Union Board To Ask For Student Raise

A $2.50 Student Union fee raise was discussed and endorsed by members of the ASUN President's Cabinet at its second meeting.

Cabinet members include presidents of the ASUN, IFC, Panhellenic, AWS, Student Union Board, special events chairmen of Winter Carnival, Mackay Day, and Homecoming, and other campus leaders. Chancellor N. Edd Miller also sits on the cabinet.

Total budgeting for the Student Union building is approximately $43,000 per year. Of this about $38,000 is necessary to keep the building in operation, said Tony Oxborrow, TUB president. The remainder of the allotment is used for programming entertainment, special lectures and movies.

"Expenses of operating the Student Union building plus the increasing expense of programming are growing faster than the income of the current fee from the influx of new students."

Oxborrow said within the next year or so, and it is estimated by the cabinet, without the fee raise the Student Union will be able to sponsor very few free lectures and movies, if any special events.

"This year," reported Oxborrow, "I will personally visit and speak to each living group to explain and answer any questions concerning the necessity for the fee raise."

In addition, he stated that a complete fact and figure sheet will be made available to all students.

The fee raise election will be held before Christmas vacation.

'Ticket Trot' Back Again

The University of Nevada Cadet Officers' Club is again sponsoring the "Ticket Trot" treasure hunt as a preview to the 37th annual Military Ball, to be held Nov. 20.

The treasure hunt is for a Military Ball ticket along with many other prizes, and will be hidden somewhere on the exterior of the campus—that is, somewhere outside the campus grounds.

If the treasure is not found on the basis of the first clue, then additional gifts will be added with the publication of each clue. There are five clues.

Prizes include one portable radio, a $20 ladies gold bracelet, and dinner for two at the El Boracho.

Clue No. 1 is as follows:
Exposed to The Fair Indian Summer's Air;
The Ticket Is Hidden Near a Place Somewhat Square;
Just Stop and Think, Don't Look All Around,
For You Surely Won't Find It Beneath the Ground.

Ingersol Explains The Planned Blood Drive At Nevada Campus

The ASUN senate unanimously supported an all-campus student blood drive at its weekly senate meeting of the Jot Travis Student Union Wednesday evening.

The plan was introduced and explained to the senate by ASUN President Mike Ingersoll. "The object of the drive is to furnish blood to the U.S. forces in South Viet Nam, and will be conducted in a complete humanitarian atmosphere," said Ingersoll, "The Red Cross will be working in conjunction with the students and will donate a Red Cross mobile unit for the drive which will be located on campus."

The drive will officially begin Monday with a school-wide signature campaign. Said ASUN public relations chairman, Mike Smithwick, "The signatures are not a true obligation to give blood, but an indication of student interest. A minimum of 200 signatures is needed to affiliate the Red Cross with our drive."

"The blood drive is not an original plan of the University of Nevada," said Smithwick. "The drives have been successful at other campuses and have strengthened the image of mature student bodies in the communities surrounding the universities."

Signature sheets will be circulated Monday to Greek organizations and to other living groups as well as in the student union.

Nevada Faculty Attends Meeting

Three University of Nevada faculty members attended a meeting of the Associated Rocky Mountain Universities in Idaho Falls last week.

Western universities and the Atomic Energy Commission are working out a program so that graduate students in engineering and physics may use the AEC's facilities in Idaho Falls to do thesis work.

With the combined facilities of the universities and the AEC, research projects can be conducted that would otherwise be too costly.

Those representing Nevada were Drs. Eugene Kosso, department of electrical engineering, Dean O'Brien, graduate dean and Dean Fletcher, research professor in biology sciences.

Madwoman Of Chaillot Presented Tonight

"Over 1,000 man hours have been put into the set alone," stated Robert G. Ware, technical director of the University Theatre.

"The Madwoman of Chaillot," by Jean Giraudoux will be presented tonight at 8 p.m. in the Church Fine Arts Theatre. The two-act comedy with a cast of about 30 students is headed by Robert E. Ericson, director of the University Theatre. Kathy Vandershoot will portray the "madwoman." Ruby Reynolds, Barbara Manning, Michele Sheppard, Mike Thompson, John Gasque and John MacDonald have supporting roles.

"It's as technically complex as any production I've ever worked with. We'll need over 50 casters to move the large sets during the performance," added Mr. Ware. "The sets for both acts have been very challenging because they have to be shifted very quickly and easily to help create the illusion of the production."

Unanimous Approval

Blood Drive Backed By U of N Senate

Senate Wednesday night unanimously approved a planned "Vietnam Blood Drive" which will take place on campus soon. The blood drive will be coordinated with the Red Cross and the Blood Bank and will collect blood from students to send to American soldiers in Vietnam.

ASUN President Mike Ingersoll, who introduced the drive to Senate, emphasized the drive is a humanitarianism and not a political issue. The blood drive is not concerned with support or non-support of American policy in Vietnam.

'We Five' Show Marred By Poor Sound System

Although the performance of the "We Five" was quite successful over the weekend, it was somewhat marred by the sound system, according to Tony Oxborrow, Student Union Board president.

Oxborrow said the We Five were quite pleased with the enthusiasm of the audience, but were distressed with the sound system.

Approximately 900 to 1,000 students attended the Friday performance, and the performance only cost the Student Union Board $150, said Oxborrow. The presentation cost $1,900 to put on and $1,750 was taken in.

Oxborrow was quite pleased with the turnout.

Oxborrow said he wants to start a possible fund-raising drive or a combining of funds with Pan-Hellenic Council or the Inter-fraternity Council or some other organizations to procure funds for a new sound system.

"Many of the entertainers playing on the Nevada campus feel that the present poor sound system is an indication of the University and the student body as a whole, who allow such facilities to remain," said Oxborrow.

"And I have received comment that many would prefer not to return unless the present sound system is replaced," he said.

"This could jeopardize future programming in such a way as to increase entertainment cost by as much as $500 to $1,000," he added.

Many entertainers prefer to bring their own amplifiers, speaker and mikes when the sound system is poor. This is costly.

Students May View Comet Ikeya-Seki

Comet Ikeya-Seki was first reported visible in the Reno area early Sunday morning from the Geiger Grade summit.

Drs. Thomas V. Frazier of the physics department and David F. Dickinson of the nuclear engineering department, saw the comet for about an hour before sunrise.

Bill Davis, a graduate student, photographed the comet with his home photography equipment.

Dr. Frazier says the comet will no longer be visible to the naked eye after tonight or tomorrow. The best time to see it is just before sunrise. It will not reappear for 500 to 1,000 years.

Signatures of at least 2000 potential blood donors will be needed before the Red Cross will bring a mobile unit to campus, Ingersoll said. Donors under 21 years old will need parental permission.

