University Student Drowning Victim

Two University of Nevada students were seriously injured and one killed in accidents which marred the two-week Christmas vacation.

James "Woody" Teipner drowned when he fell through the ice of a lake while duck hunting near Fallon. Teipner was hunting with ATO fraternity brother Ernie Maupin when the December 28th accident occurred.

The hip boots he was wearing pulled the 18-year-old freshman down into the water and Maupin was unable to rescue him.

The funeral was held Monday, January 2, 1967.

James William Hardesty is listed as "fair and improving" in the Holy Cross Hospital in Salt Lake City, Utah. Hardesty, who was defeated by George Keele in the recent freshman class president election, was seriously injured in an automobile collision near Ely.

Hardesty was flown by air ambulance to Salt Lake City where he was in "critical" condition for four days. He is currently under observation for internal injuries which he sustained.

Relatives report that Hardesty has bruised kidneys, a swollen spleen and internal bleeding of undetermined origin.

A freshman pledge of Lambda Chi Alpha, Hardesty is not expected to return to school soon.

Susan Robin Taylor was also seriously injured in an automobile accident in California. The freshman woman was injured while riding in a car with her mother. Miss Taylor resides in Newport Beach and her mother has informed Dean of Women Elaine Mobley that she will not be able to return to the University of Nevada.

Karen Dennison 'Very Excited' Over Nomination

Karen Dennison was "surprised" and "very excited" to learn that she has been appointed to the University of Nevada Interns Program.

The Interns Program gives students the opportunity to work in the office of Nevada Senator Howard W. Cannon in Washington, D.C.

Miss Dennison will spend approximately one semester in Cannon's office. She will receive six credits for Congressional internship and three credits for a political science course which she will take at a Washington university.

A Junior and a political science major, she was one of three students nominated by the political science department. The final decision was made by Senator Cannon.

The third university student chosen for the Interns Program, Miss Dennison is the first woman to receive the appointment.

Prior appointees were George L. Clark of Las Vegas and Stephen Weatherford of Sparks.

Students to Participate in Inauguration

Colonel's Coeds and the University Chorus will take part in Nevada Governor Paul Laxalt's inauguration ceremonies and Inaugural Ball. The ceremonies begin tomorrow at 11 a.m. at the Capital in Carson City.

The University Chorus will perform in Carson City between 11 and noon. Formal inauguration of state officials will take place and the Governor will deliver his inaugural address. The swearing-in ceremonies are expected to conclude by 1:15 p.m. after which the new officials will attend a reception and luncheon at the Governor's mansion.

Colonel's Coeds have been asked to act as official hostesses at the Inaugural Ball at 9 p.m. in the Centennial Coliseum. Their duties will consist of escorting dignitaries to their seats, operating checkrooms, handing out programs, serving refreshments, and chaperoning the children's room.

The Coeds have been granted extended hours until 3 a.m. for this special event.

On Wednesday Pat Precessi, president of Colonel's Coeds, and Judy Ralf appeared on KOLO-TV to explain the group's duties at the ball. Joan Westover and Annette Knous went to KCRL-TV yesterday for the same purpose.

All Nevadans are invited to attend the ball. In the past the Inaugural Ball has been by invitation only, but Laxalt feels that all Nevadans should be able to attend. He said, "This is a Nevada event. It is nonpartisan and no one should be excluded."

Professional decorators from Warner Bros. movie studios are decorating the Coliseum for the ball. Providing music on the main dance floor will be the Freddy Martin Band. The Gold Hill Room will be for teenagers with a rock and roll band.

The grand march for the Inaugural Ball will be at 10:30 p.m. Legislators and state elected officers will be in the three phase march.

The southern Nevada Inaugural Ball will be held Jan. 28 at the Las Vegas Convention Center.

Senate Again Sans-Quorum After Holiday

The ASUN Senate made another unsuccessful attempt to hold a meeting last Wednesday night. The meeting was lacking nine members of being a legal body.

The previous meeting, held just prior to Christmas vacation, also lacked a quorum.

Dave Russell, ASUN president, presented Gary Silverman, president of Senate, with a gavel before the gathering was dismissed. The gavel denotes Silverman's duties as presiding officer of the Senate.

Engineering Senator Tom Stephens called for a quorum, and that lacking, the meeting was dismissed.

