NEW BUSINESS HEADS CHOSEN FOR ARTEMISIA 'BRUSH STAFFS

FUETSCH WILL SUCCEED TRIMBLE AS MANAGER OF YEARBOOK

GIGNOUX, SHERRITT WILL HANDLE SAGEBRUSH TEMPORARILY

Carl Fuetsch '29, was elected business manager of the Artemisia for the coming year, at a meeting of the Publications' Board held last Tuesday.

This election is a result of the failure of Robin Trimble '28, who was appointed business manager last spring, to register in the University this semester. Fuetsch was selected for the managership on the basis of his past experience in the business department of the Artemisia.

He worked on the staff for two years, and has shown himself capable of holding down the executive position as manager of the yearly publication. He has assumed the responsibilities of the position, and started work on the advertising bureau of the yearbook.

New 'Brush Manager

Ralph Gignoux '28, and James Sherritt '28, last year's business manager of the Artemisia and Desert Wolf respectively, were elected by the publication board as business managers of the U. of N. Sagebrush, to fill the vacancy left by John A. Walsh '29, who was forced to withdraw from college last week, due to a nervous breakdown.

Gignoux and Sherritt will manage the business staff of the Sagebrush until such time as try-outs for the position can be held. These trials will in all probability be completed within the next few weeks, when a new business manager will be elected to retain the position for the balance of this year.

Experience Required

The joint election of Gignoux and Sherritt was made in view of the fact that there was no one on the business staff of the Sagebrush under John A. Walsh with experience and class standing necessary to take over the job. Two years actual experience and upper-class standing being the requirements for the managership of the weekly publication.

A banquet will be held by the Publications Board in the near future in honor of the new members.

NEW SLOGAN TO BE LOOKED FOR

Announcement of a contest for the selection of a new Nevada slogan was made last week by the Whelphs. All slogans submitted should be short and to the point, and should express a worthy Nevada spirit.

The closing date of the contest is set as September 14, and all slogans should reach the Sagebrush office before that time. The winning slogan will be announced at the Whelphs' rally on September 15, and will be officially known as Nevada's slogan throughout the year.

Sophomore Dance Committee Named

Committees for the Sophomore Hop to be given October 15, were appointed Friday at a meeting of the Sophomore class. Marshall Guisti was appointed chairman, with Don Dodge, Gretchen Cardinal, Jack Albin, Maizie Ryan, Buster Johnson, William Stevens, Al Peterson and Charles Kitzmeyer assisting.

Plans were also made for an informal dance to be held September 17, with the following committee appointed: Bus Parra, chairman, Richard Oliver, Don Inskip and Leo Velasquez.

Frosh are like horses—man's dumb

GIGANTIC RALLY TO BE STAGED SEPTEMBER 15

FOOTBALL COACHES WILL BE PRESENTED TO STUDENT BODY

Freshmen will be vouchsafed their first chance to see the real Nevada spirit in action at the daylight rally to be sponsored by the Whelphs on the afternoon of September 15, for the purpose of arousing enthusiasm for the coming football season.

Bernard Hartung, who heads the committee on arrangements, promises that, with the cooperation of the student body as a unit, the rally will be the biggest thing of its kind ever held on the hill.

Coaches Introduced

The main events of the rally will be the presentation of the coaches, who first take the field on that day, and the announcement of Nevada's new slogan, which is now being chosen by contest. Various stunts, exemplifying the Nevada spirit and Nevada traditions, will be presented. Though the actual nature of these will not be divulged before the day of the rally, the assurance is out that they will be well worth seeing.

The rally will be made the occasion for the presentation of prizes to those who have suggested the best new Nevada yells, and the yells themselves will be presented to the student body. Final selection of assistant yell leaders will also be made, from those who try out at the rally.

All members of the A. S. U. N. will be expected to be on hand, and according to Hartung while no check will be made of attendance, all freshmen are to be considered as honor bound to attend.

64 CHOSEN TO COMPOSE GLEE CLUB CHORUSES

NEW IDEAS PLANNED BY POST TO FEATURE BIG CONCERTS

Basing his selections on the showings made last year and the abilities demonstrated at try-outs this semester, Prof. Theodore H. Post, instructor in music, has posted the final roster for both men's and women's glee clubs for the coming semester.

