A. of N. Sagebrush

THE STUDENT NEWSPAPER OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA

VOLUME 46, NUMBER 19

HOMECOMING REVISITED - SECTION I

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1969

homecoming 1969

1969

What you're about to see is the way it was. Nothing has been added, nothing changed. We've selected the best, or worst, from the past.

On the next page, you'll come across a wide variety of editorial opinion so you can see where everybody's head was at years ago, and not so many years ago. There's a lead editorial which ran in the 'Brush in 1959, when Warren Lerude was editor. He's now editor of the Reno Evening Gazette. Maybe we're wrong, but we've detected a subtle change in outlook over the years...

Following that, you'll be treated to some hot new items, including some thrilling accounts of midnight joy rides, panty raids, and chickensnatching, along with the original List of Student Demands -- the rundown on ancient traditions (don't climb those stairs, Frosh!).

If you go even further, into the second section, you'll be confronted immediately with a cover aerial shot of the campus in 1940. If you look closely (the reproduction is not too bad for a 25-year old photo, but you know. . .) you can see the old cemetery where Nye Hall now rests.

On page 3 of that section are two columns written by former Sagebrush greats: the late Jerry Wetzel and more recent grad Dick Tracy.

Words can't really describe what's on page 4, but read it anyway. The "Dear Rooters" column is reprinted from 1919; it's a classy bit of camp from a distant era. You might want to look at the movie ads on the same page. The programs have changed by now though, so don't go downtown expecting to see Doug Fairbanks, Lon Chaney, and Rudy Valentino.

On page 7, you'll want to pay close attention to the cigarette ad, which we aren't getting paid to run. We just couldn't pass it up. You'll recognize the future governor of California, puffing on a Chesterfield, and swearing he digs it, back in 1948.

On the last page of that section, you'll come across some pictures of former publications heads. One is Frank McCulloch, a journalism department grad here who went on to fame with Time-Life Inc.

Normal news coverage will resume on Tues-sagebrush's duty

Warren Lerude, editor 1959

In recent weeks several narrow-minded and ill-thinking senators as well as some bigtalking, but courage-lacking, would-be jour-nalists have strongly criticized the present editorial policy of this newspaper. The criticism, usually reduced to petty name-calling, has been aroused because of the controversial student court. This newspaper has campaigned against the ridiculous court, and the freak judicial system will go before the students for their judgment next Wednesday.

The election climaxes a strong editorial campaign, which was designed to better the University of Nevada. The Sagebrush has time and again criticized the court because of its inadequacies. This criticism has spurred senators to revise the court constitution. It has spurred usually passive students to take interest in how their student government operates. And, it has spurred the legislative group to arrange a special election which may see the university rid of an unfair judicial system. It is the duty of the Sagebrush to point out poor conditions when they appear on campus. Through the semester this has been done. Because certain optimistic people insist upon looking out over the campus through rose-colored glasses, the Sagebrush has been accused of attempting to "destroy everything."

The senators forget that had the Sagebrush not waged its editorial war on the court, it would have continued along on its ridiculous path. At the present two of the five judges, all members of the court constitution drafting committee, and a great many students feel that the court is not good in its present state. Because of this, the inadequate constitution has been revised.

The revisions were called for when the Senate recently acted on a petition calling for "resubmission of the proposition originally establishing the student court for a one-year trial basis." The Senate has evaded the petition. An option-ballot, with the added question of whether the court should be accepted with revisions will be presented to the students. The petition specifically asked for the original question. It was signed by 665 students. The Senate overrrode the petitioning students by adding the option. The revisions, however, add up to little more than nothing. The one major revision is opening the court to the public if a defendant wishes the public to sit in on the session. Nothing has been done about restricting cases to campus violations. The court can still sit over violations of the law, which occur while the student is off-campus. The court's cases are still dictated by Sam Basta, dean of student affairs. There are still no formal charges necessary before a student is ordered before the court. The one blanket charge, "conduct unbecoming a student," still covers any violation, whether the erring student has been before the downtown courts or not.

Because the Sagebrush has brought these facts into the open, several narrow-minded Senators boldly stand before the student legislature and accuse the Sagebrush of being "biased," of not being "middle of the road." This drivel, while unintentional, serves this newspaper as a compliment. The Sagebrush certainly is biased-biased for the welfare of the university community. Any newspaper that is middle-of-the-road is not worthy of being read.

those rooters

Why haven't the rooters been holding their own? Why haven't they been putting their hearts into the business? If the team flivvered on the job, the bleachers would go wild with "boos" and hisses. The gang doesn't stop to realize that rooting is a duty, that cheering is half the game.

It will be down right rotten if the whole bunch turns into a lot of quitters, if they go broke before the men and women who wrote the yells and songs.

As a sacred privilege Nevadans should open up their souls, turn themselves whole-heartedly into real cheering. Let us hope that today, of all days, the Student Body will "get mad" and show fight.

that trip to carson

There are a list of names on the bulletin board in Morrill Hall, and it's growing every day. That list of names contains those who have signed up for the Carson trip, and that Carson trip is going to be the best fun that the student body has had in a long, long time.

A week from next Friday morning we'll leave Reno on a special train. An hour later about 150 students will capture that city of Carson. Down through the town we'll go, band playing, colors flying, girls laughing. We'll visit the legislature and, say, we are liable to hear the solons at their best on Friday, the 14th of March. After that we can visit the prison, the Orphan's Home, the Indian School--there will be enough to do.

Has it been mentioned that the Glee Club is going along? It is! The Glee Club is that rutus

With the departure of Rufus Ogilvie for American Lake Wednesday Nevada will lose a valuable man. Rufus has served his college well and gladly whenever the opportunity arose, and was to be this year's student body president when he decided to join the colors. "Ruf" was one of those along with Gilbert Bailey who volunteered to fill the draft quota from Washoe county, and he will leave his duties here and take up the harder duties of fighting for Uncle Sam Wednesday. With sincere regret, we bid him Godspeed and wish him the success in war that he has made in student body going to give a concert in the opera house and after the concert there is going to be a dance and, according to the plans, the U. of N. cadet band is going to play for the dance. Do you get me, Stephen?

The dance will conclude U. of N. day at Carson. We'll board our special train and we'll speed back to Reno, and in that pretty little capital city we'll leave behind the impression that the University of Nevada has the jolliest, liveliest, and most sensible bunch of girls and fellows of any college they know of. And-they will be right--'cause we are!

grades

About this time of the year we make resolutions and sometimes make an honest attempt to keep them. One resolution might be adopted unanimously and that is a resolve to better the records in scholarships made last semester. Next semester is the time for some concentrated effort on the work that we are here for.

There is a pertinent little verse that is worth quoting on the subject:

When my semester grades come in, With Cs and Ds galore, When I think of the grades I might have had, Darn it, it makes me sore.

Get sore and do better next time.

faculty vs. students

Upon the campus, in the classroom, and in every movement on the Hill, there is a general feeling of indifference towards the other element. The uncertainty of war times has given each man a sort of "each man for himself" attitude when we should all be pulling together.

The students, particularly the men students, are attempting to finish the prescribed courses while one ear is listening for the call to the colors and the other is automatically paying heed to the duty nearest at hand. They are trying to go ahead with all the student activities that mean so much to them and receive very little encouragement from the Faculty. Small classes make the course uninteresting to many and it is an effort to think of anything besides war.

The Faculty have their troubles also and the students do not appreciate what they are. It is hard to lecture to a bare handful of listeners when they are not paying the slightest attention to what you are saying. Their minds are also on the war and its problems and it is as monotonous to them as it is to the students, to have to say cut and dried things when so many big things are happening all around us.

Students and Faculty must get together and understand each others needs and help one another. More Faculty members should be at the games and take part in student activities. Students should attend class regularly and make some kind of an effort to keep up the work and old standard of scholarship.

The sentiment for greater understanding between the two forces on the hill is growing and each one in his own way can help.

THE SAGEBRUSH

Office in basement of Old Journalism building, campus. Published by ASUN. Phone 329-0249. P. O. Box 8037.

This Homecoming experience has been brought to you by

TOM WIXON, Editor SHEILA CAUDLE, Assistant Editor MIKE CUNO, Business Manager

The Grads came home last night. Came with memories of four brand, new, red brick buildings, a vineless Manzanita, a Lincoln Hall set in a mud bod, or maybe the old "Ram pacture."

Perhaps they remember when ex-President Taft addressed the student body, or the dedication of the Mines building and the eloquent words of Clarence Mackay, the odd manner in which he twirled his moustache as he presented the numerous gifts which were later to become a major part of the University.

They can still see the completing touches put to the Education building, the addition to the Gym, the reading of the famous telegram from Mackay which promised the new Physics and Chemistry building--yet to come.

the grads came home last night

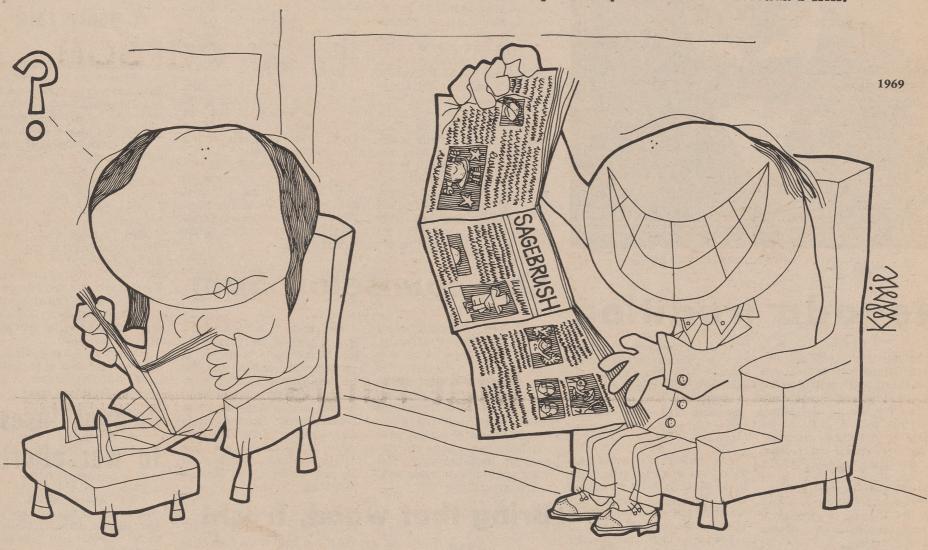

1925

Some of these graduates remember the 45 students who knew each other's geneology from start to finish. Some remember the two hundred Campus folk and their first names, three five and on up to seven hundred--and the pleasant "hello" that made the Campus famous.

