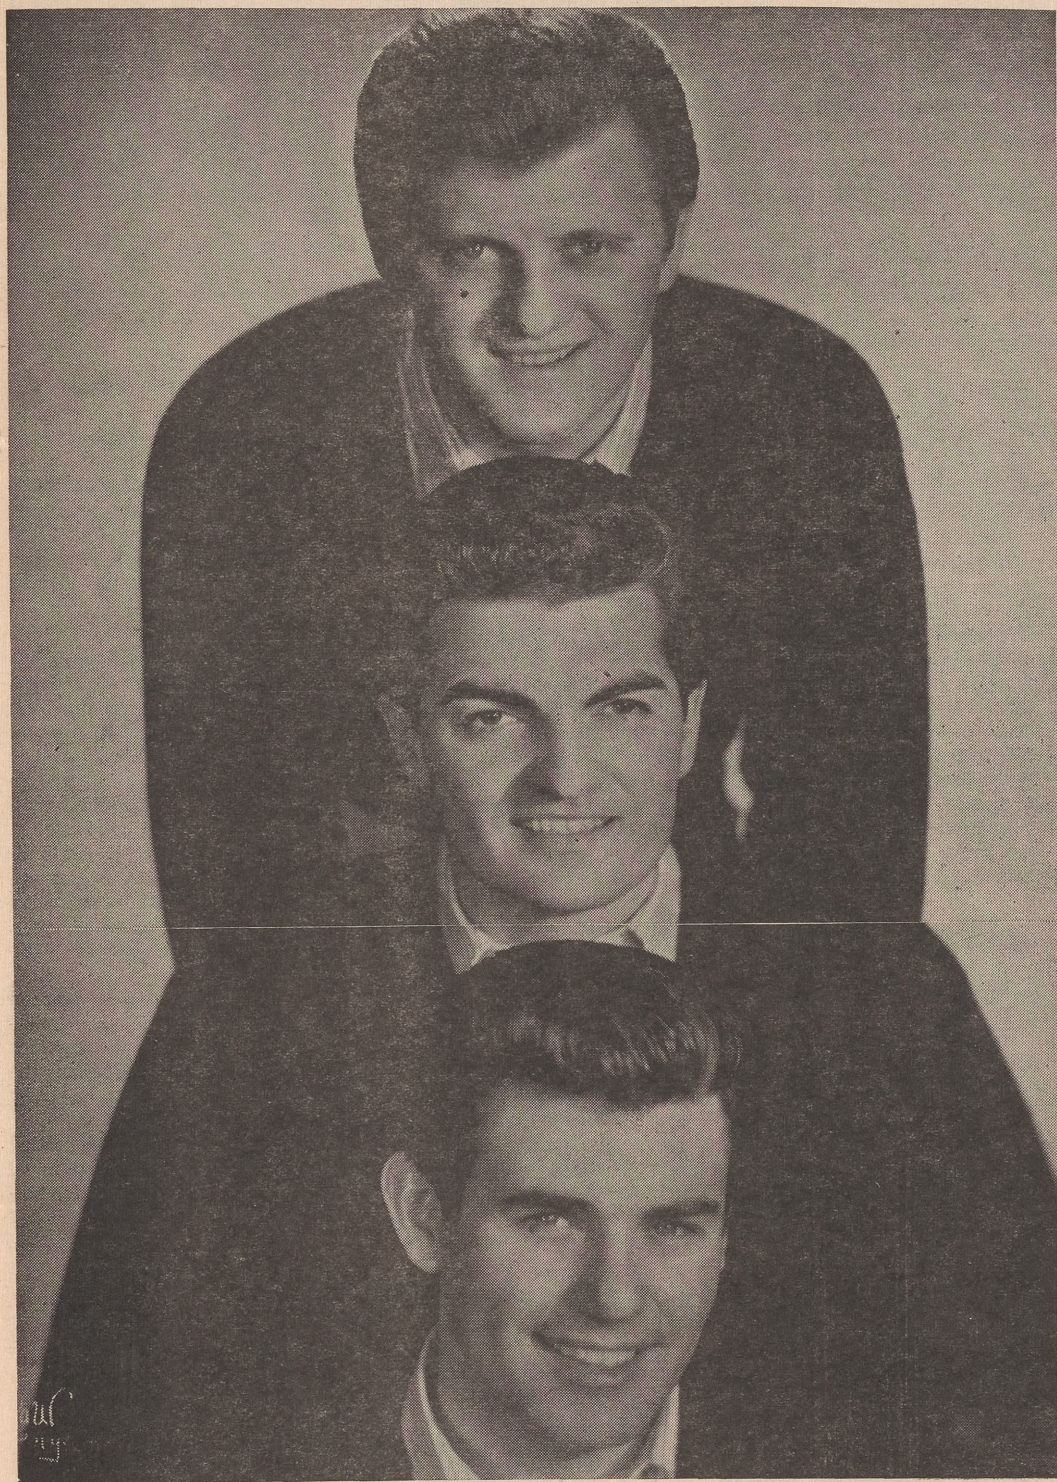

There will be no primary for the office of Off-Campus Independent AWS Representative. Candidates are Chris Garos and Melinda Anne Dallas.

Recognition Forms Are Still Available

Student organization report forms are still available and must be turned in to ASUN 2nd Vice-President Michon Maupin before October 15.

A membership list and constitution must also accompany the forms.

Organizations failing to do so may have their recognition revoked.

THE LETTERMEN, nationally known singing group, will appear in the gym tonight at 8 p.m.

Pulitzer Cartoons Are On Display

Sigma Delta Chi, and Pulitzer Prize-winning editorial cartoons, and many other outstanding entries in the 1963 Sigma Delta Chi annual awards contest, are now on display in the Journalism Building on the University campus.

The original of the winning Sigma Delta Chi cartoon, by Bill Malden of the Chicago Sun-Times, is featured among the works along with a reproduction of the Pulitzer winner by Frank Miller of the Des Moines, Iowa, Register.

Sigma Delta Chi, the national professional journalism society, makes its Distinguished Service in Journalism awards each year in every department of journalism. The Pulitzer prize winner is chosen in separate competition.

Other familiar entries are those of Herblock, Washington Post; Rube Goldberg, New York Journal-American; and Hugh Hayne, Louisville Courier-Journal.

The subject matter of the cartoonists represented ranges from Sputniks and world affairs to civil rights and other public and domestic situations.

Judging in the competition is based on craftsmanship, interest, forcefulness and general worth.

