AWS Committee Will Review Rules Concerning Hours, Campuses

Associated Women Students' rules concerning hours and campuses will be reviewed today by a special committee set up by AWS President Marvis Cooper. Representatives from each women's living group will meet at 6:30 p.m. to review the rules.

"We've had many complaints about the rules being too strict and the hours not being lenient enough. Since we officers asked the women for their suggestions in the view that we would try to make any improvements they suggest, I feel this review is badly needed," Miss Cooper says.

Any resolutions made by the committee would have to be passed by the regular members of the AWS council. Suggestions arising from the meeting are expected to be presented for approval at the May 19 Council meeting.

Committee members who will work with Assistant Dean of Women Roberta Barnes, AWS vice

Local YR's Hold Elections

Election of officers and plans to have a dinner in the fall to meet local Republican figures were taken up at the meeting of the University chapter of the Young Republicans of Nevada. Mike Easterly was chosen president for a second time. The group met in the Truckee room of the Jot Travis Student Union on May 4.

Eric Easterly was chosen vice-president. Judy Carter was elected secretary, and the new treasurer is Ron Marriott.

Tentative plans to hold a dinner in the fall as a kick-off for the 1966 gubernatorial election were made. Local Republicans will be asked to speak at the dinner.

The new president predicts a good year for the chapter with membership increasing. The participation in the May 4 meeting was, "more spirited than any in the past two years," he said.

Library Book Fair Set For May 24

The third annual Library Book Fair will be held Tuesday, May 24, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The book fair will be held in the sunken garden immediately north of the Gatchell Library. Entrance to the garden will be through the library's ground floor reading area.

All books will be sold at twenty-five cents each. Sets will not be broken. Proceeds will be used to purchase books for the library. All sales will be for cash on a "first come, first served" basis. No book trucks, wagons, carts, boxes or bags will be allowed. In order to be fair to all buyers purchases will be limited to what a person can carry in his arms.

Patricia Miltenberger and Stefka Triszczuk were chosen to receive the Associated Women Students 1966 scholarships. The Independent women were chosen at the May 5 meeting of AWS council which was attended by members from the past year and the newly installed members.

The scholarships are $100 each and have been raised through AWS activities of the last two semesters. Official presentation of the scholarships will be made at the AWS dinner to be held at the Continental Lodge on May 11.

Miss Miltenberger is a sophomore psychology major. She is president of Women's Recreational Association and serves as a resident assistant for Juniper Hall.

The 19-year old Fallon woman lives in Manzanita Hall.

Stefka Triszczuk is a resident of Artemisia Hall. Miss Triszczuk is a native of Germany, but she came to the United States when she was a child.

The brown-haired sophomore is a German major. She would like to be either an interpreter or to teach school.

Miss Triszczuk lives in Winne-mucca.

Senate To Pick Jr. President

Sigma Nu Riley Becket and Alpha Tau Omega Ernie Maupin have been nominated to fill the vacancy in the office of Junior class president, which was left with the death of student leader Jeff Reeves.

The ASUN senate voted to postpone election until the next session of the senate May 18 to allow time for senators to consider the candidates.

In addition to the Junior class executive vacancy, two positions are to be filled in the Student Judicial Council at the next meet-

Honors Convocation To Recognize Students Of Outstanding Scholarship

Undergraduate and graduate students with honor grades will receive recognition at an honors convocation May 12 at 3 p.m. in the gymnasium.

According to Dean Sam Basta, all honor roll students, members of Phi Kappa Phi and scholarship winners are requested to be at the gym. Basta says it was impossible to mail out invitations to everyone. He said the first two rows in the gym are reserved for those people.

"The honors convocation has been inaugurated to provide occasion to honor and present to the university community those students who have made significant scholastic achievements during this school year," said Dr. N. Edd Miller, chancellor.

Dr. Miller said that such scholarship recognition is usually part of the commencement exercises at Nevada and other schools, but it is felt that the students should be commended at a time when they are still at the university.

President Charles J. Armstrong will be the main speaker at the convocation. Chancellor Miller will preside.