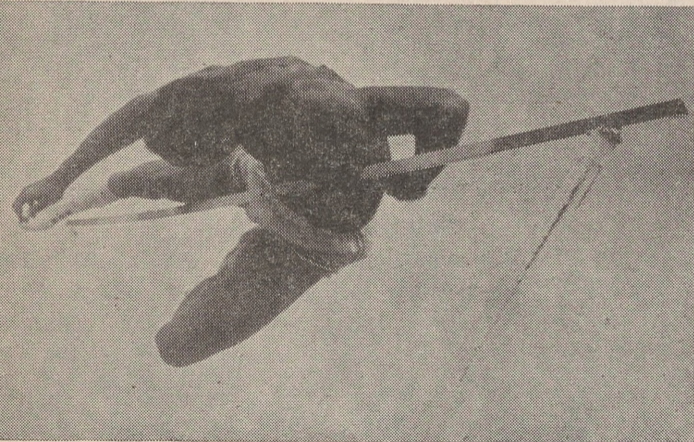

Spurs Postpone Christmas Party

Christmas Parties for underprivileged children are highlights of the season for many of the organizations on campus.

Too often, this is the only time that these children are given extra attention. Because of this, the AWS-Spurs Christmas party for underprivileged children was not given this year.

The Welfare Department expressed this idea when asked for the names of children for the party. AWS-Spurs members decided that instead of the Christmas party, a party would be given later on in the year.

Burrell to Enter Indoor Meet

HIGH JUMP ACE—Otis Burrell will compete against some of the finest talent in the nation this weekend.

Otis Burrell, all-time great high jumper for Nevada, will enter the All-American Indoor Track and Field Championships at the Cow Palace in San Francisco tomorrow.

Burrell, who has used up his eligibility at the University of Nevada, won the AAU, NCAA college and NCAA big school high jump titles last season. He also recorded the best jump in the nation last year.

Burrell will face the cream of the American high jumpers, including long-time arch rival John Rambo.

Wolf Pack Cagers Nab Lone Win from Morningside, 50-34

The Wolf Pack basketball team gained its first win of the season over the Christmas vacation, but suffered four setbacks, to place the Nevada record at 1-8. Despite the record, Nevada showed vast improvement over the holiday.

Nevada's lone win was chalked up against Morningside College of Sioux City, Iowa. The Pack started the vacation off with back to back losses to San Jose State.

Nevada then traveled to the North Central Holiday Tournament in Sioux Falls, S. D., where the Pack dropped the opener to Augustana College of Sioux Falls. The next day, the Wolves recorded their win, over Morningside, but lost the last round game to University of North Dakota.

San Jose 89, Nevada 63

The San Jose State Spartans opened up in the second half to hand Nevada its fifth straight loss, 89-63, in the North Virginia Street gym, Tuesday, Dec. 20.

San Jose used superior height to control the boards and led the entire way, although the game was nip-and-tuck in the first half. The Spartans, however, pulled to a 44-33 halftime lead.

Nevada continued to fall further behind as San Jose began hitting the basket.

Forward Joe Madigan led the Nevada attack with his finest output this season, 20 points. Bob Gilliam had 13 for the Pack.

San Jose 60, Nevada 57

Playing one of its finest games of the season, Nevada came within three seconds of defeating San Jose. Spartan Steve Schlink scored three free throws, one on a technical foul, to give the visitors the 60-57 nod.

The ball-control offense of Nevada kept the fast-breaking Spartans off balance throughout, and enabled the Pack to build a nine-point lead at one time in the second half.

