Anti-Suicide Center Approved By Regents For Reno Campus

A University of Nevada crisis and suicide prevention center has been approved by the Board of Regents for the Reno campus. The center, patterned after the Suicide Prevention Center in Los Angeles, will be under the psychological service center.

Telephone counselors will provide non-medical counseling and Professionals will be on hand at all times in case of an emergency. Two psychologists are co-directors of the center and the staff will include professional and non-professional workers.

Dr. Fred Anderson, chairman of the board of regents, said "Nevada has the highest suicide rate in the United States. The service may help prevent some of these."

Workers will receive crisis training prior to working as telephone counselors.

Many local doctors have volunteered for concelation and the State Board of Health is cooperating in establishing the center.

Dr. N. Edd Miller, chancellor of the Reno campus, said that the service will be used for research and teaching at the graduate level.

Anyone thinking of committing suicide should call the center. They will be referred to "the proper source for discussion" said Dr. Anderson.

Candidates For ASUN Offices Outline Campaign Platforms

By Sue Blakley
Political Editor

ASUN Elections will be held tomorrow from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the Student Union.

SAE Dave Russell and ATO Bob Basta are vying for the position of president.

Bob Basta is building his platform on more communication, and closer relationships between students, administration and faculty.

Increased communication between students and administration would help students know why school rules are in effect, says Basta. Tuition and dorm policies are two areas that should be discussed, he adds.

Other things that students should become more involved with are University expansion and campus improvement. Student ideas on such things as Uniident to understand and cope with student problems and to administer and generate their (the student's) interests," Russell said.

DAVE RUSSELL

Promoting student interests is one of the unstated duties of the president, according to Russell. Upholding and building the prestige of the University is another presidential responsibility.

Russell would deal with the lack of student-administration communication by having administration meet with different clubs and organizations throughout the year. Such a program would extend the effectiveness of the "Chancellor's Symposium," which has been started to increase communication and understanding between students, faculty, and administration.

Russell thinks communication between the ASUN and students should be improved. Students, Russell said, should be aware of what's going on in the ASUN. Students should also be made aware of administration decisions that directly concern the Associated students.

If elected, Russell would maintain the President's Cabinet, which was instituted two years ago. He wants to use the cabinet more diligently, getting their advice on all ASUN affairs.

Russell felt the high school recruitment program needs rejuvenation. Too many students are going to out-of-state universities, he said. This could be changed by sending student leaders to recruit high school students.

Daryl Drake is unopposed for the office of first vice-president.

Anne Marie Lesperance and Sheila Dwyer are running for second vice-president.

NO CURE ALL

Miss Dwyer, a Pi Beta Phi, says she will not offer a "cure-all" for the problems the second vice-president will face. She does think co-ordination between the social chairmen on campus and the second vice-president will increase the efficiency of the social programs on campus. Concentrating on this increased efficiency and making social events more successful, will be her main aim, if elected.

She would like to set up a publication to acquaint people with the Mike Ingersoll Lectures Foundation.

Kappa Alpha Theta Anne Marie Lesperance wants to "acquaint each social chairman with social rules." She would do this through personal contact with each chairman.

Anne would like to see "more participation and enthusiasm" concerning social events. She sugversity improvement, Student Union, dorms, student parking, and the library should be conveyed to the administration, Basta said.

Students would have a voice in evaluating their professors, Basta says, if the teacher evaluation program is instituted. Basta, who has been working with the Academic Standards Committee, wants to get the proposed program under way.

If elected, Basta will start an over-all revamping of the annual leadership conference usually held in June, after finals. Basta proposes to move the conference to September, which he says will make it more effective.

A rejuvenation of the high school recruitment program is advocated by Basta. He would like to hit as many northern Nevada schools as possible with the program.

RUSSELL'S VIEWS

Dave Russell feels that responsibility to students is the president's main job.

"It's the obligation of the pres-

Newsman Speaks To Class

"A Newsman has an obligation to report news, not make it," a Los Angeles newsman told a journalism class Thursday.

Jere Laird made the statement following a discussion of the effect of the presence of newsmen at an event, such as the Democratic National Convention.

He said that many times people involved in an event will alter what they say and how they behave because they realize they are being quoted. "It is the duty of newsmen to cover an event without being noticed," said Laird.

Laird was graduated from the University of Nevada in 1959. He is now employed as news editor and reporter for the KNXT television station in Los Angeles. He has covered many important events for national television, such as the Watts riot.

Laird is one of many prominent newsmen, most of whom are Nevada graduates, who have spoken to journalism classes this year.

Brushfire Deadline

Wednesday, March 23, is the deadline for submitting material to the Brushfire. The magazine comes out once a year, in the spring.

The material submitted may be anonymous, said Maurice Beesley, editor of the Brushfire.

Material will be accepted from undergraduate and graduate students and will be returned if requested.

