UN JOURNALISTIC TRAINING LAUDED

Interest is being shown in the training Nevada men and women are receiving in the journalism department for editorial and business positions, by the Education Committee of the National Conference of Business Paper Editors, according to a letter received by A. L. Higginbotham, professor of English.

"This," according to Higginbotham, "is a great honor to our college, that these men of national prominence consider the journalism department of the University of Nevada worth recognition."

The journalism department of the University of Nevada has been ranked in Class A, or the first class, by Professor Lawrence W. Murphy, who has been engaged in the study of the status of collegiate instruction in journalism in the United States for two years.

Professor Murphy, is director of journalism in the University of Illinois, and editor of the A. A. T. J., a prominent journalistic paper. He states "Class A are those officially ranked as the best."

In his article to be found in the Publisher's Auxiliary, Murphy classes these colleges, Nevada, Columbia, Missouri, Northwestern, Montana, Oregon, Southern California, Stanford, and Washington, as those ranking in this first class. Every one of these institutions is much larger than Nevada.

AGGIES WANT NO "DOG" AT DANCE

The Annual Aggie dance to be given on Homecoming Day will be the last real get-together occasion for grads and old students for another entire year. To make them feel perfectly at home the affair will be very informal, featuring spicy, cold apple cider and doughnuts. Stunts will also add to the evening's entertainment.

Excessively "doggy" clothing and jewelry will not be permissible according to those in charge so don't be surprised if the young lady at the door looks over critically and says, "Too classy, one dollar please."

Bodies Worthy of The Velie

Did you ever own an automobile that grew old before its time because the body was cheaply built? You will never have that experience with a Velie. Every Velie body is built complete in the great Velie plant and is worthy, in every particular, of America's Long-Life Car.

Both wood and steel are used in Velie bodies—for no other combination of materials will give the quality that Velie must have.

The frame-work is built of the finest hard wood that the markets of the world afford—every inch of it cured to Velie's exacting standards. All joints are fitted to the finest limits known to the wood-workers' craft. And over this rigid frame is fitted an armor of sheet steel that has been especially treated for strength and finish.

The frame-work of wood makes it possible to finish the interior as beautifully and substantially as the finest hand-built furniture—and eliminates the possibility of "closed car rumble."

See the various Velie body types in the salesroom of the nearest Velie dealer. And bear in mind as you inspect them that their beauty is permanent—that their individuality will be as striking in years to come as it is today.

Of eighteen years' production 81% still in use.

HOME COMING AS CELEBRATED AT AT U.O.F.N. IN PAST

NOV. 6, 1920 DATE OF FIRST HOME COMING DAY; A SUCCESS

EACH YEAR MARKED BY GROWTH IN PLANS AND CROWDS

The Homecoming celebration was instituted at the University of Nevada on November 6, 1920, and it proved to be the establishment of a time honored tradition here.

On that day in 1920 a game was played with the Utah Agricultural College which resulted in a victory for Nevada, the score being 21 to 0.

The Alumni Association was so successful in its efforts to get old grads and other who had attended college here, and visitors to come, that more than fifteen hundred people saw the game.

The second annual Homecoming Day was on November 5, 1921. The game was with the University of Utah and the usual victory for Nevada resulted in a score of 28 to 7. Before the game dinner was served in the gymnasium by the Y. W. C. A.

Homecoming Day in the fall of '22 was celebrated on the day of the Nevada-Whitman game, November 11. "Armistice Day" celebration downtown occupied the morning and the University program began in the afternoon with a miniature Engineer's Day performance, which was enjoyed by the many Alumni back on the campus as well as by the students.

In the afternoon Mahlon Fairchild, now owner of the Fairchild Motor Sales Company, gave an automobile to the student who sold the most tickets to the game. Open house prevailed at Lincoln and Manzanita Halls and the fraternities over the week end.

The crowd was the largest ever seen at a Nevada football game up to that time, and they witnessed an overwhelming defeat for Whitman College.

In 1923 Homecoming was held on the day of the Nevada-Santa Clara football game which promised to be hotly contested, due to the tied score of the preceding year.

In addition to the usual routine of affairs on this day, the Alumni Association held their meeting and elected officers, which heretofore had always been done in the spring.

One hundred and thirty-eight grads returned which was an increase of thirty-five over the previous year.

In 1923 the scope of the tradition was widened. Instead of having but one day devoted to the "old grads," two days and three nights were celebrated as Homecoming. This proved to be the most successful Homecoming celebration ever staged.

In 1924 twenty-six hundred visitors and over one hundred alumni, representatives of every graduating class, were welcomed home. The Aggies entertained the Grads with the annual Aggie barn dance.

Homecoming Day last year was held on October 29, 30 and 31. With attendance at a high water mark for the "Big Day" the festivities were not lacking for spectators and old grads. The program included a bonfire rally, the annual Aggie shows and "Oh Susan," presented by Camibus players. The football game, Nevada versus Santa Clara, and the Aggie dance closed one of the best Homecoming Day programs that has yet been given.

Each year the number of alumni attending has increased and every year more elaborate and more successful preparations have been made for their entertainment. This year a greater number of grads are expected to take part in the festivities than ever before.

SOPH HOP PLANS LAID FOR NOV. 6

Plans for the Sophomore Hop, which will be held November 6 in the gymnasium, are progressing rapidly. With class members appointed to collect dues from various groups, the first campaign is moving swiftly along. The "due chasers" claim that all delinquent members will be rounded out and relieved of one dollar fifty.

Proceeds made at the Sophomore hardtimes dance will go towards paying back debts. The class hopes to start out on a clear financial basis.

The dance committee refuse to reveal any secrets concerning the coming dance, and they promise that the affair will be a huge surprise.

GOOD CHARACTER SAID TO BE FIRST ASSET TOWARD GOAL

Allan H. Babcock, consulting engineer for the western division of the Southern Pacific Company, gave a very interesting talk at the A. I. E. E. meeting last Wednesday evening.

Mr. Babcock came here on a special trip from San Francisco to give this talk before the electrical engineering students of the school.

The main object of his address, as he stated it, was to tell what goes to make success and the price that must be paid for it.

"According to statistics," he said, "almost all successful men have become successful due to good character, responsibility, and good common sense, rather than to the technical knowledge they possessed."

"By a vote of thousands of American engineers in executive positions, it was found that the most of them held good character the first asset of the successful engineer. Then came judgment, efficiency, accuracy, knowledge of engineering fundamentals, and lastly, technique."

Personally, Mr. Babcock places dependability, resourcefulness, and initiative first in his analysis of a good engineer. He said that self-respect and loyalty to his superiors and subordinates are the two qualities of the engineer that make him admit his mistakes and face the consequences as a real man should.

RULE BREAKERS TO BE PUNISHED

A. W. S. has succeeded in obtaining a long list of Freshmen girls names who have broken college traditions. All girls have been told and stunts are to be given by them in Assembly period some time in the near future. A notice will be posted on the bulletin board so everyone will know and come to see them perform. It was decided not to have the stunts until Homecoming is over.

FILM LECTURES' NEWEST FEATURE

"News Lecture by Film" is the latest feature introduced by the Lecture Service Bureau of the General Electric Company.

Prof. Palmer of the engineering department last week received a strip of standard motion picture film with nineteen different pictures on it, together with a guide telling what each picture represents.

Each one of these small pictures is a photograph of a piece of machinery lately turned out by the General Electric. Every month they will send out a strip of this film. Prof. Palmer says that he will soon have a good reference library of films if they continue to send them.

The films are being successfully shown by Prof. Palmer as slides with the engineering department's new "Devry Super" portable motion picture projector. This new machine has a special feature which makes it possible to move the film through turning a knob by hand. This enables one to move the film so that it can be shown as a still picture on the screen.

SEARS HONORED BY ASSOCIATION

Professor Sears of the University of Nevada, was elected vice-president of the Division of Chemical Education of the American Chemical Society at a meeting of that organization held during the first part of September.

The Division of Chemical Education is for the purpose of studying methods of chemical education, and investigating various phases of education in order to determine the best means of teaching chemistry.

The American Chemical Society is one of the largest scientific societies in the world, having 15,000 members.