All honor students, members of Elfrena Sewell was this school year's outstanding Greek and recent Mackay Day queen. Elfrena, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta, is business manager of the "Artemisia," and was the 1965-66 president of WRA.

Mary Solaro was this year's president of Eta Epsilon, honor society for home economics majors. She was among the top five national winners of the Pillsbury Award. Mary, a member of Tri Delta, is in Phi Kappa Phi.

Seven persons received scholarships. They are: Barbara Brush, Tana Dale, Jacqueline Elliott, Leo Fish, Virginia Gilbert, Sherrill Locke, and Marilyn McKinnon. In addition to receiving a $1,600 stipend, they will also have their tuition paid for the coming school year.

ASUN Banquet Designed To Cut Down Expenses Fails To Honor Many

The recently held ASUN Banquet was supposedly designed to eliminate the duplication of expenditure of funds to pay tribute to those students who have been the leaders on this campus for the past year. Presumably this would include all ASUN office holders. The banquet did this. But through the random and partial way that invitations were extended it also served to eliminate paying tribute to many who deserved it.

The criteria for determining who were to be the "lucky ones" to receive invitations must have been quite strange. Although senators were invited, the former president of the senate was not. Someone finally remembered him the night before the banquet and gave him a hasty call. Some class officers were feted at the banquet while others simply never heard word that they might go.

If this is another example of our all efficient senate, it is something to behold. The night before the banquet found people calling all over, madly trying to find out who was supposed to go — no one really knew. Perhaps it's a new method of separations of power in our senate — to sort of keep the left hand from knowing what the right one is doing.

The purpose the banquet served was the cause of insult rather than recognition, and many outstanding leaders of this campus who have done much for the school have reason to feel slighted. The entire elimination of the banquet would be a much better plan than this random, illogical selection of who is to be "honored."

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

"WHY CAN'T YOU BE LIKE SOME OF THE OTHER FACULTY AND JUST TAKE TRANQUILIZERS."

Campus Critique

By George Herman

Several of the songs in "Stop the World—I Want to Get Off" are already familiar to readers of Sagebrush: "Once in a Lifetime," "Gonna Build A Mountain," "What Kind of Fool Am I?" I confess that the only one I recognized is a new version of "My Mother Said," which perhaps because my mother used to sing it to me, was formerly quite proper. The University Theater's current musical makes good use of the old song, having a good deal to say about natural consequences: love and marriage (repeat) go together with a baby carriage, to modify another old song. Littlechap (Bill Hickman), the comic hero, and wife Evie (Carol Roberts) do repeat, with very pretty results, Susan (Kathy Geise) and Jane, a sadly rejected child (Maggie Hastings).

All in all, this musical finds marriage rather lamentable but sex attractive. Most of the jokes are happily transparent double entendres which the audience opening night found terribly funny (I except a young man who sat next to me: he was far too busy hand wrestling his girl friend). Littlechap, a simple English fellow, is so enamored of his wife that when he two-times (or rather three) her in Russia, Germany, and the little old U.S. and A., he picks an identical type except for accent and other superficialities. Miss Roberts is very charming and melodious in her several guises. Hickman bears up bravely under (over?—that's what the jokes are like) these domestic and international entanglements. Whenever things get too rough, Littlechap simply stops the world, walks forward to the audience's side of the circus arena and utters a couple of old dada proverbs. Eventually, he goes off with the Grim Reaper in place of an ailing grandson (John McDonald). It is very touching.

Which leaves me the chorus line, sweet factory girls, demure bridesmaids, and tempting street urchins. Together with Littlechap, Evie, Susan and Jane, they sing my favorite song, "Nag, Nag, Nag," all about a horse race. You pays your money and you takes your choice (Sheryn Abrahamian, Susan Cobb, Jerry Glisczinski, Holly Hammerberg, Pat Porter, Michele Sheppard, Kathy Vandershoot).

The music is well played by a large orchestra under direction of Mr. Jack Neal, lots of good jazz and song medleys. The circus set is another fine job by Mr. Robert Ware. And the whole crazy thing is directed by Mr. Robert Ericson.