Material should be submitted to the English department secretary, the speech and drama department office, or the Brushfire postal box in the student union.

The Sagebrush urges a Senate seat for anyone who will work for it. Vote 'Yes' on Amendment No. 3.

Editorial VOTE

TOMORROW

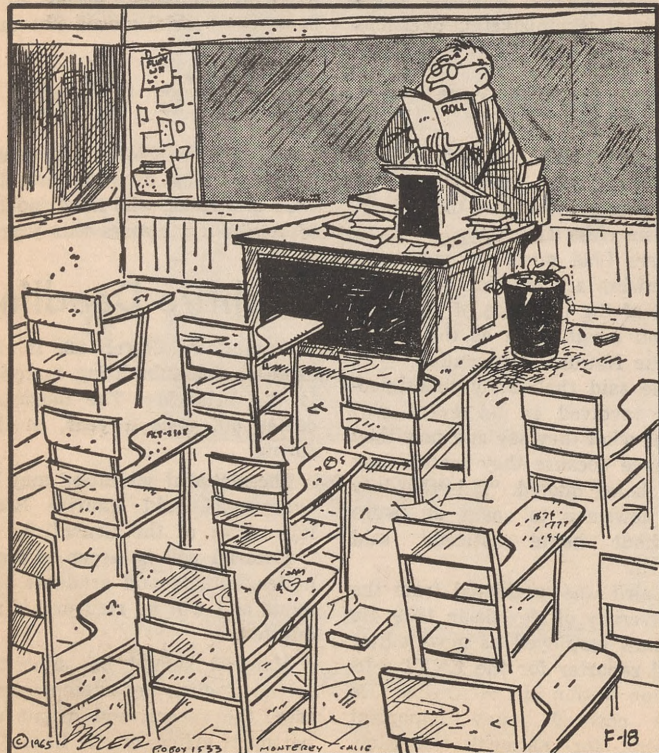

Student government needs your support if it is to function properly.

Select those who are best qualified to serve the interests of the students of the University of Nevada.

It is your right, but more important, your duty to vote.

The Sagebrush urges everyone to turn out at tomorrow's election.

gested the Inter-club Council could help generate this increased participation.

Social manners could be developed among students, Anne said. She thinks this can be done through each organization's social chairman.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Dave Diedrichsen and Sigma Nu Riley Beckett will vie for Junior Men's Senator-At-Large.

Dave Diedrichsen wants the library to have longer hours. "A university should encourage, not discourage, study," he said.

Diedrichsen suggested that one of the branch libraries be kept open on weekend nights. He said the cost would not be high, since it would only entail paying the salary of one librarian for the evening.

LIBRARY ALWAYS OPEN

Keeping the main library open longer during dead week and final week was proposed by Diedrichsen.

Last semester, the library closed one and one-half hours before the last final was given. Students that were studying for their finals had to leave the library.

Longer hours during the week would help remedy the "where to study" problem, Diedrichsen said.

A senior visiting day was suggested by Diedrichsen. This day would be an opportunity for promising high school seniors in northern Nevada to visit the University, and view the facilities here.

Diedrichsen said the southern high schools could be visited by representative groups from the University.

Freshmen and sophomore classes should have representatives in the Senate, Diedrichsen said. The freshman class alone comprises 41% of the student body. This 41 per cent is not able to vote for anyone in the Senate until spring elections.

Such a large portion of the student body, explains Diedrichsen, should be allowed to have a voting representative who will have a say in how their money is spent.

Riley Beckett proposes use of the extra funds in the Finance Control Board treasury. The Board, which is required to have a budget of $5,000, has had an excess of approximately $3,000 for the last two years.

USE OF MONEY

Beckett would like to look into the possibilities of using the money. He suggested using it for the Mike Ingersoll Lectures Foundation, or getting better entertainment for Mackay Day.

"Another thing we could do with the $3,000," Beckett said, "is put it in a savings account, so it will draw interest."

Beckett would like to see if an Honor Code could be started at the University. It would be an extended program, but would be worthwhile.

An inter-campus newswire was proposed by Beckett. News from the other campuses around the nation could be sent to the University, and printed in the Sagebrush.

Pat Tullis, of Delta Delta Delta, and Jan Strosnider, of Kappa Alpha Theta, are running for Junior Women's Senator-At-Large.

Jan Strosnider finds that most decisions made in student government are based on precedence. She wants to see this tradition upheld, but believes it should be expanded by infusing new ideas into the traditional procedures.

Pat Tullis thinks a more active student body could encourage more activity from the Senate. She would give continued A.W.S. representation, and back some liberalization of the minutes warning system.

All editors of campus publications should have a seat on the Publications Board, Pat says.

INCREASE FACILITIES

She thinks the $3,000 excess now held in the Finance Control Board treasury should be spent to increase student facilities.