Senate also heard a report from Students Judicial Council Chief Justice Keith Stephens stating the Sundowners have been placed on social probation until June 10, 1966. The Judicial Court decision came as a result of a formal complaint from the Dean of Men's office over the Sundowners' conduct at the USF-Nevada game two weeks ago.

The Sundowners allegedly caused a riot at the half-time of the game in San Francisco.

In other action Senate approved a proclamation which backed a Thanksgiving Fast for Freedom, which will take place November 18. The fast, which is organized by the National Student Association headquartered in Washington, D.C., raised $34,000 last year to feed impoverished Southerners on Thanksgiving.

John Casey of the Newman Club is coordinating the drive which will take place on this campus for the first time. Students who wish to participate can give up one meal on November 18 at the Dining Commons. Money from this missed meal will be donated.

Approval from the regents to use Dining Commons' money is yet needed. Arrangements will also be made with sororities and fraternities.

Senate also sanctioned ASUN Second Vice-President Michon Maupin's proposal to look into forming an Inter-Club Council on campus. The proposed ICC would function similarly to the Inter-Fraternity Council, and would help alleviate the communications problem Miss Maupin now faces with campus organizations.

Senate also approved appointment of Mike Smithwick as ASUN Public Relations Chairman. Smithwick replaces John Utt who has resigned from the position.

Military Ball Taking Shape

Preparation for the 37th Annual Military Ball, to be held Saturday, November 20, at the Centennial Coliseum is in full swing.

Military, governmental, and educational dignitaries are being invited for the occasion, as are all university students in an open invitation.

During intermission the crowning of the queen will take place, along with the announcement of the new cadet colonel who will take over command of the University of Nevada ROTC Brigade.

More than 100 prizes will be given away during the dance. Prizes range from anti-freeze to gift certificates from leading department stores in town.

TC Dance Scheduled

The men of Theta Chi fraternity will host the annual "Pirate Dance" tomorrow.

The costume affair will feature live music for members of the fraternity, dates and guests.

ASUN Presidents' Cabinet, Senate, And Chancellor Back Blood Drive

Members of the President's Cabinet, an organization composed of campus leaders and Chancellor N. Edd Miller recently endorsed a plan by which University of Nevada students will send blood to U.S. troops in Vietnam.

The move was unanimously supported by Senate, and the cabinet will ask the University of Nevada to support such a drive.

Members of the Red Cross have even agreed to bring a special mobile unit to the Reno campus to avoid the inconvenience of having to go downtown to the health bureau.

Such a drive would indeed be a thing to be proud of at the University of Nevada. Not only will the school obtain favorable publicity, but more important, the fighting men who risk their lives for our safety will know we care.

A prime duty of a free man is to support this country, which was founded partly to "provide for the common defense."

Those who don't adhere to the basic concepts of American ideals should not consider themselves equal citizens.

It is easy to say we live in a Democratic society, one which guarantees us "God given rights" of free speech and assembly.

But there could come a time when freedom and affluence to which we are so accustomed, will be taken from us.

Support the blood drive on the Reno campus. Let the university be known as a promoter not a detriment of democracy and freedom.

"OUR STUDENTS ARE BEGINNING TO LOSE CONFIDENCE IN THE PROMISED REWARDS OF HARD STUDY AND THE ACCUMULATION OF VAST KNOWLEDGE — ALL THE 'BRAINS' ASSEMBLED HERE HAVEN'T BEEN ABLE TO SOLVE THE 'PARKING PROBLEM'."

Quorum Plus One

By MARILYN JONES

There has been a great improvement in the system of voting for queens. As a matter of fact, there has been much less cheating going on than in the past. Virginia Gilbert, as Homecoming Queen Chairman, should be commended for her great work in limiting this cheating. My great uncle-in-law told me that a little cheating is much better than big cheating.

Let it be noted here, however, that AWS itself is not to blame. The responsibility belongs to those who coordinate the elections. Again we have another distinction: there are those who are responsible and those who coordinate, and the latter was mentioned previously (like in the first paragraph).

The system, as it now stands, is obviously all screwed up. The voters must deal directly with the women who are running the election, and these women are obviously unaware of the religious passage from the ASUN constitution which reads: "There will be no campaigning within 100 feet of the polls."

NOTE: All letters to the editor concerning the above may be sent to:

Last Wednesday, the Senate voted unanimously to support the Blood Drive. Senator Sparks recommended to emphasize that this will definitely be a humanitarian, non-political, program. What is now needed is the support of the student body. A sign-up sheet will be circulated, and 200 signatures are necessary before a mobile unit will come to the campus.

In other business, Senate accepted the Presidential appointment of Mike Smithwick as ASUN Public Relations Chairman. The Renewable Resources Constitution was taken off the table and resourcefully dismissed until it can be successfully renewed.

Senator Silverman presented the Parking Committee report. If I had one million dollars and seventy-five cents, I would build a ten-story parking building and have one campus cop hanging (and not in effigy) from each story. This was not brought up in Senate.

Absent from Senate were: Landa, Maxwell, and Isaef, Benjamin Franklin lifted his head off the table and moved to adjourn. Rossi didn't second it and the meeting was adjourned.

The Snakes are to be congratulated for picking up a few honors over the weekend. However, the Golden Terrace Fraternity and the University Foothills Sorority should have won the float.

Know anyone who wants to buy an island? Kess Island is up for the highest bid (or any bid).

Speaking of islands and water and things, some people think that Lake Manzanita should be cleaned (see Letters to the Editor). This could be easily done with a minor installation of a $200,000,000 filter system. From this end, I would like to propose a "filter fee" of $1 to be added on the registration cards at the beginning of each semester for 100 years. A waiver may be signed.

Sen. Cannon Claims Nevada Men Back Viet Nam Policy

"Every Nevada boy that I talked to believes that U. S. troops are doing a good job. They believe they are doing the right thing in being there, and they believe in winning."

These were the words of Senator Howard Cannon Friday during a visit to the University of Nevada campus, referring to the recent anti-Viet Nam demonstrations around the country and their effect on U. S. morale in Viet Nam.

"But all of the troops that I talked to are disturbed by what is coming out of here (the United States)," Cannon stated. "They are confused and quite angered by these demonstrations."

Senator Cannon, who has recently returned from a tour of the Far East as head of a special subcommittee of the Senate Armed Services Committee, was on campus to participate in the University Homecoming activities.

On the tour, which carried him to the front lines in South Viet Nam, Senator Cannon was greeted by the questions of troops wherever he stopped.

Troops Question

"They wanted to know the size of these groups; if they were a vocal minority or did they reflect the feelings of all the people."

He talked to some 50 servicemen from Nevada and reported their morale as being very high. The question of the civilian support was the most prominent subject he was asked to explain.

Senator Cannon complimented the anti-demonstration activities growing on the U. S. campuses.

In commenting on the proposed blood drive on the Nevada campus, he said that he has the "highest commendation for the people engaged in something to support the morale of our troops in Viet Nam."