HUGE PUMPKIN PROVES FEATURE OF AGGIE FAIR

A pumpkin weighing nearly 92 pounds and grown on the ranch of the parents of Audrey Springmeyer, '26, is one of the exhibits at the Aggie Day fair this week end. This pumpkin was awarded first prize at the Minden Fair held a few weeks ago.

NINE FRESHMEN THROWN IN LAKE

Wednesday nine Fresh were again called to furnish amusement for the upperclassmen and to have impressed more fully on their minds the meaning of the traditions of the university. The following Fresh broke traditions: Newcomb, A. Powning, Roundtree, Albin, Guisti, Ruan, Germaine, E. D. Howell, and Slaughter. All but three turned up for the "laking," and these three will be listed again.

MORRILL HALL CHOSEN DEBATE HEADQUARTERS

Room 305 Morrill Hall has been chosen as the new headquarters for debaters. All debate gatherings will meet there, the Council, and the High School Forensic League. The Council will meet at this headquarters at 4:15 on Monday, Oct. 25.

NEW FURNITURE TO BE PLACED IN MEN'S HALL

In the near future all of the rooms in Lincoln Hall will be furnished with chiffoniers. Most of the class "A" rooms are equipped with them now. The class "B" and "C" rooms will be made more comfortable and desirable through the addition of these new furnishings.

CLASS OF 1899 LAUDED IN TALK

According to Professor Church there were class reunions or attempts at them before the establishment of the Homecoming Day tradition. One was held back in the days when the University was still at Elko.

In 1923 the class of '99 celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary at homecoming time. At that event Mrs. Theodore Martinis who was Gertrude Calne when she was in college gave a talk maintaining that the class of 1899 was the biggest physically and mentally that the University ever graduated. Mr. Church seemed to think that she came near to proving her point.

Emmet Boyle, Della Boyd, and several others who have achieved more than ordinary things were in the class of '99.

MANY GRADS AT STANFORD GAME

Many of the old grads and former Nevadans are now living around the bay districts in California. This fact was disclosed at the Stanford game when many of the "old familiar faces" appeared in the rooting section to cheer for the Wolf Pack.

By the time the Cardinals and Wolves had taken the field, most of the seats in one of the tiers of the east side of the stadium were filled with Pack supporters. Besides the students who were on hand, a large number had traveled to the game from their homes in that vicinity. The game proved itself to be a meeting place for many old friends and classmates and numerous pleasant reunions among them took place.

Yeh, and the worst of it is the ink runs all through it like a blotter. It'll be a fine mess by the time it gets back. Only an expert will be able to decipher those signatures.

And if the filter papers aren't neat when handed in a double dose of sulphuric acid is promised when initiation takes place. Won't that be tough!

FOURTEEN ATTEND CLUB MEETING FOR WRITERS

On Thursday evening the Writer's Club met at the home of Prof. Ed Duerr with an attendance of fourteen. The contributions of the members were read and criticized, and much interest was shown in this new departure in literary organizations.

"When We Were Very Young" by A. A. Mill was also discussed, and the poems met with unanimous approval.

The next meeting will be held a week from next Thursday.

WOMEN'S DEBATE WILL OPEN NEW STATE BUILDING

MANY NEW FEATURES TO BE INTRODUCED IN DISCUSSION

The official opening of the new state building will be celebrated by the debate between women of the University of Nevada and of the University of California, on Tuesday evening, October 26. This debate is not only the latest entirely women's debate in the history of Nevada inter-collegiate contests but it is also the first debate with the University of California.

Many features of this debate are new and striking, in that it inaugurates a new debate schedule with prominent colleges of the West; it is the first "no decision" debate in which the audience will have an opportunity to vote on the merits of the question rather than the quality of the debate, ever held in Reno.

The question, Resolved: "That it is wrong to break unpopular laws" will be a pertinent discussion of the violation of the Prohibition amendment. The debate will follow the Oxford style; informal, humorous discussion, which the public should find more interesting than the former style of debate has been.

It will be the meeting of master versus pupil when Edwin Duerr, new debating coach, places his teams against the teams of Professor Edward Z. Rowell, debating coach of the University of California and the former's coach.

The program will start promptly at 8 o'clock and will be over by ten o'clock. Season tickets may be purchased for one dollar admitting the holder to all debates of this semester including the Australian debate, the Freshman debate with the College of Pacific, and this debate with the University of California. Single adult tickets may be purchased at the door for fifty cents. Admission to faculty and to students with A. S. U. N. cards will be twenty-five cents.

The visiting debaters will be feted at an informal dinner before the contest, Tuesday, October 26th in the Agricultural building. The dinner will be prepared and served by home economic students. Dr. and Mrs. H. W. Hill are to be the guests of honor; other guests are: Carl Shelly '25, high school debate manager; Emerson Wilson '24, debating manager; the four debaters; and the debating coach.

Elizabeth Johnson '25, and Mary Hancock '20, both from Fallon compose the Negative team which is to debate in Reno. Miss Johnson is a member of Caucus and had variety experience last semester. Miss Hancock was a debater and declaimer in high school and is a member of Clontia. Barbara Bulmer '25 of Reno and Kara Lucas '25 of Fallon, members of the Affirmative team, leave Monday evening for Berkeley. Miss Bulmer has had experience in University debating. Miss Lucas was active in debating when in high school being a member of the State Championship team in 1925. They are both members of Clontia.

UNIQUE EXHIBITS OF MANY TYPES BEING DISPLAYED

VARIED CROPS OF LOCAL GROWERS SHOW EXCELLENCE

A number of exhibits are being shown at the University Barracks at present by farmers from Fallon and Fernley. Warren Miller, one of the main farmers in St. Clair district, has sent several varieties of beans including a new variety from Sweden.

The Mall Brothers who ship large quantities of apples from their farm on Swinnee Bench will show a number of crates of beautiful fruit. Jones and Jewel from the Island District at Fallon will have on exhibit a new variety of hullless oats which they

ENGINEERS DO PRACTICAL WORK IN FIELD SURVEY

Last Saturday Claude Hammond, C. Carrington, and professor Boardman did some extensive underground surveying in an old mine some miles north of Peavine range. Mr. Boardman is taking most of his advanced students out to get practical experience in their work. Much of the advanced engineering work requires this outside work, and the country around Reno offers an excellent field.

They have had very good success in raising. A Yerington farmer, Rudolph Miller, is exhibiting some corn which he raised this summer making a record which is hard to equal. He produced six tons on two and eight-tenths acres.

Beets, wheat, pumpkins and many other kinds of produce are also being shown by H. A. Pinner, Peoples Brothers, John Oats and other farmers of Fallon and Fernley.

PLANS MADE BY CLUB FOR YEAR

PROMOTION OF BETTER SPIRIT BETWEEN NATIONS, AIM

The Cosmopolitan Club met for the first time this semester last Wednesday evening, and Joe Min, president, announced the organization's program of activities for the coming year. In the very near future this club will join the Association of Cosmopolitan Clubs of America. This association has now over forty chapters in American colleges. In most of these schools the organization is among the most popular ones on the campus.

All of the foreign students at this university belong to the club. President Min announces that American students who are interested may join the club until there is an equal number of Americans and foreigners. The club will strive this year to advertise our school in foreign countries, and to promote a better sense of understanding between the foreign and American students.

At every regular meeting of the club there will be speakers from other countries to promote a better understanding between students of our country and those of our foreign birth.

During the past week the members have been busy building a float in the homecoming parade with the objective of putting the organization on the map, and to arouse interest in its activities.

HIGH SCHOOL DEBATING LEAGUE TO BE FORMED

During the Teachers Institute in Reno two weeks ago, plans were discussed for a State High School Debating League. Invitations were sent to the various high schools throughout the state, and it is expected that answers will be received by the 22nd of October from those wishing to join the League. Carl Shelley is in charge of the arrangements.

1909 Designated as Large Homecoming

"We may not have had an official Homecoming day before 1920," said the University's oldest professor, with a merry twinkle in his eye, "but the biggest homecoming day Nevada ever had or will have for a long time was when Clarence Mackay dedicated the bleachers in 1909. The old grads came back for that and for the football game with the Barbarians from San Francisco in the afternoon. Clarence Mackay himself sat in the bleachers and was as wildly excited as any student."