Running for A.W.S. President are Ginny Gilbert and Marvis Cooper.

Kappa Alpha Theta Marvis Cooper said "A.W.S. can offer more than that is exclusively for women."

Marvis thinks there are enough service organizations on campus. A.W.S. should concentrate on offering programs that will benefit the college woman in college, and during later life.

Women speakers with exceptional backgrounds could speak to University women, and perhaps help them in future decisions.

The position of Senior Class President is being sought by ATO Danny Anderson, and SN Ron Bath.

Doug Damon, an ATO, will contest SAE Mike Newmarker for Sophomore Class President.

Board Receives Nominations To Fill Publications Positions

Ten names have been submitted to the ASUN Publications Board as nominees for the positions of editor and business manager of the major campus publications.

Nominations made for the offices are as follows:

Gregg Zive and Hampton Young, Sagebrush Editor; Bob Corkern, Sagebrush business manager.

Alice Cate, Molly Jacobs, and Judy Crowell, "Artemisia" editor; Carol English, "Artemisia" business manager.

Jan Webb and Gordon Carlson, "Forum" editor; Bill McLaughlin, "Forum" business manager.

Positions on the "Brushfire" are not yet filled.

Nominations will remain open until Monday, March 28, at 4 p.m.

The Publications Board will vote on the positions at their regular meeting March 29.

Dear Mr. Rogich:

I want to thank you for the publicity you gave Barbara Selfridge and myself while we were on campus last month recruiting for VISTA. With the aid of your paper's news articles, we were able to reach almost all of the student body during the week we were in Reno.

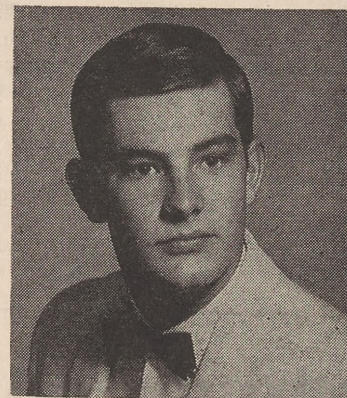

If you would like to use a VISTA insert in your paper, to keep the fight against poverty in the minds of the student body, please don't hesitate to write, and we will gladly send them to you. As well, if you might want any mat advertisements, just let me know.

I hope you'll extend my regards to Sue, who covered our activities, and I wish you the best of luck with your career in journalism.

Thanks again for your cooperation.

Stead AFB Sought For Vocational Training

By Lee Harlen

There are 6,000 young persons now living in Nevada who possess a sixth-grade education or less, according to statistics quoted by the State Supervisor of the Manpower Development and Training division of the State Department of Education.

At present, said John McCarthy, there is no vocational education program of any kind that is designed to provide adequate pre-job training for the young labor force of the state. Neither does the state have any junior colleges to provide technical training for these individuals other than college courses.

(The University of Nevada last year began a two-year associate degree program of technical instruction in a limited number of fields. These courses, however, provide certificate credit instruction and do not come under the guidelines of vocational training.)

To establish a uniform program of vocational education to meet the state's needs, considerably more classroom and teaching facilities will have to be acquired; facilities that are not now available in any school system in the state, McCarthy stressed.

VOCATIONAL CENTER

To establish such a program and to alleviate this educational shortage, the state education office has submitted an application to the federal government to acquire a substantial portion of Stead Air Force Base for use as a vocational center.

If Stead were acquired for this purpose, training programs in over 30 occupational fields catering to adults and post-high school students could be established in the next 12-18 months.

This type of center would be invaluable also to the high school dropout and those with no definite vocational interest in view, McCarthy said.

McCarthy pointed out that vocational courses are offered in some Nevada high schools, but that these courses generally do not meet the pre-job educational and technical requirements desired by industry.

Under another division of the present state vocational program, 3,000 persons have been prepared for employment that they could not have obtained otherwise. These came mostly from the welfare and unemployment rolls.

A survey shows that these vocationally trained, and some previously unemployable persons, now have an average $4,000 annual income.

Courses proposed for the training center would include:

All phases of automobile mechanics and repair, all phases of general restaurant work, business courses and office machine repair, coin machine repair service, welding, machinists and tool operators, upholstery, electronics and electrical instrument repair, aircraft maintenance and repair, agricultural mechanics, graphic arts and printing and drafting.

Tuition for all of these courses would be free to those students referred to the center from various agencies under federal acts.

EXPENSES PAID

Much of the expenses related to the courses would be paid for under the federal manpower retraining program. Until this year the government program has been paying 100 per cent of the costs of this type vocational training, but beginning in July the state will have to start matching ten per cent of these funds, McCarthy said.

Another source of financing for the program will come from the 1965 Vocational Education Act, which allocates funds to each state to be used solely for vocational courses.