Wolf Pack Deserves Praise For Effort; May Be New Football Era

Many times during the young football season, the Wolf Pack could have forgotten the spirit that is undoubtedly with the team now.

Even though the team record is 0-3, the efforts have been exceptional. And the result may be a conference championship for the University of Nevada; the first since 1939.

Many factors can be cited as the reason for the fine performances by Nevada, but perhaps the spirit, the backbone of the Wolf Pack is in the person of Bill Daniels Jr.

Not only has he "toughened up" a previously so-called "soft" team, but he hasn't made any enemies in doing it. And more important, he surely hasn't made any friends.

It is not the job of a football coach to make friends. It is his job to obtain the best efforts out of his team. If the players hate him and he achieves a fine season, they will love him after it's all over. And moreover they will respect him.

The Pack fans have contributed a great deal to the fine efforts of the 1965 season. A team feels like playing when someone wants it to win.

Perhaps it is fitting for this season to be played at Mackay Stadium. The old structure deserves a winner. The bleachers are old, the turf is worn, and the fans have distant memories of the days of a strong, powerful team, one receiving national recognition.

The 1965 season has a different tint to it. The sound of football doesn't bring a disgruntled remark from the students. Instead, they look forward to next week.

The "new look" may be here for some time. But only if the athletic department takes advantage of a good team by not letting down after the season is over.

