PLAN ELEVATOR

Campus Gets Many Improvements This Year

Work is being rushed to complete the new Manzanita annex. Hammers are daily pounding an incessant staccato as preliminary framework is being erected.

Contract calls for completion of the new women's dormitory on or before April 1, 1926. The structure will contain over 51 rooms, will conform with the present style of dormitory architecture and will rise three stories. Construction will be of stone, brick and concrete.

The building will face on Virginia street, and present plans call for no connection with the University dining hall. Fred J. Delongchamps, '04, is the architect. The new structure will cost approximately $90,000. E. K. (Continued on Page 7)

RECORD CROWD WAS ENROLLED DURING SUMMER

165 STUDENTS HAVE 'HOT TIME' DURING SIX WEEKS OF STUDY

Summer session this year was the best attended of any of the sessions ever held by the University of Nevada. The total enrollment was 165, an increase of 24 over last year's total, when 141 were registered. Of this number 149 were women and 16 were men.

Dean Hall of the College of Education, acted as director of the summer school. He was assisted by a number of regular University of Nevada instructors.

More teachers from other universities and schools acted as members of the summer session staff than have ever been here before. Their number and their experience served to make the summer school one of the most successful ever held here.

Regular work in the College of Arts and Science and the School of Education was carried on, as well as a few Engineering courses; but the main emphasis was placed on Education courses.

More Nevada teachers than ever before attended the 1925 summer session.

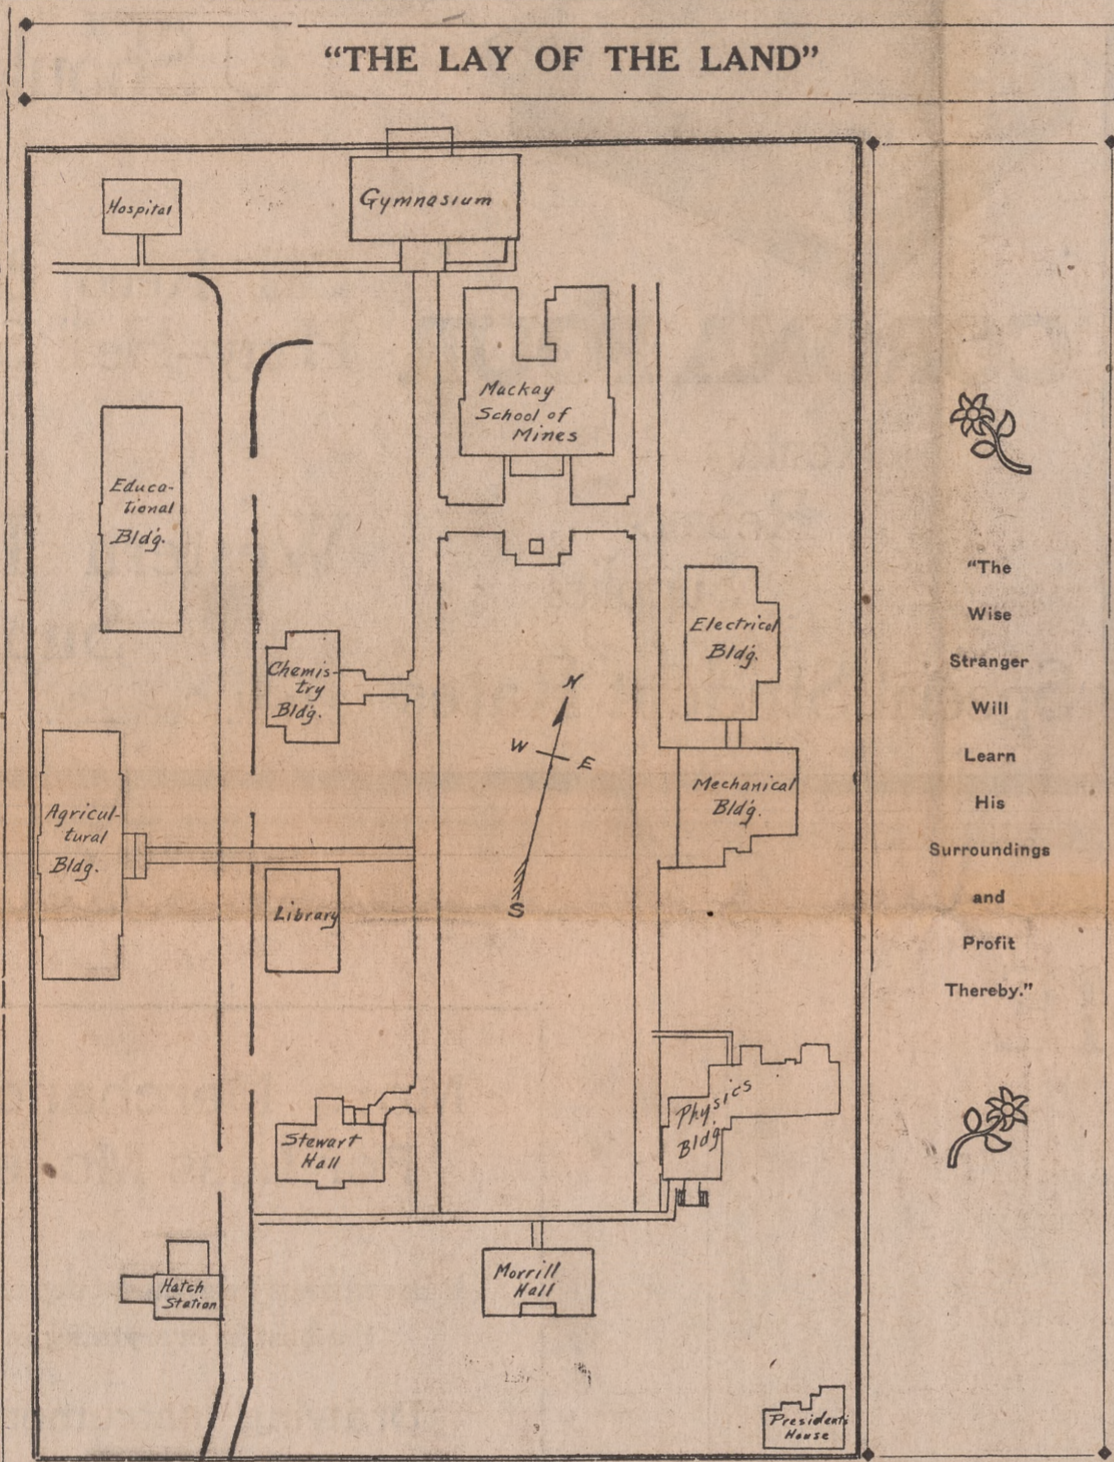

OPENINGS ARE TO BE FILLED ON TWO STAFFS

R. Finlay and Johns Will Not Return To Campus

Officers on the staffs of both the Artemista and Desert Wolf have been left open by the absence of Ralph P. Finlay, '26, editor-elect of the year book, and Fred R. Johns, business manager-elect of the University quarterly magazine.