It is due to that one word Nevada has become the narvel of other institutions, and Nevadans will never lose sight of that fact.

If some short-skirted, tousled haired, be-rouged flapper-coed or some young fellow with too much trousers, a shining topknot and a grin yelled "hello" to you yesterday or today, you shouldn't have been frightened.

They too have the feeling under the costuem; they too are true Nevadans. The old place is just the same--Nevada's Hill.

1922

The meanest man on earth is the college scribe. His is the life of curses, hard luck, low marks and no sleep. His enemies crucify him on the cross of ridicule and his friends usually stop speaking to him after the first issue. The profs delight in making him the horrible example of laziness and shiftlessness, and depicting his head as a massive citadel of intellect from which all the intellect has has long since fled.

If this humble drudge is three minutes late for class the profs register deep hatred and probably favor the demoralized scribe with a flash or two of scintillating sarcasm. Not the campus scribe

even the most thoughtful realize that while they were sleeping this gally-slave was sweating and swearing over a typewriter in the last stages of decay.

When the goodfolks and students retire to their nightly sessions and dreams, the despised college scribe, who is the lowest member condemned to journalism, just begins his nightly grind. He defies the laws of science and nature; energy can neither be created nor destroyed, but the scribe makes news out of nothing. For hours he sweats over some joke only to be repaid by the kindly remark of some reader, "I read that in our high school annual."

And yet we can not get away from the college scribe. Like death and taxes it is impossible to go through life without reviling him more or less. His is the lowest form of humor. His criticisms are of the most degenerate sort and his entire life is consecrated to the task of exposing to the public the immoralities of the coeds. So they say-those who read the sheet that is the result of his efforts.

He has one consolation, however, and that is every curse means a new wing feather when he ascends to the Heavenly paradise. Instead of the usual harp he will be given a golden typewriter with jeweled keys, and whenever he hits one of them a gally of critic proof type will be turned out. Each time the back spacer is touched a package of cigarettes and a meal ticket will drop thru.

To even the earthly score those who laughed at his efforts will be condemned to spend their time while in St. Peter's domains copyreading articles handed in by angels who are journalistically inclined.

That the college scribe will reach this Blessed Land there is not the slightest doubt, for his is akin to the man who drives a Ford-he certainly has had his hell on earth. And good St. Pete will recognized him when he passes through the pearly gates, for he will still be cursing over the typographical errors of the last issue.

The last division was by far the largest and most varied of all.

It consisted of Campus Players,

the Sundowners, the Cosmopolitan club, the Stray Greeks, DAE Blue Key, the W.A.A. Commerce

Club, the Y.W.C.A., the Pre-

Med Club, the Hospital, and the was represented by a float in the parade this year. Lamonte

Brown was Chief Marshal for the day and had the assistance of all students in the advanced depart-

A panty raid

Every campus organization

Publications Board.

ments of Military.

PRESIDENT WALTER E. CLARK

1918

Nevada tradi

For the benefit of the new students, Nevada's traditions are given below. These traditions are not to be read and ignored, but are to be lived up to the letter.

We can not yet boast of the traditions of student government in matters of honor and cheating, as many other colleges do, but we can claim the tradition of supporting that movement.

We stand for all that is honorable in matters of cheating in examinations and hope always to continue that way.

We feel that we are men and women and need no supervision from our instructors. We sincerely hope that the time will soon come when we can establish the system in our University.

A committee five, the president of the Associated Students, acting as chairmen, together with four other active students, upperclassmen, shall be known as the upperclass committee. It is the duty of this committee to settle all disputes occuring between unduly students and shall act as

Tradition dictates certain articles of clothing for the various classes. Only Seniors wear the sombrero; only upper classmen wear corduroy trousers. Freshmen are obliged to wear the "dink" during their first semes-

Everybody is expected to learn the college songs and yells, "The U. of N. So Gay" is the college hymn. Whenever it is sungeveryone rises and gentlemen are required to remove their hats.

Tradition has chosen some sacred places. Only Seniors are allowed to sit on the cement bench in front of the Library. Even Juniors are denied that honor. We take pride in the beautiful quadrangle and lawns about the buildings. To keep them thus, no persons, not even Seniors, walk upon them except when drilling. The back steps of Morrill Hall are for Freshmen, the front steps for the upper classes.

Men do not smoke on the campus between sunrise and sunset. This includes the road to the north side of the Chemistry building.

Homecoming--everybody in act

1929
Displaying one of the most colorful spectacles ever to appear on Homecoming Day, the parade this morning slowly proceeded from its starting place at Ninth Street and gradually grew larger by addition of the different floats from their respective assembly points until it assumed the length of several blocks on Virginia.

Starts At Ninth Street

The long line of cleverly decorated trucks and cars of sororities, fraternities, and engineers, aggies and Campus organizations, started at Ninth Street, headed south down Virginia Street, crossed Mill to Center, went north on Center to Second and across to Sierra, where it continued up to the University. The floats were judged all along the route by a secret committee of three down town people, each unknown to the other. Judging was on the basis of significance to Homecoming, appearance and originality. The cup, which will be awarded tomorrow night to the best fraternity float, was donated by President Clark, and the Homecoming Day committee is giving two cups one to the best sorority float and one to the best organization float. Led By Clark, Balzar

The parade was started at 10 o'clock and was lead by President Clark and Governor F. B. Balzar, as distinguished guests. Following the guest car were the University band and the three companies of the University

Both the Nevada and California football teams rode in the second division, and were followed by the car containing the A.S.U.N. of-

The third and fourth divisions of the parade were made up exclusively of the various Campus sororities and fraternity floats. There were sixteen floats ranging from humor to derision, and were of every description from the beautiful to the bizarre.

The composition of the fifth division was typically Aggie, with the Home Economics Club, the Farm Bureau and the Aggie Club floats. Animals and farm produce were well represented.

Engineers represented

All engineering organizations were included in the sixth division, which consisted of the Electrical, Civil, Mechanical, Engineers, the Chemistry Club and the Crucible Club.

Mr. Basta is a University of Nevada graduate and is now working on his doctor's degree in guidance and counseling from the University of Southern California. For the past five years he was employed by the State

Department of Education as State

Superintendent of guidance Service. In this capacity he helped develope guidance programs in high schools throughout the state

1955 The women of Artemisia hall had visitors in their rooms at about three o'clock in the moning last Thursday. But there were no invitations issued to these guests nor did they leave empty handed. Newspapers recently have published accounts of the many panty raids staged at colleges and universities throughout the United States. Several men last week localized the situation.

About ten men, clad in khaki clothes, entered with bonnets styled somewhat after the Ku Klux Klan models entered the women's dorm via a third floor fire escape. Working in crews, they managed to steal the lingerie available on both second and third floors, and to escape without revealing their iden-

Although thestolen goods have been returned Dean of Student Affairs William Carlsen is still seeking the raiders.

war effort

1943

Many Men scheduled to return to school this fall are now marching or cracking skulls in some isolated shell hole in no man's land.

Many activities that were enjoyed in former years are eliminated - eliminated because of the war and no other reasons. We used to have a Homecoming celebration worth getting drunk for, but this year the bars will be empty of their usual throng of grads and students. Only those few old-timers remaining will carry on traditions.

The "N" won't be white this

Yes, the campus has lost to the war effort.

Our counselor, Sam

Sam Basta, the student counselor at the University of Nevada, is the first person to serve in this capacity on campus. The new office was created for the purpose of helping students set up their programs for training toward their individual goals.

On the basis of various tests and facts known about the student, Mr. Basta helps many students make up their minds about future careers.

of Nevada. Bring that wood, frosh!

"Each freshman student must bring five wooden boxes to the bonfire by the end of this week" . . . or ELSE! Where, oh where, to get five boxes. . . I wonder if match boxes would count?

From grocery store to butcher shop to warehouse. . . with the timid query . . . "have you any wooden boxes you could give me?" .. Staggering under the load... Now to get a car. . . or a truck . . . or a trailer . . . We never realized before how few friends we had. . . trying to look casual . . . probably dropping them

RIGHT in front of the Libe steps . . . What do they think we are, anyway? . . . FRESHMAN?. . . oh. . . If anyone asks to see my bible at a time like this I'll RESIGN from the University. . . There's that cute boy over there . . if he sees me I'll just die. . . If I wasn't a lady I'd swear. .. or would I?

I don't see why they need them anyway. . . there's THOUSANDS of them already. . . Well, I've done my duty. . . and what for? All that working and slaving... just so they can burn the darn things UP!

College Executive Policyholder

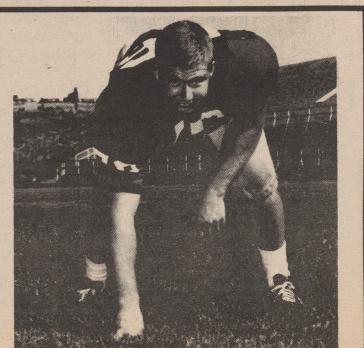

OF THE WEEK

Terry Hermeling is a Physical Education major from Santa Maria, California. He is an offensive tackle on the Wolf Pack eleven who plans on a career as a pro football player. Terry and his wife Chris are expecting their first child in January.

> Minnesota National Life Insurance Co.