The lack of facilities within the state has been the major reason that these funds have not been utilized to their fullest in the past, McCarthy said.

"The costs involved in the acquisition or construction of the needed facilities would be prohibitive.

"For us to institute a number of programs along these lines in Washoe County would call for new buildings and facilities that the county is not able to provide," McCarthy implied.

"At the present time we are renting non-school property throughout the state at a very high cost to carry out our existing programs, due to the fact that no enough room in the schools is available," McCarthy stated.

McCarthy said however that the state would prefer not to be in operational control of the center, indicating that an existing educational agency could act as the administrative agency.

OPERATION OF PROGRAM

"We would prefer to have the Washoe County School District or the University of Nevada operate the program, with full assistance and cooperation from the state.

"As soon as facilities become available, research and development of additional courses could be begun.

"Under our comprehensive plan, an institution of this kind would help attract industry to the state.

"As any industry indicates a particular need for specially trained personnel to fill jobs, the state would initiate these courses into the curriculum of the school," McCarthy continued.

Under this type of job development operation, students could be trained as the job requirements become known. The courses would be designed to have the vocational student ready for immediate employment in the existing openings.

Without the additional facilities which could be provided by the acquisition of Stead, expansion of the present state vocational program would be limited to "as other space becomes available," McCarthy explained, referring to his earlier statements to the present limitations.

Travel, Enjoyment Offered In Summeh Job

Travel and education will be offered to 100 men and women between the ages of 19 and 23 this summer. The encampment for Citizenship will be held in Puerto Rico, June 26 to August 6, to study the culture and language of that country.

The goal of the Encampment for Citizenship is to help develop citizenship in young Americans. It is a non-profit non-sectarian, non-partisan organization, founded in 1946.

Cavey, 35 miles from San Juan, will be the spot for this year's encampment. It will be concerned with achievements and problems of social-economic development in Puerto Rico and Latin America.

Visits to social-economic projects and cultural events will be included in the project.

A Latin American teacher and a former Peace Corps Volunteer teacher of English will work each day to improve the American campus use of Spanish and the Latin America's use of English.

For those who would rather stay in the United States, there is another Encampment for Citizenship in Washington, D. C., from June 19 to July 30. That program will be concerned with U.S. national politics and foreign policy.

All campers must pay for their own transportation to and from Puerto Rico.

The Encampment for Citizenship also sponsors two centers for education in democracy for 15- to 18- year olds in both New York City and Eastern Kentucky.

Further information about any of the Encampment program may be obtained by writing The Encampment for Citizenship, Inc., 2 West 64th Street, New York City 10023, or from the Foreign Language Department.

Dallimore Chosen Top Athlete

Pack baseball pitcher Fred Dallimore was chosen 'Athlete of the Week' for the period ending March 20 by the Sagebrush staff. Dallimore struck out seven San Jose siaters to give Nevada the win.

Also considered for the award was Nevada shot putter George Puce, who won two events in the Berkeley track meet.

Sagebrush "Athlete of the Week" Fred Dallimore fireballs a pitch at San Jose batter late in game. Dallimore collected the win for the Wolf Pack.

Nevada To Host Boxing Tourney This Weekend

The hard-socking University of Nevada boxing team will host the California Collegiate Boxing Conference championships this weekend in the University gym.

Four schools will compete in the tournament, in which the University of California is defending champion. Besides Nevada, other teams are Chico St. and Stanford. Stanford may have a limited entry due to quarter exams.

Nevada and Cal go into the tournament with 5-1 records, each having defeated the other in home matches.

Leading the Nevada team is Bill Georgeson, defending conference champion in the 147-pound division. Cal will enter two champs, Paul Bell, 132-pounds, and Pete Cowan, 139 pounds.

Two of Nevada's 1965 champs, Dale Landon and Mike Parman, are not competing this year, but their places have been filled by Ben Blinn and Riley Beckett, both undefeated this season.

From the End of the Bench

By Mike Parman

THE SCORE WAS NOT IN OUR FAVOR, but the Wolf Pack track team did very well Saturday. We were beaten by the University of California and San Jose St. San Jose rates as one of the best teams on the West Coast and certainly a national power.

YEARS FROM NOW, Nevada sports fans can look back and point to the 1965-66 basketball season, and claim that one of our defeats was administered by the number one big-school team in the land, Texas Western. We can also say we trailed the Miners by only seven points at the half. And, while we're pointing, we can also mention that another of our defeats was handed out by the number two small college team in the nation, Southern Illinois.

LET'S GIVE THE PACK BOXERS SOME SUPPORT THIS WEEKEND. The conference boxing championship will be held Friday and Saturday night in the Virginia Street gym. Seldom has the Pack entered the tournament with such a good chance of winning. But the competition is tough around tournament-time, and solid support will give Nevada the edge. Last year, when the championships were held in Berkeley, only a few hundred fans in a school of 27,000 students turned out to watch. Let's don't show that kind of apathy here.