Take a girl to giggle with or Indian rattle. You'll like it.

★ Letters To The Editor ★

Letters to the Editor must be submitted at least two days before the Sagebrush appears on campus. Letters must not exceed 300 words and must be typewritten double spaced and must be signed. Letters not meeting these standards will not be considered for publication.

Dear Sir:

Recently a badger-dog fight was proposed as a glorious manner in which to celebrate Mackay Day. Like many other people I was opposed to such an activity and was tempted to write a letter to the Sagebrush expressing my belief. Fortunately, I heard that the whole affair was a hoax before committing myself; unfortunately, some of our faculty members stated their disapproval before the truth was printed. So, because of a publicity hoax by one of our previously mature administrators and a supposedly responsible chairman, many people have been made to look ridiculous. I am sure that Dean Basta and Chairman Stephenson have had many good chuckles over the nation-wide response by naturalists, conservationists, and members of humane societies. I am equally certain that these gentlemen were convulsed with mirth when a competent member of the Zoology Department opposed the badger-dog fight in a letter published Tuesday, May 3 in the Sagebrush. Snickers of delight must punctuate each discussion in which it is pointed up that the University of Nevada is that institution that one week produces great scientific feats and the next week tries to convince everyone that it is really old-fashioned.

A publicity stunt done in good taste is generally an asset to an event and the school, but in this case, I can see no benefit. The

Parsons Elected

Ed Parsons, a sophomore student at the University of Nevada, was elected State Second Vice-President of the Young Republicans of Nevada last weekend in Las Vegas.

Parsons has been active in the Reno Young Republicans for a year and a half. The appointment of Parsons to a state office was the only office given to a college student.

proposed badger-dog fight has brought very bad publicity to the University of Nevada, but now that it has been revealed as a hoax, the entire situation makes this institution appear asinine. It was bad enough that a student leader should have been involved in this perpetration, but no, Dean Basta had to be in on the act too, an action which brings no credit to the man or the school.

I hope that in the future the complete ramifications of such stunts will be considered carefully so that the school and others are not held up as being fools.

Respectfully,
Richard Lankow

Nossum To Speak On Norway Life

Arne Nossum, University of Nevada Nordic specialist on the ski team, will talk on Norway on May 11th, 7:30 p.m., in the Travis Lounge.

The International Relations Club invites all students to attend.

Arne, who has indicated plans of returning to Norway for the summer, will answer any questions regarding his topic following his presentation.

Refreshments will be served.

Language Confab

Dr. Charles V. Wells, head of the foreign language department, and Paul MacCura, a foreign language instructor, attended the Spring Conference of the Nevada Foreign Language Teachers Association in Las Vegas, Saturday, May 7.

Cavers Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Great Basin Grotto of the National Speleological Society at the Ground Water Resources Bldg. on Thur. May 12th—7:30 p.m.

Current business will be discussed and new Nevada cave slides will be shown. Visitors are welcome.

Greenhouses To Be Erected

Bids have been opened and an award will be made soon for the building of new greenhouses to supplement the DRI Laboratory of Desert Biology. The 44 by 42 foot enclosed research facility will house three environmental control chambers, two greenhouses and a work area. The new structure will be built at the northwest corner of the Water Resources building, across from the existing parking area.

A new mobile laboratory has just been delivered to the Laboratory of Desert Biology. A mobile "living" laboratory is expected to arrive shortly which will bring the total mobile units to three.

The mobile units go into the desert regularly to study various aspects of plant and animal relations to the environment. In addition to a small library, microscopes and balances, each will contain a gas chromatograph which analyses the organic materials in the air, and a carbon dioxide gas analyzer which measures the carbon dioxide taken up by the plants.

Air Photo Taken By Mackay Mines

Approximately 6,000 aerial photographs of Nevada have been presented to the Mackay School of Mines, University of Nevada, by Mark Hurd Aerial Surveys, Inc., of Goleta, California.