Father of Director Called Lorenzo D. Creel, father of Cecil W. Creel, director of Agricultural Extension, died on October 1 at the age of seventy-four years. Mr. Creel had recently returned from a trip East, visiting the Navajo Indian Reservation on his return. His remains will be taken to Salt Lake City for interment.

Hall Orchestra Plays The Lincoln Hall Orchestra, consisting of C. Hitchings '29, D. Bernstein '29, R. Annand '29, and A. Copeland '29 played at the Majestic Theater last Wednesday evening.

DEBATORS WILL HANDLE TICKETS

Clontia held its regular meeting Wednesday evening in the Educational building. Tickets were given out to be sold by the members of the Women's debate next Tuesday evening in the Nevada State building with U. C. and for the Australian debate later in the semester.

Plans for debates with the Alumni members of Clontia and with the Caucus Club were formed. To conclude the meeting the Freshmen members of the club presented a stunt in the form of a mock trial.

PACK NEARLY UPSETS CARDINALS

Game Today to Practically Decide Conference Title

VARSITY CINDER TRACK OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTEST IN SPORTS HISTORY

ENTIRE LAST YEARS TEAM OF TWENTY LETTER MEN BACK SEVEN SCHOOL RECORD HOLDERS TO BEGIN 1927 SEASON

With a wealth of lettermen back, the 1927 track season looks as if it were going to be the most successful in the history of the school. Nevada is well fortified in an events with experienced men and with the new men that should show up in a certainty to have a very successful season.

Nevada's captain this year is Les Clover, the stellar distance man. Clover's race is the mile which he won consistently last year over some of the best men on the coast. Clover should make an ideal captain and lead his team to another sure conference championship.

Worren, another letterman, also runs a good mile and is sure for points. Ede, the holder of the Nevada two mile record is again in school and looks to be better than ever.

Watson, the holder of the high jump record, is also on the squad again and should set the mark even higher this year. Malindy, another letterman from the high jump, is also back.

In the pole vault Nevada has Leavitt co-holder of the record and Voight a Fresh who holds the state high school record. In the broad jump McLindy, Kline and Bristol are back again and should make this event a point gainer.

In the shot-put and the discs, Max Allen is back again and should gather some more points, while in the javelin, Wiener is back and should add several more feet to his record.

The hundred and two-twenty yard dashes finds Nevada with Robison, the Conference champion, and one of the fastest men on the coast to depend upon. Kellogg can also be depended upon to gain his share of points in the dashes. In the 440 yard dash Nevada is also well fortified with Raycraft, a letter man, and Johnson, a Fresh who won the state high school meet last year.

In the hurdles Nevada seems to be well taken care of for several years having three Sophomores and two Fresh who run a very good lane of hurdles. Towle, the champion of the conference last year in the 110 yard hurdles is back again, as is Brockbank, another letterman who is also counted on to win quite a few points.

In Voight and Hunting two Fresh have the two best hurdles in the high schools last year. Voight is the holder of the state record in the low hurdles while Hunting won the high sticks last year.

In the half mile Hartung, a letterman, is back and should run this distance even faster than he did last year. Lohse, a letterman, of two years ago, is also back again and should place too.

Nevada's relay team should be one of the strong points of the team for the coming season. An abundance of quarter men is the reason for this outlook and unless a good team results something will be radically wrong elsewhere.

Thus with twenty letter men back and an abundance of point getters from last years team besides the usual horde of fresh, Nevada's track outlook is especially brilliant.

FRESHMAN GIRLS WIN AT SOCCER

Proving the upset of the soccer season, the freshman eleven overcame all opponents during the past class tournament and carried home the championship title. Excellent teamwork and heavy passing was displayed at all times by the less experienced players, climaxing in their decided victory over the confident Sophomores by a 4 to 2 score.

With two wins to their credit the Juniors rank as runners-up in the rating of the classes, while Sophomores managed to defeat the Senior team, which was handicapped by a shortage of eligible players, four holding their own well against other full teams of eleven.

DINNER GIVEN IN HONOR OF PACK

The Wolf Pack was feted at a dinner at the Lincoln Hotel in Sparks Tuesday evening with Albert Ayers, Jay Cemons, Jack Grant, Dr. C. E. Rhodes, and W. M. Gardner as the hosts.

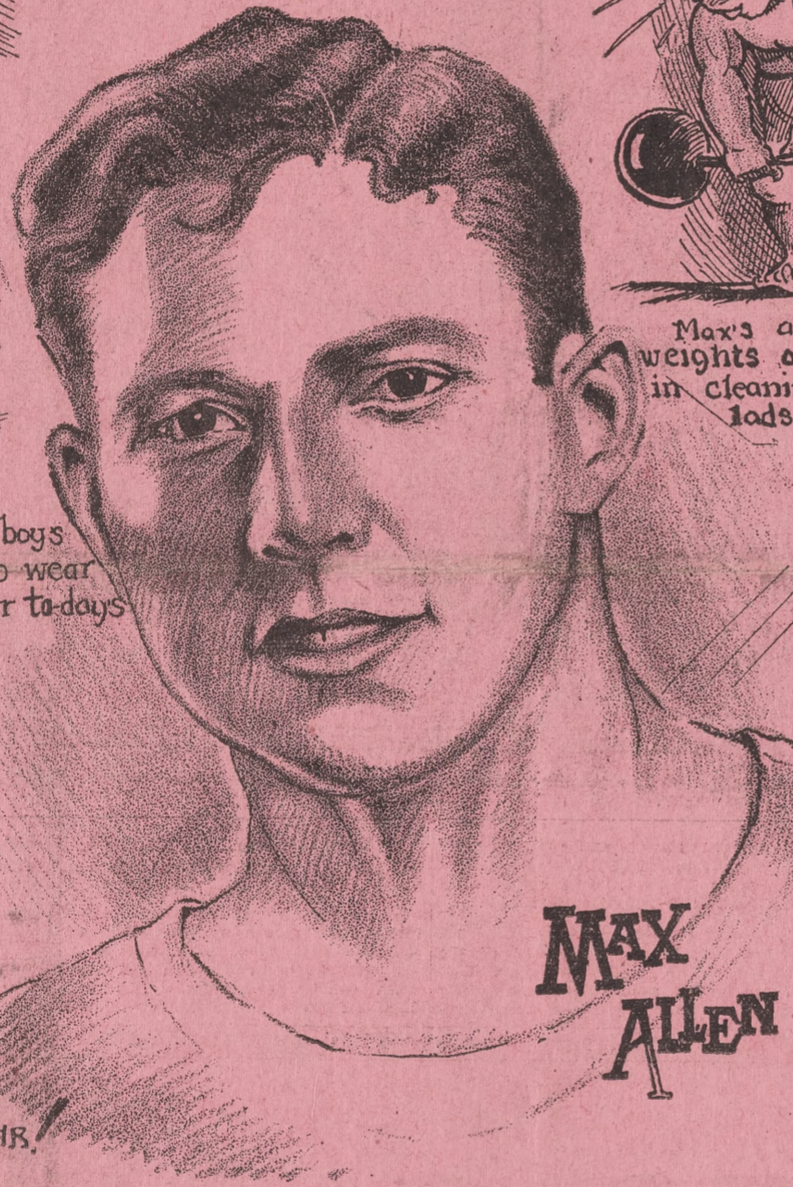

The affair is an annual event given by these men. The entire squad was present. After dinner several speeches were made, all with the same strong tone of confidence in the present team and in the coaching staff, both for the present and the future.

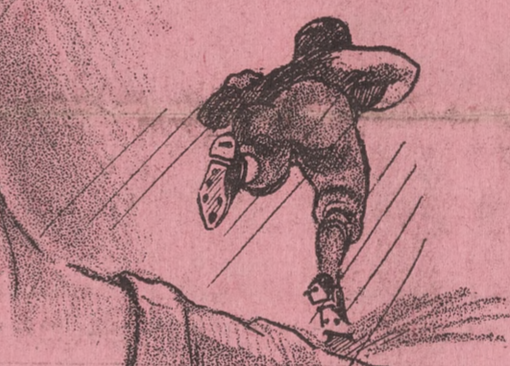

Max and his boys are expecting to wear the laurels after to-days game

HE WILL LEAD THE 1926 WOLF PACK THROUGH A SUCCESSFUL YEAR.