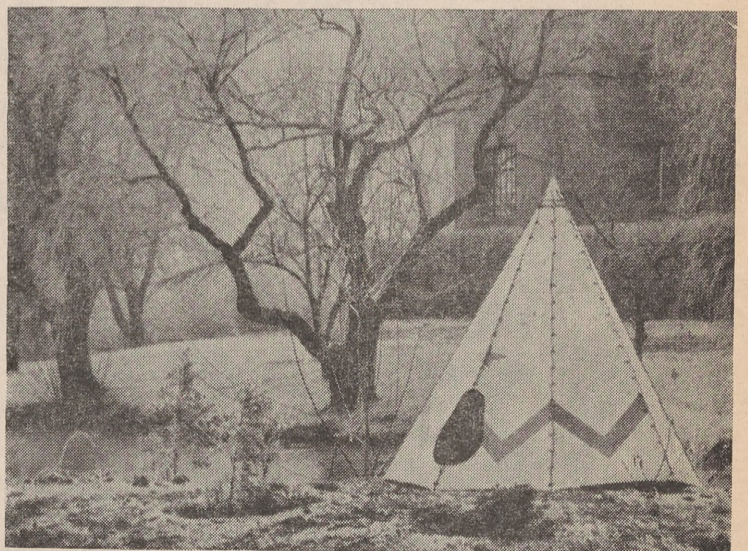

However, San Jose hit a hot streak and closed the margin. Leading the Nevada attack, and scoring the most points of his career, was center Jerry Hart with 16 markers.

Augustana 55, Nevada 42

Again the ball-control play of Nevada worked—for a while. Leading only 19-18 at the half, Augustana slowly pulled away in the second period of play. It was Nevada's seventh straight loss.

The Wolf Pack led throughout the early part of the contest. Nevada played well on the boards, gathering 40 rebounds to Augustana's 46. The Silver and Blue still continued their cold-shooting streak, however.

PRANKSTERS PLACED this filched tepee on Manzanita Island just prior to the Christmas break from classes. However, the wooden structure was constructed to be sold as a present for $59.95, according to Joyce Ball, government publications librarian. She said the tepee has still not been returned to its owner.

For Your Information

The bells rang, people kissed, horns blew and so 1966 was history. The beginning of a new year and time for some predictions.

THE HOME FRONT

—University. The UofN faces a tough group of legislators a week from next Tuesday. There are some new assemblymen seated for their first time, who, in some cases, are not familiar with the allocation of funds. The 80 per cent increase asked by the University may cause some chuckling in the cloak room. Do not look for more than a 15 per cent budget increase and please don't be dismayed if there is talk about a cut in the budget.

—FOOD. It is a good bet that there will be no more cigarette butts found in the dining commons chow. Precautions have been taken to put the food out of reach of naughty students who have "psycho-drives", which compels them to insert foreign matter into the food. By the way there will be no smoking signs posted.

—BIRTH CONTROL. Look for controls on the bird population on Manzanita Lake. The crowded conditions will warrant some immediate action, at least by spring.

—In the next year Carson College, near Carson City, will become one of the outstanding liberal arts college in the nation—would you believe in the state—how about in Ormsby County.

by George Frank

—State. Congressman Walter Baring will be in a heated race with Adam Clayton Powell in the coming year. Each will be competitively vying for the title of "absentee of the year". It was a "nip and tuck" battle last year. Powell tallied a fifty per cent record in the 90th congress.

—Ex-Governor Sawyer. It is possible that next year you will have to write to Panama to correspond with Grant Sawyer. It will be a loss to the state if the federal government takes him away. It can be predicted that he will not forget the state that he served so well.

NATIONAL

year will be a tough one for the president. Taxes. Faltering Great Society programs. The war in Vietnam. Inflation. Deflation. Intellectual attacks . . . etc. . . etc. With the growing general dissatisfaction of the people and the democratic mutiny, it is possible that the Gallup polls will be galloping down hill for the next 12 months. He was recently voted the most admired man by such a poll. He was followed by Dwight Eisenhower and Robert Kennedy. But with the war marking time and the likelihood of a tax increase, the democrats may already be looking for a new candidate for 1968.

Student Reaction

To the Editor:

Students in two sections of American History 101 were recently given the opportunity to respond to three questions concerning the latest demonstrations at the University of California. It was requested that the responses be either "approve," "disapprove," or "no opinion;" explanations were not specifically solicited, but were allowed. No discussion preceded the poll. A total of 83 students, the majority in their first or second year at the University, submitted answers. The responses ran as follows:

1. Do you approve the recent student demonstrations at the University of California? . . . Approve: 18 students, or 21.7%; disapprove: 43, or 63.9%; no opinion: 12, or 14.4%

2. Do you approve University of Nevada policy allowing Armed Forces recruitment on campus? Approve: 46 students, or 55.4%; disapprove: 53, or 63.9%; no opinion: 22, or 26.5%

3. Considering any possible future source of friction, would you approve student action at Nevada similar to that at Berkeley? Approve: 24 students, or 28.9%; disapprove: 52, or 62.7%; no opinion: 7, or 8.4%

Following the poll, a short discussion of the questions and the general topic was held. A substantial number of students admitted that they did not know what had occurred at Berkeley in the past two weeks, or at best were unclear about the nature and extent of the demonstrations. Remarks on the written responses bore this out: ". . . I have not . . . kept up with this matter;" "Do not know too much about it;" and so on. Only one mentioned mandatory ROTC as a suitable cause for student action, while one frank soul (after registering three "non opinions") stated, "could care less about Nevada."