In announcing the gift, Dr. E. R. Larson, Chairman of the Geology-Geography Department of the Mackay School of Mines, said the photographs would be invaluable both in classroom instruction and in practical use on various geological projects.

The photos will be placed with the extensive collection on public file at the Nevada Bureau of Mines, an agency of the Mackay School of Mines. The new collection will provide a base for comparative study with earlier photographs and will give coverage of certain areas missing from the original collection. As many of the photos are on a more detailed scale, they will contribute greatly to future geologic mapping.

JOURNALISM STUDENTS were honored for outstanding work in Sunday morning's annual awards breakfast.

Journalism Students Honored At Awards Breakfast

Journalism student Lee Harlan picked up four awards and seven other students were honored at the annual Department of Journalism Awards Breakfast Sunday morning in the Dining Commons.

Harlan won three certificates and cash awards for Command of the News, Best News Story and Best Feature Story. He also will have his name inscribed on the Robert E. Petrini Memorial Cup. The honor is reserved each year for a student who best promises to exemplify the qualities of Robert Petrini.

Sue Blakely won the Crown-Zellerbach Foundation $500 scholarship in journalism.

Other awards were given to: Lee Winne, a $100 Sigma Delta Chi scholarship; Ed Pearce, for the Best Radio News Story; Ed Parsons, the Best Sports Story; Sue Anderson, the Best Editorial; Jim Simmons, the Best Advertisement; and Pat Ceccarelli, the Best News Photograph.

Five professional journalists were initiated into Kappa Tau Alpha, a national society honoring scholarship in Journalism.

Congress In -- Dewey Out In New Filing System

Dewey is out and the Library of Congress is in. In January the classification of books added to the Library and all branches were made according to the new Library of Congress System.

The decision to make this change resulted from a series of studies during the past two years by the Library staff, and it has been approved by the Faculty Library Committee, the Chancellor and the President.

Several advantages are to result from the Library of Congress System. Books will be arranged in a more efficient and logical order than before. The elapsed time between the receipt of a book in the Library and its cataloging will be shortened. There will be a significant decrease in the number of "arrears" awaiting cataloging. A consistent and accurate catalog to the Library will be created.

For some time books in the Library will be arranged by two systems. Also there will be two catalogs to the Library: one, the present catalog, the other for the latest books added to the Library's collection. The new catalog will be in two parts; one, authors and the titles; two, subjects only.

Unfortunately, it will not be possible immediately to begin reclassifying the books now in the Library. As soon as funds are available reclassification will be undertaken.

The Library staff recognizes that this change in classification and the beginning of a new catalog will cause temporary inconvenience to students and faculty. For instance the books on the same subject will be in two places in the Library, and to find all books on a given subject it will be necessary to consult two catalogs instead of one. During the first year this will be especially troublesome, fairly soon, the advantage of a more efficient classification system and the new catalog will become evident.

If there are any questions or requests for further information call Kenneth J. Carpenter (extension 224).

Library Ramp Resurfacing Will Stop Slipping Problem

Resurfacing of the ramp on the east end of the University library began this week. According to Clay Carpenter, engineer chief at the University, the ramp is being ground to remedy the slipping problem.

The ramp is made of terrazzo, marble chips in a cement grout that was invented in Italy many years ago. The terrazzo was originally ground to a high polish under directions of the architect, Carpenter said. This has proved to be slippery and more so when the ramp is wet.

Last year, the ramp was coated with an epoxy-sand mixture to over come the slick surface, but this wore off with traffic.

"This time the surface is being ground to eliminate the problem and to preserve the beauty of the library," Carpenter said.

If the grinding is the answer to the problem, the rest of the terrazzo steps inside the library will be ground.

The work is being done by a firm from Dayton which is using a grinding machine of Italian manufacture for the job.

State Educational Problems Discussed In Seattle Meeting

The growing problem of cooperation and communication between state departments of education and the various school districts and universities of the state—and ways of improving this sometimes complex situation—were discussed at a recent meeting of state officials and school administrators in Seattle.

Dean Edmund J. Cain, College of Education, who represented the University of Nevada at the conference, said the meeting was primarily directed at improving the working relationship between the school districts, the state departments and state legislatures.