It is thought that new elections will be made by the Publications Board next week to fill these vacancies. Several persons will be eligible for these offices having filled the required time and having the necessary seniority. Recommendations, as usual, will be made by the incumbent officers of the represented publications of the board.

James Skeene, '25, is with the South American Development company at Zurma, Ecuador.

Hug, A. S. U. N. Head, Greet New Students

NEVADA NOT "HIGH HAT" HE DECLARES; TRULY WESTERN SCHOOL

Isn't it a "grand and glorious" feeling to be back on the "old campus" again, to shake hands and meet all the old gang? Haven't you felt that old Nevada spirit tingling in your bones all summer, and hasn't there been "that something" that has made you want to get back?

The Student Body welcomes to the campus the incoming freshmen and wishes you a most happy and prosperous stay at the University. We want you to grasp that Nevada spirit early, we want you to "come out" with that "big hello," and more than all we want you to make yourself a real part of this school; the quicker the better.

This school does not pride itself in being a "high hat" school, but rather in being a democratic one where everyone is your friend, and good slap on the back means hello; where the professors are to be regarded as helpers and not as someone to be feared. That is why Nevada turns out winning football teams, winning basketball teams and is successful in all she attempts because there exists on the campus a real college spirit moulded of true friendship and fraternal feeling.

And to you, freshmen, this is the kind of a school to which we welcome you. May you catch the spirit quickly and hang on to it.

—PROCTOR HUG, Pres. A. S. U. N. —

DEAC. HARWOOD ANSWERS RENO HARPER'S JIBE

Will Appear In Sept. Issue of Paper

Paul A. ("Deac") Harwood, '24, Nevada Rhodes scholar at Oxford, and former editor of The Sagebrush, has an article appearing in the "Personal and Otherwise" department of the September issue of Harper's Magazine. The article was written in answer to a description of Reno by Mrs. Katherine Gerould in the July number of the magazine. It was Mrs. Gerould's account which raised a storm of protest throughout the state.

Several Reno residents and public officials wrote answers but were declared not available for use in Harper's. Mrs. Gerould also has a short story with a Reno locale in the August issue of the same magazine.

FIVE BOOSTS ARE GIVEN TO FACULTY MEN

Lehenbauer Made Full Professor of Biology

Five promotions have been made in the faculty. Edward G. Sutherland, formerly instructor in business administration, has been made assistant professor of economics, business and sociology.

Edwin E. Williams, instructor in Spanish and French last year, has been raised to assistant professor of modern languages.

Charles R. Hicks, instructor in history 1924-1925, is now assistant professor in history and political science.

Dr. William M. Hoskins, formerly assistant in chemistry, has been given an associate professorship.

Dr. Philip Lehenbauer, associate in 1924-1925, is now professor of biology.

STUDENTS' CARDS MUST BE SHOWN

All students will be required to retain their A. S. U. N. membership cards during the semester and present them at all athletic contests. Cards are not transferable. Any cards presented by other than the legal holder will be destroyed. There will be no exceptions to these rules.

LIGHT CAUSES COZY NOOK TO DISAPPEAR

Still the authorities persist in doing away with these comfy little nooks about the Campus. Last semester light after light placed about the buildings flooded and dispelled the romance lurking about the darker corners. And now, to the horror of a few and the delight of many, a light has been installed near the weeping willow on the main drive bridge. Soon, perhaps, there will be a flood lighting system sweeping over the Tram.

CONVOCATION TO BE HELD AUG. 28

Doctor Clark Will Be Main Speaker On Program

Convocation Day, Friday, August 28, will witness the first general assembly of the college year 1925-26. The exercises will be held at the assembly hour, 11:20 a. m. on the bleachers, weather permitting. President Walter E. Clark will be the speaker of the day.

Convocation Day is one of the big events of the college year. On this day the whole student body assembles, all members of the same class sit together, class yells are given and there is a display of enthusiasm and college spirit. The freshmen come in a body and receive the greeting of the older students and the welcome of the faculty.

It is expected that the freshmen of the present year will do better than the freshmen of recent years and be ready with their class yell on Convocation Day.

SEVERAL FRATS WILL MOVE TO NEW QUARTERS

One New Frat Added To Those On 'Frat Row'

Most of the fraternities and societies who had houses last year will be in the same locations this semester. Several have moved; and one more has been added to "fraternity row."

Kappa Alpha Theta will occupy the Twaddle home on the corner of Fifth and Ralston. It is the same house which the sorority had 1923-24.

Sigma Phi Sigma has moved from the old location on Elko avenue to 746 North Virginia street.

Beta Kappa has also moved, and will be located at 732 Virginia street. Sigma Alpha Epsilon will move to the old Evans home at 835 Evans avenue.

Pi Beta Phi will have its house at the former Wier home, 844 University avenue.

Gamma Phi Beta, Delta Delta Delta, Kappa Lambda, Phi Sigma Kappa and Sigma Nu will retain their present houses.

Plans for Sigma Alpha Omega, Delta Sigma Lambda, and Beta Delta have not been announced.

MACKAY MILL TO BE MODEL MODERN PLANT

One of the most complete and up-to-date model mills of working capacity is the aim of the Mackay School of Mines staff who are busy changing the placement of machines and the installation of new and more modern equipment in the Mackay building.

The present plant has served its purpose ever since construction of the mining laboratories, but under the new program of reconstruction and up-building of the entire scheme, the latest in milling machinery will be installed.

All smaller machines have been mounted on the upper platforms and new apparatus including a Dorr classifier has been shipped to augment the system.

BUCK SHAW IS ENTHUSIASTIC OVER COMING SPORT SEASON

All Branches of College Life Are Very Promising

PHELAN HERE 15TH

Mentor Glad To Be Back With Wolf Pack

With the return of "Buck" Shaw, new head coach, the Nevada football season looms as a reality rather than the long-looked for dream. And it looks to be the big chance for another really successful season. With all but four of last year's varsity on the roll-call and new material coming in every day the Nevada team should be something to argue with in the Far Western Conference.

Shaw was on the campus as long as two years ago when the Wolves gave their little surprise party for California, and was largely responsible for the showing made by the team then. As he is already acquainted with a good many of the fellows from former work with them he is better able to judge what they are capable of doing and of bringing out the best in them.

He is a former Notre Dame star and All-American player and plans on introducing the famous Notre Dame shift to the men on the Hill. A good many of the fellows have used a form of this shift while on high school teams and with a competent coach who learned it under the old master and originator, Kute Rockne, they should be able to fall into it naturally enough.

Phelan is not yet on the Hill but will arrive about the second week of September as regular practice does not start until the fifteenth of the month.

AL LOWRY, '25 GETS BIG JOB

Appointed Coach At Humboldt High School

Al ("Pusher") Lowry of four-year Varsity fame on the Mackay field is to act as coach for the Humboldt county high school this semester. J. J. Beatty, principal, has announced.