Max's ability to toss the weights ought to help him in cleaning up the St. Marys lads.

MAX'S LINE PRONG NEVER FAILS TO LEAVE ITS IMPRESSION ON THE OPPOSING TEAM.

MANAGERS BERTH SOUGHT BY MANY

A dearth of material for prospective managers is present this year, according to Emory Branch, football manager. He declares that already a number of efficient men are working out for the position, but that there is always room for more at the top.

It is believed that lack of enthusiasm for this activity is due to the underestimation of the importance of a sport manager. Few realize the opportunities enjoyed by one holding the managership. Faithful performance of duties merits a membership to the Block N society, which is the universities greatest athletic honor.

The manager makes trips with athletic teams representing the school and enjoys privileges not attainable by other students. The possibilities of a managership position should prove attractive to men with initiative who have the incentive to do the necessary work to acquire the coveted N and receive other privileges attached to the office.

'TAXI DAY' PLAN MADE BY W. A. A.

Plans for a "Taxi Day" to raise money for the diminished treasury of W. A. A. was discussed by the members at their regular monthly meeting, Tuesday.

A change was made in the awarding of certificates; it being decided to present new initiates with certificates at the time of initiation instead of on Mackay Day as has been the custom.

During the meeting a recitation was given by Ruth Streeter, '29, and the new songs chosen in the recent song contest were sung.

GRID MANAGERS ENJOY BANQUET

Business and raviolas were the main topics of the football managerial staff meeting and banquet held yesterday evening at the Alpine hotel. The staff is making preparations to arrange accommodations for the immense crowd which is expected to attend the biggest conference game of the year this afternoon on Mackay field.

Those present at the meeting were: athletic manager Ray Honrickson, football manager Emory Branch, sophomore managers Bud Stevenson, Dale Bell, John Richardson, Louis Lombardi, freshman managers Del Ray, Coddington, Russell Garcia and Kitzmeyer.

All available portable bleachers will be set up on the sidelines of Mackay field to take care of the overflow of enthusiasts from the main grandstand. Members of the freshman class will be called upon to help get the grounds in condition for the game. The field will be reined and the grandstand cleaned.

Their confidence grew. In the last half, as Stanford came from behind and piled up score after score, the cheering was continued with more pep than ever. Winning or losing, the Pack was cheered with real Nevada spirit.

MANY SEE GAME ON 'GRID-GRAPH'

A crowd that overtaxed the seating capacity of the auditorium in the Education building watched the movements of the Wolves and the Stanford Cardinals on the electric grid-graph last Saturday.

The audience was confident of a Nevada victory, and as the game progressed with the Pack clearly outplaying the mighty Cardinal eleven,

NEVERS STAR OF PRO GRID GAME

Ernie Nevers the big, blonde, all American Fullback from Stanford has lost none of his old time powers as is indicated by his professional football playing. Playing with his professional team, the Duluth Eskimos, Nevers has been a big factor in all of their victories. In last Saturday's game his team made five touchdowns and he was directly responsible for all of them.

In a report from the Racine News in whose town Nevers played last Saturday, the following appears, "Ernie Nevers is showing up as the best individual player in football. Ernie is the best all around man seen in these parts." It looks like Ernie is finally parts. It takes a real star to show in the company that he is playing and Nevers is more than showing convincing the East that real football is played West of the Rocky Mountains.

NEVADANS SHOW SPIRIT AT GAME

One of the largest Nevada crowds that has ever gathered at a football game away from home assembled on the eastern side of the Stanford stadium last Saturday. The Nevada rooting section showed lots of pep and when Bob Stewart, '27, and Ralph McIwaine, '28, called for a yell, the gang made some real noise. In the fatal last half, when Stanford began to increase her score, the gang kept right on talking it up and Nevada Spirit was shown to the ten thousand people who attended the game.

WOLVES OUTPLAY CARDS DURING FIRST HALF BUT WEAKEN AT END

HEAT AND RESERVES SPELL DEFEAT FOR PACK AFTER BEING IN THE LEAD IN FIRST PART

After holding "Pop" Warner's red-shirted Cardinals scoreless during the entire first half of the game last Saturday at Palo Alto, and scoring nine points themselves, the Wolves were defeated by Stanford, 33 to 9. The Pack battled magnificently during the first half, striking deep into the Red Shirts' offense, and holding them at bay when they attempted to crash through the Nevada line.

Nevada's first chance to score came in the first quarter when the Wolves backed the Cardinals against their own goal line and forced them to fall on the ball back of the goal posts, giving Nevada 2 points on a safety.

Nevada's second and last score came in the second quarter when Murphy of the Cards fumbled a forward pass on Nevada's 40 yard line and Pierce recovered, making a spectacular 65 yard run to a converted touchdown.

During the second half of the game Stanford seemed to pull out of the first-half slump, weakened the Pack by incessant hammering, then struck Nevada, overwhelmed by the substitution of a number of fresh men on the Stanford eleven, was slowly but surely backed up against the Nevada goal line, and Stanford scored.

Buck Shaw's proteges fought a good battle against tremendous odds. Compelled to face fresh men recruited from the ranks of "Pop" Warner's many first rate substitutes, the Nevadans pluckily attempted to halt the onrush of the Cardinals, but sweated by their fight in the first half, were at last forced to give ground.

Ball on Nevada's 35 yard line. Two line bucks by Patchett gained only two yards. Then came Nevada's second chance to score. Pierce recovered Stanford's fumble and sprinted 65 yards for a touchdown. Allen converted. Murphy was not fast enough for "Red" Pierce. "Red" dodged Murphy's attempted flying tackle and crossed the goal.

Nevada kicked to Murphy who returned the ball 23 yards. Murphy made 8 yards through the line. A forward pass was intercepted by Lawson exactly on the 50 yard line. Substitutions were as follows: Hyland and Lewis for Murphy and Millage.

A pass from Bailey to Allen netted 6 yards. Then Allen punted. Hyland fumbled and Nevada recovered on Stanford's 15 yard line. Poulson intercepted Bailey's pass as the half ended. Score, Stanford 0, Nevada 2.

Third Quarter

The Wolves trotted onto the field looking peppy and confident. The Cardinals evidently had received quite a talk from Coach Warner, and he continued giving them the "dope" as they walked out to the gridiron.

Nevada kicked off to Hyland. He returned the ball 24 yards. The Cards started an irresistible march down the field, making large gains on nearly every play. They seemed desperate, and crashed hard against the Nevada line. The ball was on Nevada's 7 yard line.

Hill of Stanford was tackled so hard that he could not get up. Coach Warner started substituting men right and left by the time the game ended he had put a fresh man in practically every position.

Stanford had the ball on Nevada's 12 yard line on the fourth down. Referees claimed that Shipkey was interfered with by a Nevada player when he attempted to receive a pass on the goal line, and gave the ball to Stanford on Nevada's 1 yard line. One play and a touchdown resulted.

The Nevadans were tiring rapidly from the strong drive of the Cards. They lacked the power displayed in the first half. Captain Allen bore the brunt of many of the Stanford attacks and showed the strain.

Hyland ran 50 yards around left end to Nevada's 27 yard line. The quarter ended with the ball on Nevada's 20 yard line. Score: Stanford 19, Nevada 9.

Fourth Quarter

The Cards realized that Nevada could stand against their smashing drive. They became more confident with the realization of nearness of victory. Nevada kicked off to Wilton. Two plays by the Cards failed to gain, and Wilton punted.

The Pack was unable to protect Lawson, safety, and he was downed in his tracks. Harder of Stanford recovered a fumble by Bailey and it was Stanford's first down on Nevada's 41 yard line. The Pack was forced to take time out frequently.

It was said that the slow attitude hampered the playing of the team.

Sims broke through the Wolves for 30 yards. Bogue who was shifted to fullback made 7 yards through the line. Sims added 3. Then Bogue pushed over a mass of players to make Stanford's fourth touchdown. Score: Stanford 26, Nevada 9.