Recruitment is essential. The University has a good start, and if it can continue we will have a team to be proud of; one deserving support; one like the 1965 Wolf Pack.

Bells Were Not Ramrodded

Letter to the Editor: Sagebrush
 The recent unsigned publication concerning the Carillon Bells has prompted me to state a few facts of which the author (s) is either unaware or has chosen to ignore.

The bells were not purchased in the face of student protest, their purchase was not "ramrodded" by administrative decree, rather their purchase was sanctioned by both students and faculty a short while after an introductory trial period last December. At this time resolutions were passed by several student groups (IFC and Pan Hellenic Council to name two) and letters were written by several faculty members authorizing and asking for acquisition. Senate discussed the feasibility of their purchase and they voted unanimously to accept them. No administrative action was taken until the adoption of these resolutions.

If the person (people) who circulated the publications had been vitally and genuinely interested and sincere in protest, he and his followers would have availed themselves of the several opportunities to speak last year. I view their action now with disdain as they apparently have not even the courage of conviction to sign their names.

Should there be a future publication, I think these people should realize their freedom of speech involves a degree of responsibility, before they draw conclusions and make accusations they should possess some facts.

Applications For Scholarships To Close Oct. 22

Applications for the 1966-68 Marshall Scholarships, awarded annually by the British government to enable American college graduates to study in universities in the United Kingdom, will close on October 22, 1965.

Twenty-four scholarships are awarded annually under the Marshall program, four of which are guaranteed to the Western states. According to Dr. Robert McQueen, scholarship advisor, the scholarships are regarded nationally as the most valuable and prestigious awards it is possible for any American of either sex to win to any British university.

The awards are open to students of either sex who are under 26 years of age on October 1, 1966. Further information on the program may be obtained from Dr. McQueen, Room 205, Morrill Hall.

Johnson Returns From New York

Miss Nancy Johnson, senior in the Orvis Ring School of Nursing, recently returned from New York City, where she presided at a meeting of the National Student Nurses' Association.

The NSNA executive board discussed the association's national project, recruiting Negro and underprivileged groups into the nursing profession.

Miss Johnson will attend the national conference of the Professional Student's Organization in Washington, D.C. later this semester, where she will meet with the presidents of associations of student lawyers, doctors, teachers, architects and dentists.

She will also speak at meetings in Durham N. C., Salt Lake City and Las Vegas.

Miss Johnson was elected to her post at the national convention in San Francisco last May. Candidates gave a two-minute speech before delegates from every state.

Miss Johnson defeated her opponent 96-3 in the final voting. Her term of office will continue until the June convention.

The student nurse president plans to join the Peace Corps next summer. She prefers an assignment in Africa, she said, and would like to specialize in pediatrics there.

Miss Johnson is also a member of the Jot Travis Union board of directors, and a past president of the Nevada State Nurses' Association.

Sergeant Brown Re-enlists

S.F.C. George Brown has just re-enlisted for six years into the U.S. Army.

He has been on active duty for fourteen years prior to this enlistment.

Sergeant Brown, who serves as the Supply Sergeant for the Military Department, first came to the University in 1959. After three years he was assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division in Korea.

On completion of his one-year tour in Korea he was re-assigned as Supply Sergeant to the University.

In his fourteen years of active duty Sergeant Brown has served in California, Alaska, Japan, and Korea. During the Korean conflict he served as a squad leader in the 21st Infantry.

He was awarded the Combat

Infantryman's Badge, and the Purple Heart, during his combat years in Korea.

During his career in the Army, Sergeant Brown has successfully completed the Tank School at Camp Roberts, California; the Parachute School at Sendai, Japan; and the Cold Weather Mountain Training School at Fort Greeley, Alaska.

He is married to Mrs. Gladys Brown, who serves as the Military Department's secretary. The Browns have three children.