"The material presented at the meeting was directed towards helping all states pool the efforts of the groups concerned in meeting the needs of teacher education, and the improvement of its quality.

"The basic idea is that these groups now must work closer and closer together," Dean Cain said.

The state of Nevada was represented at the meeting by E. A. Haglund, director of the Certification and Area Administration Office, and Robert Johnson Fallon school principal and chairman of the Certification Committee of the Nevada State Education Association.

The meeting, the first of its kind held on a nationwide level, by a grant from the office of Health, Education and Welfare. It was sponsored by the Washington State Department of Education and financed

Panhellenic Council Governs Nevada's Sorority Activity

The Panhellenic Council of the University of Nevada is the governing body for the four women's Greek letter organizations on campus.

The growing need for legislation for sororities led to the formation of the National Panhellenic Conference in 1915. The word "panhellenic" means "all Greek." The stated function of the organization is "to co-ordinate sorority activities and to help achieve common goals on the national and collegiate level," according to the National Panhellenic Council.

Nevada's Panhellenic Council is self-governing, and it regulates all matters pertaining to sororities at the university.

The main purpose of the council are to 1) to foster loyalty to the University of Nevada; 2) to maintain its high ideals of student life; 3) to contribute to high scholarship; 4) to uphold desirable social standards; and 5) to guide sorority activities towards the preparation of women for good citizenship on the local, state, and national levels.

The Panhellenic Council sets up dates for rush, rules on bidding, and explains the financial information relative to sororities at Nevada.

Requirements needed for pledging a sorority at Nevada are:

1. The girl must be carrying at least 12 bona fide credit hours in school.
2. She must maintain a grade average of 2.2 or better.
3. She must have a c plus average.
4. A pledgeship shall expire at the end of one year.
5. A girl who breaks her pledge with or resigns from one fraternity for women shall not be asked to join another for one calendar year from the date the pledge was served.

Panhellenic Council President is Kappa Alpha Theta Sherry Locke. Secretary-Treasurer is Delta Delta Delta Sherryl Wiley.

Council members are: Delta Delta Delta—Dana Stafford, Roberta Watne, and Ingrid Broton. Kappa Alpha Theta—Phyllis Teipner, Jan Strosnider, and Sandy White. Pi Beta Phi—Carolyn Spitzer, Paula Brown, and Mary Ellen Drake. Gamma Phi Beta—Joan Irvin, Linda Hoover, and Carol English.

Dr. Griffin To Be Honored At Testimonial

A testimonial dinner honoring Dr. Robert S. Griffin, chairman of the Speech Department of the University of Nevada, will be held at the Reno Elk's Club on May 21.

The dinner is to be held in recognition of Dr. Griffin's achievements during 38 years of teaching at the University of Nevada.

The primary goal of the function is the establishment of a scholarship fund devoted to deserving speech students. Dr. Griffin has long sought such a fund. He stated that he is "seeking aid from every possible source in setting up a system of scholarships for deserving debaters at the University of Nevada. It has been a very painful fact throughout my long years of teaching that the University of Nevada has prizes and scholarships for every type of student on campus except debaters."

Dr. Griffin feels that the performance of Nevada debaters throughout the years "has contributed more to the favorable impression of the university than any other factor on campus. He feels it is essential to have "highly-qualified, personable people" representing the school.

Co-chairman of the testimonial committee are Cliff Young and Peter Echeverria, both former star debaters at the University of Nevada. Scholarship fund committee co-chairmen are Bert Goldwater and Emile J. Gezelin.

The dinner will begin at 7 p.m., and will include speeches and entertainment. Tickets are $7.50 per person. Further information is available at 322-8601.

Civil Service Test Scheduled

An additional testing date for this year's Federal Service Entrance has been set by the U.S. Civil Service Commission.

The last date to file applications now will be May 17 for the added examination to be held June 18.

University of Nevada students interested in taking the test should obtain Civil Service Announcement No. 369 and application forms in the Graduate Placement office, room 104 of the Clark Administration Building.