The most disheartening thing he faced, he said, was trying to explain the situation to wounded troops in the hospitals.

News Not There

News of the pro-Viet Nam student support had not reached there by the time he left two weeks ago.

"My complaint," remarked Cannon, "is not of someone abusing their right to petition the government, but with their actions that interfere with the due process of the law."

"That sort of action goes far beyond the boundaries of the law."

"Burning draft cards to me is treasonous."

Senator Cannon stated that he has "no sympathy whatever" for those engaged in acts that are beyond the scope of their legal rights.

Travis Union Board Presents Surf Film

"Surfing Hollow Days," filmed in color in Hawaii, California, Mexico, Australia, New Zealand, and Florida will provide 90 minutes of sea, sand and actual surfing scenes.

The travel-adventure film is being presented by the Jot Travis Union Board Thursday evening, November 4 in the Church Fine Arts building. Admission is free.

Narrated and edited by Bruce Brown, "Surfing Hollow Days" was shown on the Jack Parr show last spring.

Nancy Johnson, Union Board movie chairman, emphasized that this is not a "teen surf movie," but a travel-adventure film with outstanding surfing action.

'Penny Night' Successful For AWS Scholarship

About 100 women on the University of Nevada campus "bought time" last Saturday night.

"Penny Night" was a new project of the Associated Women Students. It was introduced to raise money for their annual scholarship.

Women who previously had 2 a.m. for their sign-in time on the night of the Homecoming Dance were restricted to regular weekend hours. They could extend the time by "buying" minutes.

Freshmen and sophomore women bought one hour for 60 cents and juniors and seniors bought an additional half hour for 30 cents.

The plan for "Penny Night" was brought to the Nevada campus from an AWS convention in Utah last year by Julie Lewis, Dana Stafford and Robbin Schoff, president of AWS.

Sheila Davis, AWS vice president, was chairman of the event on the Nevada campus.

Poly Sci Internship Program Applications Deadline Nov. 22

November 22 has been set as the deadline for applications for the congressional internship program, says Dr. Eleanore Bushnell, chairman of the political science department.

Beginning in January, 1966, the 5-month-long intern program is offered by U. S. Senator Howard W. Cannon, in cooperation with the political science department.

The student intern will earn six credits in Political Science 306 while working in Senator Cannon's office in Washington, D. C. He will also enroll in a 3-credit evening course in political science at a university in the Washington area. During the course, the intern will be required to submit reports of his work to the department here on campus and must read books from a selected list of required reading.

Open to juniors and seniors in any college, the course is not restricted to political science majors, but does require some appropriate courses in government. Senator Cannon emphasized the fact that the course is open to all qualified applicants, regardless of political affiliation.

Pay for the student intern's work will be enough for the student to be self-supporting. Senator Cannon will assist in providing transportation to and from Washington, D. C.

Interested students may see Dr. Bushnell in Room 116, Fleischmann Home Economics building.

Sagebrush Error

The Sagebrush was in error when it said in its October 26 edition that Jeannie Whitman was Military Ball Queen Candidate for Manzanita Hall. Jeannie Bookman, a 19-year-old sophomore from Yerington, Nev., is Manzanita's candidate.

Jeannie's hobbies are dancing and walking, and she likes airplanes. The green-eyed, brown-haired elementary education major would like to go to England after graduation to teach.

The Military Ball will be held November 20, 1965.

Sociology Dept. Holds Lecture; First Of Series

A debate on the functional theories of social stratification will be the feature of the Sociology Department's first lecture in its planned series, tomorrow at 3 p. m., in the Hardy Room.

Dr. Walter Buckley, professor of sociology at the University of California at Santa Barbara, will debate with Dr. Dennis H. Wrong, professor of sociology on the Nevada campus.

"Dr. Wrong recently published an article in the Canadian Review of Sociology and Anthropology, attacking Dr. Buckley's views on the hereditary nature of social stratification," says Dr. Peter V. Etkorn, assistant professor of sociology. "This should prove to be a lively debate."

The hereditary theory of social stratification suggests that a person's position in the social class structure is predicated upon a parental class position, while the functional theory supposes that every man is able to affect his social class position through his own effort, with heredity having little or no effect.

Dr. Buckley is an authority on the question of social class analysis and is known for his criticism of the functional theory of social stratification. Before coming to Santa Barbara, he taught at the University of Wisconsin, Brown University and Vassar College, and was connected with the Systems Development Corporation in Santa Monica, Calif. He is currently engaged in writing a book on social systems theory.

A new member of the Nevada sociology staff, Dr. Wrong comes here from New York University, where he was chairman of the department of sociology. Prior to holding the chairmanship at N. Y. U., Dr. Wrong taught at Princeton University, Newark College of Arts and Sciences, Rutgers University, the University of Toronto and Brown University. His major field of interest is in political sociology.

Local Youth Program Offered

Drs. Paul Ward and John Bailey, both of whom teach counseling and guidance courses in the College of Education, have outlined a plan for secondary teacher-education students to take active participation in working with youth problems in the local area.

Wishes of the community that teenagers be involved in school and community activities so that school under-achievement and juvenile delinquency might be somewhat curbed, Professors Ward and Bailey initiated their program in September, 1964.

Since then, nearly 250 students were added to Washoe County as youth leaders in such organizations as the YMCA, YWCA, Y-Teens, the Hi-Y, Boys Clubs, church-related groups, Scouts, and special study groups.

International Club To Hold Elections

Elections to fill vacancies left by officers who did not return this semester will be held at the regular business meeting of the International Club. The meeting will be in the Jot Travis Lounge Thursday night, November 4, at 7.

The report of the Campfire Social will be given and plans for the remainder of the semester will be discussed at the meeting.

The purpose of the program is to provide University students practical leadership experience as well as to let them contribute to the youth of the community.

The professors have found that the students who have worked with these groups have gained more positive attitudes toward youth. The results of this study will soon be published in the "Personnel and Guidance Journal," an international publication which concerns itself with guidance and counseling processes.

AWS Fashion Show Chairman Predicts Ticket Sellout Soon

"Tickets are selling rapidly," stated Julie Lewis, AWS Fashion Show chairman. "We hope to be sold out today or tomorrow."

Miss Lewis said she was pleased with the interest the woman on campus have shown for the Holiday Fashion Show at the Reno Little Theatre on November 6 at 2 p.m.

One of the annual highlights in the program is the announcement of scholarship awards by Dean Elaine Mobley, Dean of Women.

The Dean of Women's improvement plaque for the women's living groups was initiated in 1933 by Dean Margaret E. Mack, a former Dean of Women. The award is based on grade point improvement in the academic record of the living group from the spring of 1964 to the spring of 1965.

The plaque when first awarded was received by the Delta Delta Delta sorority in 1933.