Film Presented Tomorrow Night

The film, "The Bicycle Thief", will be presented tomorrow night, Oct. 6, at the University Theatre in the Church Fine Arts Building. U. of N. students will be admitted free of charge to the two showings at 7 and 9 p.m.

Sponsored by the speech department and the Jot Travis Student Union, the production will be the third in the University Theatre Classic Film Series. "The Squeeze", a short subject concerning the over-population of the world, will also be shown.

Vittorio de Sica, director of "The Bicycle Thief", is the originator of the Italian neo-realist movement in motion pictures. This style sprang up directly after W.W. II.

An example of this can be seen in the film, where De Sica picked the majority of the cast for the picture directly from the streets of Rome. Only one part is played by an actor.

"The Bicycle Thief" was called "one of the 10 best films in 40 years", by the noted critic, Bosley Crowther.

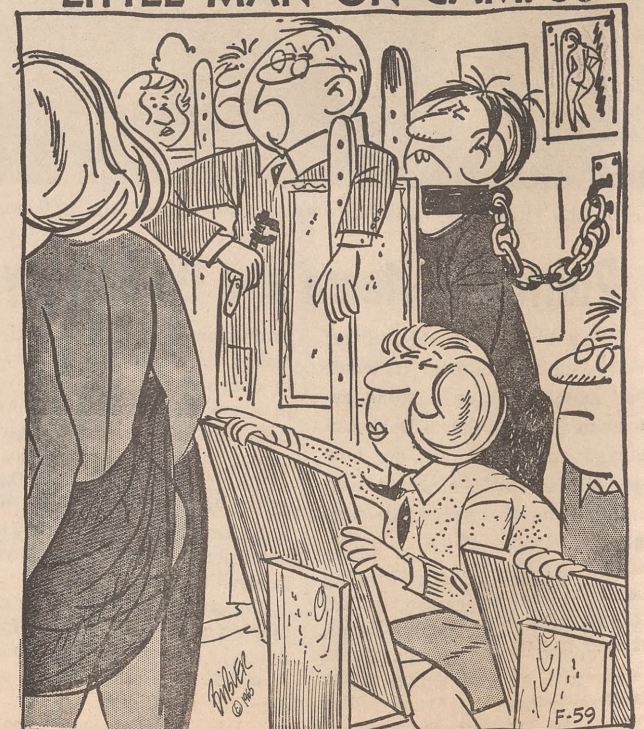

Aggie Fraternity To Hold Meeting

Alpha Zeta, the honorary agriculture fraternity, will be holding its first meeting of the semester Wednesday evening, October 6, in room 234 of the Fleischmann Agriculture building, President Neil Christensen announced earlier this week.

Alpha Zeta will begin the new year by co-sponsoring the College of Agriculture and Home Economics picnic. During the year, the club plans to entertain visiting dignitaries and hold initiation for men who are voted into the fraternity.

Elected to offices in the service group were: Neil Christensen, president; Johnny Riel, vice president; Harvey Barnes, secretary; Michael Gottchalk, treasurer; and Woodrow Knight, chronicler.

University Receives Grant From S&H Foundation

The University of Nevada will receive up to $2,000 in a lectureship grant awarded by The Sperry and Hutchinson Foundation, Inc., it was announced by President Charles J. Armstrong.

The S&H Lectureship Grants Program is designed to enrich graduate and undergraduate programs and to extend and strengthen the influence of the schools in their communities.

Political figures, scientists, and historians have taken part in the programs, which are proposed by the schools and awarded on a competitive basis. The grants were started by The Sperry and Hutchinson Company in 1960. Thirty-eight colleges and universities around the country have been awarded grants totaling $72,378 for the 1965-66 school year.

The university's grant will consist of a series of lectures on "Democracy As We Know It."

A stipulation in the grant is that the lecture programs, which center around public affairs and the social sciences, must be open to the general public as well as

Tests For Law School Scheduled

The law school admission test, required of candidates for admission to most American law schools, will be given at more than 200 centers throughout the nation on November 13, 1965; February 12, 1966; April 9, 1966; and August 6, 1966. The test will be administered by the Educational Testing Service.