SOME WELL-DESERVED RECOGNITION should be handed the University of Nevada tennis team, who defeated Sonoma St.aturday. The Nevada tennis team is always harrassed by bad weather.

Vocal Artist Schiotz Presented By Performing-Artist Series

Vocal artist, Aksel Schiotz, will be featured at the University of Nevada Performing-Artist series on Friday, March 25.

"As an artist, Schiotz has the sensitivity, the perception and the feeling for shading to illuminate both test and music. As a vocalist, he is in possession of an instrument whose timbre proclaims its wonder with a single note, a voice capable of great sympathetic appeal," says Paul Hume of the Washington Post.

Schiotz was born in Denmark an dmade his debut at the Royal Opera House in Copenhagen in 1938.

The "Voice of Occupied Denmark" throughout World War II. Schiotz has since taught school in the United States and has made many performances. He has sang at the Glyndebourne festival, Edinburgh festival, Caasals festival in Perpignan, the Stratford Shakespeare festival in Ontario, and the Vancouver International festival.

He is a teacher at the University of Colorado.

The performance will begin at 8 p.m. in the Jot Travis Student Union building on the Reno campus.

Tickets are available by contacting Pat Thomas at the Chancellor's office. General admission is $2.25; faculty and staff at the university, $1.25; students, $1.00. University students with proper identification will be admitted free of charge.

The series is sponsored by the Public Occasions Board, the AS-UN, and the Jot Travis Union.

Schiotz is the sixth entertainer to perform in the Performing-Artist series. The last performer will be Margaret Fabrizio, a harpsichordist, who will present her program on April 22.

Past performances in the series included the Adameus String Quartet; Thomas Lee, a folksinger; the Buetens Lute Trio; the Mitchell-Ruff Jazz Trio; and Nicamor Zabaleta, a Spanish harp virtuoso.

Professor Attends Late Conference

J. Craig Sheppard, professor of art at the University of Nevada, was Nevada's representative at a recent conference to discuss the role of state government and the arts.

The conference was sponsored by the Arts Council of America in cooperation with the National Endowment for the Arts.

Representatives from all fifty states and two territories met in Chicago to discuss the techniques for creating state arts councils and developing arts programs. Grants from the National Endowment Fund to states were also included in the discussion.

Kinnear Standings

By winning the competition in the basketball free throw, basketball, and skiing the members of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity have pushed ahead of Sigma Nu in the race for the Kinnear Trophy. ATO now has 631 points and Sigma Nu has 600.

The standings to date are: first place, ATO, 631 points; second, Sigma Nu, 600 points; third, SAE, 349 points; fourth, White Pine Hall, 296 points; fifth, Lambda Chi, 273 points; sixth, Lincoln Hall, 267 points; seventh, Phi Sigma Kappa, 208 points; eighth, Independents No. 1, 188 points; and ninth, Theta Chi, 127 points.

San Jose Downs Nevada, Cal In Berkeley Weekend Meet

By Mike Parman
Sports Editor

BERKELEY—San Jose's Spartans downed the University of Nevada and hosting University of California in a track meet Saturday at the Cal campus.

Led by Tommy Smith, the Spartans amassed 78 points, University of California, 62½; and the Wolf Pack finished with 40½.

The dynamo Smith streaked and jumped to three solo first place wins, and was anchor man for the winning 440-yard relay team. He won the 220-yard dash in a time of 21.6, the 440-yard dash in 46.7, and the broad jump with a leap of 23 feet, 9½ inches.

Nevada won four events and placed in several more to make a good showing against one of the better track teams in the count country.

Winning for Nevada was Otis Burrell in the high jump with a leap of 6-10, weightman George Puce with a shot put best of 58 feet and a discus throw of 171 feet, and Dave Taylor with a pole vault of 14-6.

Also standing out for the Wolf Pack was Houston Williamson who placed second in the 100-yard dash with a 9.8 clocking. He also placed second in the 220 with a 22.0 time and second in the broad jump at 23-6½.

Although the Nevada 440-yard relay team placed third, it still came through with a very good time of 42.1.

The Chico St. Wildcats will invade the new Wolf Pack track next Saturday.