> > MEMBER OF THE HARTFORD GROUP SALES REPRESENTATIVES

Tom Gilb Ken Hughes Dennis Williams Marsh Forrester

Frosh will wear dinks by Monday

Punishment imminent for those not complying 1920

Monday, September 13th will be the final date on which all freshmen must have gotten their "dinks" and have gotten them firmly ensconced on their noble

The Frosh "dink" is one of the oldest customs of the University of Nevada and must be worn by all freshmen, at all times while on the campus during their first semester at the University. The Campus is considered as being all of the university grounds north of Ninth Street and east of Virginia Street, and during the daylight hours, any freshman appearing on the Campus must wear his traditional "dink". Any infraction of this tradition will be met by howls of glee from the rest of the student body and the penalty will be administered in a most fitting measure. This penalty, when given is always a source of unending joy to all but the Frosh and consists in the victim being carefully but forcibly deposited in the frigid waters of the Orr Ditch or the Campus Lake.

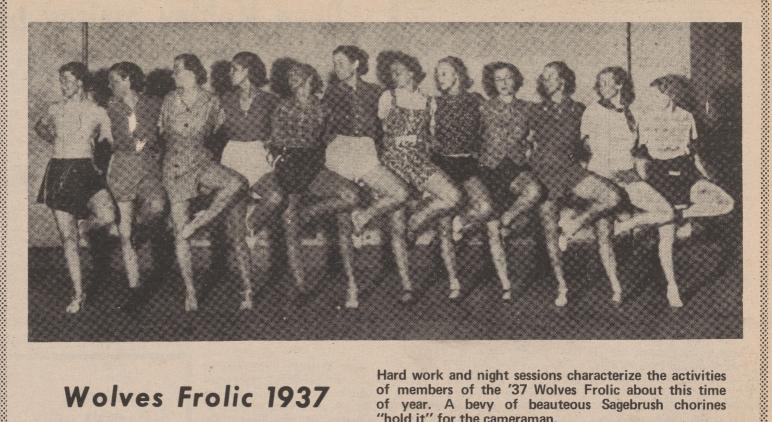

Organization to promote pep

1925

A new organization has just been formed on the Campus among the women to promote pep Similar in and co-operation. many ways to the Whelps, the women's organization will be known as the Sagens and will be distinguished by silver and blue

There are nine charter members composed of the women active in student activities. They are E. Mitchell, F. Hunley, L. Pasquali, H. Adamson, Z. Reed, M. Bernhart, D. Anderson, F. Humphrey, and B. Johnson.

Women may work out for the new organization and many tryees are expected.

Wolves Frolic 1937

Hard work and night sessions characterize the activities of members of the '37 Wolves Frolic about this time of year. A bevy of beauteous Sagebrush chorines "hold it" for the cameraman.

What's wrong with the student body?

On next Friday morning at eleven o'clock the first meeting of the A.S.U.N. for this semester is going to be held in the gym. In order that the deplorable lack of interest in student body affairs which was evidenced during the last semester shall not be evidenced again this year, The Sagebrush has taken pains to get the views of a few of the more prominent students, representatives of both men and women, to express opinions as to the cause of this lack of interest and to suggest remedies for the lifeless condition of student affairs.

In a list of the students now on the hill the name of Ray Mackay stands out prominently. Mackay although injured during a large part of the period, successfully captained last year's football team through one of the most trying seasons Nevada's team has ever had to face. Last fall, when we brought the Waratahs to Reno, it was Mackay who arranged for their entertainment. He is the president of the Agricultural Club and of the Block N Society, and, at student body meeting, it is always Mackay who has the big propositions to suggest and boost.

Mackay was approached the other evening with the question. "What is the matter with student body." "Student body!" he exploded in his characteristic manner. "The fellows up there haven't enough manhood to make good members of a college. They lack life, they seem to have no ambition except to knock -- it's discouraging to try to do anything for them. Of course, there are a bunch of mighty good fellows, but the parasites drag the good ones down. I don't know just how to remedy the situation, but it seems to me, that if you would do away with class distinction, mix classes and girls and fellows in a semicircle around the chair and let everybody have his say, it would give the fellows with some life a better chance to fight. You can't go after them too strong to suit me."

Fred Henriques, a member of the Class of '15, who came to the University a year and a half ago brimming over with "pep" from U.N.H.S., was the next man to happen into Sagebrush headquarters. "Fred, what is the matter with the student body?"

"It's dead," was Fred's quick rejoinder. "What we need at Nevada is a great big husky leader with a personality -- a fellow that will whip all knockers into line. It makes a fellow almost sick to see so little interest displayed. Count me in on anything that will bring the bunch together. Call on each one and make him say something."

Karl Milentz (Doc), Mayor of Lincoln Hall was the next man consulted. Doc was busy playing solo but he had time to answer any questions which had at heart the betterment of the student body life. As he pulled steadily at his 'Jimmie' pipe and played his trumps in vain, Doc gave the following as his suggestions. "The whole membership should be grouped in a bunch, where everybody can hear and be heard. There should be lots of yelling and perhaps a few songs. Speeches by coaches have been found effective as enliveners in other institutions. Resort to ditching if other methods of coaxing attendance fail."

Dancing dervishes abound

1933

Dancing dervishes in multicolored pajamas will cavort on the Nevada campus tonight at 7:30 in the third football rally of the

The rally is being sponsored by the University of nevada rally committee under the direction of Paul Fontana to arouse spirit for the Nevada Olympic Club game to be played on Mackay Field tomor-

The students will meet at Manzanita hall directly after the address is given by the coaching staff over radio station KOH.

No cars will be allowed in the rally after it reaches Fifth and Virginia Streets. There the cars will be parked, and on foot the pajama paraders will get in formation and the rally will continue through town.

At each intersection the band will play and yells will be given. The addresses will be given by Coach "Brick" Mitchell, Dean R.C. Thompson, and Coach "Mike" Voyne of the Olympic Ed Reid, captain of the football team of 1922, will be the visiting speaker.

College war strike

Declaring that a situation ominously similar to that of 1914 exists today, five student associations joined in broadcasting a nationwide appeal to high school and university students to walk out of their classrooms at 11 a.m. April and strike supporters estimated 100,000 would answer their call.

Last year 25,000 students in high schools and colleges throughout the United States walked out of their class rooms.

The decision of the United States Supreme Court upholding compulin protest of governmental sory drill, Hearst newspaper policies that strike leaders term campaigns against radical profes-"imperialism" and "fascism." sors and students, and student loy-Collegians in Canada and South alty bills introduced in several America were asked to joinp state legislatures, were named as American students in the strike, incentives to this year's strike.

"Schools, not Battleships." "Strike against Imperialist War."

"Our Lives are at Stake."

These are slogans employed by the national strike council in its drive against military traiging and in support of liberal professors.

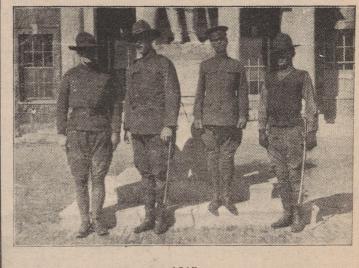

Friday, April 12, was set as the date of the strike since the United States entered the World War on that date 18 years ago, sponsors of the movement said.

The "call", issued by the national strike committee in New York City, read in part:

"We call upon the sudents of the United States in high schools, in preparatory schools, in colleges and universities to leave their classrooms on Friday, April 12th, at 11 a.m., 18 years after our entrance into the World War, in solemn protest against the blackpall of war that today encircles the world."

Further grievances of the strike agitators included the $4,000,000 appropriation for the R.O.T.C.

MILITARY DEPARTMENT

1917

Dining Commons Sponsored by BSU

Music by the R.T.'s Admission $1.00

- SEX -

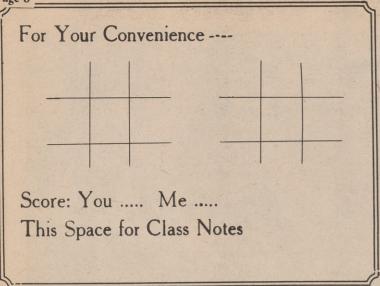

Now that

Attend a dance

SATURDAY NOVEMBER 22

I've captured your attention

CROS SYMMETS WITH

'Dirty Bitts'

at 9:45 tonight.

next semester.

their train is scheduled to depart

Several former U of N students now in the armed forces have returned to help us celebrate homecoming. Among them are

Dave Buttler, Sigma Nu, and better known as Johnny the Cop.

He will re-enroll in the university

Home to stay is Johnny Mecus,

The San Francisco State trek

last weekend was tamer than most - students returned with only one casualty. The football team came through with not even

"Bing" Bangent, SAE.

with a minor scratch.

1954 By Sandra Mitts

Back to the campus, back to the sororities, and for a few days, back to the highlight of college life.

The students of the university have gone all out to welcome home the old grads, and to make their annual stay here revive old memories of the past.

As usual, "Things aren't like they used to be." "Remember when" "Remember old Harry" and similar comments will be heard.

Well, things aren't like they used to be. The parties are bigger and finer, and greater in number; the enrollment is bigger; new groups have organized; and we haven't got the big-time football team we used to have.

But one thing is for sure. The homecoming spirit is the same, and the sincere welcoming home of old friends.

Sacramento rooters arrived in Reno via a rooters' train at 6 a.m. this morning to join in the 1954 homecoming celebration. The State rooters will be here only for the game, however, as

'Ghosts' on tap

1933

With the final cast chosen, active rehearsals for the play "Ghosts" which is to be presented by Campus Players December 5, 6, 7 began this week. Grace Semenza in the role of Mrs. Alving, and Reed St. Clair as her son Oswald are the principal characters.

Of the forty tryees, Donald Butler, Jean McIntyre, and Walter Christian have been selected to fill the three remaining as Pastor Manders, Riga Engstrand, and Jacob Engstrand. All will be remembered for their work in the university production last summer of Shakespeare's "As You Like It".