Two scholarship awards given by the University Panhellenic Council are given at this time. A large cup is presented to the active members of a sorority who have maintained the highest grade point average.

The pledge having the highest academic average receives a smaller cup.

The winner of the national contest for the "Best Dressed" coed will be announced by the Interfraternity Council president, Tammy Conklin.

Tickets for the show may be bought at the Student Union from members of Spurs, from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m.

Also selling tickets are the models: Margo Ford, Cathy Smith, Martha Hasperis, Ardie Felesina, Linda Waters, Barbara Nelson, Margie Uhalde, Sheila Dwyer, Martha Rose, Roberta Cone, Sue Carry, Mary Hyde, Jane Williams, Pat Tullis and Lynne Friedhoff.

Italy's Attractions Now Presented In Union Display

Sofia Loren is pictured as one of Italy's attractions in the Italian display now being presented in the Jot Travis Union.

The display emphasizes the culture and art of Italy, along with the great centers of tourism in the country.

Dante is featured as the representative of Italian literary life, says Dr. Enried U. Bertalot since he founded the Italian language and Italian literature.

Mona Lisa, by Leonardo da Vinci, is one of the representative art works included in the display. Other painters shown are Raffaelli Sanzio, and Giorgio de Chirico.

Italian scenery, from mountains to seashore, along with pictures of traditional Italian food, are shown as basic tourist attractions of Italy.

SIGMA NU AND DELTA DELTA DELTA grabbed first place honors in Class A float competition with their theme, "Break 'em, Nevada."

SN-Tri Delts Grab Trophy In 'A' Division

The Tri-Delt-Sigma Nu float, "Pendleton, Oregon," captured "A" division first place float honors in the Homecoming parade over the weekend. They outdistanced their second place rivals, the ATO-KAT float depicting Honolulu, by 22 points.

The Tri-Delt-SN entry grabbed 546 points out of a possible 600 points, according to Daryl Drake, co-Homecoming float chairman.

Lambda Delta Sigma took first place in the "B" division floats with 471 points edging past the Newman Club with 456 points.

Drake said it was interesting that some "B" division floats received more points than many "A" division floats. He said this is surprising for the "B" floats have a $100 financial limit whereas "A" floats have a $450 limit.

Drake was happy to see this response from "B" float and hopes to see this continue in future homecomings.

"A" division floats were entered by various living groups, and "B" floats were entered by campus organizations.

"A" division placements are as follows:

1st — Delta Delta Delta-Sigma Nu.

2nd—ATO-KAT.

3rd—SAE-Gamma Phi Beta-Phi Sigma Kappa.

4th—Pi Beta Phi-Lambda Chi Alpha-Theta Chi.

5th—Artemisia-Lincoln Halls.

6th—Manzanita Hall.

7th—Juniper-White Pine Halls.

"B" division placements as follows:

1st—Lambda Delta Sigma.

2nd—Newman Club.

3rd — Renewable Natural Resources.

4th—AME (American Institute of Mining, Metallurgical and Petroleum Engineers).

Pres. Armstrong To Attend National Land Grant Meet

President Charles J. Armstrong and a number of deans and specialists at the University of Nevada will leave November 14 for the annual meeting of the National Association of State Universities and Land-Grant Colleges. The 79th annual meeting will be held in Minneapolis, Minn., November 14-17.

Deans attending the conference will be Dr. Ralph A. Irwin, professor and dean of the College of Arts and Sciences; Dr. Robert C. Weems, Jr., professor and dean of the College of Business Administration; Dr. Thomas O'Brien, dean of the Graduate School and professor of chemistry; Dr. Dale W. Bohmont, professor and dean of the Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture.

Others making up Dr. Armstrong's party will be Dr. Charles H. Seufferle, assistant dean of the Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture; Dr. Ray E. Ely, associate director of the University experiment station; Dr. Joseph F. Stein, associate director of the cooperative extension service; and Dr. Marilyn J. Horn, associate director of the Sarah Hamilton Fleischmann School of Home Economics.

The deans of all University of Nevada colleges were invited, but many will be unable to attend.

Each of Nevada's delegation will assemble with its interest group made up of others in their field in the 69 colleges and universities represented. Projections of future needs and programs are drawn up by the groups.

The colleges and universities which make up the association are established and maintained either in whole or in part by the Morrill Act. The 1862 Act, under which the University of Nevada came into being, granted public lands for institutions which supported agriculture and the mechanical arts.

Picnic Trip Held By German Club

A picnic was held in the Gold Lakes region of California recently by the German Club. About 17 members spent a day in the mountains which included a picnic and hike, said George Gratt, recently-elected German Club president.

After returning to Reno, many of the students attended a spaghetti feed held by another member, and finished the day by going to a downtown show.

Elections were held at the last German Club meeting, in which Gratt was elected president. Britta Halverson was elected vice president; and Jean Howard, secretary-treasurer.

Future plans for the German Club include a talk by Britta Halverson, in which she will tell of her experiences as a student for a year in Austria.

From the End of the Bench

Tomorrow's game will probably decide who will win the Far Western Conference but Nevada has already won one championship this year. The Freshman team clinched the Frosh Conference title last week by defeating the Cal Aggies, 14-8. There is a player on the team that Coach Bernie Cotton is really high on even though he thinks the entire first eleven will help next year's varsity. The one man is guard and linebacker Griff Gilliland.

Gilliland plays 48 minutes a game at both positions. He is, in Cotton's opinion, "the best all-around football player at Nevada since Dick Pinion." He said that Gilliland has all the tools to become a Nevada great and has the good attitude to go with it.

We all hope to see Gilliland and the rest of the Freshman team do well for the varsity next season.

Tomorrow is the "Big Game" for the Wolf Pack. They must win this one to stay in contention for the FWC championship and to prevent San Francisco State from running away with the title. Nevada is from two to three touchdowns the underdog in tomorrow's action, but that is nothing new for Nevada. We have been underdogs all season long, even in last week's win over Cal Davis. Also this is San Francisco State's Homecoming, and the Wolf Pack has played in three previous Homecoming's this year and has won them all. The "Cinderella" team from Reno is to be reckoned with and the Golden Gators know it. It will be a good game tomorrow in San Francisco.

Last Saturday's victory over Cal Davis was a big one for the Pack. It pushed the Aggies out of first place and set up this week's game between Nevada and SFS. Leading the Pack was quarterback Chris Ault who had his best day of the season, hitting 17 passes in 20 throws. His favorite receiver was Jack Schwella who caught everything Ault threw him. Schwella made several outstanding catches and at least one great one. Coach Dick Trachok pointed out, "Those were the best catches I've seen around here in 20 years."

Also a man greatly responsible for the victory who has been the receiver of a lot of criticism previously was Coach Dick Trachok. On the touchdown drive that was climaxed by Schwella's grab as he was going out of the end zone, Trachok sent in plays that were perfect. Not a single one lost yardage. All day long the right play was the one called so between he and Ault it was an outstanding game.