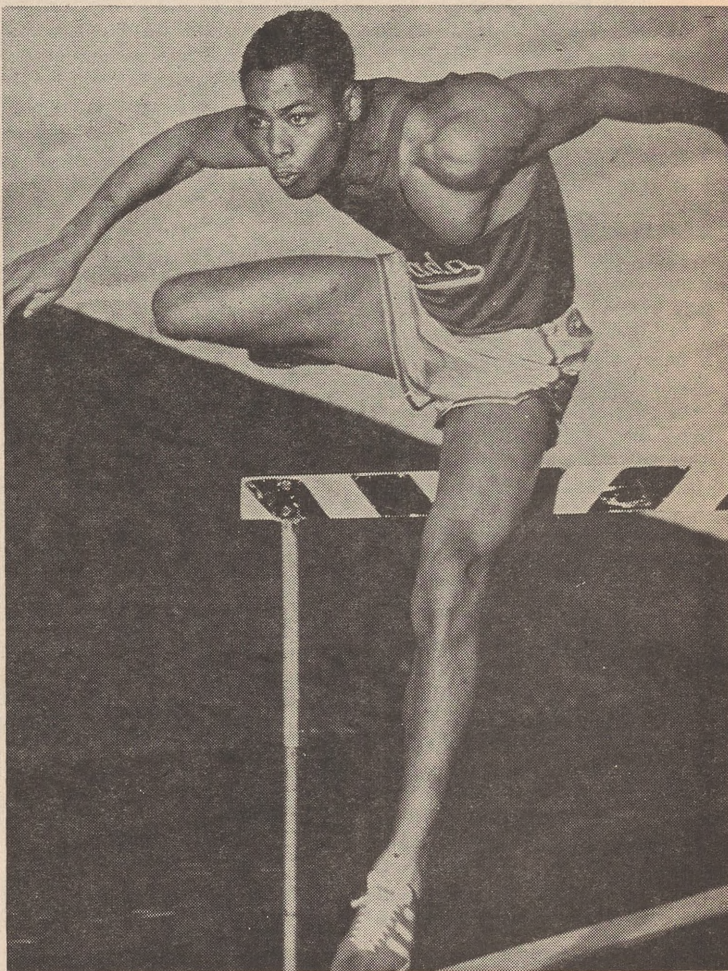

440-yard Relay—1, San Jose State (Wayne Herman, Tim Knowles, John Bambury, Tommy Smith), 40.6; 2, California, 41.7; 3, Nevada, 42.1.

Wolf Pack Nine Breaks Even In San Jose Double Header

By Gary Daniels

The Wolf Pack baseball team split a double header with the Spartans of San Jose State at Moana Stadium on Friday. The Pack won the first game 5-3 and dropped the night-cap 9-1.

In the first game the Nevada team was able to come from behind to gain the victory. Fred Dallimore survived a shaky first inning to pick up his second victory of the season.

The Spartans started off with a bang as they picked up two runs in the first inning. The Nevadans came back to score three times in the third and two in the sixth to pick up the victory. The Pack's defense was marred with six errors on the day.

The offense was led by two home runs, one by Rod Mathisen in the third and the other by catcher Steve Kosach in the sixth. Dallimore allowed six hits, issued one walk, and struck out seven in the seven inning ball game.

In the second game Nevada was the victim of the Spartan's bunting their hits. The team from the bay area outhit the Nevadans by only one hit 8 to 7 but managed to put them together to pick up the win. Carl Bossieux, who seems to be the victim of bad luck, was charged with the loss.

The big blow for the visitors was a grand slam homerun in the seventh by Dave Mettler off hurler, Ron Bath.

Nevada Women Take First In Triangular Gymnastics Meet

The University of Nevada Women's Gymnastics Team placed first in a triangular gymnastics meet between the University of Nevada, San Francisco State, and the University of California at Davis Saturday evening. The meet was held at the Archie Clayton High School Gymnasium in Reno.

The final team standings were: University of Nevada, 28; San Francisco, 25; and Davis, 11.

Of the four women on the gymnastics team, Terry Axtell, Donna Carlson, Cindy Jesch, and Cheryl Wylie, all are freshmen except Carlson, who is graduating this year.

The youngest member of the team is Cheryl Wylie. She placed sixth in the United States Gymnastics Federation Regional Meet this year.

Cindy Jesch is developing into an excellent balance beam performer, stated women's gymnastics coach, Lee Newell, who said Jesch "should be a sure winner with a little more experience."

Terry Axtell's specialty is the competition on the uneven bars. Newell reported that she could be one of the best women on the unevens in the United States next year.

The only graduating member of the gymnastics team is Donna Carlson. She started gymnastics as a junior and won the state championship on the unevens last year. She also placed sixth in the U.S.G.F. Sectional Meet last year.

Amendments On Tomorrow's Ballot Up For Student Decision

Three constitutional amendments will be on the ballots in this year's elections.

The first one concerns affiliated senators, and is recommended by the Student Judicial Council. As the constitution now stands, one representative from each of the colleges must be unaffiliated. No independents were elected to the business or educational colleges last year, because none ran for the positions.

The second amendment, proposed to Senate last month, is concerned the Student Judicial Council being able to remove incompetent editors and business managers of ASUN publications.

The third amendment, caused by the death of former ASUN President Mike Ingersoll, provides for succession to the President's office in case of death or otherwise.