While they have not appeared before in campus presentations, the principals were prominent in high school dramatics; Miss Semenza playing a leading role in the senior play "Once There Was a Princess" at Reno High, and St. Clair representing Elko in the forensic tournaments sponsored by Nevada.

Blythe Bulmer, prominent member of Mask and Dagger, honorary dramatics organization, will act as student director, while Ernest Mack will be in charge of the stage management.

Where alums live

1929

In the United States, 398 alumni live in California, 194 live in other states and 353 in Nevada; 220 graduated are living in Reno, according to the last alumni directory.

Dean Mobley praised by Downers

1955

Theresa Naveran, representing Delta Delta Delta reigned as "Bourban Queen" of the Sundowner's Levi formal February 24 at Moana.

The dark haired senior was crowned with a wreath of Bourbon roses and ruled from a black and gold Sundowner throne.

Miss Elaine Mobley, dean of women, was named "honorary Sundowner" for her efforts in helping the Sundowner organization stage the dance. Reno policeman Louis Spitz, a former Sundowner, made the announcement after the crowning ceremony.

Royalty rides

1958

Lynn Peterson, chairman of half-time activities for the home-coming game, tomorrow, has planned an unusual means of transportation for the queen candidates.

The ladies vying for the homecoming royalty will be driven around the football field in shiny, new sports cars, prior to the crowning of the queen.

Several husky members of the student body will lift the girls from the sports cars and escort them to Governor Russell for the cornnation.

"Pour le sport."

WELCOME BACK ALUMNI!

Best wishes during Homecoming

R. Herz& Bro. Inc.

Spitz lauded Mobley for her unceasing efforts in securing a place on the university calendar for the service organization. The levi formal marked the first time in over two years that the group has been listed on the official calendar of social events.

"I like to think of the Sundowners as the future dignitaries of America", said Spitz, who gave a brief history of the organization since it was founded.

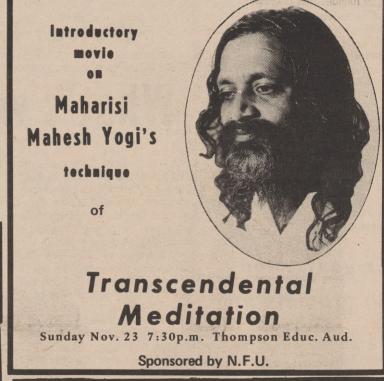

'Jazz' party set Friday

1919

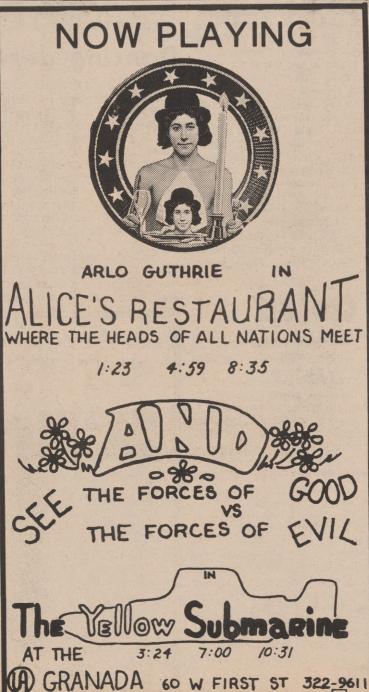

Yell leader Griffith has his plans all set for a regular old time "jazz" party Friday noon, when he will lead the university rooters and the football backers through the streets of Reno in an attempt to stir up the necessary enthusiasm and spirit for Saturday's game, among the townspeonle.

The party will take on the nature of a "pajama" parade and will start from Morrill Hall at 11:15 a.m. Friday. All men should bring "P.J.'s" or similar garb, and the women — use their own discretion. Lunch will not be served at the Dining Hall until 12:30 so every one will be expected to be on hand with all the old pep, and jazz they have. Let's go, Nevada.

COLOR by DeLuxe United Artists

Enrollment tops 2000

More than 2,100 fully-matriculated students are now on the University of Nevada campus, said Dean William R. Wood, academic vice president. He was commenting on the latest figures released from the registrar's office.

The exact figure, 2,106, shows an increase of 366 full-time stu- students with total of 354.

dents over the 2,080 enrolled last year.

At Nevada Southern in Las Vegas, there are 340 matriculated students, bringing the total of fully-matriculated students at both Reno and Las Vegas to

Nevada Southern has the lion's share of the non-matriculated

New club rivals gabblers gabblers in power and influence has arisen in our midst.

known as the "Knights of the Weinies" led by the Lord High Knight held a pledging ceremony immediately following the Frosh hayride and it is rumored that several who founded this order.

It is claimed by the knowing ones that this bunch has an awful of twenty three.

1919 kick behind it, in fact, during the A new organization, rivaling the pledging ceremonies four or five of the neophytes in the mysteries of Knightdom claimed that the kick This grand and glorius order was too much for them, but all were unanimous in declaring that they were ready for more anytime the Knights saw fit to put on another degree.

The personnel of this order is new members were added to those unknown but it is rumored that the roster of members includes several prominent upper classmen as well as two members of the class

Basta backs student court

"Many students desire to express themselves on the conduct of other students. They believe that those who misbehave should be disciplined by students," stated Sam Basta, Dean of Student Affairs. "Students should be afforded this opportunity," he add-

The student court idea was initiated by A.S.U.N. President Don Travis last year. The idea is being carried on this semester Dick Bryan, this year's A.S.U.N. president. Copies of an outline of the proposed Student Court have been circulated, and the A.S.U.N. Senate has accepted the idea of a court.

However, there has been considerable opposition to the formation of such a court. Some students are afraid that politics would get involved in the operation of the court.

A Student Court would be designed for students to discipline themselves socially, Dean Basta says: "One of the greatest lessons that a student can learn in college is to think for himself, discipline himself, and assume responsibility. These are indicative of becoming an adult."

The outline of the court is undergoing minor changes by the Senate and representatives of the various living groups on campus. The final revised form must be approved by the University president and faculty. It would then go on the ballot in the general election to be accepted or rejected by the students. A majority of the students must accept it.

All reports of incidents would be handled through the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs. Dean Basta would refer the reports to the proper authority for action. "It should be understood. of course, that all reports of incidents must be supported by evidence," stated Dean Basta. "All the evidence would be gathered by me."

Dean Basta believes that, every student should act in a manner which will be a credit to the University of Nevada. The welfare and dignity of the university are always paramount. Any incident of destruction of property, both private and public, or of social misbehavior is not in keeping with those responsibili-

Dance rules

"All student dances sponsored by University organizations must be held within the area bounded on the north by the city limits of Reno, on the south by the Mesa, the east by the eastern limits of Sparks, and on the west by Lawton's." This ruling was passed by the student's relations committee.

Request for social functions must be submitted to the Dean of women's office one week before the event.

Dean Mobley said that "this ruling is consistent with out slogan, 'slow up and grow up'. It is not to cramp student's style, but to keep them alive to graduate."

Also included in the student relations committee decision was the fact that a "bona fide faculty member of a housemother must be in attendance at all exchange dinners."

Guild gets nod

1942

Clark Guild was appointed representative at large from the student body to the student health service committee this week. President Leon W. Hartman announced. Other members are Gene Mastroianni, ASUN president, and Mrs. Betty Nash Carlson, AWS head, whose positions automatically place them on the

Dr. E. W. Lowrance, assistant biology professor, is chairman of the faculty representation on the committee. Other faculty members include Mill Elsa Sameht, women PE director; Dr. Robert S. Griffin, associate professor of English.

A NATIONAL GENERAL CO.

KEYSTONE at 4th 322 8438

The college you can't get into without a job.

The college is ours-Western Electric's Corporate Education Center in Hopewell, New Jersey.

Like your college, ours has a campus with dorms, dining halls, labs and a library. Unlike yours, you can't get into ours without a job. A job at Western Electric.

Our students-engineers, managers and other professionalsdevelop and expand their skills through a variety of courses, from corporate operations to computer electronics. To help bring better telephone service and equipment, through the Bell System.

For information contact your placement office. Or write: College Relations Manager, Western Electric Co., Room 2500, 222 Broadway, New York, New York 10038. An equal opportunity employer.

also

technicolor a paramount picture

PARAMOUNT PICTURES DIES A MEMORIAL ENTERPRISES COLOR A PARAMOUNT PICTURE

HOMECOMING 1969

A non-stop schedule of events starting tonight ...

TONIGHT

7:30 pm - Class Reunions - Sparks Nugget, Convention Center

8:00 pm - ENTERTAINMENT - SONNY & CHER

Mike Bloomfield and Friends

Centennial Coliseum

9:00 - Alumni NO-HOST Cocktail Party

Sparks Nugget, Convention Center

and then...

TOMORROW

7:00 am - Cross-country Race, Sparks High School to Mackay Stadium

8:00 am - Alumni Breakfast - Meeting, Mapes Sky-Room

10:00 am - HOMECOMING PARADE

11:30 am - 1: 30 pm - Student-Alumni Barbecue, Univ. of Nevada Gym

1:30 pm - HOMECOMING FOOTBALL GAME Mackay Stadium

U of N - Reno Wolfpack vs. U of N - Las Vegas Rebels

9:00pm - Student Homecoming Dance, Hidden Valley Country Club

9:00 pm - Alumni Homecoming Dance, Sparks Nugget, Convention Center

Don't miss this--the greatest Homecoming ever--top flight entertainment plus the start of the newest Reno-Las Vegas rivalry on the gridiron

Founded October 19, 1893

Established by the A. S. U. N.

VOLUME 46, NUMBER 19

HOMECOMING REVISITED - SECTION II

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1969

Homecoming classics of yesteryear recalled

1933

Thirteen years ago, 1921 ushered in Nevada's second annual Homecoming day celebration and established a date for the classic of all Wolf football schedules to come.