Nevada kicked to Bogue. He returned the ball 23 yards to Stanford's 40 yard line. Again the Cards smashed their way through the Wolves' weakened resistance. Stanford continued to make yardage to Nevada's 7 yard line. Bogue went over left tackle for another touchdown, which he converted, making the score, Stanford 33, Nevada 9.

First Quarter

Allen kicked off to Stanford. Murphy returned the ball 5 yards to Stanford's 20 yard line. Another play and Murphy broke away for a 25 yard run around left end. The Cardinals were stopped and failed to make yardage. The Pack gained control of the ball of Nevada, 30 yard line and Allen punted. The ball was downed by Stanford on their 35 yard line.

The Cards broke loose with a series of plays that swept the Pack before them down the field to the Nevada 30 yard line. Hill failed to gain on a forward pass from Patchett. Another pass by Patchett was incomplete, and Stanford was forced to try a place kick. It went low and was downed. Nevada recovered the ball on their 20 yard line. Allen smashed through the Cardinal line, arying the ball almost to the center of the field.

A line play and forward pass from Allen to Bream gave Nevada first down on Stanford's 25 yard line. Several Nevada plays were smeared, then Frost made third down on Stanford's 25 yard line. Nevada showed wonderful interference in their plays. Another set of plays brought the ball up to the 15 yard line. Fourth down and one to go for Nevada.

Captain Allen smashed his way through the Card line for another three yards. Lawson tried a forward pass. It was intercepted by Hill on the Stanford 1 yard line, and returned 3 yards.

Then, late in the first period, a pass to Murphy back of the goal line went far over his head, and the Cards were forced to halt the ball back of the goal line. Score: Nevada 2, Stanford 0.

Murphy made a free kick from Stanford's 20 yard line. It was caught in midfield for no gain. Nevada as penalized 5 yards a moment later. A right end run by Bailey failed to gain, and a pass from Frost to Pierce was recalled when the quarter ended.

Second Quarter

The Wolves showed their greatest fighting power during this quarter. They repeatedly outplayed the Cardinals, and took advantage of the few breaks conceded them. Nevada had the ball in her possession of her own 43 yard line. Ager a pass which was incomplete. Allen booted the pigskin pellet to Stanford's 30 yard line. The Cards recovered and started down the field. Murphy made 5 yards on an end run. Patchett made 4 more on a delayed buck. Patchett again made 4 and it was Stanford's first down in midfield.

Patchett broke through for 20 yards but fumbled the ball as he was tackled and the ball was recovered by Frost. In two plays Allen and Frost made first down for Nevada on the 22 yard line. Stanford penalized 5 yards for offside. Nevada gained first downs on a line buck. Two plays failed and Allen punted.

Two line bucks by Stanford gained only 4 yards. Then Hill made 20 yards around left end on a fake play.