Candidates should make separate application to the law school of their choice, and check with each as to whether it requires the test. Since many law schools select their freshmen classes in the spring preceding entrance, candidates for admission to next year's classes are advised to take either the November or the February test.

Registration forms may be obtained at the counseling and testing center, room 108, in the Clark Administration building on the University of Nevada campus.

Aggie Club's Comic Rodeo Will Be Held October 16

Two 31-inch revolving trophies will be carried home by the winning groups at the First Annual Aggie Club comic rodeo to be held on October 16 at the Steen Ranch in Washoe Valley. Activities will get under way at noon.

Aggie Club Vice President, Larry Wood, reports the trophies will be engraved and will revolve each year, going to the entering group with the most points accumulated during rodeo events.

This year's queen and king, to be crowned at the rodeo dance, will be presented with gold colored belt buckles donated by Mr. Allen Capurro and Mr. Joe Martin of the D Bar M.

Groups entering the rodeo competition will be allowed to sponsor a king and queen. Each person buying a 50 cent ticket, will be entitled to cast a vote for the candidates.

Entry blanks for the contests have been distributed to the presidents of the fraternities, sororities, and living groups or may be obtained from Larry Wood. Off-campus independents wishing to enter the rodeo may pick up forms from Miss Karen Branch in the housing office.

In addition to the various living group entries, Captain Henry N. Frost, assistant professor of military science, will be sponsoring a group of ROTC students who will compete as a team in the western events.

Women To Enter

Women are encouraged to enter the rodeo, with five classes of competition being offered them. Girls' steer racing, calf dressing and scramble, calf tying, barrel racing, lamb stuffing, and a queen contest are open for women.

Wild cow riding, hay stacking, a calf scramble, cow undecorating, lamb stuffing and a king contest are open to men. All entry blanks must be in by October 11 for groups to be eligible for competition.

Refreshments of various types will be offered at the rodeo, and a dance will be held the night of the events. Appointed to the refreshment committee were: Cliff Shilroy, chairman; Shirley Williams, Maxine Forbush, Donna Armstrong, and Donald Bagley.

Arranging for a dance hall and a band are committee members: Mike Compston, chairman; Pete Fenillie, Ray Heckthorne, Trudy Bisango, Ruth Calhoun, Sandra Brown, Jackie Jauruquto, and Judy Galt.

Harvey Barnes, Aggie Club president, reports the materials committee and the office committee has entry blanks available for club presidents and off-campus independents. Materials committee members working on obtaining saddles and garb for the rodeo include: Harvey Barnes, chairman; Jim Bidart, Neil Christenson, Ray Orlie, and Marvin Johnson. Office committee members are: Larry Wood, Jeannie De Long and Harvey Barnes.

Committee chairmen will be meeting on October 6 in the Aggie Club conference room to discuss progress of the rodeo before the regular meeting of the club on October 13.

IFC Will Meet Wednesday Night

The Inter Fraternity Council will meet at 7 p. m. in the Hardy Room of the Student Union to discuss a previously proposed amendment to the constitution and to further discuss the possibility of a Junior I.F.C., which was mentioned at the last meeting.

At 7:30 p.m. the Panhellenic Council is scheduled to meet with the I.F.C. to talk over greek activities for the fall semester.

Tammy Conklin, I.F.C. president, said up-coming plans to be discussed at the meeting will include a "Greek Week" which will be something new for the Nevada campus.

This will be the first joint meeting of Panhellenic and I.F.C. for the fall semester.

Nevada Coeds To Try Their Hand At Gymnastics

The University of Nevada will sponsor its first Women's Gymnastics team this year. The six members of the team are working out daily under the direction of Lee Newell.

Coach Newell has six meets scheduled, and expects to have representatives at the regional, sectional and national championships.