On that day University of Utah bowed to the superior Wolf eleven under a 28 to 7 score. That game was the last home act of the famous "Rabbit" Bradshaw. Nevada's candidate for the all-American honors amply upheld his enviable record in his final home appearance with a spectacular 93 yards for a touchdown.

In 1932 the Nevada varsity defeated Whitman University of northern fame with a decisive score of 35 to 7. Scranton and Lowry were consistent ground gainers for this victorious eleven, but the combination of Church and Hug in the backfield passing to Hobbs and Harrison, ends, accounted for much of Nevadas Yardage.

With 1923 came Nevada's fourth annual Homecoming day classic and a 7 to 7 tie with Santa Clara University, then one of the most powerful coast teams. The lack of Nevada's usual spectacular type of play probably greatly accounted for the fact that a victory was not chalked up for the Wolves.

The year 1924 gave the Wolves another opportunity to show the many Homecoming day visitors their old brand of football, with a 23 to 14 win over the Arizona University eleven. Gutteron and Clark two of Nevada's many stars were the chief sources of irritation to the Arizona team.

The now established annual celebration brought Nevada's first defeat before the visiting alumni in 1825, when a strong Santa Clara team downed the Wolves 20 to 7. The Wolves score was accounted for by that Nevada star, Jim Bailey and the Wolves score was accounted for by that Nevada star, Jim Bailey and the Wolves giant end, M. Shaughnessy, by completing a 20 yard pass after which Shaughnessy ran 40 yards for the score. Sullivan added the extra point for Nevada.

The following year Nevada again bowed down in defeat but this time to St. Marys Galloping Gaels to thetune of 13 to 0. Max Allen, Frost, Lawlor and Murphy were Nevada's outstanding stars for the seventh Homecoming day game, in which every man gave his all in a gallant attempt to hold the powerful eleven.

Repeating her feat of five years before, Nevada again held Santa Clara university to a 7 to 7 tie on the Mackay field before the crowd of visitors at Nevada's eighth Homecoming day feast. Every player mounted to great heights of football performance that day. Barely excelling their teammates were Captain Hanson, Larson and Anderson in the backfield with Lawlor doing the memorable work on the line. Captainelect Jim Bailey dodged 65 yards in a great display of broken field running to score Nevada's touchdown. His conversion saved the Wolves from defeat.

Once more Nevada was defeated in a Homecoming day classic by St. Mary's always powerful grid crew. They were defeated by a 22 to 0 score at the hands of one of the Gael's most powerful aggregations.

powerful aggregations.

The 1929 Homecoming day celebration saw Nevada drop the Far Western Conference title to the formidable Cal Aggies by a 19 to 0 score. This was marked by the performance of one lone star and that was the entire Wold eleven.

The favored Cal Aggies were justly chastised the following season, again a Homecoming day game, by the Wolves who badly defeated them 31 to 0. Although

(See page 2)

Second string -- give 'em heck

1920

Saturday afternoon, Nevada's Varsity will meet the second string men in a practice game on Mackay Field. The game will last the regulation halves and will be played the same as the coming games. As strict watch will be kept on fouls and as careful attention given to refereeing the game as is possible and the game besides giving the men a much needed workout will afford Nevada's fans a chance to see their team in action. The berths on the Varsity are a long ways from being cinched by any of the men and for this reason every man is fighting his hardest, the new men to gain a place and the old men to keep their's secure. The rooting section is expected to be out in full. Several men will try out for Yell Leader, and the students will be given the opportunity to loosen up their leather lungs in preparation for the big games that will be played so soon. Last year' Varsity was one that will always be remembered. This year's looks to be even better. The line is heavier and more experienced even than that of last year, and the backfield has skill and speed never before seen on the Nevada field. Get your old dust covered megaphone out, drag it down to the field Saturday and see if you can't exercise your lungs. We need lots of lung power this season, for the games are going to be hard fought and Nevada must have a season even more successful than last year. The Varsity needs a good workout. Lets make the second string give them one, or beat them.

Yes.

Kicking around U.N. grid memories

(From page 1)

favored to win, the 1929 champions were no match for Nevada's once more powerful varsity.

With 1931 and the twelfth annual Homecoming day feast came

Fresno State to Reno only to be turned back, smarting under a 31 to 13 defeat at the hands of a greatWold aggregation. Jack and Harvey Hill did brilliant running for Nevada inthat game, while Neil Scott and George Bodell made themselves enviable reputations with great bits of playing. Stars were to be found in all quarters after that tussle with John Griffin, Milt Young, Hugh Towle, Bill Backer and Gail Parsons playing almost perfect foothall.

Last fall again the Homecoming day classic, nevada once more defeated Cal Aggies coming out on top of a 16 to 0 score. Cashill opened Nevada's scoring with a memorable place kick from his own 45 yard line, after which Ambrose drove over the Wolves' touchdown.

With Cashill's great kick and Nevada's last season victory still fresh in the memories of the university's thirteenth annual Homecoming day visitors, the Wolf backers will undoubtedly come prepared to see and will witness another great classic in tomorrows fourteenth annual Homecoming day celebration game when Nevada meets the College of Pacific in a contest which promises to make Saturday another red letter day in the gridiron history of Nevada.

The results of Homecoming day contests are as follows:

1920 - Nevada 21, Utah Aggies, 0 1921 - Nevada 28, Utah Univer-

1922 - Nevada 35, Whitman 7 1923 — Nevada 7, Santa Clara 7 1924 — Nevada 23, Arizona 14

1925 - Nevada 7, Santa Clara 20 1926 - Nevada 0, St. Mary's 13

1927 - Nevada 7, Santa Clara 7 1928 - Nevada 0, St. Mary's 22 1929 - Nevada 0, Cal Aggies 19

1930 - Nevada 31, Cal Aggies 0 1931 - Nevada 31, Fresno

1932 - Nevada 16, Cal Aggies 0

Be proud of your university.

"'Tis Beauty Calls and Glory Leads the Way"

Pack dealt initial loss

Pack met its first set-back of the season last Friday night when the Colorado State Bears uncorked a sparkling passing attack that netted them 27 points to the thirteen Nevada was able to garner.

Greeley scored three touchdowns in the first quarter via the air to get up a commanding 21 point lead the Wolves were never able to overcome. The Bears followed this with another touchdown pass in the second period to complete their offensive for the evening.

Wide-Open Game

It was a wide-open aerial game for the Bears, with the Nevada backs apparently helpless to stop the deadly bombardment. Nevada helped considerably by num-The University of Nevada Wolf erous fumbles which were recovered by the Colorado team.

Greeley opened the scoring period of the game with a 14yard pass over the goal line, completed after three minutes of Three minutes later Greeley recovered a Nevada fumble on the Nevada 31-yard line and a pass on the second play was good for another touchdown.

A few minutes later Greeley recovered another Nevada fumble on the Nevada 20-yard line. A pass on the first play was completed to the one yard line, where the Bears smashed it over for a touchdown, giving them a 21 point out of their slump and started hammering the lighter Colorado team all over the field. They took the ball on their own 23 and on successive plays drove the ball down the field 73 yards to the Bear three inch line before losing the ball on downs just as the quarter ended.

Out of Slump

From then on the Wolves came beginning to look green.

Again, as the second period commenced, the Wolves drove from their own 49-yard line to the Colorado one foot line only to lose the ball on downs. The Wolves finally scored, however, with Cobeaga running a short Greeley punt back to the fifteen. From there he and Vinson packed the ball down to the three, and from there Vinson plunged over for the initial Nevada score.

The lawns about the Campus are

Tug-o-war slated

Twenty-five husky young men from each of the underclasses will do their utmost this year to pull their opponents into the lake when the annual tug-o-war takes place tomorrow morning across Manzanita lake, at 10:30 o'clock.

The sophomores have decided to pull from the west side of the lake. Although they were defeated from this side last year they are optimistic and hope that the jinx will not hinder them this

Tom Penrose, soph president, is hard at work selecting his team of huskies and Bill Beemer of the frosh class is likewise engaged. Both leaders state that from the appearances of their present lists they will be hard to beat.

The upperclass committee is sponsoring the affair, as is its custom in all underclass struggles, and Russes Laird has been supervising the interests of the frosh while Joe DeReemer has had charge of the sophs.

Boy, they really in those freshman dorms.

And wherever you find a congenial crowd, you'll find Coca-Cola. For Coca-Cola has the refreshing taste you never get tired of. That's why things go better with Coke, after Coke, after Coke.

Bottled under the authority of The Coca-Cola Company by Shoshone Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Reno, Nevada

of the coast. A Nevada victory

The University of Nevada Rugby team leaves next Friday night for its last game of the season of 1912. The Santa Clara game is in many respects the most important of the season, on account of the rivalry which exists between the two colleges relative to the four-years' contract. The game also assumes importance on account of the prominence which the Santa Clara ruggers have assumed in coast football this season. The University claims for itself, not without foundation, the championship or even a close score will, therefore, win for our Rugby team added recognition from the California universities.

The Nevada team, however, goes to California for this game badly handicapped. Bill Settlemeyer is just able to resume practice, after being kept out of the game by the leg injury received in the St. Mary's game; the knee is still far from well. Goat Curtin and Joe McDonald, are both just barely able to play, on account of bad knees. Sheehy will not enter the game, being eliminated by his registering late, according to the terms of the agreement. Captain Mackay's condition is such that it is doubtful that he will even appear upon the sidelines.

ED NOTE: Nevada lost, 19-3 (Nov. 26, 1912). "The victory was hard earned, and incidentally the Nevada team established a record for itself that it can well be proud of. That record was the crossing of the Santa Clara line, a feat that no other team on this coast has been able to do this season."

Frat hoop race should be pretty close

Interfraternity basketball has started and the ten teams are out for practice every night. This season the varsity men are pretty well distributed among the houses; so all of them should have squads good enough to make the race interesting.

Last season the Sigma Nus came out on top in the tournament. The Independents also showed good but will miss "Big Boy" Friend this time.