NEVADA-SAINTS FRAY TO DECIDE F.W. CONFERENCE TITLE HOLDERS

WOLVES HEAD LIST AT PRESENT WITH TWO WINS ON TAP

OTHER TEAMS MAY COME BACK WITH UPSSETS IN DOPE BUCKET

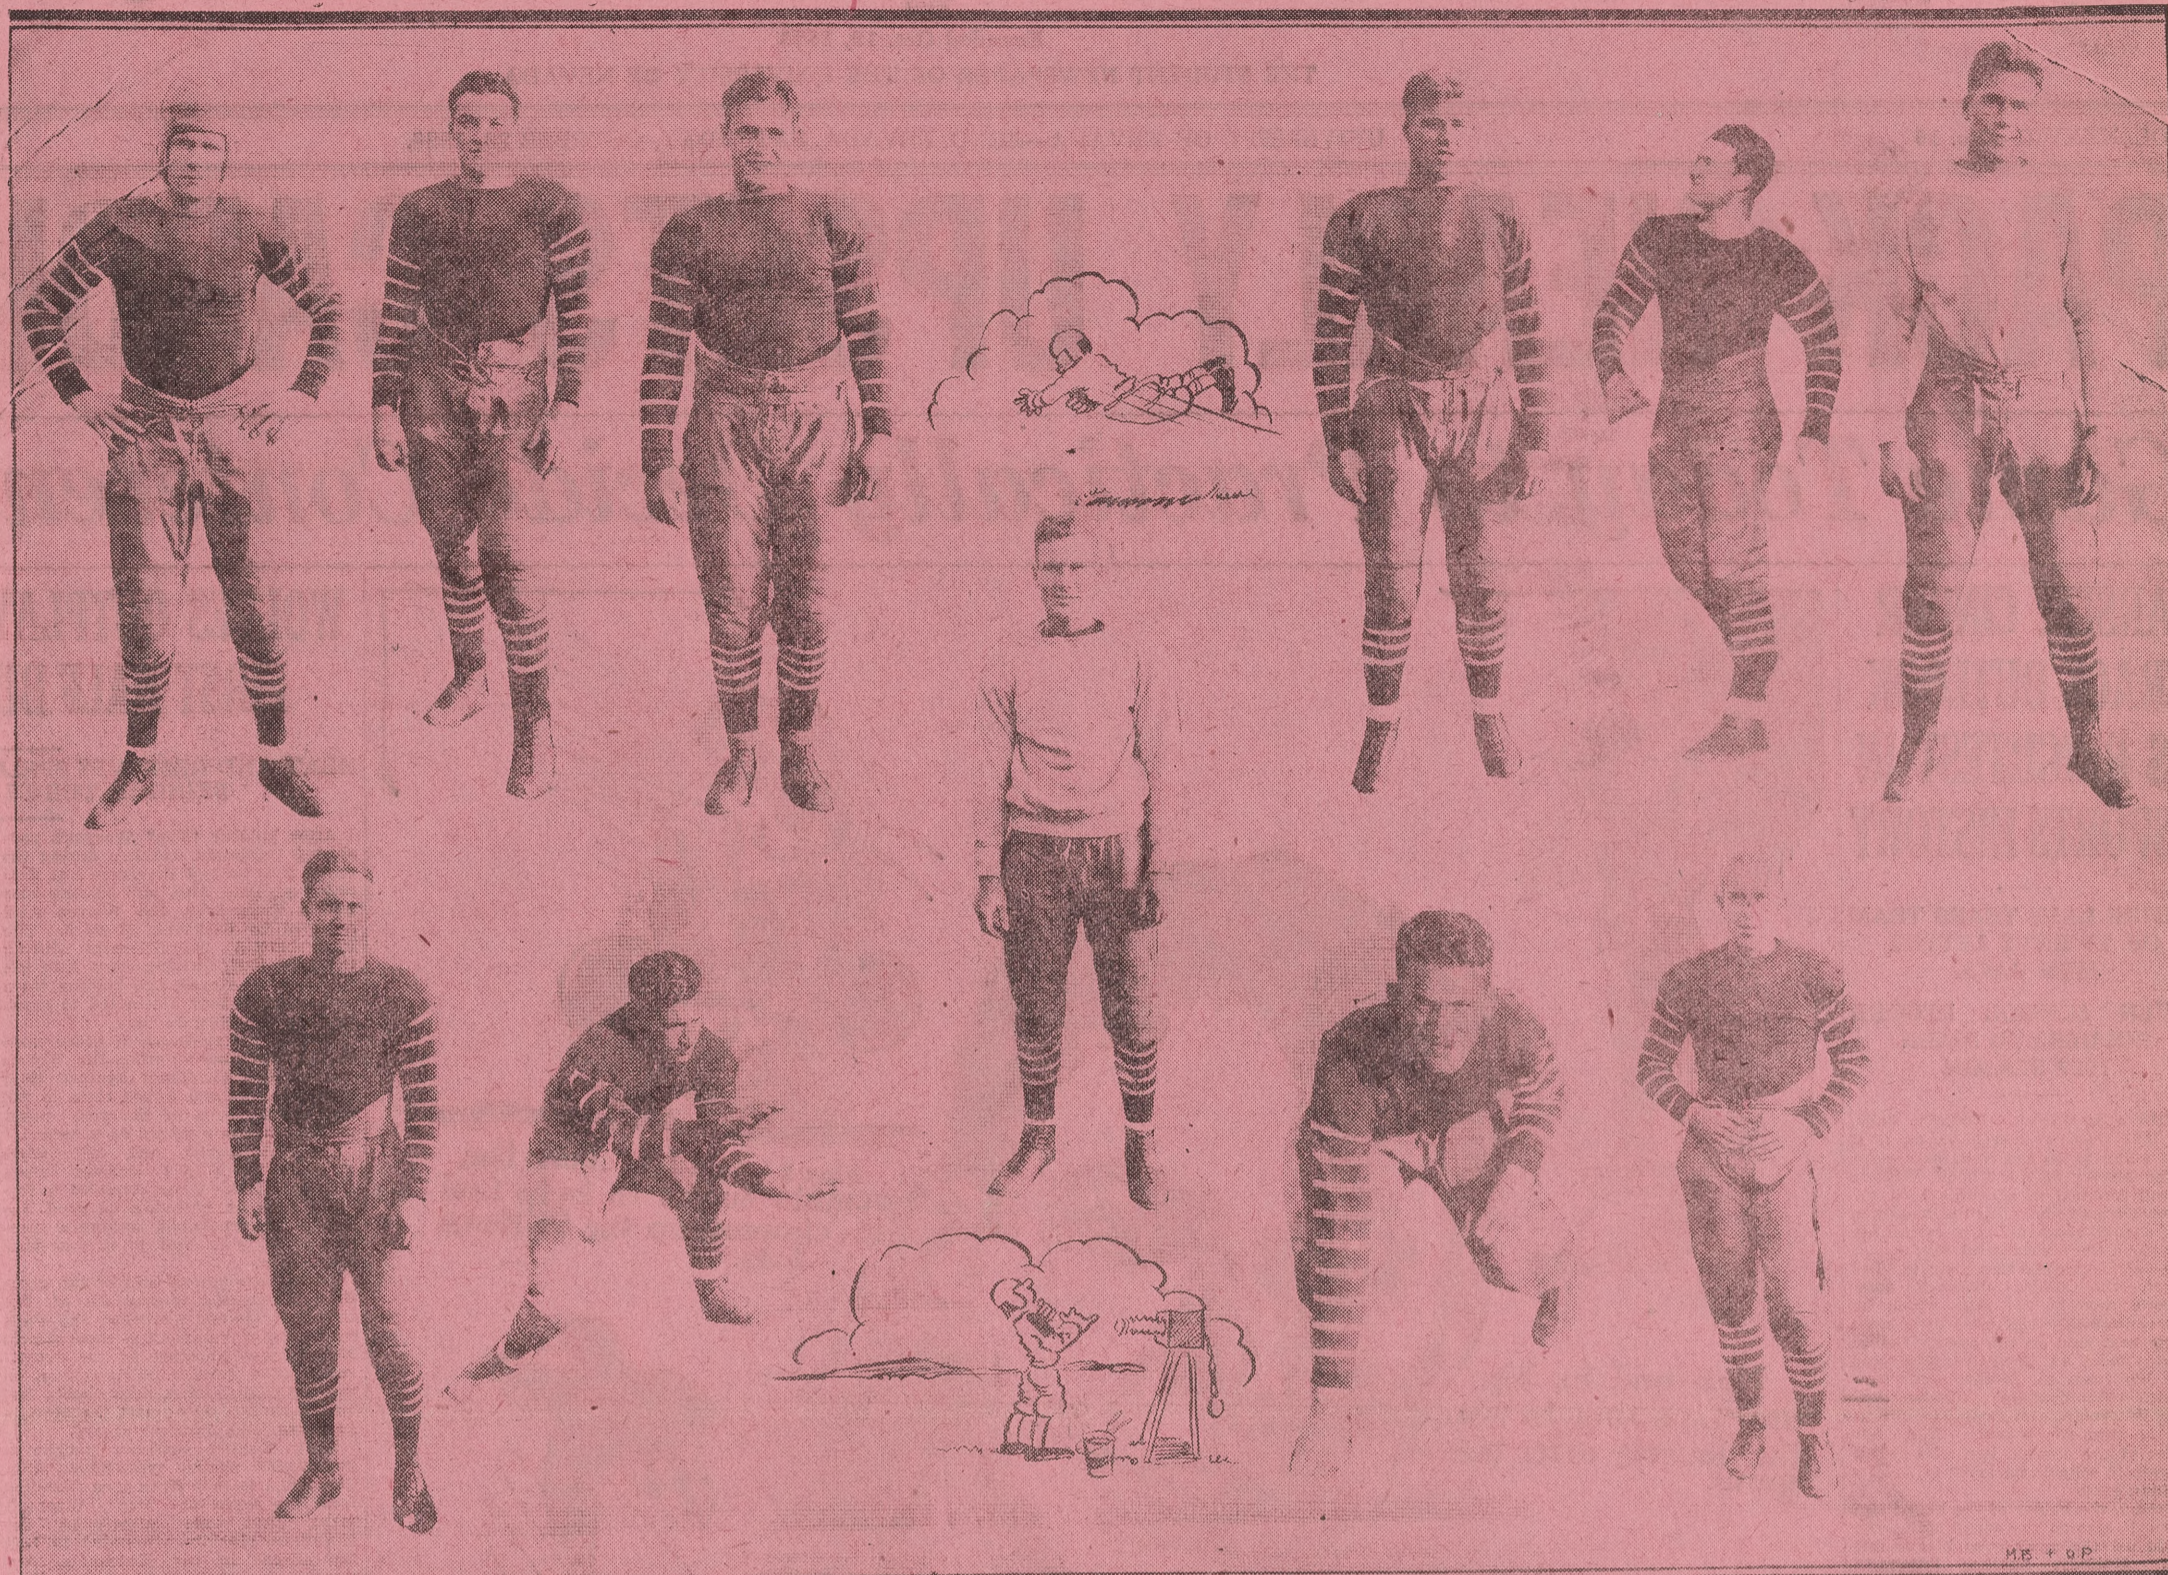

The Far Western conference season is now strongly under way and all of the teams have played one or more games in the conference schedules. At present the Nevada Wolf Pack is leading the list with two games won and none lost. St. Marys is also well up, having played one game and winning that. The two Wolf Pack victories were gained at the expense of Fresno State and the College of the Pacific. While St. Marys victim was the California Aggies. The Aggies put up a strong battle against the powerful St. Marys team but were beaten by a 20 to 7 score.

The three teams, Fresno State, California Aggies and the College of the Pacific, all have one defeat chalked against them and no victories. The team that appears to be the strongest at this time is the St. Marys squad on account of their decisive victory over the Golden Bear of California.

The Nevada team also has a splendid chance in this conference as they have one of the strongest teams in the history of the school. Nevada has an excellent record so far this season, having three victories and only one defeat, going down before the strong Stanford team after a hectic battle.

The California Aggies seem to have the strongest team in their history, having two victories and a close game with St. Marys. Pacific also has a good team giving Nevada a hard struggle and going down to defeat 6 to 0 only after putting up a terrific struggle. These two teams, the Cal Aggies and Pacific, are liable to upset the dope at any time so they will bear watching.

Fresno State this year seems to be the weak sister of the conference's they have lost one Conference game so far and seem to be far from strong. The most important battle of the season is due to come off next Saturday when the St. Marys team travels to Reno to tangle with the strong Nevada eleven. The winner of this game is pretty nearly sure to be crowned the champion of the conference as there is very little chance of another team beating them. This game is one that should be worth going far to see as both teams have the strongest that have represented them in many years. Another thing that will be interesting to note is what will happen when two teams having the Notre Dame shift down pat come together.

PREP SPORTS

The state High School football season is well under way and the stronger teams are now beginning to show their class. The ranks of the Conference teams were thinned out last week when the Yerington team considered one of the strongest, withdrew. The season for the withdrawal was the opposition of the parents to the game after one of the members of the team who was rather seriously injured.

All of the teams this year seem to be fairly strong with the exception of Stewart who is handicapped with the loss of most of their last year men and have only a very small squad to pick from.

Reno High Strong
On present dope Reno High appears to again have a very strong team. They have played three games so far and are still undefeated as they defeated Sparks 7 to 0, in their first game of the season, then Carson 13 to 6, and on last Saturday showed 73 to 0. They seem to have finally hit their stride and with their heavy line and fast backfield it looks to be a tough job to beat them. Reno had only three real veterans back this year, Walthers, Huntington and Mery, but Coach Foster has built up a very strong team from his second string material. The outstanding men on Renos team are Mery, Walther, Huntington, Harris and, a new man, Dube.