Events include uneven parallel bars, free exercise, side horse vaulting, balance beam and trampoline.

The team members are: Donna Carlson, senior in education; Sandie Pierce, sophomore in nursing; Terry Axtel, freshman in physical education; Cindy Jesch, freshman in science; Cathy Leonard, junior in physical education; and Lae Lynn Conrad, senior at Reno High School. Miss Conrad will compete in all meets except intercollegiate.

Last year Donna Carlson and Sandie Pierce competed in several meets for the university. Miss Carlson won her first two contests in novice competition on the uneven parallel bars. She later won the state championship and placed sixth in the regional competition.

Miss Pierce also placed high in several meets.

Most of the women have had only one year of experience, but already have five or six Olympic-caliber moves in their routines. Coach Newell has the women working on new routines and the perfection of others.

Pack Runners Win

The University of Nevada's undefeated cross country team scored another victory Saturday when it defeated the Chico State Wildcats by a score of 49 to 15 at the new Panther Valley cross country course.

The strong Nevada team took the first six places with a winning mark of 23 minutes 28 seconds for the hilly 4.5 mile course.

Taking first place was Mark Winne (23 min. 28 sec.), and less than a second behind was Don McCarthy followed by Frank Lemus, Mike Sorenson, Steve Valle, and Terry Forbyn.

Chico State's first man across the finish line was two minutes behind Nevada's first man and was followed by more Nevada runners. The remainder of the Chico State team finished last. The 49 to 15 victory is the highest possible score a cross country team can win by. Each runner receives a point per place when he crosses the finish line, (i.e. first place receives one point and tenth place receives 10 points). The object is to obtain the least number of points. Nevada did just that when it finished in the first six places.

Next week the Wolf Pack cross country team will travel to Sacramento to compete in the Sacramento State Invitational. The invitational meet will host over 150 runners from schools throughout the West.

Stanford, Cal. Berkeley, Southern Oregon, University of Pacific, San Jose, and Nevada are the favorites in the meet.

Another Squeaker; Wolf Pack Falls, 21-18

The University of Nevada Wolf Pack suffered its third defeat of the season Saturday when the previously unscored upon University of California at Santa Barbara squeaked by the University of Nevada to win the hard fought football game by the score of 21-18.

The rugged defense of the Wolf Pack coupled by the strong running of fullback Joe Sobeck and half back Tony Martius kept the Wolf Pack even with the Gauchos in numbers of touchdowns, but the inability to score the extra point in the early minutes of the sec-points after touchdown left the Wolf Pack four points short of winning the game. The final score was Gauchos 21, Wolf Pack 18.

The game opened with the Nevada defenses staggering the unscored upon Gauchos. After the first four plays, the Gauchos were forced to punt the ball. Nevada took the ball deep in its own territory and began to march up field.

A thirty yard pin-point pass from quarterback Chris Ault to flanker back Art Bayer put Nevada on the Gauchos 4 yard line where fullback Joe Sobeck drove through the left side of the line for the first Nevada touchdown of the game. The try for extra point was no good.

But the Gauchos bounced back late in the quarter with perfect passing by quarterback Mike Hichman to move the ball the length of the field and finally score with a pass over left end. The conversion was good leaving the score at Nev 6, Cal 7. The Gauchos' second quarter neither team could move the football. Nevada was in control of the ball, however, and a screen pass from quarterback Chris Ault landed the ball in the hands of halfback Tony Martinus who zig-zagged thirty yards for a touchdown. The score now stood at Nev 12, Cal 7. The extra point attempt was again no good.

But the trailing Gauchos went to the air again late in the half with the Santa Barbara ends constantly out-maneuvering the Wolf Pack secondary. The aerial attack moved the ball to the Nevada two yard line where a fullback plunge over middle scored for the Gauchos. With the successful extra point attempt, the score stood at Nevada 12, Cal. S. B. 14.

With seconds remaining in the half, quarterback Chris Ault threw a long pass to flanker back Art Bayer making a diving catch on the one yard line. The half ended before Nevada could make another play.