It is only three weeks until the basketball season opens for Jack Spencer's Wolf Pack in Pocatello, Idaho, against Idaho State University. The cagers will be playing one of the roughest schedules a University of Nevada basketball team has had in some time. However, this is the year Nevada has waited for—the year we take it all.

Nap Montgomery and Larry Moore are seniors and have played their entire college careers at Nevada and Bill Nicholson is a senior and it is his third year here, and all three of these players were on the 1964 Nevada team which was the Far Western champions. They felt last year was anything but pleasant as they should have repeated but they did not. This season they want to win the FWC title, the NCAA regional tournament, and then go to the NCAA national tournament. They have the ability and the rest of the team has enough potential to enable the Pack to go all the way this year.

Frank Bruno will be back at guard. He was a top scorer for last season's squad. He will have Bob Gilliam at the other guard to help at the back court while Montgomery, Nicholson, and Moore get the rebounds with those amazing leaps they have displayed for two years.

The bench will be short but Spencer is strong there too. He has George Schoenberger, Tom Andreason, Frank Forvilly, Tom Smith, Dennis Hart, Dave Decker, George Corder and Bill Jilbert.

The season has not started yet and changes might be made, but this is a good team and has an excellent chance of making it big this year.

Pack Topples Aggies 26-15

By MIKE SMITHWICK
Associate Sports Editor

The 1965 Homecoming celebration was climaxed last Saturday when the University of Nevada Wolf Pack defeated the Cal Aggies 26 to 15 to score their fourth victory of the season.

The five thousand Homecoming fans who filled Mackay Stadium to capacity watched the Wolf Pack come from behind in the third quarter to put together their longest winning streak since 1948. This places them in a two-way tie for first place in the Far Western Conference.

Pack Starts Drive

The Pack started its game-winning drive in the third quarter when quarterback Chris Ault fired a 26-yard pass to the corner of the end zone where split-end Jack Schwella made a diving catch for 6 points.

With the Pack in the lead, 12-7, Ault went for the 2-point conversion with a pass over center to end Dennis Fitzpatrick. From this point on, the Nevada eleven made a dazzling display of aerial offense to boost the score even higher. A fumble recovery by Benn Blinn on the kick-off gave the ball back to the Wolf Pack on the Aggie 5-yard line.

Four plays later, quarterback Ault went to the air again. This time the five-yard completion was to halfback Earl Nursement who carried the ball into the end zone. The extra point failed and the University of Nevada stayed with its 20-7 lead.

Defense Clicks

Nevada's fine defense then came on to the field to keep the score unchanged. The strong defense stopped the Aggie drives by recovering fumbles and picking-off passes.

Defensive end Ed Hoeffler recovered one fumble and defensive secondary Spike Jamison intercepted a pass to set up Nevada's next touchdown.

With Jamison's interception, the Wolf Pack offense clicked for 38 yards into end zone territory with Ault completing a 21-yard pass to Schwella.

Clinching Touchdown

The clinching touchdown came moments later when Ault again dropped back to pass. He threaded the needle once again to the waiting arms of Schwella three yards deep in the end zone. The kick for the extra point was blocked and the score stood at 26-7.

With minutes remaining in the game, the Cal Aggies made their final march to the goal line. The Cal score came with a 19-yard pass into the end zone and the completion of a 2-point conversion. The final score stood at—

JACK SCHWELLA, Pack end, readies for his first touchdown pass in action last Saturday. The "Schwa" was a big factor in the explosive second half that netted Nevada 20 points. Schwella caught six passes good for 92 yards.

Gators Favored To Stop Strong Pack

By GREGG ZIVE
Sports Editor

It will be another Homecoming game tomorrow in San Francisco for the University of Nevada Wolf Pack when they meet the San Francisco State Golden Gators for the Gator's Homecoming. The conflict will decide first place in the Far Western Conference as both teams go into tomorrow afternoon's tilt tied for the lead with 2-0 conference records.

Last week Nevada pushed the Cal Aggies out of a three-way tie for first place by defeating the Davis squad, 26-15. San Francisco State trounced the Chico State Wildcats, 63-20, to maintain the deadlock with the Pack.

The 63 points was the most ever scored by a SF State football team. In 1961 they scored 59 over the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Fourth Homecoming

This is the fourth Homecoming game the Nevada eleven has played this year. They defeated the University of San Francisco 34-6 in the Gators' big game; Sacramento State fell victim to the Wolf Pack in their Homecoming, 20-13; and Nevada won its own Homecoming from Cal Davis, 26-15.

Nevada will enter the affair with a four-game win streak—the longest for a Wolf Pack team since 1948. They are underdogs tomorrow to keep the victory skein alive.

The Golden Gators lead almost every department on the FWC statistic sheet. They have scored 90 points to 20 for their opponents. They defeated Humboldt State, 27-0 and, of course, ran over Chico State last week, 63-20. Both of the Gators' victims started the FWC season leading it with a pre-conference record of 4-1.

SF State quarterback continues as the leader among the nation's and FWC top quarterbacks as he has a better than 50 per cent average with 75 completions in 146 attempts for 9 touchdowns and 1016 yards.

Fullback Leads

Fullback Jim Crum leads the Gator runners with 12 touchdowns, including three last week, 651 yards gained in 116 carries for an average of 6.0 yards per carry. He has lost only 10 yards rushing this season. Halfback Tom Piggee will help Crum as he has an average of 4.9 yards per carry with 375 yards gained in 85 carries.

Nevada will rely on the arm of quarterback Chris Ault, who hit on 17 passes in 20 throws last week; the running of Joe Soback and Earl Nursement; and the receiving of Jack Schwella and Nursement for their offense. The Wolf Pack defense will again be led by Doug Carder, Jim Luttges, Bugs Walton, Spike Jamison, Fred Williams, and Mike Sala.

Frosh Capture First Place In Football

The University of Nevada Freshmen football team won the Frosh Conference championship for the second straight year by defeating the highly thought-of Cal Aggie freshmen, 14-8 last Friday.

The victory was an upset for the Nevada yearlings as the Aggies had a 5-1 record coming into the game. Nevada coach Bernie Cotton said that even though it was only the third game of the season for the Nevada team they played as though it was their eighth.

Leading the Wolf Pack cubs were quarterbacks Dave Slagle and John Lillis, fullback Pete Carpenter, halfback Larry Long, line-man Griff Gilliland, and punter Tim Heskett.

In what Cotton called "A good all-around game," Carpenter scored the first TD for Nevada and the defense scored the other with a recovered Davis fumble in the end zone.

The defense played outstanding football until some of the players were injured near the end of the game. Leading the defense was Gilliland, halfback Steve Katzman, and Carpenter. Carpenter and Katzman led the team in "Battle Stars" for the season.