Lowry will have charge of the science classes of the high school and in addition will oversee the playground activities of the grammar school.

He was a member of the first football team organized at the Humboldt county high school in 1916 and has represented that institution in a number of interscholastic track meets.

DON ROBISON HAS HARD LUCK PLAY

Donald Robison, '26, while at the Reno race track this season was stricken with appendicitis. After being confined to bed for some time Robison developed a severe case of tonsillitis. Heaped on this came scarlet fever. Robison, who registered today, is just out of bed, but his physician declares he is recovering rapidly.

LEHENBAUER ELECTED TO BOTANICAL GROUP HEAD

Dr. P. A. Lehenbauer, professor of biology of the University, was elected vice-president of the western branch of the American Botanical Society at a recent meeting held in Portland, Oregon. This society is affiliated with the American Society for the Advancement of Science.

John Donovan, '22, Harvard law student, recently visited the campus.

BETSY AS THE 'ONE HOSS SHAY' KICKS UP WHEELS DEATH CAUSED BY DECAY

Remember Betsy? That awkward, low-cut, forever-babbling female that has been totin' Prof ("Geology") Jones around for the last eight years.

Grads as far back as the pre-Stewart Hall period, almost, can recall Betsy and coquetish pranks, her faithfulness—and her hoarse rasp.

Well, Betsy's dead! No especial sorrow has been displayed on the part of her acquaintances, perhaps because her place has been, taken by a great, ling, shiny Studebaker special six. No, it has not been christened.

John M. Fulton, jr., '25, will leave September 15 for Stanford University where he will begin work for his master's degree in economics.

REGISTRATION REMAINS SAME

Authorities of the University do not expect a great increase in registration this year due to the fact that the higher requirements will cut down on the number of California transfers. The increase in tuition fees and the discontinuance of "specials" from states other than Nevada will also tend to keep the enrollment down, it was said.

J. E. (Doc) Martie spent the summer in the middle west as manager of the Brown and White Chautaugua company. He made the trip east in his car and was accompanied by his wife.

Dr. Clark Greet '29

To all students—new and old—greetings and cordial welcome!

The most beautiful campus, the best plant and the most effective teaching staff of the University's history are at your service for the new University year.

The outcome is in your hands. If, with industry and enthusiasm, you make the most of your opportunity in basic terms of growth, in mental power, in character, in craftsmanship and in citizenship, then will you make the coming year the greatest of all years for the University.

WALTER E. CLARK, President

August 23, 1925.

MRS. DOTEN ILL DURING SUMMER

Mrs. Doten, wife of S. B. Doten, director of the Agriculture Experiment station, was suddenly taken ill on a trip to New York during the summer.

Apprehension was felt by members of the family for some time. Flying trips between Reno and the eastern seaboard were made by Dr. Doten. Mrs. Doten's condition finally straightened out and she is now improving rapidly at her home in Reno.

Louella Murray, '25, was appointed dietitian of the new Sutter Hospital in Sacramento.

ANONYMOUS SCHOLARSHIP OF $2,000 HEADS LATEST GROUP OF NEVADA GIFTS

An anonymous scholarship of $2,000 headed the list of new awards and prizes announced at Commencement last May. The new scholarship will be awarded to an entering freshman, from an Nevada high school, who is judged by President Clark as the most deserving and the one most likely to make good in the University. The award will be made in four annual sums of $500 for each of the recipients years in College.

C. H. Moore, of Reno, also made a new prize, of the value of $50 to be awarded to a junior student who has made the greatest progress in debating during the school year. An other anonymous donation of $50 annually is to be used as a library fund to further the study of Physical Education and Biology.

BOB, AIRDALE, LOSES LIFE BY POISON; TIP IS RESCUED FROM DEATH

Bob, noted campus air dale, property of Joseph B. Lynch, superintendent of buildings and grounds, died recently from the effects of poisoned food. Whether Bob's death was caused by accident or not, Lynch does not know. Tip, a small dog, belonging to Fred Wyckoff, '25, also was discovered to be affected with strychnine poisoning, but a hurried call for the veterinary doctor saved his life.

Leah Collins spent the summer at Deshutes, in the Cascade, in Oregon.

WASHINGTON STUDENTS STAY AWAKE 60 HOURS FOR SAKE OF SCIENCE

With bloodshot eyes from the loss of sixty hours of sleep, eight students of George Washington University of Washington, D. C., sought their beds Sunday night to try and forget the strenuous tests they had undergone to determine the effect of loss of sleep upon their mental ability, especially in regards to driving an automobile. At the conclusion of the test, which was begun at 6 o'clock Friday morning, all of the four men and four women pronounced they felt fine. None of the contestants has rested since the beginning of the examination.

Do College Romances Last--Many Commence

Do college romances last? Cupid, Eros, the Blind God, or What-you-may-call him, spent a busy summer trying to prove that they do, for out of the summer's roll of campus marriages, at least five of them were real honest to goodness college romances, with accent on the romance part of it.

Witness Lyndall Adams and "Smiles" Greenwall, both '21, who marched to the altar in the month of June. The campus had gotten so used to seeing them together that it had ceased to comment about it. Score one for cupid.

Then not far behind them came Dorothy Harrington, '23, and Phil Frank, '22, both former students of Nevada, and according to people that know them, were both quite attached at the time of their attendance. Score two for cupid.

"DELE" AND "WOODS"

A college friendship that budded into romance in the confines of the Fallon high school reached its culmination in June also, when "Dele" Clinton, '23, and "Woods" Earl Wooster, '22, stood up before Prof. R. C. Thompson for his benediction.

Still another little tete-a-tete flourished beneath the surface all during the last year only to come to light with the marriage license in June. Ethel Brooks and William Gadda, both students, followed the little-god to Susanville, with a very sharp arrow pricking both their hearts, and now they are man and wife.

YORK-PILKINGTON

Hugh Pilkington met Margaret York on the campus when they were both students here, so great was their infatuation that they couldn't wait until June and were married in February, and the "news" didn't leak out until this summer.

And then there were those two which reached a head as soon as school closed, which were non the less romances which were short.

Cupid also dooerved Marion Stoddard, '23, and James A. Morrow, '25, and unable to wait arranged an elopement after the close of college last May. Morrow will be employed by Swift & Co.

This is the immediate evidence that cupid can bring forth to prove his point. If any still remain skeptical, he needs but to turn back to the Alumni directory to show conclusively that a university, at least the University of Nevada, is his best bet as a marriage bureau.

CHAPPELLE WED DURING SUMMER

Benjamin F. Chappelle, Ph. D., Professor of modern language in the University, and Miss Frances A. St. John, of Philadelphia, were married in Philadelphia June 30, the ceremony being performed by Dr. W. H. Vrooman.

"We met five years ago when my wife and I were at the university," said Dr. Chappelle. "We had corresponded ever since then and had made up our minds to marry about a month after commencement at Nevada. When my work for the Nevada district of the University of Pennsylvania fund drive took me east again.