I have attempted to draw no conclusions from the results of the poll indeed, I doubt that conclusions could be drawn. If anything, the responses reflect a basic conservatism on this campus—and I leave it to Sagebrush readers to form their own opinions on that.

Dear Editor:

I would like to comment on the article, "For Your Information," by George Frank. Mr. Frank conceived an educational system in which there would be no written examinations, but primarily the student would be evaluated on oral dissertation.

This learning situation would be acceptable if there were no shy, reserved students who would have great difficulty in oral examinations. Perhaps we should create an educational system that would allow students to choose the manner in which they prefer to be tested.

My greatest concern is that of our present grading system. Grades have become symbolic, for they are of prime importance among many students to achieve status; thus, the student does not place his prime effort in the learning process, but memorizes for a high grade average. The solution to this problem may be found if there are only two grades given out, satisfactory and unsatisfactory; therefore, requiring the student to facilitate intrinsic motivation which is to learn for the sake of learning.

Yes, Mr. Frank, "Ideas are not taught but are conceived"; however, a conceived idea must be taught in order to develop.

Dear Editor,

What was the Student Union Fee paid for? So the student could use the facilities of the Union. It seems that the building is closed when the most students want to forget studies and relax. On Saturday and Sunday evenings when a person gets hungry, the Snack Bar is closed. When a good educational program is on the TV the building is closed. If we have to pay this fee, students should be able to use the facilities to its fullest.

When do janitors work? After nearly everyone has finished using the building, not at six o'clock. Is it usually customary for this to happen?

Thank you,
Craig E. Davis

Riots on Campus

To the Editor:

In the December 13th issue of the Sagebrush were two articles, one regarding student rioting on the Berkeley campus and another stating that a student would be dismissed for attempting to cause disturbances at either the Reno or the Las Vegas campus of the University of Nevada.

Attempting to cause a disturbance seems rather vague. I wonder what measures of protest would be tolerated before the university officials and administration regarded the action as a disturbance.

The students of the university have confidence in their student body leadership and their ability to handle situations. However, further clarification needs to be given to the statement attempting to cause a disturbance. Then should the situation arise for protest, the students would be informed as to their limits, and it would be unnecessary to call in the police for outside help.

Sincerely,
Peggy Husted

Housing Office Assigns 300 Men to Nye Hall Dorm

The University Housing Office has released the names of 300 men who have been pre-assigned to reside in the new 560-capacity men's dormitory, Nye Hall.

According to Jim Crane, assistant to the housing director, the men should begin moving into the dorm Jan. 25 and should be finished by Feb. 2.

An additional 250 students from White Pine and Lincoln Halls will also move into the new facility bringing it to near-full capacity with 550 residents. The dorm is located on Virginia Street across from the New Gym.

"It should be clearly understood that these are not the only ones who may apply for residence in the new hall," Crane said. "Any regular matriculated male student may apply in the Housing office, room 104A of the Student Union. Many, other than those preassigned, have already requested Nye Hall residence."

"Preassignments were made in order that the men could make necessary arrangements with their landlords and roommates and every male under 21 would not be recalled at the last minute. All assignments were made in August and September," according to Director of Housing, Bill Adams.

Crane said all of the names are men who applied for housing in September. However, due to a housing shortage, they could not be placed in on-campus facilities.

Crane said the preassigned students will have stop cards in their packets during registration. The men are requested to check with Housing Office to make sure they are cleared for housing.

Those wishing to appeal their placement must contact the Housing Office between Jan. 16 and 20. However, few exceptions will be made, according to Crane.

FWC Favorite Sacramento State Hosts Wolf Pack Basketball Team

The Wolf Pack basketball squad will meet perhaps the toughest team in the Far Western Conference tomorrow when it meets Sacramento State in the California capital.