Heskett booted one count from his 5-yard line that landed in the end zone—a 75-yard kick in the air.

Social Science Construction Begins Within Ten Weeks

Construction of a new $1.4 million social science building will begin within the next ten weeks, says Edward Pine, University engineer. Failure to receive final plans from the State Planning Board has been the main cause of delay in the ground-breaking, Pine said.

After the final plans are received and approved by the Engineer's office and the Board of Regents, sometime next month, bids for the building will be advertised, with actual construction beginning about six weeks later.

The four-story complex will be located on the north side of what is now Mackay Stadium.

The ground floor of the new structure will house the Psychological Services Center, now in Morrill Hall, and the Alfred L. Higginbotham Department of Journalism.

Included in the Journalism facilities will be a radio-TV studio/workshop, news photo lab, newsroom and rooms for typography and advertising layout work.

The second floor will contain the classrooms, reading rooms and offices of the history and political science departments. Anthropology laboratories and classrooms, as well as an anthropology museum, will be located on the third floor.

On the top floor will be found the departments of psychology and sociology. Research laboratories and observation rooms find space here among the department offices and classrooms.

Poster Collection Now In Fine Arts

"The Hun—His Mark, Blot It Out." So reads one of the World War One posters now being displayed in the gallery of the Fine Arts building.

This display is in conjunction with the showing of paintings and sculpture by Robert Hartman, Lundy Siegriest and John Battenburg.

Posters are part of a collection given to the Art Department by Dr. James Edward Church, for whom the Fine Arts building is named.

Some of the posters have pictures of Woodrow Wilson and General Pershing urging support for war efforts such as the Red Cross and the Y.M.C.A.

"I Summon You Into the Comradeship" is a typical quotation that urged recruitment into the army and support for war bonds and war relief work.

The posters add to the theme of the paintings and sculpture displayed—a look back to World War One.

Programs Offered In Foreign Study

Numerous programs are available for both students and teachers to travel and study abroad this year. One such program is sponsored by the Council on Student Travel. This organization provides for student tours to many foreign countries.

The student groups go to the country of their choice by boat. On the boats are staffs of educators who provide language practice, art lectures, and other information pertaining to the country they are to visit.

One such tour offers a round trip to Le Havre, in France, for $340.

Anyone interested in summer travel, or in living in a foreign country and attending school there may consult the office of the Department of Foreign Languages for further information.

Marching Band Last Show Features Bond Salute

The University of Nevada's Marching Band winds up its 1965 season next Saturday with a performance at the Nevada-Chico home game.

The band will perform a new arrangement of musical numbers in a "salute to James Bond" at halftime.

ville High Schools, as well as at the Nevada-Sacramento State game in Sacramento.

Dr. John Carrico is the band director. Coming from Texas in 1959, Dr. Carrico directed Texas State College bands since 1945. He is now the secretary-treasurer of the College Band Directors Association, western division. Also, he has been director of the Lake Tahoe Music Camp since 1960.

Dr. Roscoe Booth instructs the trumpet and French horn majors in the band. He is a new member of the staff this year and has taught before in Colorado and Iowa.

Other members of the band staff are Eugene Isaef, instructor in low brass; Orville Fleming, woodwind instructor; and Charles Bickhart, student director.

Little Sisters Confab Hosts 101 Delegates

Registration is scheduled to begin today for 101 delegates from eight western states for the Little Sisters of Minera convention to be held on the Reno campus.

Delegates from California, New Mexico, Idaho, Washington, Utah, Oregon, Arizona, and Nevada are scheduled to begin registration today at 4 p.m. at the S.A.E.

The convention will be the first in two years and will be the first at the Reno campus.

A full schedule of convention activities has been planned for the delegates by Frenie Sewell, Nevada Little Sister president, and Bud Olsen, S.A.E. social chairman.

Saturday morning registration is scheduled to close and convention activities will begin with a luncheon at Student Union at noon.

Following the luncheon workshops have been planned where the women will take part in discussions on Little Sister and fraternity relationships and problems.

The workshop is planned to last until 4:30 p.m. at which time the convention will be recessed until that evening.

Saturday evening a dinner and dance has been planned for the delegates at the Sky Room of the Mapes Hotel.

Guest speaker for the banquet will be Charles Russell, former governor of the State of Nevada and now vice-president of the University of Nevada.

Following the banquet there will be dancing until 11 p.m.

After the dance Saturday night "a night on the town" has been planned with the cooperation of the Reno Chamber of Commerce.

Sunday morning a breakfast has been planned at the S.A.E. house and the convention is scheduled to end at noon that day.

Little Sister delegates to the convention will be housed at the S.A.E. house and visiting presidents and Little Sister coordinators will be housed at the Foothill Terrace Apartments.

ATO's Capture Baseball Honors

Alpha Tau Omega, of the National League, won the intramural baseball championship by defeating American League champion Sigma Nu 12-0 Tuesday night.

The Taus scored 11 runs in the first inning on seven hits, two by Mike Gray.

Gary Woods pitched shutout ball and struck out eight batters in a row to pick up the win.

College Union Conference Here Received Favorable Comments

"A definite feather in the cap of Nevada's Student Union Board" was one of the many favorable comments from out-of-state delegates to the Association of College Unions conference held on campus last week.

Forty colleges and universities and 116 representatives took part in discussion groups concerned with student union building construction on campus to how to handle booking agents.

Delegates attended sessions for two days, terminating with a dinner-dance held at Hidden Valley Country Club. Although President Charles J. Armstrong was unable to attend the dinner, Governor Grant Sawyer spoke, giving his views on student protests and draft card burning.

Sawyer defended the students' right to protest only in the event that it was protesting for a cause that can be corrected. He also added that one of the finest means of protest is election of people who hold views similar to yours.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the Three D's, who are being considered for Winter Carnival entertainment.

Bob Kersey, regional representative to international ACU, also provided the conference with an "unusual bit" of entertainment.

During Friday's luncheon, International ACU President William Scott was able to speak to the delegates via "audio-phone," from Texas. Audio-phone is a new device from the phone company allowing a person to speak to a group and answer questions by a long-distance call.

Delegates commented that the conference was quite successful and well organized due to the planning of host chairman, Tony Oxborrow; housing coordinator, Bill Adams, and Shirley Morgan, secretary.

Symphony Choir To Perform

The University of Nevada Symphonic Choir and Orchestra will present a large scale oratorio, Mendelssohn's "St. Paul," Sunday November 7, at 8 p.m. in the University Gymnasium.

The oratorio is composed of Handel's "Messiah," which the same orchestra and choir under the direction of Dr. Keith Macy will present the following month, December 19.

Four soloists will be featured in the Mendelssohn work: soprano, Toni Desalvo; mezzo soprano, Dana Stafford; tenor, Joe Battaglia; and baritone, William Combs.