"Miss St. John's interest lies in anthropology and mine in archaeology." Dr. Chappelle's findings in this state have included many prehistoric caves and petroglyphs. He was in charge of the Baker Cave excavations in White Pine County.

Mrs. Chappelle is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and recently took graduate work at that institution and the University of Toulouse.

The Last Landing

PERHAPS the first editorials should begin: "FRESHMEN: You now stand upon the threshold of a new life," but if the incoming frosh are not old enough to realize the fact, they have only to wait a month or so.

On the front page of this edition of The Sagebrush, you will find greeting from the two big men of the Campus, Dr. Walter E. Clark, president of the University and Proctor Hug, president of the Associated Students. It will be unnecessary to go into detail as to the procedure of beginning one's college career. A perusal of the handbook, a sharp watch of the others and you will find yourselves dropping into place.

Things in college will be different. The high school society leader may drop into insignificance, the prep school letter awards, the organization pins and emblems will be tucked away in some nook of the dresser drawer; there will be homesickness; there will be—"Hey frosh, do this and that"; disagreeable duties to perform; the fraternity question; more puppy loves; those "darn dinks" must be worn; other classes will take every opportunity to show their superior social stature. Command after command will be shouted at the "babes"—and the best thing will be to obey, keep a stiff upper lip at all times, stick to it, and everything will come out all right in the end. It always does.

Finally there will come an undefinable "something," gradually, slowly, surely. It will grasp and hold you, you won't be able to break away, you won't want to. That "something" is, in Campus parlance, "Nevada Spirit." Somewhere there is a different, a stronger name for it—but no one has found it yet.

This spirit thing is what makes the University, and you, being a component part of the University, will help in that making.

It may take weeks, maybe months, for this "thing" to arrive. Perhaps it will come at a dance, in the classroom, perhaps in the moonlight as you stroll along the Campus, or in the bleachers at Mackay field. When it comes you'll wonder what hit you.

—And then you will be a real Nevadan. You will want to boost, you won't be able to stop from boosting. You will have undying faith in Nevada. She will be your school always.

Take this chance, this college education, that you have been dreaming of for the last five or six years, remember it is the last landing in the stairway of life; it is here that you are made or broken; remember that "What man has done, man can do."

Sportsmen Wanted

IN just a few days now a notice will be posted on the bulletin board. It will read something like this:

"All Men Interested In Football Turn Out Tonight On Mackay Field."

This sign will be one of the big things in the University year. It will be the official bugle call to action. Oddly enough it will be the first hint to the world that the University of Nevada has again begun to function. Not every man who answers that notice will make the team; not every man will be cheered by an exultant mob of fellow students; not every one will be able to proudly exhibit a big Block N on his sweated chest—but the men who do turn out, those who curse and sweat under a stifling pile of human flesh; those who are reprimanded, left home, when the team takes a trip, as well as the mighty Wolf Pack, are the heroes, the idols of the Campus. The University needs them. They are all real sportsmen.

If undergraduates are to have real games, they must do their own coaching, take charge of their own teams, develop their own strategy, work out their own discipline, the team must be theirs and they must win or lose on their own efforts. —Alexander Meiklejohn.

One of the most difficult problems at the University today is the securing of thinking time. It is left to the individual.

He is a wise student who recognizes a good show when he sees it advertised.

QUADODOLOGY

By Casper

Registration is one of the fine, clean American pastimes that is most entertaining and greatly enjoyed by the better class of youthful America.

Let us imagine, therefore, that you are John Doe, a lad of some eighteen summers about to embark upon that tangible, delicate game known as a college career. You have just arrived from, let us say, Los Angeles, and are proud of it. This, however, is a false attitude and it is better to change it normally. If not—but let us not digress.

You will walk up to the campus, or, if you have 25 cents, take a taxi. Any one will do—$453.20, stepping in with either the right or left foot. Upon your arrival you will be greeted by one. Don't feel badly. Remember you are neither Mr. Addison Sims of Seattle nor the football captain.

Seeing a group of well dressed young people in line, you approach with the following question:

"Is this where to register at?" You will immediately be knocked down by some meek-looking professor who has answered the question 3,993,876,432 times. Remembering you are a gentleman, and from Los Angeles, pull yourself together and stagger on.

After three hours of intense study you will find where the cards are kept and endeavor to approach. Three hours later you will reach the window. At this point let me give you a little advice. Repartee is the sign of true wit and here is your chance to display it not only to 850 students but to 10 professors who will later have you in their classes.

The lady at the window will ask: "What is your name?"

You reply: "Guess."

She will then guess, "President Coolidge."

You say: "No, guess again."

She then guesses, "Alice Ben Bolt."

You answer: "No, I'll play a charade and you guess."

If possible, one of the women and several of the men will now enter into the spirit of the sport and help you. Procure one hat one skirt, and, if handy, a spinning wheel. Take your position on the lefthand side of the hall. In a gruff voice, the play then begins.

"My roommate Miles Standish thinks you are a pretty nasty number. He wants to know when he can hang the aluminum."

Now cross to the other side of the hall, don the borrowed garments, except, of course, the spinning wheel, and answer in the voice of a maiden who has not taken to cigarette smoking. "Why don't you speak for yourself?"

Then, raising your eyebrows, look enquiringly at the registrar. The immediate answer will be, "John."

Everyone laughs boisterously, except, of course, you, and they now know your first name.

The second name, Doe, is harder to portray. Three quill pens and a lesson in bird sounds helps matters, but Rome wasn't built in a day.

Climb the first flight of stairs and lean over the balcony. It will be well to have the floor cleared. For this purpose clear your throat noisily and make a hissing noise through your two front teeth—providing, of course, you have front teeth.

When the stage is set, step upon the railing, place the quill pens in your head and make a noise as much as possible like a doe. Leap from the railing. You will only break your legs and, if lucky, six ribs. This might be disconcerting to some people but you are a sport from the word go.

Have the two nearest men carry you to the registrar, who will clap her hands in glee and yell, "Good! Your name is Cuckoo!"

Don't give up. Procure two crutches which some medical student has brought up, prance up the stairs. Once more climb upon the railing and repeat the following conversation.

Meek voice: "Have you a cold in your head?"

Gruff voice: (Much the same as the big bear use when asking "Who ate my porridge?") "Doe, Doe, Doe."

The registrar immediately gets it, but the howling mob must be further shown.

Place the quill pens once more in your head, and yelling, "Here I doe, doe, doe"—leap from the rail.

If your ancestors came over in the Mayflower and lived—you will wake up two weeks later in the University hospital and will have forgotten your identity. This, however, you laugh off while digesting your quinine.

Registration is now over as well as the Campus Players initiation. You are lost. Procure a stout piece of rope, one gun and two gallons of carbolic acid. Swagger down to the lake, imitating as much as possible Walter Hiers. Embark upon the raft the Glee Club has left there and shove off. Fasten the rope firmly about your body and jump. While in midair, drink the acid.