Carson Looks Good
Carson High also has put a strong team on the field. They are a team of about half veterans and half inexperienced men. Carson has played three games this year beating Stewart 16 to 0 in the first game and then losing to Reno 13 to 6. Last Saturday Carson defeated the Fallon team 13 to 0. In the Stewart game the most outstanding play was a 45 yard drop-kick by Lani the Carson Fullback. Carson has a team that should develop as the season goes along and as they still have a clear conference standing they appear to be strong contenders for the title. The Carson-Reno game was not a conference game as it was merely a practice game for the two teams. The men outstanding on the Carson are Lani Fullback, Pattenote, who was injured in the Reno game, at Quarter and Meder and Stearns at Tackles.

Railroaders Develop
Sparks seems to be the team that is doing the improving. Coach Scranton has only a very few experienced men back but he has built up a good powerful team. In their first game of the season they lost to the strong Reno High team by a 7 to 0 score.

they next played a tie game with Stewart, 7 to 7, and defeated the Fallon team 16 to 6. The star of the Railroaders is Poloni at Fullback.

Lovelock Threat
Lovelock in the other end of the state looks to be a team that will go through the season without many setbacks. Lovelock has a strong veteran team that has been playing together for several years and seems about ready to make a strong bid for the championship. Lovelock has played two games so far, both of them being against Winnemucca, a non-conference team, and winning them both by the same score, 13 to 0. Lovelock plays Stewart, Fallon and Sparks from this end of the state and if they should come through undefeated they will probably have a post-season game with the strongest team in this end of the state. Next week the conference games start in full blast and a better line can be gained on the teams.

VETERANS FORM NUCLEUS AROUND WHICH VARSITY HAS BEEN BUILT

NEVADAS SECOND YEAR WITH NOTRE DAME SHIFT OPENED

NEW MEN PROVE TO BE REGULAR FINDS FOR VARSITY SQUAD

Saturday Nevada will send practically a veteran team against St. Marys, the conquerors of California. This game should be one that is worth while going far to see. It is Nevada's second year with the Notre Dame shift and the team now has it down to such a perfection that it will take a strong team to stop them. St. Marys also uses the Notre Dame shift and as they have had it for several years they seem to act with it almost as well as the originators.

The team will be led by Captain Max Allan, a veteran of three years and considered one of the best full-backs on the Pacific coast. After the game at Stanford last Saturday the sport writers hailed him as one of the best backs ever to appear on the Stanford turf. Max played four years with Manual Arts High School of Los Angeles before coming to Nevada and here he has played two seasons. He is one of the best punters ever at Nevada, and is a good plunger as well as a capable handler and receiver of forward passes.

Lost, a half-back, is a veterans of three years at Nevada. Harry is not a flashy player but one that can be depended upon to make a great deal of yardage in every game. Bailey, the halfback is a Sophomore having one year of experience. Bailey is developing into a great triple threat man as he can carry the ball, is a capable punter and one of the best long forward passers on the coast. "Whitney" Lawson, the fourth man of the backfield and the quarterback, has been playing a consistent game at that berth all season. Last year when Gutteron was injured "Whitney" was drafted from his old position and had to fill the hard place of field general and he has been holding this down ever since.

At the end positions Nevada is well protected. Bream is a veteran of last years team and is very consistent as he is always down under punts and his end is very dangerous for the opposition to try to make yardage around. Bream is also one of the best receivers of forward passes that Nevada ever had. Pierce the other end is a new man this year being a Freshman. He has had very little experience but he looks good, is aggressive, a good tackler and cover the punts well.

The tackles of Nevada are very strong. Hansen at one tackle is an experienced man, having played three years for the Wolf Pack, and is a tower of strength on the defense while on the offense he opens his holes well. Very little yardage should be made through him. At the other tackle is Newton, a Sophomore. Newton has not had much experience but is developing fast and before long should be a consistently good tackle.

At the guard positions Nevada again has a combination of one veteran and one new man. Anderson is a veteran of three years and plays a steady, strong game. Max Larsen is improving with every game.

At the center is Fairbrother. He has had two years of playing and is a tall rangy man and also heavy enough to worry his opponents. Fairbrother is playing a stronger game at every start.

Contrary to usual Nevada not only has a strong first team but is well supplied with strong reserves. At fullback is Towle of hurdling fame and he seems to be making good as a football player. Towle is in a hard position, subbing for Allen but he has been making good at every chance.

At the halfbacks are Sullivan and Lawler. Sullivan is a letterman from last year and has been showing just as strong this year. Lawler is from Iowa and played last year with the frosh. He is a good forward passer and is an extremely slippery runner reminding the fans of "Jimmy" Bradshaw. Lawler is liable to break away for a long run any time so watch him.

At quarterback position there are two men, Overlin and Cantlon. These men are both from last years squad and both have been going good this year.
In the line Castle at center is a letterman. Castle is a good consistent stayer and in the tight places he got into last year he proved his worth. At the guard positions Kline and Etchebarren hold sway. Kline is from last years squad and is a heavy and husky fellow who is also fast enough to make good as a running guard. Etchebarren is a two hundred pounder who played with Reno high last year. He has all the earmarks of making a valuable varsity man.
At tackle are Cooley and Lawler. Cooley is from Bakersfield, playing their for several years and being all California tackle for two of them. J. Lawler is just the opposite to his brother Mike. Lawler is a big heavy man and very fast. He is coming along very rapidly and will give any of his opponents a merry time. It is seen from this that Nevada has a strong first team backed by a powerful bunch of reserves so that St. Marys is due for an exciting afternoon.

A passenger liner, offering ninety courses in education and equipped like a modern university, will sail in October from New York on a cruise for eight months. Certificates for completed courses in this boating university will be issued by New York University.

Appearing on the campus of the University of Kansas wearing a pair of violently colored suspenders, Miss Isabel Ashford, a summer session student, has started the fad at the University. She claims that the suspenders are cool for summer and afford a convenient place for hanging pen and pencil.

COEDS TO START HOCKEY AS NEXT WINTERS SPORT

WOMENS COACH BEGINS NEW SYSTEM FOR PLAYING GAME

Practice for hockey, the next women's sport, began Monday under the direction of Miss Verrel Weber with M. Donohue, '29, as manager of hockey.

A definite schedule has not yet been completely arranged, and few coeds have signed up for this sport. According to class numbers the freshmen women are the most interesting.

This year Miss Weber plans to make hockey a more interesting and popular sport by introducing the ideas of Hazel Cumberley.

Hockey is a game introduced from England and has not been frequently indulged in in this country. Practically the same rules have been followed since its introduction.

Miss Cumberley, a graduate of Columbia and at present teaching at U. S. C. B., is a young coach who has written a book on hockey and soccer and has evolved new ideas on hockey technique which are very new and interesting.

Miss Cumberley carried out her ideas on the game during the past summer as director of the Field Hockey and Sports Camp held at Mills College, and it was found that these ideas speeded up the game and made it much more interesting.

By introducing the new technique of Miss Cumberley, Miss Weber hopes to make this sport more popular on the Nevada campus.

GOOD PROGRESS MADE BY P. E. 9 STUDENTS CLASS

HOPES HELD FOR WINTER EXHIBITION TO SHOW PROWESS OF MEN

The ten men of P. E. 9 have made considerable progress since the beginning of the semester, reports J. E. Martie, head of the physical education department. This class of tumbling work with wands, Indian clubs, and bar bells, consists of juniors and seniors who have completed two years of required physical training.

In the tumbling department, the men have mastered the front roll, back roll, handspring, neckspring and headspring. Proficiency in the work will be acquired only by continual practice. It is the intention of the department to give exhibitions of the work during the inter months, probably during the period between halves of the varsity basketball games next semester.

Pyramid training also is being given. This formation requires steady nerve, exceptional balancing ability, and plenty of strength. The training and ability of the men is brought out to a great degree in this type of work.

Members of the class have displayed much interest in their work, and it is believed that a number of first rate performers will be produced by the end of this semester.

The head of a London art school has evolved a plan for the relief of young artists unable to sell their pictures by having them rent their works. A charge of $5 a year is made for a picture valued at $250.