AMENDMENT

Article IV, Section I, New Part B & renumber following parts:

Should a vacancy occur in the office of ASUN President because of the death, withdrawal, resignation or inability to serve of the incumbent, the First Vice-President shall succeed to the office of ASUN President. Should a vacancy occur in the office of First Vice-President, the Senior Men's Senator-at-Large shall succeed to the office of First Vice-President. Should a vacancy occur in the office of Second Vice-President, the Senior Women's Senator-at-Large shall succeed to the office of Second Vice-President.

AMENDMENT

Removal from office: The Editor or business manager of either publication may be removed from office in the case of incompetence. Such removal shall receive a 4/5 vote of the Student Judicial Council, all members being present. The defendant or defendants shall have the right to a fair trial by the Council, after indictment by the Publications Board, and upon request shall have the right to appeal to the Senate for a review and final decision concerning the case.

AMENDMENT

Article II, Section I, Paragraph A, of the A.S.U.N. Constitution be amended to read as follows:

The Senate shall be composed of one Representative from each recognized social fraternity and sorority on the campus, it being understood that such recognition be granted by the President of the University; one unaffiliated Representative from each of the dormitories; each college shall have at least one representative elected by the students within the college, the college representation to be based on a plurality of two-hundred students, the first Representative from the colleges having more than one seat is to be unaffiliated only if an unaffiliated student files for said office, the other representative can be either unaffiliated or affiliated; the A.S.U.N. President, A.W.S. President, four Senators-at-Large, one Student Union Board representative.

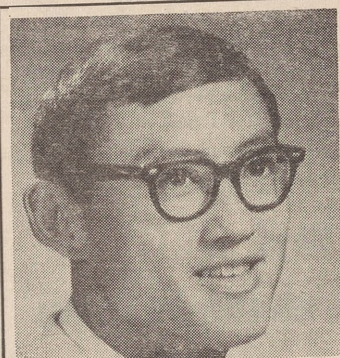

Symphonic Band Presents Concert Here This Sunday

The University of Nevada Symphonic Band will present a concert Sunday, March 27, at 3 p.m. in the Fine Arts Auditorium.

The program will feature several Nevada first performances, including a transcription of Mahler's Second Symphony - Final, Dello-Joio's "Variants on a Medieval Tune," and Aaron Coplan's new "Emblems for Band."

Philip C. Becker, of Oroville, California, will guest conduct his transcription of Mahler's work. Other featured performers are Eugene Isaef, trombone; Orville Fleming, flute, Dr. Roscoe Booth, trumpet, and Charles Bickhart, clarinet.

Admission to the event is free. Reserved seats are recommended because of the limited seating. Reserved seats may be obtained by calling Ext. 437 at the University.

Distinguished Military Student Badge Awarded Cadets

Two Advanced Corps cadets of the ROTC Department were recently awarded the Distinguished Military Student Badge.

The two cadets were David K. Rogers and William M. Casey.

Rogers graduated from El Dorado Union High School of Placerville, California, and studied at Sierra Junior College at Rocklin before coming to Nevada. He is majoring in geological Engineering and has participated on the ROTC Rifle Team. He is president of UNCOC.

Casey lives in Fallon, Nevada, and was graduated from Churchill County High School there. He is majoring in political science and working towards a law degree. Casey is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity.

The Distinguished Military Student badge is awarded to those cadets in MS4 who are in the top third of their class in ROTC, and who stand in the top half of their class in college. Qualifications for their standings in the ROTC program are based on their performances in MS3 and at summer camp at Fort Lewis, Washington. The cadet's college class requirement may be overlooked if he places in the top 10 per cent of his ROTC class, or the professor of military science may waive the requirement in cases he sees fit.

A certificate and a badge designating the cadet as a Distinguished Military Student are awarded by the Sixth Army.

Aggies Plan Livestock Show

The annual Junior Livestock Show, the Comstock Arabian Horse Show, and an all-school dance, were discussed at the regular Aggie Club meeting, last Wednesday.

Aggie Club members and faculty of the Max C. Fleischmann College of Agriculture will sponsor the Junior Livestock Show to be held April 29-30.

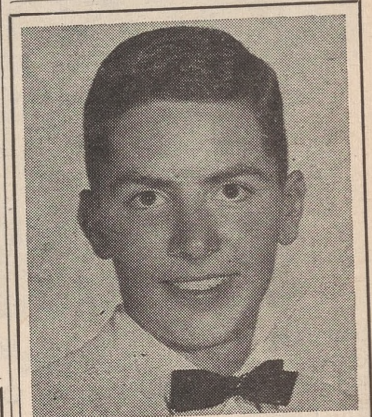

Committee members in charge of the livestock show were appointed by committee chairman, Dudley Bacon. Those appointed were: Harvey Barnes, judging; Maxine Forbush, publicity; Dave Giocacchini, show and sales; and Cliff Shoolroy, preparations.