You are now under what is known as the influence of liquor. This does not daunt you. As you reach the water on the way down, load the gun, aim at your head and fire. When the smoke has cleared away the raft will remain and part of the rope.

You are now dead but the consolation still remains that sixes do beat fours—if they do—and you know what a whale of a difference a few sense makes.

MANY NEW BOOKS ARE AT LIBRARY

Three hundred and seventy new books have been added to the Library shelves since May. They include many bound volumes of magazines, books on technical subjects, dairying and agriculture, historical fiction, pedagogy, class texts and one tome on "The Moonlight School."

Galsworthy's "White Monkey," "The Electron" by Millikan, the Autobiography of Robert La Follette, "The Elizabethan Stage" by Chambers and several books by Joseph Conrad are also included.

Two new shelves of easy access are selections from "1000 Best Books" compiled by Asa Don Dickenson, head librarian of the University of Pennsylvania; and Recent Accessions.

TROUBADORS on the TRAM

HOMESICK
I want the hills,
The sharp sound of twig snap
beneath my step,
The sudden rush of pebbles down the path,
And the good feeling of hard rock
underfoot;
The quick cool rush of wind from shadowed canyon,
And the tang of pine pitch burned by a summer sun.

I want the hills,
The flutter of an aspen leaf, and then
The awful hush which always comes before the dropping of a cone
From needled bough to needle-covered earth,
The stark beauty of some open glade brazen in its barrenness.

SONG WITHOUT WORDS
What need for words, when every note
Brings memories that lightly float
Within my heart like drifted leaves
Upon a restless autumn breeze

What need for words, when shy caress
Of sound can mean such loveliness?
To hear, to dream; to dream, to get,
And so to know that love is yet.

A note so soft—like fluttered wing
Of a grey bird about to sing;
Or like the opening of a flower
That lives a life within an hour

No other thing can give one rest
Like that which is by all possessed
The hills, the trees, the flowers, birds,
A poem, beauty, Song Without Words.

QUARTET OF 4-YEAR MEN LEAVE GRID

SPUD, DICK, BABE, AL, ALL STARS, WILL BE MISSING, SEPT. 26

Four year men on a Varsity football team are rare even in the smaller colleges where the players are allowed to try for their letter each year they attend school but when the Nevada Varsity lines upon Mackay field September 26 there will be four men missing from the squad that the teachers have called for many times in the past few years, and each vacancy has been left by a four letter man. Spud Harrison, Dick Gridley, Al Lowry and Babe Carlson are the four men who have fought battle after battle with the Wolves, fought for Nevada when her team was still called the Sagehens, and have now given up their places to other men who will try and follow their example and leave an equally brilliant blaze of glory in their path.

PROF. R. L. LEACH ATTENDS COLUMBIA HISTORY CLASS

Professor R. L. Leach attended the summer session of the Columbia University, working for his doctor's degree in history. Several of his classes were under Dr. Carlton J. Hayes, noted historian.

HARRISON WILL LINE UP WITH OLYMPIC CLUB

Leslie ("Spud") Harrison one of the shining stars on Mackay field for four consecutive years, will be on the lineup for the Olympic Club of San Francisco this fall with the opening of the football season.

Harrison holds the distance record for punting a football game in the new California stadium and is recognized as one of the best ends on the coast besides the name he has won for himself as standing guard on the basketball court. It has been reported that Harrison was married to Doris Craven, '28, yesterday but this could not be confirmed early this morning.

Eloise Harris, '24, spent three weeks in Reno as the guest of Madame Gallotti. During her stay she visited old friends and also continued her vocal training under the supervision of her hostess.

Edward G. Sutherland, assistant professor of business administration, spent the summer at the University of California taking graduate work in political science.

Hazel Murray, '22, is to attend the University of Washington this year to take up work for her master's degree.

Mae Ramelli, '26, will complete her college education at the Southern Branch of the University of California.

Letitia Sawle, '24, enjoyed a month's trip to Alaska during August. She has accepted a position in the Tonopah Grammar school and will return there next week.

Dr. Maxwell Adams, vice-president of the University, spent some time in touring California.

"Bob" Weede, '23, is principal of the Dayton school for the coming year.

Howard Caldwell, ex '23, now attending Annapolis Naval academy, was in Reno last week.

Tess Chambers, '27, spent her vacation in Sacramento.

Chester Scranton, '24, Lyle Trabert, '15, and Clem Shurtleff, '23, will teach in the Sparks High School this year.

Mrs. Claussen, house mother of the Tri Delta, is unable to be with the sorority again this year on account of illness.

Dorothy Ross, '23, former instructor on the Hill, and Ethel Perkins, '23, are spending a month or so at the Tri Delta House.

RUBYIAT OF A COLLEGE MAN

BY H. G. WITWER

FROM SON TOM TO HIS FATHER

Dear Pater: Well, in a few more hours I'll be standing before the portals of rear old Hoorah, where I'm to spend the worst part of the next four years, provided, of course, that nothing untoward occurs to your bankroll. You must be careful, won't you, Dad? You cannot imagine what a comfort it is to me to know that you were—er—light across the chest, as Uncle Joe says laughingly, and saved your money so that I could begin putting it freely into circulation. Of course, Dad, you may be sure that I will do that to the royal family's taste, as I realize I owe you the joy of knowing daily that your son is in a position to spend with a lavish hand and deny himself nothing. How your eyes will shine with pride when I send you next month's bills! I wish I could be there to share your pleasure, but perhaps it is better this way.

Coming out here on the train I met a fine bunch of fellows who are all going to "Hoorah." One of them was "Bunny" Williams, the interscholastic champion, and Pater, you would hardly believe how friendly and democratic he was with everyone, in spite of the fact that he is said to have done a hundred yards in less than nine seconds! He has already promised to teach me how to strike a heroic attitude and compose by features smilingly when I break the tape at the finish of a race, so that the photographs of the same will not show me strained and uncomfortable, as I naturally would be if I was not looking at the camera.

Then there is "Narrow" Hayden, a tall, slim, long-haired and poetic-looking fellow, who is a tortoise-shell spectacle addict and gives the external appearance of a gloomy grind, and who was fired out of prep school either four or eighteen times for studying Sappy Stories instead of algebra and etc.

All the other fellows admitted being distinguished in one way or the other, and, of course, I allowed my imagination to gambol about with theirs. The result was that I floundered like water, and if Ananias had been there he would probably have taken carbolic acid out of pure pique. The talk finally drifted to our fathers, some of whom are in heaven, but on the whole many very complimentary remarks were made about our respective parents, considering the opportunity we had to knock. It seems that some of these fellows' masculine parents are associated with J. P. Morgan and Jack Rockefeller, and the poorest of the lot is down to his last billion. They boasted in a gentlemanly way, if that can be done, about their ancestry, but Dad, I made them all quit when I disclosed the fact that you operated a garage and automobile repair shop.