Variety, they say, is the spice of life. And Pop Warner is a firm believer and advocate of this ancient wise crack. For instance: In the Nevada Stanford mix up last week the redoubtable Pop could not bear the thought of the Wolf Pack being bored with the necessity of being forced to kick the same guy in the face through the entire game. So he hatched up the clever idea of bringing fifty men out on the field and alternated them in the game. The Wolf Pack was entertained but Lord only knows just how laid out they were.

A great educator once said that the average football star has the intelligence of a child of twelve. Now we know it. Lamp this! At the mystic hour of ten thirty on the Stanford bound train all was peace and quiet. Then a solitary idea wandered into the snoring car and bumped into the infant mind of a two hundred pound lineman with enough force to completely wake him. Inspired, he seized a pillow and whacked the guy nearest him across the kisser. Ten and a half seconds later the inside of the car looked like the outside of a Nebraska blizzard.

The football squad resembled twenty-two odd angels in moulting season and a battle of the Marne was in full blast. The aisle was the Marne half the men were the French and the rest were Von Kluck and his Prussians. A counter-attack by the French was just moving into position on the right flank when a militant old maid came down the Marne and lurched into the middle of the battle field. Cock! A pillow caught her just aft the forcastle companion way and she guzzled a gallon of feathers into her esophagus. Thus ended the third Battle of the Marne.

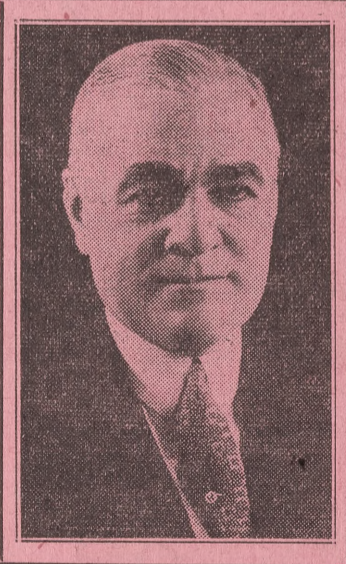

It was after the Wolf Pack had landed in San Francisco. One of the gang boasted that he knew the city like his own past and would guide the outfit to the hotel. So out they started.

One often reads of the little band of hardy pioneers that struggled across strange and hostile country in the face of terrible perils.

Well, history repeated itself. They hiked far enough to wind up in Mexico City and still no hotel. The buildings changed to houses and then to farm buildings. Windmills became not infrequent and one of the bunch tripped over an old Los Angeles city limit sign. And then they met a native. Did he know where the Baldwin Hotel was? Sure. It was in San Francisco. Finally he gave minute directions, consented to act as guide, and started off, steering by compass.

There was an empty berth in the team's car. And there was a guy

IDAHO VANDALS TO PLAY WOLVES HERE ON COURT

NEVADA QUINTET COMING INTO SEASON WITH ENVIABLE PAST

The Nevada varsity will meet a Pacific Coast conference basketball team on the Nevada court for the first time in a number of years, when the University of Idaho Vandals play the Wolf Pack a two game series, the first scheduled games of the season, on January 7 and 8.

Stanford and U. of C. also will play the University of Nevada this season. The games are scheduled on California courts.

For a small university, Nevada has always been able to give a good account of itself on the basketball court, and this season bids well to be another year of success. With much new material, and a number of last year's veterans ready for show, it is predicted that the Pack will prove up well against the strong Pacific Coast conference teams which are included in the Nevada schedule.

English is being taught over the radio in Japan. Recently the instructor delt on expressions of politeness. The best way to learn them, he said, was to bump into English-speaking foreigners on the street, then bow smilingly, and remark, 'I beg your pardon.'

Who was not scheduled to go on the trip. And this bird slept in the berth all night, getting up two minutes before vigilantes committee composed of the train conductor, the Pullman conductor the porter, and a brakeman descended to remove the stowaway. Our friend was sitting just across from the now empty berth and directed the frantic trainmen down the car after the guilty fellow who, according to the conductor, was just about his height, had his hair combed that way and was of his complexion.

needed ginger to the whole team and maintained morale by his consistent work. Max is as good a captain as had ever worn the Silver and Blue and has been leading a team that is in every sense of the word worthy of this fine player.

From end to end and back to back Nevada will compare favorably with St. Mary's. Individually, the Pack no doubt would be able to hold its own at any turn in the game. There is no doubt as to which team has had the more experience, as most of the Saints have answered Madigan's call for two years or more. Most of the Oakland boys have played the Notre Dame system of play for a longer period than that and so it will again be that old battle of experience versus youth, determination and lots of fight.

Frost, Bailey, Lawlor, Sullivan and Tommy Towle are the nucleus of a fine backfield. Collectively they run, kick, pass and plunge into the thick of the fray for the few necessary yards. Nevada is indeed fortunate to have such a group of men included among her football personnel as they have on all occasions given their all that Nevada might go on for victory.

The first four named have made the most of opportunity and coerced themselves with glory many times but very little has been said of the very reliable Tom Towle. He has the very difficult task of filling Captain Allan's shoes when that redoubtable is out of the game and the doughy head has always performed with credit.

It isn't any joke to come out for football night after night and decorate the bench while games are being played just because you are relieving the captain. But let it be said that if, unfortunately something should happen to Allan this Saturday a very dependable man will be thrown in to take his place and fans may rest assured that there will be no let up in the game.

Witley Lawson and Hal Overlin have taken turns at calling signals and Coach Shaw is depending on them to lead the Pack to victory. These boys have played good football all season and will no doubt give the St. Mary's players plenty to do while they are running back punts and making interference for the ball toters.

The ransy Fairbrother has found himself and will make it interesting for Illia or Watson, St. Mary's guards. The "Two Terrible Swedes" Anderson and Larson make the Nevada guard positions, particularly secure are with Hansen and Newton should make the center part of the line almost impregnable.

It seems that Bream and Pierce are in for a warm afternoon as St. Mary's. It is said, runs the ends ragged. They made all the California ends miss and rolled them around like so many sacks of wheat while their half-backs ran footloose. They will, however, have two ends to contend with that will take all they have to offer and if they play up to form will break up that interference that has been roughshod raising havoc with so many of St. Mary's opponents.

Nevada has never entertained any grid team on Mackay field that enjoys a reputation such as the Saints have built up this season. That they have a well-stocked assortment of plays is evidenced by the way they tied up the Bears. It is a foregone conclusion that they are not going to run roughshod over the Pack as this contest means more to them and the student body in general than another ordinary combat.

Hundreds of old grads, many of whom have sweated and labored on the home field will be looking on adding their cheers to those of the present generation and so it will be safe to say that the Nevada Wolf Pack trotting out on the turf next Saturday will represent one of those fighting, clawing football machines characteristic of Nevada—indomitable spirit.

HOOPSTERS WILL START PRACTICE IN COMING WEEK

FUNDAMENTALS OF PLAY TO BE FIRST THING TAUGHT MEN

Basketball practice will begin next week, according to "Doc" Martie, head basketball coach. He announces that practice will be held Tuesday and Thursday nights at 7:30 p. m., and urges all organizations to see that their men take part.

The training will be comparatively light at first, and will consist partly of study in the fundamentals of basketball. The technique of dribbling, shooting, handling the ball, and reversing will be explained. More intensive training will begin at the close of the football season, with the intention of getting the cage artists in condition for the intra-mural and intercollegiate contests.

With the inauguration this year of a system of playing off the intra-mural tournament simultaneously

WOLVES - SAINTS IN SIX CONTESTS

The Wolf Pack has met the St. Marys team on the grid iron for six consecutive years. Since the first game between the two institutions, the Saints have been victorious in three, Nevada has won one, and two have resulted in ties.

The scores of previous games:

	Nev.	St. Marys
1921	6	14
1922	21	13
1923	10	10
1924	0	27
1925	0	35

with the varsity games, many men will have a chance to play on the various teams who formerly were eclipsed by varsity men. This year varsity material or members of the freshmen squad will not be allowed to play on the organization teams.

The majority of the organizations have expressed their approval of this method, and it is believed that interest in the game will be increased due to the fact that all men will have a chance to take part.