Felix Mendelssohn was born in Hamburg in 1809 and died in Leipzig in 1847. He composed the oratorio "St. Paul" in the 1830's. The text consists of free selections from many parts of the Bible, with a few Lutheran chorales mixed in.

The oratorio was first performed under the composer's direction in Dusseldorf in 1836.

Admission to the concert is free. A calendar of University concert events is also available upon request to the Music Department.

Dean Bohmont Returns From Nat. Research Council Meeting

Dr. Dale W. Bohmont, dean of the Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture, returned recently from a meeting of the National Research Council of the International Academy of Sciences. Fifty universities and colleges and 80 industries and business organizations sent representatives to the Washington, D. C., meeting.

As a representative of the University of Nevada and as director of the agricultural experiment station, Dr. Bohmont met with one of the agricultural boards which delves into specific problems. Reports of all the boards were heard at the meeting.

A review of the international demands for food, especially in the Latin and Central American countries, was one of the most important subjects undertaken, Dean Bohmont stated.

Dean Bohmont noted that the United States and Latin America were compared in regard to three facts. Population figures, numbers of universities, and amounts of land suitable for cultivated or pasture lands were compared.

Despite similarities, our southern neighbors "don't have a well developed research program to work on practical solutions to the nation's problems, and they don't have a way to carry out the release of manpower needed to produce things besides food," Dr. Bohmont said.

To solve the problem of food shortage, Dr. Bohmont feels two things must be done. The institutions must be improved "so that they will look to practical solutions to their problems." Also, the countries need to consider how they might accomplish their Westernization by first meeting the demand to feed the people and then by industrializing.

No Experience Needed for Tryouts

"No experience is necessary—I would like to use as many new people as possible," stated Robert E. Ericson, director of the University Theatre.

Charles Dickens play, "A Christmas Carol," needs actors. Tryouts for 15 parts will be held Monday, Nov. 8 at 7 p.m. and Tuesday, Nov. 9 at 3 and 7 p.m. in the Church Fine Arts Theatre.

A variety of characters are needed including four children—two boys and two girls. A very small boy is necessary to play the part of Tiny Tim.

The story recounts the adventures of the main character, Ebenezer Scrooge, at Christmas time.

"Dickens' Christmas classic will be the first annual of Christmas plays to be presented in the University Theatre," said Prof. Ericson. "In the past we have presented plays especially for children. From now on productions for the Christmas season will be geared toward family entertainment, adults and children alike."

Scripts are available in the drama department for use before the tryouts.

Prof. Ericson added, "Many students don't realize that it does not matter what class they are in or what their major is, they are still very welcome to participate in drama department productions."

New Head For Conservation Research Finds Nevada Life Quite A Contrast

BY MAXINE E. FORBUSH
Staff Writer

India's way of life and life at the University of Nevada are a great contrast for Victor A. Aronovici, who just moved into his Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture building office.

He was recently appointed to head the soil and water conservation research under the United States Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service. Mr. Aronovici comes to the University with 30 years of experience with the USDA and nearly three years of experience gained while living in India.

Mr. Aronovici lived in India to help administer a series of grants for agricultural research carried on in India, by Indians, for the benefit of both the United States and India. During his duties, he spent the majority of his time visiting and evaluating educational institutions.

One of the noticeable differences between the educational systems is the degree of respect shown for professors, Mr. Aronovici notes.

When an Indian professor walks into a classroom, all the students stand up at attention.

Various Problems

A problem was the caste system, Mr. Aronovici says. In his Indian office, there were problems with the various caste groups working together. This friction within the office often slowed down cooperation and work output.

The backwardness of the country, Aronovici says, lies mostly in the Hindu religion. A passive way of life is practiced. Religious concepts do not change with the times, as American Christianity does. The same agricultural methods are followed as were followed when the Hindu principles were set down 3,000 years ago, for instance.

Work Contrast

At the University of Nevada Aronovici finds a great contrast with his work. Efficiency is good among the 10 agricultural engineers, soil scientists, aids and graduate assistants under the ARS office.

Two research projects are now being proposed under Mr. Aronovici's guidance. One is the determination of water use by desert plants. Lysimeters, specially built tanks, are used to measure the amount of water the plants consume.

The other project is how to prevent the seepage of water in irrigation canals. In the future, work on lawn grass is planned.

Two Articles By Higginbotham Published By Guild Journal

Journalism in Nevada and the Far West was the topic of two articles written for the Publishers Guild Journal by Prof. Alfred L. Higginbotham, chairman of the A. L. Higginbotham Department of Journalism.

The articles were included in a series on the evaluation of journalism which was carried in the Guild publication which was 100 years old this year.

The Publishers Guild is one of two major journals serving medium and small sized newspapers in the United States.

The articles which appeared in the centennial series are to be published in book form sometime this fall.

In addition to contributing to the journalism magazine, Professor Higginbotham recently attended a two-day Chicago meeting of the American Council on Education for Journalism.

He has also been named chairman of the nominating committee of Kappa Tau Alpha, national journalism honorary society.

Professor Higginbotham is one of seven academic members of the Education for Journalism board which serves as a policy and accrediting group for journalism schools on United States campuses.

Included in the governing body are an equal number of representatives of the press.

Foreign Students Subject Of Census

All foreign students are requested by the Foreign Student Advisor to visit room 108, Clark Administration, his office, to complete a census form for the Institute of International Education.

This census includes all students who are citizens of countries other than the United States. The information is used by the IIE to compile a publication entitled "Open Doors," which is circulated to colleges and universities throughout the world.

Mr. Jack Selbig, foreign student advisor, would also like to have a record of each foreign student's passport. Currently only 30 students from 18 different countries have complied with these requests.

Corsages Sold At AWS Show

Carnation corsages are being sold by the Associated Women Student's Council for the AWS Fashion Show tomorrow.

The fashion show is being held this year at the Reno Little Theatre. Women students are being encouraged to bring their mothers and to buy them corsages.

The flowers will cost $.50 each. They may be ordered on the bottom floor of the Student Union at the same location the fashion show tickets are being sold.

The money raised by this project will also go towards the AWS Scholarship.

"We feel that the gesture of buying a corsage to wear at the fashion show is a step toward improving campus activities. We hope everyone will buy one," stated Ronda Wilson-Reid, chairman of the corsage sale.

French Cowboy Movie Tonight

A cowboy movie, French style, will be presented tonight in the Jot Travis lounge at 7:30 by the Department of Foreign Languages and the Alliance Francaise.

The movie, "Glamador," is a French western set in the Camargue region of France.

It concerns an island in the middle of the Rhone Delta, which is thought by the local inhabitants to be cursed. This belief started because of the mysterious loss of livestock on the island.

A young boy of 14 becomes involved with the cursed island.