Nevada, which recorded its first win over the vacation, will take on the tallest team in the FWC. The Hornets have several players in the 6-8 height range.

Leading the Hornets is Mike Syas, the team's leading scorer. Although Sacramento has a spotty win-loss record, it has faced top-caliber teams in pre-conference play. In its most recent game, it was bombed by Fresno State.

The Hornets will again feature a hot-shooting attack in conjunction with its fast break.

Nevada, on the other hand, is still perfecting its ball control tactics, which have improved considerably.

The ball control style paid off against Morningside, whom the Pack defeated 50-34, in a North Central Holiday Tournament game. Earlier in the vacation, the Wolves nearly upset San Jose State before losing by a three-point margin.

Coach Jack Spencer said that the Morningside game was the best of the season. He added that Morningside compares favorably with any team in the FWC.

Spencer stated the starting lineup would probably be the same: Jerry Hart at center, Bob Gilliam and George Shoenberger, guards, and Rick Waters and Joe Madigan as forwards.

Wrestlers Open League Action Against Hayward St., Chico St.

Troubled by injured knees, separated shoulders, rust and lack of participants, the University of Nevada wrestling squad will open conference competition this weekend.

The Christmas vacation was not a kind one to the Wolf Pack wrestling team.

Butch Kennedy was lost for the remainder of the season with a shoulder separation. Heavyweight Larry Stiff reinjured his knee. 167-pounder Roy Kreizenbeck injured his knee. Another wrestler may be ineligible.

Despite this, Coach Bill Daniel is optimistic that his team will make a good showing. Nevada faces Hayward State today at 4:30 p.m. in the New Gym.

This is the first season that the Pioneers have fielded a full team. Nevada, however, is still minus two men in the smaller weights and will have to forfeit two matches.

Tomorrow night, the Wolf Pack travels to Chico to face the Wildcats, regarded as the toughest team in the conference.

Coach Daniel added the Nevada team may have another match in Chico, against Oregon Tech, several hours prior to facing the Wildcats.

Gymnastics Team To Host Stanford In Season Opener

University of Nevada gymnastic fans will get their first look at the new team tomorrow afternoon at 2 p.m., when the Wolf Pack hosts Stanford University in a dual meet. The match is set for the North Virginia Street gym.

With the season's first conference meet still in the future, Coach Thorne Tibbitts hopes to get the squad in shape against the Indians. The Wolves laid off practice during the Christmas vacation.

Coach Tibbitts said he expects a close meet against the larger school, which competes in the Pacific Eight Conference against such teams as USLA, USC, Washington and Oregon.

Eleven men are set to compete for the Nevada squad. They are: Gary Athanacio, Gary Ferris, John Hancock, Perry Hayden, John Howell, Al Lansdon, Tim Martin, John Plane, Bill Robison, Joe Rooney and Al Terkildsen.

The seven-event meet features competition in floor exercises, the side horse, trampoline, horizontal bars, parallel bars, long horse and the still rings.

There is no admission charge.

Nevada Hosts Navy Boxers In Season's Punch Preview

By Mike Parman

The usually powerful University of Nevada boxing team will get a chance to show this year's might in the New Gym tomorrow night at 8 p.m. against the 12th Naval District.

The Wolves, defending California Collegiate Boxing Conference champions, have another talent-packed varsity squad. Almost the whole team is back from last year. The start of second semester will find several new faces in the squad not eligible for competition this season.

Heading the list of retiring lettermen is 156-pounder Mike Schellin, who was undefeated last season and named the CCBS tournament's outstanding boxer.

Tony Scheuller, the 165-pound entry, is also a CCBS champ. The red-headed bomber was also undefeated last season.

Riley Beckett, 172 pounds, is also a strong entry. He was nosed out in the final round of last season's conference tournament after going undefeated during the regular season.

A host of heavyweights are competing for the starting post. Veterans Gary Silverman and Mike Smithwick may have the edge for the top spot. But four newcomers—Phil Kukuruzza, Ron Olson, Jay Nady and Jim Wilson—are rated as good prospects and stand an excellent chance of seeing action.

The 180-pound division is also talent-laden. Roy Hansen, a two-year veteran, will be back. John Burrows is also hoping to make his Nevada boxing debut this season.