Practice times for the teams have been designated so that there will be no interference. Each of the squads has the privilege of practicing behind closed doors so that some surprise playing is promised. "Doc" Martie urges that "The teams treat each other as they would be treated" so that they will all have a fair chance.

"The court will be free every afternoon that the weather permits the women to have their gym work out of doors," says Doc,

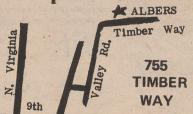

ARMANKO OFFICE SUPPLY 152 North Virginia Street

Engineering Supplies, Books, Stationery, Cards PHONE 322-3424

RANCH & GARDEN CENTER

complete stock of western wear

Resistol Hats - felt & straw Work & Dress Boots

Sanders, Frye - Wolverine Lees & Levis Jackets & vests - JoKay Moccasins by Yoahum

Western work gloves

OFF THE TOP OF VALLEY ROAD

STONE'S THROW FROM THE UNIVERSITY 10% DISCOUNT ON ALL MERCHANDISE (EXCEPT FEED) TO UNIVERSITY STUDENTS.

"and anyone may use it at that time."

the fraternity men but they may secure balls from the basketball

No equipment will be issued to tightest races since its inception in 1927. Lambda Chi's Art Larrance is being heralded as the weeks ranging from 24 to 28 minutes. Looking over the field it Sports Spotlight

What a terrific homecoming! The Wolf Pack dazzled the returning alumni with a decisive 40-24 victory over a flashy and favored Sacramento State football team, and rekindled the spirits of Nevada football fans who watched the Pack dump Pepperdine in the opening game of the

I guess that recounting the separate events of the game would be a little stale this late, since all I heard for days after the game were astonished comments on how well the team had performed.

Undoubtedly, Jerry Tobin's spectacular 99-yard run sparked the Pack to victory. People in the stands went wild as he broke away from his pursuers and sped into the end zone. The spirit on the field among the football players went sky high, and stayed there throughout the historic event. This game will undoubtedly be the talk of homecoming alumni for years to come, and rightly

One of the most pleasant things about this particular homecoming was the weather conditions. What perfect autumn weather! No drizzle, no gusty winds, and no cold weather! * * *

An unpleasant aspect of homecoming, however, was the spectacle that the Sundowners made of themselves.

When the homecoming queen and her attendants were being presented to the returning alums. and Sacramento fans, a carload of these black-hatted drunks drove by and threw wine on the royalty and the sports cars used to drive them to the presentation platform.

If wearing a beat-up felt hat and belonging to an "unrecognized" organization allows a stu-will be Orsie Graves striding with Larrance and Dave Fulstone and Bob Tognoni romping along with both of them. But don't sell Carl Digino, Alfred Mill, John Gent and others short. We doubt that the 21-34.2 record time set in 1928 by Fred Lohse will be

Wolf Prints

by Jerry Wetzel

LAST

1944

YEARS Homecoming edition of this sheet reads "WOLF PACK

HOWLS FOR TWELFTH VIC-

TORY OF HOMECOMING SER-

IES." But it was the downtown supporters and supposed loyal students who did all the howling

after that memorable game in which Nevada forgot that scoring went along with running up numerous yards and first downs. The team was in a high emotional pitch for that Fresno game and the poor showing of the Pack was too great a contrast for that pre-game feeling. Sideliners have noticed the difference in the attitude this year. No secret practices, no on-edge feeling of Aiken and his players, no last-minute revamping, no shifting of lineups during the week. This all comes to one thing. Nevada will enter Mackay

Field tomorrow minus the attitude of win, or else. Their win over Santa Ana last week and the comparatively low score that they held St. Mary's to three weeks ago has been the best mental tonic the Pack could have indulted in. Nevada will play their best Homecoming game tomorrow in six

CROSS COUNTRY PREDIC-

TIONS TELL US THAT TOMOR-

ROW'S race will be one of the runner to beat. Larrance has been breezing over the four mile Sparks to Reno grind for the past two vears.

HEADLINES FROM

equaled tomorrow but with four runners picked to finish on top anything might happen.

CROSS COUNTRY RUNNERS WHO happened to see the form letter inviting Nevada Grads to the 23rd annual celebration were not very appreciative of the remark regarding the cross country race. The letter stated that the alumni were not expected at the cross country running especially after Friday night. Evidently the composers of this letter thought that the rach was for the benefit of the runners and the time keepers. This, however, is not the opinion that we have of the race. Many of the contestants have been training for weeks. They are not running merely for the glory of a fraternity, nor for what he benefits by the race. These runners are competing for the spirit of Homecoming itself, whether anyone else things so or not. We regard that fact that there are usually a few alumni at the finish line to congratulate the boys after finishing, or a few alumni meeting them along the way and encouraging them on is one of the appreciative things grads can do for these boys who are giving more single effort to make the celebration a success than most people realize. And if you don't think so try jaunting four miles some time.

dent to do anything he pleases with impudity from the rules governing the rest of the student body, I'm going to organize my own

Richard L. Tracy

How far does this sort of thng have to go before someone puts a stop to it?

Those hot-dog vendors ought to see Bobby Peck for lessons in passing. While the Wolf Pack was cleaning up Sacramento on the field, the fans in the cheering section were cleaning up themselves from misses and near-misses of mustard-covered hot dogs. The cigar-shaped missles have a peculiar habit of opening in mid-air and spreading out in every direc-

1926

Military enrolls 197

This year there are 197 cadets enrolled in military, of whom 112 are in military 1 and 70 in mili-

Officers taking military 51 are: A. Watson, C. Dam, G.L. Keavuttm R.S. Blum, W.F. Martin, H.C. Archias, and K.K. Knopf.

RENO SKI SHOP

EXPERT PERSONALIZED SERVICE 1507 So. WELLS RENO, NEVADA 89502 BOBO SHEEHAN, PROP. 329-3733

TOM WIXON

Has His Hair Trimmed At STERLING VILLAGE BARBER SHOP

East of Campus on N. Valley Rd

University Station, Reno

WIN A CHRISTMAS GIFT!

AMERICAN CIVIL LIBERTIES UNION

P.O. Box. 8947

TWENTY FIVE smart people will get a free Bill Blass or Schiaparelli Signature scarf or other handsome gift just for visiting Beth's Boutique 1062 S. Virginia. Register by Saturday, Dec. 6 to be eligible. You need not be present to win.

While there, be sure to see Fashions. Funky, Yes, Joanna Nelson, Jack Winters, Lyn Leathers of Canada, Imperial Knits and other smart lines.

That's Reno's newest and smartest shop, Beth's Botique, in the new green building between Hansel and Gretel's Children's Shop and Wilfredo's Coiffures.

BETH'S BOUTIQUE 1062 SOUTH VIRGINIA

MAJESTIC

Reno's new Picture Palace

1926 TODAY — TOMORROW Lon Chaney

in

"The Phantom of the Opera"

> SUNDAY for 3 days

Rudolph Valentino

"Cobra"

SPECIAL MUSIC Pathe News-Comedy

Dear Rooters,

(With Apologies to K. C. B.)

DEAR ROOTERS:

YOU KNOW I had an awful

SICK FEELING in the region of

MY STOMACH last Saturday

WHEN I got

A LOOK at those big

CALIFORNIA CUBS and remembered

MY TEN dollars that I

HAD BET in an outburst

OF ENTHUSIASM the day

* * * BEFORE BUT of course

I WENT to the game

AND YELLED for our gang * * *

OF WARRIORS and when

THE CALIF. cubs made

THE FIRST touchdown I

FELT SICK again and tried * * *

ୡୡଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌଌୡଌ TO BOLSTER up my courage

Football spirit

College of the Pacific comes to Reno Saturday to play the Varsity, in the first intercollegiate game on the home field. There is no doubt on the mind of any Nevada student what the outcome of that game will be, after the showing the team has made thus far, and there is every reason to believe that the final whistle will see a big victory for the Silver and Blue. The winning of the game is no everything, however, and the "old Nevada spirit" of renown should not be overlooked. If there is one thing Nevada prides herself on, it is the way in which she treats her visiting teams, and this year should prove no exception to the rule.

When the Pacific team arrives, make it a point to show them around, extend them every courtesy possible and make their trip here one they will always remember and look back on with pleasure. Visiting teams are always keen to notice the reception given them by the grandstand when they run out on the field for the first time. They notice whether or not the grandstand jeers when the home team is penalized, or when they are called offside; they are quick to perceive whether or not one of their men is given a cheer on being hurt and taken out of the game. All these things make a big impression on other teams and should not be overlooked. Let's show them that we can overdo ourselves, if necessary, to make things pleasant for them while here and take back with them a lasting memory of the good old Nevada spirit, "the spirit which never dies."

Two try for Olympics are Joe Bliss and Mills Lane both a decision over Navy champ Vicpicked up impressive victories in tor Lopez. Lane used his potent the first round of the Final Olym- left uppercut and battered Lopez pic Boxing Tryouts Wednesday at at close quarters to chalk up the the Cow Palace in San Francisco

Both Bliss and Lane advanced into the semi-final round last night but their results were unavailable at Sagebrush press time.

Lane and Bliss both dumped All-Navy champions to move into the semi-finals of the United States Olympic boxing team tryouts for the summer games in Rome. The champions in each of the ten weight divisions qualify for the U.S. team for the summer Olympics.

Bliss, the 1969 NCAA 139-pound champion, notched a technical knockout over Navy champion John Dixon in the third round Wednesday night.

Bliss unleashed a furious body attack against Dixon in the second and third rounds to stop the Fort Mill. S.C., fighter.

Lane, who won the NCAA 147-University of Nevada boxers pound title last month, battled to decision

Record set at Mackay

A new record was written into the Mackay Stadium books last Saturday when the Golden Gators of San Francisco State swampled the Wolf Pack, 83-43, in a dual track meet.