They all looked awed at being in the company of a son of a direct descendant of Captain Kidd. In an effort to put them at their ease I suggested an informal crap game. Well, Pater, to make a long story short (clever expression that and a bit new, what?) I was practically the host at this game and lost some of the hundred dollars you gave me—$98.75 to be exact. So you can see that I am holding my end up in good shape and falling quite naturally into the ways of millionaire's progeny. I have made up my mind, Pater, that I will never disgrace you by acting as though I were poor, as you will readily see, from the first bills I send you.

Apropos of "send," please send me $150 at once, as I want to get some dancing pumps and other little accessories to my studies. You can charge the $150 on somebody's repair bill under the head of "labor" as usual, you know.

Well, I will have to close now as "Narrow" Hayden has in some way become acquainted with two girls who are extremely easy to gaze upon and he is going to introduce me to them, although he doesn't know that yet. In my next letter I will tell you all about my studies, professors, quarters and all that sort of rot. So far, I like college life immensely!

Your affectionate son,
TOM.

TO HAVE OVER FIFTY ROOMS IN NEW THREE STORY ANNEX

 Fowler has charge of the general construction at $31,249, and William Wagoner has contracted for the heating and plumbing installation at $8,600.

There will also be an elevator in the building—for express.
Lincoln Improved
 Lincoln Hall, men's dormitory, has undergone extensive alterations during the summer vacation. Hardwood floors have been placed on the downstairs hall and the library and parlor.

The apartment of Professor Lench, master of the hall, has also been completely overhauled and redecored, so the whole place is new and fresh for the occupants.

New flower beds in front of Manzanita Hall, the women's dormitory, and clumps of shrubs in the corners of the lawn in front of Lincoln Hall, men's dormitory, are some of the new features in campus improvements which greet the returning students.

New Walk
 Sidewalk has been laid between the Lake street entrance and University avenue, and the whole stretch of hillside below the ditch and above the new sidewalk has been planted with lawn and flower beds so that it blooms as one of the beauty spots of the campus.

Ninth street, between Lake and University avenue, has also been paved. The bare spots on the football gridiron and elsewhere over the campus have been sodded.

Joe Lynch, superintendent of grounds, has been in consultation with local gardeners during the summer and as a result new and wider expanses of lawn, dotted in strategic places with flower beds, serve to add beauty to the University grounds.

Harold Hughes, '24, left Reno the middle of August for the University of Ohio, where he intends to take post-graduate work.

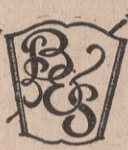

Louis Golton, '07, of the staff of the Sonoma Valley high school, California, for the past eight years, recently visited his father in Reno.

"Where College Men Will Meet"

Oft times one is momentarily lost in naming a meeting place, centrally located, and at the same time one that is agreeably pleasant in its general atmosphere, where one may be satisfied to meet his friends, or they him.

Our new store at 151 North Virginia Street, almost on the corner, is ideally located in the heart of the business district, advantageously reached from all parts of the city.

Its interior is pleasing—beautiful in design, rich in finish, with that comfortable appearance that puts you at your ease instantly. Moreover, there's an atmosphere of congeniality and good-fellowship about it that you'll feel, and like.

The displays of current merchandise may be accepted as a criterion of the latest styles and materials for men's wear. There is an abundance of good things—fancy hose in the latest stripes and checks, shirts and neckwear in wonderful patterns and colors, Society Brand Clothes in the new Fall styles and fabrics—everything that the college man needs and wants.

The same boys who served you in the old "Society Shop" are here in their new store to serve you in a bigger and better way.

Altogether, it is a man's store—a store for college men who demand the latest and the best.

We extend to you our earnest invitation to make this store your regular meeting place. We shall be delighted to renew our old acquaintances; we offer a hearty welcome to the new.

WOMEN HAVE ACTIVE SEASON PLANNED IN VARIOUS SPORTS

Women's Athletic Association Stands for One Hundred Per Cent Sportsmanship In All Hill Activities

BY "BUGS" HUNLEY

There are students pendentic.
There are students plumb keen
There are students romantic
And students—well—green!
There are students just lovely
There are students one adores,
There are students that are ugly
And some are such bores!
But the student most jolly
I think you'll agree
Is the student who's an athlete
'Cause she's a sport—
Don't you see!

A little poem applied to the modern woman and particularly to members of the Woman's Athletic Association. This organization has made wonderful progress in the University and with the new president Evalyn Nelson in charge should make this year a rip-smorter for women's athletics.

The object of the W. A. A. is to make real, all-round women of all its members. Co-eds must have at least one hundred points in athletics to be eligible for a membership in this organization. These hundred points are given to everyone who qualifies for a position on a first team in baseball, basketball, hockey, soccer, volleyball or track. Points can also be made in hiking; a point a mile being allowed for all trips of over five miles on which there are

FIRST CO-ED FAINTED WHEN TRAM WAS PAINTED THOSE MANY MOONS AGO

"Sweet summer breeze, whispering trees, stars shining softly above," as of yore but the charm of it all has flown for the turtle doves that in the past lined the unblinking tram. No longer can the enthusiastic, promising young fresh sheik hill and coo to his little Sheba, tell her loving nothings.

The tram has been painted! It has been painted a beautiful version of paris green, the kind that is so deadly to insects. The question is, "Will it prove equally deadly to snakes?"

Light tinted colored frocks and fake golf togs will shine up like a harvest moon in Min-e-so-tah against the paris green. They will no longer blend into the scenery and be forgotten.

two or more members of the W. A. A. Fifty points are given for a position on a second squad.

Initiated At Park
Last semester the W. A. A. held their initiation picnic at Idlewild Park and over twenty-five of the women attended.

Several clever skits were presented and after dark a huge bonfire was lighted and the actors and audience alike enjoyed a big feed. The Association was in charge of the basketball banquet at the close of last season and everyone agrees that it was a grand success. The women all assembled at the Golden hotel where a table had been set for fifty. Between courses there were speeches by the coaches and captains and later suits were given by each team in turn. The '27 team, with a clever act, including a boxing match which resulted in a draw.

Has High Aim
But the real object of the W. A. A. is not entertainment but the promotion of better sports for women. Co-operation was necessary in order that the greatest benefits could be achieved for the largest number and so the society was organized. Under the able leadership of Anna Maude Stearn, ex-president, the association started a many things which it will take years to really complete and so the incoming members have a big job cut out for them.

Much of the success of women's athletics and the entire association has been due to the wonderful assistance of Coach Champlain. There are ten commandments by which a good sport is judged on the Hill; they have been compiled by Miss Champlain as follows:

1. Thou shalt not quit.
2. Thou shalt not alibi.
3. Thou shalt not gloat over winning.
4. Thou shalt not be a poor loser.
5. Thou shalt not take unfair advantage.
6. Thou shalt not ask odds thou art unwilling to give.
7. Thou shalt not underestimate an opponent.
8. Thou shalt not overestimate thyself.