The scoreless third quarter began with poor luck for the Wolf Pack when an Ault to Schwella pass was intercepted. But the strong Nevada defensive forced the Gauchos to punt.

But again Ault's pass was intercepted, and again the Gauchos were unable to move the ball and were forced to punt. Nevada was able to make a sustained drive in the closing minutes of the quarter and moved the ball to the 50 yard line as the quarter ended.

A Nevada fumble gave the ball to the Gauchos in the early minutes of the fourth quarter. But this time the Gauchos took advantage of the Nevada mistake and started a fifty yard drive which ended with a four yard touchdown run over center. The completed conversion made the score Cal. 21, Nev. 12.

Late in the fourth quarter Nevada recovered its own punt and marched to the Gauchos 25 yard line.

Senior quarterback Dave Dyer spearheaded the Wolf Pack offense to the 4 yard line where a quarterback sneak by Dyer made the score Cal 21, Nev 18. The conversion was again unsuccessful.

Late in the quarter, the Nevada defense came alive again to stop the Gauchos' last offensive drive. But an intercepted pass from Ault to Schfella ended Nevada's hopes as the game ended with the final score Nevada 18, University of California, 21.

CROSS COUNTRY

There is no doubt that track coach Dick Dankworth knows his business. This fall his undefeated cross country team is predicted to take first place in the conference. And there is a good reason for it, his men train harder than any other runners in the conference. Coach Dankworth developed the new Panther Valley course for two reasons, it's hillier and more grueling, and it's a mile above sea level for more strain in breathing.

But what good is a tough course if you are not in excellent physical condition? So coach Dankworth runs his men eighty miles a week over the course.

BOXING

The annual intramural night is usually the highlight of the intramural competition each year. And this year it should be even better. There is a rumor that boxing may be added to the schedule, and if so, it'll be an exciting night in the gymnasium—for spectators as well as for the one-night boxers.

GOLF

Golf fans will be particularly interested in 18 year old Gil Cohen from Las Vegas. The SAE pledge shoots scratch golf, his best round a six under par 66 at the Las Vegas Desert Inn Golf Course, which by the way is only one stroke behind the course record. Maybe Jack Nicklaus, and Sam Snead who hold the record rounds would be impressed. Cohen plans to enter the Los Angeles Open this year as an amateur. The Open is the first tournament of the season for the PGA. Think this might be a good warm-up for the Nevada golf season ????????

FOOTBALL

The Nevada defensive line has been the strong point of the Wolf Pack effort all season. In the last three games, the opponents have been unable to "smooth-out the Wolf Pack line. Early in the third quarter Saturday, the Gauchos thought they had a hole smoothed-out, especially their fine running fullback. But as the hole opened up—out came an arm that cut him down like a close line. Whose arm was it? Bugs Walton's, the 230 pound defensive tackle who hasn't been smoothed-out all year, and by the way he plays, he never will.

Intramural Golf Tourney Soon

The Intramural Golf Tournament is scheduled this year for Sunday, October 17. The tournament will be held at the Washoe County Golf Course, located at the south end of Arlington Ave. Tee-off time will be at 11 a.m.

In addition a schedule will be made available listing the starting times for each organization's team members.

Any organization may have as many teams of three players as it wishes, but only one team will be designated as the "point team." Any team may win the tournament.

All rules regarding eligibility may be found on page 14 of the Intramural Handbook. Any additional questions may be directed to Mr. Lee Newell, director of intramural athletics, in his office, room 107B, in the gymnasium.

Nevada's Art Faculty Will Display Different Techniques

An Art Show by the University of Nevada's Art Department faculty is now being shown in the hall of the Fine Arts building. The show demonstrates different techniques and materials for each of the faculty.

Edwards W. Yates, chairman of the department, has two drawings on display. One is a figure study and the other is a classical rendering of commonplace objects.