During the livestock show, youngsters from Nevada 4-H, and Future Farmers of America chapters will display their projects. Beef cattle, pigs, and lambs will comprise the majority of animals entered in the livestock show.

Aggie Club members were asked to support the Comstock Arabian Horse Show on April 22 and 23 at the Centennial Coliseum.

In further business, arrangements are being made for an all-school dance to be held April 1. Harvey Barnes, social chairman, is in charge of the event.

Also vests in the school colors of blue and silver were adopted by the club.

Dartmouth Glee Club To Appear In Reno Thursday

University students and music lovers will be able to witness an Ivy-League college group perform this Thursday when the Dartmouth Glee Club hits Reno.

The singers will perform at the Centennial Coliseum at 8 p. m. on March 24th.

The glee club is composed of 60 men. They are all selected from the undergraduate males of Dartmouth.

Although their interests are varied, the men of the group are commonly bonded through a mutual love of singing. The club has become famous through the sturdy sound they produce while singing together.

The club sings all types of music: classical, contemporary, popular, and college songs, including their "Ivy League Medley."

In the past few years the club has been dubbed "Dartmouth's Singing Ambassadors." They have visited over fifty cities in 36 states and two countries in its last five spring tours.

In addition, it has appeared on both network and local television and radio. The group has appeared on the Ed Sullivan and Perry Como shows, in the movie "Cinerama Holiday," and on the stage at Radio City Music Hall for a 196 performance, seven days a week, seven-week stint. "Sing Along With Glee," a recording by the club is available throughout the country.

The Dartmouth College Glee

Club was founded in Hanover, New Hampshire in 1869, 100 years after the college was founded.

When originally formed it was called the "Petroleum Glee Club." Little is known about this forerunner to the current glee club. It is guessed the name was connected with the petroleum research being conducted by the college at that time.

The club has since developed into a widely-known choral group in university and public circles. It is one of the most popular extracurricular activities at Dartmouth.

The club's function at Dartmouth is twofold. First, the group provides musical entertainment for students and townspeople at Hopkins Center, a new center for the performing arts. The club presents concerts with other groups, including nearby women's colleges both at home and on the road.

Secondly, the glee club serves as "singing ambassadors" of Dartmouth. While singing the musical praises of their alma mater, the club members are among the few undergraduate organizations that are connected directly with the college's alumni and other outside groups.

When out of Hanover, the club strengthens the ties of the alumni to the college. It also gives those who know little about Dartmouth an opportunity to become acquainted.

The group is directed by Professor Paul R. Zeller, professor of Music at Dartmouth. Zeller studied at Michigan and came to Hanover in 1947. He was given a full professorship and an honorary degree from Dartmouth in 1955.

The glee club is governed by a three man directorate, elected by the membership. The president, William B. Gibson, works with Professor Zeller and the business manager concerning club policies. He also serves as librarian of the club.

The Dartmouth Glee Club has been on a busy schedule this year. Right now the group is on a tour that includes Reno, Chippendale, San Francisco, San Diego, Houston, and Oklahoma City.

Bohmont Appointed To Bureau Of Land Management Board

Dr. Dale W. Bohmont, dean of the Fleischmann College of Agriculture, has been appointed to the Bureau of Land Management's Multiple Use Advisory Board.

Dr. Bohmont will serve as a representative for education, research and conservation. The board which advises the BLM on matters relating to multiple use of publicly owned lands which are utilized for grazing, hunting and recreation.

Dr. J. B. Wyckoff, head of the division of agricultural economics and education at the college, was named alternate representative to the board.

The Fleischmann school is now involved in a joint research project with the BLM and the Fish and Game Commission to determine the degree of competition between livestock and big game populations on these public lands.

About 70 per cent of all the land in Nevada is controlled by the BLM.

Laxalt To Speak At AWS Council Awards Dessert

An active calendar is coming up for A.W.S. council.

The council will feature Lieutenant-Governor Paul Laxalt as speaker at the A.W.S. Awards Dessert, Monday, April 4 at 8 p.m.

Ten Outstanding Senior Women will soon be chosen by A.W.S.

Nominations were made in Thursday's A.W.S. meeting.

Tickets are available at the CCA at 1029 North Virginia, across from Juniper Hall.

Admission will be 50 cents for students and 75 cents for adults.

Last Play Planned

The University Theatre will present another play this semester, said Robert Ericson, theatre director.

"Even though there is a shortage of time and money we feel it can be done," he said.

Tryouts will be held Wednesday, March 23 at 7 p.m. in Room Eight of the Fine Arts building.

Ericson said he has not yet decided definitely on a play, but added that it would have to have a comparatively small cast and would be of high quality.

Originally only one play was scheduled for the Spring semester. "Macbeth" was planned and was replaced by "Candida," which was produced last weekend.