The Commission has scheduled the additional test date to assure that its supply of eligibles will be large enough to meet expected greater needs of agencies planning placements from the Federal Service Entrance Examination this year.

CSC Chairman John W. Macy, Jr., recently stated that there will be more career opportunities in government for college graduates this year than in recent years because of civilian staffing needs in support of the defense buildup and in new or expanded domestic programs.

War Correspondent Highlights SDX Regional Conference

Tom Tiede, Viet Nam war correspondent and winner of the Ernie Pyle Memorial Award for war reporting, highlighted the dinner at the SDX Regional Conference with his account of terrorist activities in Viet Nam.

The conference was held in Las Vegas over Mackay Day weekend and was sponsored by the Las Vegas Professional Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, National Professional Journalistic Society. Colleague and professional delegates from California, Utah, Nevada, Wyoming, and Arizona attended the two days of meetings and panel discussions.

The Stardust Hotel's Convention Center was divided, with the SDX conference in one half and the Nevada Republican Conven-

'Farewell Look At America' Opportunity For Study Abroad

"Farewell Look at America" is a two-part program for foreign students completing their studies in the United States. It is an opportunity to put America in perspective by seeing other parts of the country and meeting new and interesting people.

The "Farewell Look" program is open to all foreign students in the United States who arrange their transatlantic transportation through the Council on Student Travel.

A student may participate in the program through three plans: individual visit, independent travel, and organized programs.

The Individual Visit Plan arranges local hospitality committees en route to help with accommodations and arrange for a visit to a family, farm, or factory. This trip may be of any length.

The Independent Travel Plan allows the student to travel independently before sailing to Europe. And through the Organized Programs plan, tours are arranged by the American Youth Hostels and the Foreign Visitors Office of the National Catholic Welfare Conference (the Catholic Bishops' Secretariat) respectively.

Fifty dollar grants are available for students who enroll in the program.

Passage on one of the trans-Atlantic student sailings will be arranged by the Council on Student Travel. These sailings feature a shipboard program designed to evaluate the study and travel experiences in the United States.

More information about the program, is available at the Council on Student Travel, 777 United Nations Plaza, New York N. Y. 10017.

Thinclads Take Conference Title

HAYWARD—Record breaking performances by Nevada's Bill Perry, George Puce, and Houston Williamson helped the University of Nevada track team win their second straight Far Western Conference track title Saturday. Nevada amassed 153 points to take the crown and upset seven other competing colleges. Sacramento State placed second with 110 points.

Nevada's Bill Perry set a conference record in the 440-yard intermediate hurdles with a time of 52.5. This is a new event in the FWC championships. Perry's time is one of the best on the west coast this season.

George Puce hurdled the discus 178 feet, seven and one-half inches for a new conference record. Puce's best toss of the year was 186 feet against Sac State.

Another conference record fell when Houston Williamson finished first in the 220 with a time of 21.5 seconds. The old record, 21.6, was set in 1963 by Nevada's John Manke.

The only double winner of the meet was Sacramento's Henry Lawson. Lawson smashed the conference record in the broad jump with a leap of 25 feet, one-half inch. This was one of the oldest records in the FWC and had stood for 30 years. Kenyon Richard of Nevada set the old record in 1935 by leaping 24 feet, seven and three-quarter inches. Lawson also won the triple jump.

One of Nevada's big upsets happened when Otis Burrell lost the high jump. Burrell and San Francisco's Jim Brown both cleared 6-10, but Burrell had more misses at lower heights.

Athletes Of Week

Nevada hurdler Bill Perry, weightman George Puce, and sprinter Houston Williamson were named Sagebrush co-Athletes of the Week for the period ending May 8.

All three set new FWC conference records.

Baseballers Fred Dallimore, Mike Zuppan and hurdler Vic Simmons are also deserving of credit for their outstanding performances over the weekend.

'Gators Nip Pack

HAYWARD — The University of Nevada doubles tennis team lost two close sets to San Francisco State in the Far Western Conference tennis championships Saturday.