Second semester will see Jeff Olivias, son of Coach Jimmie Olivias, eligible for action. Although he has yet to compete in college, the hard-hitting 180-pounder could make an excellent bid for conference honors this season.

The 172-pound category is also filled with team hopefuls. Included in the list behind are Harold Hall, Harold Hansen, Tom Myatt and Phil Sanders.

Len Davis, Steve Bishop, John Silver and Joe Handy make up the list of 165-pound entries behind Scheuller.

After Schellin in the 156-pound class are Dennis Martin, Willard Edison, and Mike Slagle.

147-pounders are Joe Pedrojetti, Monte Watson, veteran Bob Diullo and another veteran, Gary Parsons.

Five newcomers are hoping to crack the 139-pound entry opening. Dennis Humphreys, Guy Broyles, Mike Campana, Bob Hussey and Sherrell McClanahan are included.

Gus Nunez, Perry Hayden, and Dave McNulty are candidates for the 139-pound division.

In the smallest division, Bud Kimani, Sam Sara and Ben Anderson are hoping for top spot amongst the 126-pounders.

Another face that may return is that of Larry Williamson's, a two-time CCBC champ who is due to finish his tour of the Navy. Williamson, who ran up a long streak of knockouts among the little men, may wait until next season to return to competition.

In cooperation with the Nevada Department of Education, the College of Education at the University of Nevada is conducting a program to train industrial and vocational teachers. Ivan Lee is the newest instructor to be named to this program.

... Nevada Netters Take First Win

George Schoenberger and Jerry Hart shared Pack scoring honors with 10 apiece.

Nevada 50, Morningside 34

Using an aggressive defense and playing excellent ball-control, the Wolves defeated Morningside, 50 - 34, for the Reno squad's first win of the season. Coach Jack Spencer termed the game the best Nevada has played this year.

For the first time, Nevada out-rebounded its foe, 42-35.

Amazingly enough, the Wolves took only 12 shots from the floor during the entire second half.

Shoenberger and Rick Waters were high men for Nevada, netting 13 apiece. Gilliam grabbed 11.

North Dakota 69, Nevada 46

Nevada faced one of the best small college teams in the country—North Dakota—and were defeated, 69-46. Rated number 12 in the nation at the time of the game, the Dakotans could not break away from Nevada until late in the first half, but held a 27-17 lead at the end of the first period.

The most spectacular moment of the night was Joe Madigan's 80-foot field goal seconds before the half ended. It was his only basket of the night.

Nevada again looked good on the boards, although the taller North Dakota squad outrebounded the Pack, 48-37. George Shoenberger again paced Nevada scoring, with 18 points, while North Dakota's 6-8, Little All-American forward, Phil Jackson, also netted 18.

Nevada's down-state rival, Nevada Southern, has compiled an 8-1 record so far this season.

The Rebels, led by fantastic-shooting Elburt Miller, have posted wins over Fresno State (114-69 conquerors of Sacramento State), Idaho State, Wyoming, UC Irvine, Northern Arizona (winners over Arizona), Adams State, Westminster Utah, and Southern Utah.

Miller is one of the top scorers in the country, with slightly better than a 32-point per game average. In his two most recent games, he scored 40 points against Idaho State and 41 against Fresno State.

The only loss handed the Southerners was a 109-89 defeat by Idaho State. The Rebels reversed the defeat, 98-79, in a later game.

NSU hosted Creighton University last night in the Las Vegas Convention Center.

University Archives Hold Nevada's Past

Need to know something about Virginia City's past? Is there a question about a building on the University campus? The Special Collections Department of the University of Nevada Library is where to find this and other hidden facts about Nevada's past.

Special Collections, sometimes called the Archives, is on the top floor of the library.

Election of Officers Planned by Greeks

Elections of fraternity and sorority officers will begin Monday, Jan. 9, at five of the houses.

The Phi Sigma Kappa, Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Lambda Chi Alpha and Sigma Nu fraternities and the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority will elect officers Monday evening.

January 16 is the date for the Alpha Tau Omega elections, and the three remaining sororities, Delta Delta Delta, Gamma Phi Beta and Pi Beta Phi, along with the Theta Chi fraternity house, will choose new officers.

Other activities have been cancelled by all ten living groups until after final examinations, according to respective house representatives.