Little John Mathis (5-7) of the Gators leaped nearly a foot above his own height to establish a high jump record of 6-5 1/2, surpassing the previous record of 6-5 set by Bill Russell last season. Russell is the 6-10 basketball all-America from the University of San Francisco.

BY BETTING ten bones more AND COULDN'T find a man TO BET with me and so I GOT the credit ANYWAY AND pretty soon * * * WINDY JOHNSON made his LONG RUN and the umpire WHO IS a native son * * * DIDN'T GIVE us the TOUCHDOWN AND so I began TO GET mad and pretty soon HE MADE me madder and EVERYONE ELSE got mad AND SWORE and the umpire WHOSE NAME is Marks * * * DIDN'T CARE and called * * * A FEW more sap decisions AND I could see my * * * TEN BONES fading away * * * AND SO I yelled all THE HARDER and tried

THE SIREN was making AND THEN the team began * * * TO GAIN and run circles AROUND THE Cubs and THE CUBS began to get WINDED AND the umpire STARTED ARGUMENTS so they * * * COULD GET their breath and CHARLEY BULL appeared with CALIFORNIA'S GOAT and the team * * * SAW IT and pepped up and THE CUBS didn't like it AND THE CRAZY mob on THE BLEACHERS pepped up * * * AND YELLED still harder AND FINALLY we found that THERE WAS only two MORE MINUTES to play and * * * THE SCORE was thirteen * * * TO TWELVE and we had * * * THE THIRTEEN and the Cubs * * * WERE ON our two YARD LINE and the

TO DROWN out the noise

NEVADA LINE was holding THERE AND kept holding THEM THERE and my voi * * * GAVE OUT and I broke MY MEGAPHONE on a fa * * * MAN'S HEAD and I bit of * * * A PIECE of my tongue AND PUT the lit end of A CIGARETTE in my * * * OPEN MOUTH and swore a A GIRL smiled and said ME TOO and I knew * * * OUR MEN were getting tin AND IF that gun DIDN'T GO off in a FEW SECONDS I knew * * * THE CUBS would roll over FOR A touchdown and so I PRAYED and swore * * * AND YELLED and droppe MY WATCH and it stopped AND I couldn't telf . . . HOW MUCH more time THERE WAS and my hear MISSED SEVEN beats and SEVEN MORE beats and * * *

THE GUN went off and 1918

Letter from former

The following is a letter from Tom Buckman, ex '19 and former star athlete at Nevada. Buckman was center on the championship basketball team of Nevada for two years and captainelect for this year. He was also guard on the football team last

He enlisted in the hospital corps last summer but later transferred to the radio corps and was sent to the Harvard radio school this year. He has been playing star center on the company team and has surprised the east with his work on the courts there.

Cambridge, Mass. January 27, 1918

I receive the Sagebrush all right. I hope the varsity beat C. of P. yesterday and that you clean up on St. Ignatz next Saturday. We won our first game Friday night from Rabbit Maranville's Boston navy yard team, 33-32. You've heard of him, captain of the Boston Nationals. Another big leaguer played with them. We played A.A.U. rules the first half and professional rules the second half. Pofessional basketball is rougher than football. Our team is made up of two Y.M.C.A. players, one

SILVER STATE CAMERAS

357 N. Virginia St. Reno, Nevada

Frank S. Kinsey 329-3541

EVERYTHING PHOTOGRAPHIC from Portland, the other from Idaho. The others are from University of Minnesota and University of Illinois. Believe me, Western basketball is far superior to eastern and Nevada's last year's team could clean up on any I've seen here.

Have received several letters from Woost at Camp Meade. He was still unassigned when last heard of him. From his letters I judge he must have had a fine trip across. Tom King and Woost made the trip together as far as Cincinnati. If I had known that he was going across when he did I would have stayed home and made the trip at the same time, which would have been

I understand '19 has dropped or considers dropping the Artemisia. I was contemplating sending you some for it but guess it won't be necessary now.

Do you observe these meatless, wheatless days at U. of N.? Here we have six of them each week. They ought to add one more and call it cheerless. Theaters don't open on Mondays and there are all kinds of regulations.

I've been in school now two weeks now and start my third tomorrow. It keeps a fellow on the jump all the time. Real intensive training here.

Sincerely, BUCK

women's fashions

STORE HOURS:

10 a.m. to 9:15 p.m. Monday, Thursday, Friday 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Tuesday, Wednesday, Saturday Park Lane Centre, 232B East Plumb Lane

A gar is a game is a ga it hap Home

=_

11 11/

147 -

* * *
SHOOK HANDS with a large

* * *
COLORED LADY who had

BEEN YELLING for us and

THEN WE all helped

TO CARRY the team off

THE FIELD and the man

I HELPED to carry dropped

A DROP of blood on my

BEST COLLAR and now I

AM GOING to keep that

COLLAR TO remember

THE DAY we beat

THE CUBS in spite of

A ROTTEN deal and everything

IS ROSY and I feel fine

EXCEPT THAT I wish

I KNEW just who

THE GIRL was who fell on

MY NECK and hugged

ME BECAUSE she was sure

SOME GIRL.

I THANK YOU.

OUT FOR EVERY POINT

Here's one reason the University of Nevada Wolf Pack won't lose many games by those heart-breaking one-point margins this year—Pat Eaton kicking and Dick Taylor holding should be every bit as effective as the Twombly-Eaton combination of two years ago, which gained national fame for its place-kicking. Taylor, however, is not expected to be used tomorrow because of a foot injury.

STANFORD SAVIA CLINA PACIFIC 30-131

UNIQUE BOOK STALL

EXCEPT SUNDAY

1 to 5

NEW * BOOKS * USED
PAPERBACKS ½ PRICE

INCENSE OILS
TAROT CARDS

786-2631

300 S. Center Reno, Nevada

University
Barber Shop
RAZOR CUTTING
MEN'S HAIR STYLES

Ernie, Wes, Jim Phone 786-9599

Block N did

1938

The Block N Society comes out every year and announces that it will be on hand to sponsor the freshmen painting of the "N". They did this year.

When the time came for all good Block "N" members to come to the aid of the frosh and assist them by directing operations, only two of the organization's operatives were anywhere to be seen. One of those two was a member of the men's upperclass committee and had to be present to help check frosh roll. As a result the frosh were left to their own resources and, after some delay, came through in heart-warming fasion.

Why don't the Block "N" and other campus groups either give up the ghost or really get out and accomplish the things they say they are going to do. Up to now most of the activities on the campus have been nothing but a little free publicity!

Stay healthy

194

Medical expenses incurred by athletes or other students while off the campus will not be taken care of by the University Health Service, according to a revised addition to Rule 8 as approved by the health service last Wednesday night, unless expenses of paid for by the injured student. Justifiable exceptions to the rule must have the approval of the university health committee.

Dr. W. W. Lowrance, secretary of the health committee, stated that memeographed copies of the rule will be distributed to fraternities and sororities next week.

1917 -

GRAND

HURST BROTHERS
SPECIAL
TUES.-WED.-THUR.
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS
America's greatest exponent of the smile. In

"The Man From Painted Post"

Paramount-Artcraft

FRIDAY-SATURDAY
Petite and Charming

VIVIAN MARTIN

"THE SUNSET TRAIL"
Paramount

NEXT SUNDAY
GLADYS HUELETTE

The "Sunshine Mail" In

"THE CIGARETTE GIRL"

Matinees 2:45
Nights 7:15 and 8:45
Admission 15 and 20c
Gov't. War Tax of 2c per ticket

The purpose is...

1925

The purpose and justification of football?

Dr. J.R. Young, professor of psychology, says that, "From the spectators' point of view it is something that will furnish an hour or two of pleasure for them. The pleasure is genuine and wholesome, which is a good thing to indulge in at intervals, but at times their ideals of sportsmanship are lost.

"Such is the case when the onlookers develop'spectatoritis." By that I mean that they get into the habit of wanting to win the game rather than to play the game. When they work up such a spirit, they want to run the thing from the side lines, and that is just like driving a car from the back seat. When they lost they blame the coach, regardless of how good he is. They sense failure for the team, and it's a bad point of view to take in any athletics.

"The most worthwhile side of such sports as football and basketball is the physical development, not so much of the first team men, but of the substitutes or goofs. The best men are for the most part physical ideals before they begin to play, while the goofs are not in the same class, but with time and good material develop into it.

"The ability to stand the 'gaff', the punishment and the hard knocks without losing control of the temper under such difficulties is another big lesson. It is a lesson that will be of tremendous value in later years.

"Co-operation and co-ordination are two more big lessons that must be mastered in a good team. It lessens the chance for grandstand play and proves definitely that to succeed a man cannot do it by ignoring the rest of mankind.

"The greatest possible benefit that could be obtained through sports would come if the universities would adopt the English idea, if you please, and put the glory of the sport in playing rather than watching. If three-fourths of the student body was engaged in an active game three or four times a week, the benefitting results would be much more noticeable."

game a ame nless to be ng.

11 to 9

1929

THE A. S. U. N. EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

Grandma can't dig styles of '26

There are two alternatives. You may be dashing or you may be demure. Of the values of moderation much has been said, preached and written. But would you be chic, fair lady see no moderation in your evening gown.

The Sop Hop! Music, moans, blares and croons, The floor is gilded ice. Milady's foot is encased in the most fastidious of dainty slippers. All very well, oh ye gym. Instructors to rave of the beauties of the husky oxford. The girl with the absurdly high heels is matching her steps with the most popular man of the campus.

But let us return to the gowns. The demure will be in the oh so popular robe de style which, according to the adds, no college girls wardrobe is complete without. The robe de style, which of it bouffant qualities, resembles an old fashioned miniature Grandmother would approve of it until perhaps she case an astoniched spectacle in the direction of the hem. For here, indeed, is variety. The hem line swoops down at the sides almost to the floor in graveful denity but the front and back of the dress are verily up the knees. "Tut" says grandmother disapprovingly; but we know in our hearts she likes it. Who wouldn't?