William V. Howard, exhibition chairman and assistant professor of art, has works of a three-dimensional quality. These are made of acrylic resins, sand, and floc.

James C. McCormick, assistant professor of art, is displaying abstract works from natural subjects with emphasis on pattern.

Charles Ross, assistant professor of art, has works of semi-organic forms with strong color and space relationships.

Donald A. Kerr, assistant professor of art, has the only objective paintings on display. His "Man in a Bathtub" and "Toy Box" are lightly organized works with emphasis on design rather than on character study.

J. Craig Sheppard, professor of art, used fluid paint, sponging, and other techniques to create his abstracts. At first only the abstract is apparent, but there are various figures also in the works.

Dr. Scott To Speak On Vietnam Impact

Dr. William Scott will speak on, "The Impact of Vietnam On America" at the first YWCA seminar tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in the Fine Arts Lounge.

All students and faculty members are invited to attend the free event which has been scheduled to "stimulate discussion and thought," said Yvette Hash, YWCA secretary.

Howard, Guerin And Morrison To Attend Meet

Dr. John W. Morrison, Mrs. Annie B. Howard, and Mr. Richard Guerin are attending the annual meeting of the Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association this weekend, October 8-9.

The meeting is being held at Colorado State University in Fort Collins, Colorado.

Dr. Morrison and Mrs. Howard will read papers, while Mr. Guerin will act as co-chairman of the Comparative Literature Panel.

Dr. Morrison's paper is titled "A Decade of Far Eastern Studies," and is being read in the newly-instituted section on Far Eastern Literature.

Mrs. Howard's paper concerns American literature and is a discussion of "Hymn for the Epiphany," by 18th century poet Christopher Smart.

Mr. Guerin, as co-chairman of the Comparative Literature Panel, will preside over those reading papers that deal with comparisons of the literature of two different language groups.

Other subjects being discussed will include: early English literature, 18th and 19th century literature, contemporary literature, literature of the English Renaissance, and modern and ancient languages.

The Rocky Mountain Modern Language Association meetings consist of readings and discussions by members of various college faculties throughout the western United States.

Library Courtships Will Compete With Shelves

The University Library will ignore its own pleas for quiet during the next few weeks as approximately 16 tons of new shelves are erected on the lower and top floors.

In an effort to make the University of Nevada Library a good research library as well as a good college facility, the administration is attempting to raise the standards of Getchell Library.

According to Mr. E. W. Harris of the Circulation Department, the Getchell Library is striving to "come into its own" as a University research facility, and it must expand if it is to keep up with the constantly increasing scope and demands of education.

A request is being made to the State Legislature for funds for an addition to the Getchell building, but even if things go well it could be five to seven years before work can begin. However, Harris said it is imperative that new space be made available for the influx of new materials.

"We will reach a definite danger-line by the end of the 1965-66 year," said Harris.

The expansion now taking place will include six ranges of shelves in the Special Collections, six ranges in Applied Sciences and Art, and twelve ranges for the beginning of the new Law Collection which will be housed in the Getchell Library. Government Publications will also be enlarged.

Harris cautioned that students "will probably find some new complaints with the Library." He asked that "they be patient, however, and realize that with such rapid growth it is difficult to give service to Library patrons."

Queen Candidates

The womens dorms have chosen Queen Candidates for Homecoming. Ann Willis, a sophomore and cheer leader, is representing Manzanita Hall.

Sally Worcester, also a sophomore and a song leader, will represent Juniper Hall. Debbie Graham, representing Artemisia, is a Junior transfer from Palomar, where she was Homecoming Queen last year.

French Display In Jot Travis Union

Fluctuat Mec Mergitur, "She is battered, but never sinks." This quotation, the motto of the eternal city of Paris, is the theme for the French Display being held in Jot Travis Union from October 1-7.

The display, says Mrs. Paule C. Fricke, will show how France, through her culture, has been able to rise above her political difficulties, and remain a leader of civilization.