9. Thou shalt root with all thy might.
10. Honor the game thou playest for he who playeth the game straight and hard, wins even when he loses.

EIGHT PROFS ARE ADDED TO FACULTY ROLL

Three Are Graduates With Nevada Classes

Nine new professors and instructors have been added to the teaching staff of the University during the summer. In addition to these, two men, Lawrence ("Buck") Shaw and R. H. McCarthy, are returning to Nevada after absence of a year, and three Nevada graduates are coming to teach for the first time.

The new members come from widely scattered colleges and universities. Miss Edith M. Ruebsam, a graduate of the Teachers' College of Columbia University, is to take the place of Miss Jo Hodges as assistant professor of education. Miss Ruebsam has been primary rural supervisor in Sonoma county, California. She was on leave from the California State Teachers' college during 1924-1925.

To replace Hardy L. Shirley as instructor in mathematics, Charles Louis Searcy, A. M. University of California, 1923, has been engaged. Instructor Searcy received his earlier degree (B. C. E.) from Purdue in 1891, and his

C. E. from that institution the following year.

Two Econ Profs

Two instructors in the increase in economics and business administration department. Elmer Pendell, A. M., will serve as instructor in economics and sociology. He is a graduate of University of Oregon, and received his master's degree from the University of Chicago in 1923. He was an instructor in economics at Cornell University from 1923 to 1925.

William Reginald Blackler, M. S. in economics, California, 1925, will instruct in business administration and economics. He was a teaching fellow in the University of California, 1924-1925.

Sigmund Leifson, Ph. D., will replace Dr. Perry Byerly as instructor in physics. Dr. Leifson received his baccalaureate degree from North Dakota State Agricultural College in 1922 and since then has been a teaching fellow in physics at the University of California where he received his Ph. D. in 1925.

Biology Staff Increased

James W. Cunningham, B. S., is coming to the department of biology as instructor. This new addition brings the number of teachers in the department to four. Cunningham received his degree in education at Missouri University this year.

McKean Carter has been appointed fellow in chemistry. He will take the place of Mrs. Verna Stumpf Patterson. His A. B. was received at Drury College, 1925.

Lawrence T. Shaw, former football line coach, is returning to the University this fall as head football coach.

Shaw is bringing with him Robert R. Phelan, a former teammate from Notre Dame, who will serve in the capacity of backfield coach. Phelan was formerly star fullback on the Notre Dame team and last season was with the Rock Island professional team.

R. H. McCarthy, M. E., is returning as assistant professor in electrical engineering after a year's absence spent in graduate study at Cornell.

Austin, Smyth, McElroy

Three Nevada graduates are entering the professional ranks for the first time. Two are regular instructors and one is assistant in the agricultural experiment station.

Luehtal Austin, B. A. '24, will be instructor in English, replacing Dorothy Ross. Miss Austin has been teaching in Southern California since her graduation.

William I. Smyth, B. S. Mines '14, has been appointed instructor in metallurgy and analyst for the state mining laboratory. Since he graduated as gold medalist of his class, he has been connected as engineer with mining companies in Utah and Nevada and has also been employed by the Troy Laundry company of Reno.

J. J. McElroy, B. S. Agriculture, '25, has been appointed scientific assistant in the Nevada experiment station.

F. B. Headley has been appointed chief of the department of farm development in the agricultural extension division.

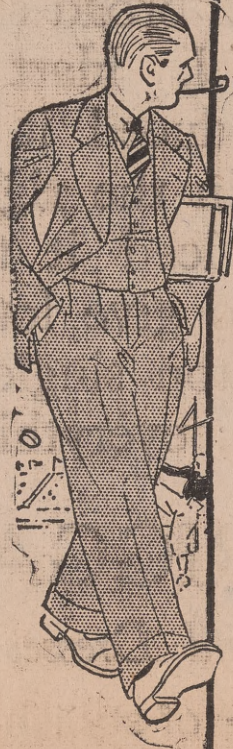

NEV

A. L. HIGGINBOTHAM MOVES INTO NEW OFFICE AT 105

A. L. Higginbotham, assistant professor of English, has moved his office from room 201 to room 105 in the Education building. His old office will be utilized by the increased staff of the business administration department.

 there are plenty of prospects ready to step into their shoes as soon as the call is sent out. Carlson and Gridley leave two big holes in the line but there are four men now waiting to plug them up in a hurry. Gutteron will fill the quarter position left open by the loss of "Spud" Harrison; although he is small and cannot boot in a class with the exception his speed will make him invaluable in the new shift game. Too, when it comes to barking signals there are not many ahead of "Pee Wee." It will be necessary to find a new man with exceptional ability to take the place of Al Lowry and make it as strong as it has been for the past three years but with five huskies at present to choose from Phelan should not have a great deal of trouble.

Bright Outlook—Martie
 "It is too early to say definitely, but we expect to have some good varsity material show up that will help to fill the gap left by the graduating members of last year's team," J. E. (Doc) Martie said yesterday.

Besides the varsity program for this year a schedule is being arranged for the graduation route but this season Nevada lost four good men by the graduation route but included games with other fresh and the state. Although freshmen are allowed to play on the varsity there are a great many players who come into college and need the opportunity to compete with older fellows before they are ready for the grind of varsity play; and so the fresh team should rate a number of prospects for future seasons.

Santa Clara Interesting
 Santa Clara should prove the most interesting game of the season as there has been a tie score for the past two seasons and Shaw is out for battle particularly as Walsh with whom he has played, is now coaching at the California college. The two squads will be using the same system and the game is to be played on Mackay field and so the rest remains to be seen.

The St. Mary's scrap promises to be interesting as they have an exceptionally good team this season and although it will be staged from home Nevada is primed to give them a big battle for the defeat they handed us last year on our own gridiron.
 Of course the contest with the University of California is always a drawing card and this year more so than ever; as Nevada has the material for a Wolf Pack, who can give the Bear another scare as they did in 1923 when they pulled a surprise and held the Bruins to a zero tie.

Ignatius Is First

First on the schedule for this season is the contest with Saint Ignatius College of San Francisco and should prove an easy win for the Wolves if dope stands up. The arguments with the California Agricultural College, College of the Pacific, and Fresno State Teachers' College all look easy as far as can be judged. Dope sheets are made to be broken so early in the season. However, the games a regular scrap for bacon, and a fluke may make any one of

All of the teams to be played this season with the exception of California and Arizona are members of the new Far Western Conference and so Nevada stands a real chance of bringing in a title to the Hill this semester. It will be the first time that the Wolves have not had such overwhelming competition that the sporting chance was lacking and as things look at this time they are ready to take it to their best advantage.