Newman Club Formed Here

A student chapter of the American Nuclear Society was formed on campus last Monday in the Hardy Room of the Jot Travis Union.

The purpose of the society is to "advance science and engineering relating to the atomic nucleus, its allied sciences and arts."

Dr. David F. Dickinson, nuclear engineering department chairman is the advisor. He says that membership in such a professional organization will "afford students with direct information on nuclear affairs and influence prospective employers. Companies hire those who care enough about their field to join a society with-in it."

British Emigrants In America Topic Of Shepperson's Book

Dr. Wilbur S. Shepperson, associate professor of history at the University of Nevada, is the author of a new book on British emigration in America.

Recently released by the University of Oklahoma Press, the book, "Emigration and Disenchantment" describes the unflattering picture of early America painted by some talented English writers who visited these shores.

Shepperson uses what statistics are available to give the reader a better understanding of how the British emigrants must have felt on seeing this country.

He also devotes a section of the book to how the British may have been disillusioned by the false advertising which was widely circulated in Great Britain during that time.

Sub-titled, "Portraits of Englishmen Repatriated from the United States," the book is being distributed nation-wide.

Dr. Shepperson, a member of the university teaching staff since 1951, has had much experience in studying the emigration of British to the United States.

He has spent seven years in England doing research on emigration, and was visiting professor in history at the University of Wales, 1954-55. He is now a consultant for the Immigration Museum in New York City, N. Y.

Dr. Shepperson's new book is the latest of several he has written on emigration.

Nat. Meteorology Meet Success

The Meteorological Convention which ended on the campus of the University of Nevada October 22, was the first national meeting of atmospheric scientists where the theory of cloud seeding was generally accepted as a weather modification concept, said R. Borden Reams, assistant to the director of DRI.

Mr. Reams said this was "the most successful and the biggest convention ever held by the Meteorological Society." Usually an international meeting of scientists like this, he said, will be attended by fewer than 100 men and fewer than 50 papers will be presented.

The University of Nevada played host to over 300 scientists and more than 100 papers were presented.

The acceptance of the cloud seeding theory by most scientists is a great breakthrough, said Mr. Reams. "The interchange of ideas among scientists is the way progress is made," he added.

The convention will be held on a national level only next year. It will take place in Florida and the papers presented will discuss tropical storms.

'Love Not War' Theme Of Confab

'Downer Probation

It is the decision of the Student Judicial Council that the ASUN-recognized organization, known as "Sundowners," be placed on social probation until June 10, 1966. Social probation, as defined by the Council, includes the withdrawal of the privilege of using University of ASUN facilities or equipment and organized social functions held by the Sundowners are prohibited during the probationary period. The withdrawal of social privilege, it should be recognized, places the organization involved on a probationary status so that further infractions of rules and regulations established by this Council, the University of Nevada, the ASUN, or local or state agencies will result in a request from the Council for withdrawal of ASUN recognition and dissolution of the organization by the ASUN Senate.

The Council specifically considered the charges of conduct unbecoming an ASUN recognized organization brought by the Office of the Dean of Men against the Sundowners. The Council found that the Sundowners participated in an exhibition on the Kezar Stadium football field during half-time activities at the University of San Francisco-University of Nevada football game October 15, 1965, which, in the opinion of the Council, reflected unfavorably upon the students of the University of Nevada. Further, the Council believes that the Sundowners did much to encourage a fist fight between members of the University of San Francisco student body and the Sundowners by taking the San Francisco football players' parkas to the Nevada side of the stadium.

Although no specific formal charges have, as yet, been filed as a result of the actions of members of the Sundowners during the recent University of Nevada Homecoming activities, it is nevertheless apparent to the Council that certain Sundowners flagrantly violated various precepts of law, order and good taste. The Council is quite aware that the actions of a few result in censure for many. It is our opinion, however, that the group is responsible for the conduct and discipline of its members. This is in accordance with the previous opinions of the Council, previous agreements reached by the Office of Student Affairs and the Sundowners, and the precedents established by I.F.C., the ASUN Senate and other deliberative bodies.

Chairman Writes

Editor, Sagebrush:

This letter is a very feeble way of showing my gratitude to the 1965 Homecoming Committee for the time and effort they put into making this year's homecoming a success. This letter is written by me, but I hope it represents the opinion of the student body.

As is customary a chairman of a large undertaking, such as planning and coordinating homecoming, will commend his committee, but I'll go farther and say that this year's homecoming was a success (and I believe it was) and it was solely because of their fine work. It was a committee that devoted part of their time for nearly six months in order to give the students a homecoming they would enjoy.

To be commended besides the members of the committee are John Gasque, for a remarkable job on the revived Wolves Frolic, and Travis Union Board for providing homecoming with an outstanding entertainment program.

I hope that next year's Homecoming chairman will be fortunate enough to have such a great group to work with.

ous characteristics become apparent. Although it is debatable, most people agree that a greenish-brown hue is not particularly pleasing in a lake. I don't know too many people who cultivate a devotion for those floating conglomerations of greyish-brownish-greenish-blackish scum which line the shores of our "emerald bay."

Some aspects of the lake, nevertheless, are quite inviting, and even attractive. The green grasses and overhanging trees, the ever-present ducks and stately swans which cluster near a student tossing bread crumbs, and the near mystic aura it assumes at night, are all examples of the beauty we see in the lake.

Naturally, something must be done to improve the beauty and eliminate the ugliness in our lake. Building an island won't clear murky water. Why can't our Engineering Department recommend a solution? Why don't we demand action to eliminate the unsightly mess?

New Council Desire

AN OPEN LETTER TO MEMBERS OF RECOGNIZED CLUBS AT THE U OF N:

November 3, 1965

As representatives of an affiliated campus organization, we believe that it would be to our best advantage if we were in a position to exchange ideas and discuss our common problems. We would like to discuss the feasibility of organizing an Inter-Club Council for affiliated clubs.

Although there has never been an Inter-Club Council at the University of Nevada, we truly believe that such an organization, if properly established, would be a tremendous aid to the member clubs, both individually and as a whole. This type of association has been proven successful at a large number of colleges and universities throughout the country.

The motive for establishing this council is two-fold. First, if each individual club is to exchange ideas with other clubs, an association is necessary. Secondly, if each club is to develop its full potential as an affiliated campus organization, it will be necessary for the council to have representation in the student government.

The purpose of this letter is to express our desire to form an organization based on the principles stated above. We hope to begin a drive to establish a council on our campus because we believe that the matters which concern the affiliated clubs can best be promoted by an organization set up for this purpose.

We would like to invite and urge the President and one other representative from each club to attend an organizational meeting to be held in the Lounge, November 9th at 7:30.

Remember that the only way a council of any value can be formed is with your support. Please feel free to express your opinions and offer any suggestions that you may have, at this meeting.

Thank you,