Pack netmen Ken Howard and Al Pierce lost to the SF State team 6-3 and 6-4. The San Francisco team went undefeated in the tennis finals.

SPEED KILLS . . . ESPECIALLY OLD TRACK RECORDS. Tommy Smith, San Jose St. speedster who competed against Nevada earlier in the season, blazed to a 19.5, 220-yard dash win. He clipped a full five tenths of a second off the old world track record . . . DOES NEVADA OWN THE FWC? First it was cross-country, then basketball, track over the weekend, and baseball is just around the corner. Add a CCBC boxing first to that and it looks like a banner year for the Wolves.

NEVADA is a game and a half ahead of Hayward St. in the baseball race, with only a doubleheader against San Francisco St. remaining on the schedule. Hayward split with Sac St. over the weekend . . . NEVER BEHIND, our mile relay team turned in the best time in the conference meet to win the event—but it wasn't a win. Nevada passed a baton out of a lane and was disqualified. The 3:16.9 time was the first time Nevada had been under 3:20 all season. It was also the first time this year the team had come in first.

DAVE TAYLOR took third place in the pole vault, with a 14-0 mark. On his last jump attempt, he cleared the bar by over a foot and was on his way down when a gust of wind knocked him back into the bar and out of first. . . .

OTIS BURRELL'S LOSS to Jim Brown of SF State in the high jump marks the first time Otis has ever been beaten by FWC opposition. The rangy jumper has been hampered by a cut foot.

CONGRATULATION TO THE TENNIS TEAM, who placed second in the doubles finals in the conference championship. When one thinks that the California schools have warm weather all year to practice, it makes the Nevada netters look pretty good . . . PREDICTION: Nevada will have one of the toughest football teams in the league next year, if not the toughets.

Rally Committee Plans Mascot

A Wolf Pack mascot will be "the radiator of spirit and ambassador of pep next year for all athletic events," say Rally Committee officials.

The 1966 Wolf Pack mascot will appear at all sports functions with the rest of the pep squad and will be suited in a wolf costume to lend support to the Pack.

The Rally Committee will be represented at fraternity and dorm meetings on Monday, May 16, in order to gather ideas from these groups as to policy for a mascot. Two possibilities that each living group have a representative to act as mascot at alternate events, or to choose one man to act as mascot for the entire year are being considered. A final decision will be made before the end of the year.

Other committee business last week consisted of the election of head cheerleader Lois Ann Lewis and head songleader Larae Marshall. Two new members were appointed to the Rally Committee at Large, SAE freshmen Todd Russell and Bob Shriver.

Baseball Nine In First Place After Double-Header Victory

by GARY DANIELS

The University of Nevada baseball team swept a double header from the California Aggies 4-2 and 6-5, and moved into first place in the Far Western Conference in Reno Saturday.

Fred Dallimore picked up his eighth win of the current season in the first game. Dallimore, the "winningest" pitcher in the history of the University of Nevada, survived a shaky first inning to pick up the victory. Dallimore allowed only six hits to the Aggie batsmen in the seven inning contest. Aggie pitcher Rich Smith held the Pack to six hits but four of the hits came in the fifth inning when Nevada scored its four runs.

Lornie Wagner delivered the first of his big hits on the day when he unloaded a double with the bases loaded to drive in three runs. Owen Toy, with two on, drove in the other Nevada tally.

In the second game Nevada only picked up three hits but got them at the right time and drove six runs across the plate.

Aggie pitchers were the victims of their own walks and hit batsmen. Again after the lead had exchanged hands several times during the game, Lornie Wagner came to bat with the Pack trailing 4-5 in the eighth inning. With Toy on board by virtue of a walk, Wagner lifted the ball over the right center field fence for the winning runs.

Mike Zuppan got credit for the win, relieving Carl Bossieux in the seventh inning.

The double victory brought the Pack's record to 9-1 in conference with only two games remaining on the schedule. The Nevada nine will close out the regular season with San Francisco State Gators in Reno on Saturday May 11.

Coach Bill Ireland was still waiting word at press time about the selections that were made to the NCAA Regionals over the weekend.