The dashing will be present in a straight, clining gown molded to the figure. Green, crimson, every vivid color of any scope is their heritage. The men who bring them will be beamingly proud and the men who didn't will wonder why they didn't some of them, the ultra-dashing will have their hair swirled back over one petite ear. Many of them will swirl Spanich shawls whose fringe will be at once their delight and despair. We must admit it drags terribly but oh how very graceful it does make one feel!

Soph hop a success!

1912

The Sophomore Hop, the first class dance of the year, was decidedly a success. A feature of the affair was the scheme of decoration and, for the success of this feature the class point with pride to Miss Jessie Hylton. The gym presented a twilight scene in the late autumn. The softened lights shown down upon the merry dancers through masses of yellow leaves. In one end of the gym a cheery log fire glowed ruddily. Trees of evergreen set here and there, added a touch of color to the scene. In the other end of the gym, Bob Ostroff's orchestra, from a rustic platform, made of real logs with the bark still on them, and half hidden by boughs of yellow leaves, dispensed music in keeping with the picture. There were cosy corners, too - little log cabins covered with yellow vines and set in the very dimmest decesses of this autumn forest so in keeping with the scene that you would hardly notice that they were there.

In this woodland scene, promtly at 9 o'clock, the hop started. The grand march was led by President Joe McDonald and his partner, Miss Leola Lewis. During the march, the programs, little red and white affairs, representing the class colors, the result of the skill of "Huskey" Sini—were given out. The dancing continued until the wee hours. Schottishes, moonlights and extras were cleverly worked in by he floor manager, Robert Bringham.

Throughout the evening delicious punch was served from a little log booth by a darkey dressed in the rustic costume of a woodsman.

Midnight campus joy ride

1912

A lonely hat, a lot of automobile tracks, a broken fence, were the marks found on the campus Saturday morning — the mute evidence of a Friday night's joy ride. These signs were right near the main entrance, too; Just above the bridge on the main driveway. These signs got the campus detectives to working and the following is what was discovered:

There were three men in an automobile out by themselves on a joy ride. They took in the campus, and what do you think? They missed the bridge and drove into the drink. Two took a dive but got out alive, but the driver sat still in his seat. The names of these men we're not going to mention, but for cutting the campus they sure got a drenchin'.

TELEPHONE 323-0397 HAMILTON 31 WEST SECOND STREET RENO, NEVADA

-SKI-

$40

SEASON PASS GOOD Christmas Week
Easter Week and Semester Breaks

SODA SPRINGS SKI AREA (on Interstate 80) P.O. Box 27, Soda Springs, Calif.

Applications available in ACTIVITIES OFFICE, Jot Travis Student Union

Should a College Graduate Consider SALES? We think so!

There are hundreds of exciting careers. Marketing is one, a dynamic one, and probably the major stepping stone to civic and business leadership.

At Xerox, our people are more than sellers of graphic communications equipment. They have knowledge of marketing strategy and insight as to how Xerox copiers, copier/duplicators and related equipment can meet the needs of modern business. They have a healthy regard for the importance of document flow and its implementation in every size and type company. They are able to advise businessmen at all levels on their present needs and to reasonably forecast future developments. Their thinking is business systems oriented, for this is the wave of the future. That's why we require a college degree.

We have openings at various locations throughout the Western United States. After comprehensive product and sales training, you'll become part of the dynamic picture at Xerox, where operating revenues have increased from $40 million in 1960 to over $895 million in 1968, and employment has grown from approximately 3,000 people in 1960 to over 30,000 currently.

Excellent salary and incentive compensation in addition to comprehensive benefits including profit sharing.

The Xerox Representative is coming to campus Thursday, December 4

See your Placement Director for details and to arrange an appointment. Or, you may write directly to Employment Manager, Xerox Corporation, 2200 E. McFadden Avenue, Santa Ana, California 92705.

XEROX

An Equal Opportunity Employer (M & F)

Pajama rally set

1912

Thursday night is the night of the big pajama rally. Every man registered in the University is expected to attend. Roll call will be held by Yell Leader Boggs at 7:30 sharp. In the language of Arthur, "Those who ain't there will get an awful ride." Take a gentle hint and be on deck with lots of pep and a set of pajamas, right on Lincoln Hall steps, Thursday evening, September 19th, at 7:30 o'clock and avoid the ire of his senatorship.

There is going to be some program to arouse enthusiasm on that night. Nobody will be able to stay away from the Sacramento Athletic Club game next Saturday. The bunch will follow the band also clad in night apparel - down town. There will be serpentining, music, yells, and fun. Finally things will gather at the Plaza where the Freshmen will have constructed a pile of boxes and wood as big as a house. These will be burning some too by the time the bunch gets there and when it does there will be things doing in earnest. Speeches - those fighting speeches that friends of the University are famous for. We are not going to tell you who is going to talk right now - thatis a surpise. But if you are listening to Yell Leader Arthur Boggs, they are going to be the real old fashioned kind.

So fellows, remember that great big rousing rally Thursday night and remember these things in connection with it: (1) no queening will be tolerated on the part of any University man. (2) Freshmen must have fire ready and must carry torches in the processions. (3) There will be roll call on Lincoln hall steps at 7:30 sharp. (4) Every man must appear dressed in pajamas or night robe of some kind. (5) That a penalty awful in its severity will be inflicted upon him who fails to carry out to the letter the foregoing decrees.

GEMS FROM 1900

Miss Lulu Culp '99 left for her home in Carson on March 3d.

On the 9th there was a meeting of the four college classes called to consider the adoption of a college pin. The motion for adoption was lost.

CLASSIFIED

ROOM for rent near Veterans Hospital. Call 322-1719 for additional information.

Young woman roommate wanted: Old house in Virginia City. Call Vicki at 882-2111 - during the day.

LOST - White gold wedding band, believe lost in Student Union. Please contact R.J. Williams, 786-6979 anytime. Reward.

DRIVING to Los Angeles Wednesday, Nov. 26. Back Sunday Nov. 30. Need riders. Call 323-6287 evenings.

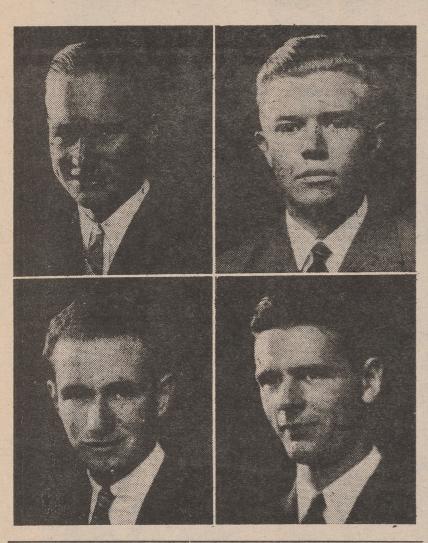

FOR SALE — 1956 Ford Station Wagon. Radio, heater, factory air conditioning, new (September) mufflers and tail pipes. A real steal at $150 'cause at this point I'm pretty desperate. Also, miscellaneous band equipment; speakers, microphones, etc. Call 786-5168.

YOUR TYPING done at my home. Call Barbara Wallace, 329-0972.

Copyright 1948, LIGORTT & MYRRS TORACCO CO.

EDITORS, BUSINESS MANAGERS NAMED

Next year's editors and business managers of the Nevada weekly newspaper, Sagebrush and yearbook, Art emisia, were announced today. They are ((left to right) Dyer Jensen, Sagebrush business manager; Frank McCulloch, Sagebrush editor; Jack Pieri, Artemisia business manager; and Walter Wilcox, Artemisia editor.

Announcements

Jockey's Ball leads to joy ride

1917

A Manzanita Hall party is all right, but it does not provide the thrills that a jockeys' ball does. So thought a half dozen rough, tough rounders from Lincoln Hall the other night. Accordingly they commandeered the person and car of an innocent outsider to go out to Moana.

The dance was all that could be desired in the way of the picturesque and the cosmopolitan, but our hard characters soon tired of it and turned towards town at a great rate of speed, and there is where the plot thickens with a traffic cop as the chief villain. The traffic cop had been having a busy time of it, but he was not too busy to lay the arm of the law upon these violators of the city ordinance.

Judge was just as relentless and the driver, who happened to be the poorest, was fined the traditional $10. He had to admit that did not have the $10, never had had it and never would have it, and to save him a term of 10 days in jail his compatriots put up the required sum. Then they decided to call it a night and be peace-abiding citizens.

Moral: The way of the transgressor is hard.

Girls get it on

1918

Monday afternoon the Department of Physical Education held open afternoon in the gymnasium. The freshmen gave an exhibition of marching and club swinging, while the sophomores did the Morris dance, the Dal Dans and others.

Gym Twelve did the Highland scottische, Gym Eleven the Wild Bird and Gym Thirty-Four Narcissus, the Highland fling and the Valse Brilfante.

The whole department united in doing the flag dance. The girls were dressed in blue shirts and white middies, and were led by girls in white. Each girl carried two American flags and the scene was a patriotic one when the two hundred flags were waving.

Fifteen cents admission was charged for the purpose of raising money to care for a French baby for a year. The girls sold their flags after the performance and Miss Sameth did a special dance, which netted the affair some additional profit.

The total door receipts were twenty-eight dollars.

The department has already ten dollars, which makes thirty-eight dollars towards the seventy-three dollars which is necessary to care for the French baby.

Models wanted

1960

Models of all sizes, shapes and sexes are wanted by the art department to pose for its painting, drawing and sculptor classes.

The posing will be done in swim shorts, sun suits or leotards.

If you are a merchant and want to reach the college market, consider...

- -- there are 6,000 University of Nevada students
- -- there are 1,000 faculty, staff and administrators
- --there are 10,000 Sagebrushes distributed on campus each week
- --an ad in the Sagebrush will reach the market you need
- --call Mike Cuno or Craig Ihara at 329-0249 for further information