LAHONTAN BOOK BY PROF. JONES NOW OFF PRESS

"The Geologic History of Lake Lahontan," by Dr. J. Claude Jones, professor of geology and mineralogy, is now off the press.
 The thesis is under the heading of "Quaternary Climates" and is incorporated in publication No. 352 of the Carnegie Institute of Washington, who has also printed the extract.
 The booklet deals wholly with the geology phase of the great Lake Lahontan; its history, duration, run-off outlines, area, depth, and fauna.
 The work was prepared by Dr. Jones as a thesis for his Ph. D. degree.

EARTHQUAKE CAUGHT ON UNIVERSITY SEISMOGRAPH

An earthquake of short duration was registered on the seismograph in the Mackay School of Mines building Wednesday morning at 4:17. Professor J. Claude Jones was of the belief that the disturbance was centered in Montana.

FALL SCHEDULE LINED UP FOR COED ATHLETES

Soccer, Hockey and Volley Ball On List

Soccer, volleyball and perhaps hockey are on the fall schedule for the women athletes. Last year there was an exceptionally large turn-out for these sports and Coach Champlain has great hopes for some good teams this semester.

With several prominent all-state players entering with the class of '29 a new element of strong competition will be introduced. The spirit of rivalry between the classes of '27 and '28 is still rather hearty and with three really heavy teams in the field the games should be fast and hot.

Soccer should be the real drawing card of the season as it takes the place of women's football, however, will make high-bid for the honors.

With the field in fine shape the squads should get under way in a hurry and have some good practice before the cold weather forces the teams to the indoor games.

PROF. PALMER IS ILL WITH TYPHOID

Stanley G. Palmer, professor of electrical engineering, is ill at his home with typhoid fever. He became ill three weeks ago when he was about to leave Reno and return to Sacramento to write an experiment he had been working on there during the summer. Medical authorities are unable to state at the present time whether he will be able to return to his university work this semester.

STRICT RULES TO GOVERN MEN

ATHLETIC ELIGIBILITY REQUIREMENTS ARE HIGH THIS YEAR

Eligibility requirements for participation in intercollegiate contests are to be revised to conform to the requirements of the Far Western Conference of which the University of Nevada is now a member.

At a meeting of the faculty recently this was passed as a resolution. The requirements in brief are as follows:
 1. Contestants must be amateurs.
 2. Contestants shall have presented 15 Carnegie units for entrance.
 3. Contestants must be registered in at least 12 hours of university work.

4. Contestants must be satisfactorily carrying two-thirds of the normal requirements of the course in which they are registered one week prior to the first conference game. If declared eligible at that time they shall be considered eligible for the rest of the season.

5. Contestants shall have passed two-thirds of their normal requirements of their course the preceding semester.

The catalog will be revised to conform to these requirements.

RECORDS, VAWTER ATTEND OREGON VETERINARY MEET

Dr. Edward Records, director of the veterinary control service, and Dr. Lyman R. Vawter, pathologist in the veterinary control service, represented Nevada at the Portland, Oregon, meeting of the American Veterinary Association.

Dr. Vawter presented a paper before the assembly on new cattle diseases, their causes, control and cures.

RUSHING RULES TO BE ENFORCED THIS SEMESTER

Parties and Gifts Are Deleted From Game REGULATIONS OUT Fraternity Plans For Rushing Are Not Known

All new women matriculating at the University are being given a copy of the rushing rules passed at the last meeting of the Panhellenic this morning. It is thought that this will prevent any unfair advantage being taken either of the sorority or of the rushee.

At the same time it was voted and passed that the first week of college would be merely an establishing of friendly relations, and that the following two weeks were to be devoted to more intensive rushing. For a while Panhellenic considered sophomore-bidding, but this was finally discarded. The reason being that the campus is not large enough, or the sororities old enough to profit by this method.

No large parties are to be given this year. One tea is being allowed each organization, and this only with an expense limit. No prospective members are to be entertained at luncheon or dinner either downtown, in private homes, or in the sorority houses. Sunday is closed for rushing, and 8 o'clock is the time limit every day of the week. Whether the fraternities are going to carry out the suggestions of the Interfraternal Council for a six weeks' rushing period is not definitely known; otherwise for the men it continues to be "open season."

WOLF DEN WILL OPEN TOMORROW

The Wolf Den, minus the soda fountain and rearranged somewhat, will be open and ready to pacify food craving students Monday or Tuesday.

Lyle will be absent as the Den has changed hands. C. B. Banner will take charge and his wife will endeavor to soothe hungry stomachs in the efficient manner that only Curley could command last year.

The only radical change made in the cooking equipment has been the addition of a new waffle outfit that is guaranteed to turn out strawberry waffles as fast as they can be eaten.

Albert Lewers, '92, head of the chemistry division of the government patent office in Washington, recently visited the Lewers Ranch at Franktown.

William M. Hoskins, associate professor of chemistry, conducted research work at California.

Nevada's Traditions

The University stands for all that is honorable in the matter of examinations. The Honor system has never been adopted at Nevada and so far there has been no need of it. There is a certain enmity existing between the sophomores and the freshmen classes. Manzanita Lake is the center of the rushes between the two classes. Ducking, known as "lacking" is the punishment for unruly students unless otherwise decreed.

Lacking this year will be held immediately behind the Agriculture building. Posters are pasted on walks only to inform freshmen of accepted traditions.

It is the duty of the freshmen class to keep the "N" upon the hill white-washed. The Block "N" society will

An additional bowling alley has been placed in the basement and the other two alleys have been re-surfaced, making a first class bowling equipment. The hand ball court has been remodeled which will add greatly to this popular sport. In addition to this, the gymnasium, showers, and swimming tank are at the disposal of the University men every day and evening of the week.

The tickets may be secured at any time by calling at the office of the association in the building on Front street.

At student body meetings or assemblies, seniors occupy the front rows of seats, juniors behind them, and so on, the freshmen being always careful to keep behind fellow students of higher standing.

At football games freshmen will occupy the front rows of seats.

ABOUT "CORDS"
Tradition dictates certain articles of clothing for the men of different classes. Only seniors wear the sombrero, only upper classmen wear corduroys. Freshmen are obliged to wear the dink during their first semester.

No one is to smoke on the Campus between sunrise and sunset, including Saturday, Sunday and holidays.

Only senior men shall wear the moustache, except during the junior Whiskerino, dates of which are definitely designated.

Students of all classes are at all times held responsible to know the contents of bulletins posted on the official bulletin board.

Freshmen are at all times expected to have on their person a copy of the Associated Students Handbook. All students are required to learn by heart the University hymn "U. of N. So Gay" and to stand when the hymn is being played or sung.

THE DANCES

Each class gives a formal dance in the Gymnasium each year, the freshmen Glee being the most elaborate of all. The order of these dances is: Sophomore Hop and Junior Prom during the first semester, and Freshmen Glee and Senior Ball during the second semester.

Mackay day is celebrated annually in honor of Clarence H. Mackay, the University's foremost benefactor. On this day men clean the Campus and women prepare a dinner to be served at noon in the Gym.

We wish to extend a Genuine Welcome to all Nevada students both old and young.