No concerts or trips have been actually scheduled yet but it is expected that the clubs will be as active this year as they have been in the past according to Prof. Post.

A new innovation in the arrangement of programs will be introduced by Prof. Post this year, according to plans. Both men and women will sing together as a mixed chorus for one or more concerts.

Members Chosen

The members of the men's glee club as announced by Prof. Post are: first tenors, Cunningham '28, Cupit and Pettycore '30; Nixon, Bath, Geyer and Sourwine '31 and Professor W. R. Blackler; second tenors, C. Carter and Gregory '28, Sensory and St. Clair '29; Rosen, Sidwell and Henrichs '31; first bass, Copeland '29, Lamb, Jacobs and Vogliotti '30, L. Carter, Meroux, Vargas, Chase, Humphrey '31; second bass, Wilson and Faulkner '28, Bernstein and Beach '29, Trevitt, Smith and Eustace '31 and Conant '30.

Women's Club

The members of the women's glee club are: first soprano, Spencer and Moore '28, Dunn '29, Belmonte, Horton and Jacobs, '30; Hilborn, Johnstone and Purdy '31; second soprano, Jones '28, Johns '29, Gerber, Sullivan, Byrnes, Holstrom '30, West, Morris '31; first alto, Fant, Mann, Hexem '30, Douglas, Millar, Florie, McDonald, Hammond '31; second alto, Boudette, Clark, Sullivan '30, D. Johns, Baldini, Mitchell '31.

D. H. Bell will be accompanist for the men's group and the accompanist for the women's group is yet to be chosen, according to Prof. Post.

Platt To Speak Before Assembly

The University will celebrate National Constitution Week in the Education building Auditorium Friday morning, September 16th with the Hon. Sam Platt, a member of the Nevada bar, as speaker of the day.

Mr. Platt recently attended the International Rotary Conference at Ostend, Belgium. After the conference he traveled widely in Europe as a guest of European Rotary clubs, visiting points of special interest and making observations on political and social conditions in the leading European countries. Since his return to America Mr. Platt has delivered a number of addresses upon his European observations before the Reno Rotary club and other civic and fraternal organizations.

He will bring to his Constitution Day address an unusual background of world knowledge and a message of inspiration voicing America's responsibility for world leadership.

DR. WALTER E. CLARK

On September 1, last Friday, Dr. Walter E. Clark, began his second decade as President of the University of Nevada. Coming here in 1917 to fill the vacancy left by President Joseph Stubbs, Dr. Clark found an enrollment of approximately 300 students. Now, in his eleventh year the enrollment has topped all previous records with an enrollment of nearly 900 and this is despite a steady advance in scholarship requirement. In addition to this Nevada's campus has become the equal of that of any University, resplendent in scenery, up to date buildings and modern equipment.

Dr. Clark's life is an interesting one. He was born in Defiance, Ohio, in 1873, the son of the superintendent of public schools. When but 5 years of age his father died and shortly afterward his mother moved to Delphos, Ohio, taking Walter and his younger brother with her.

At Delphos Dr. Clark went through the grade and high schools and spent a year in a dry goods store, where he worked while going through the higher grades. The family then moved to Delaware, Ohio, where the Ohio Wesleyan university is situated. He graduated from there in 1896, receiving his bachelor of arts degree just 25 years after his father had graduated from the same school.

For the next three years Dr. Clark was engaged as an instructor in mathematics at Ohio Wesleyan, leaving there in the fall of 1899 to attend the University of Columbia. He received his Ph. D. degree from the latter institution four years later.

While still studying economics at Columbia Dr. Clark began tutoring that subject in the College of the City of New York. He remained there as a teacher for 17 years, rising through various ranks until for the last seven years he was a professor and head of the new department of political science.

On September 1, 1917, ten years ago today, Dr. Clark took up the presidency of the University of Nevada here, relieving Dr. Joseph Stubbs. An odd coincidence in the life of Dr. Clark was brought out at the time when it was shown that his father had been a schoolmate of Stubbs at Ohio Wesleyan.

While in New York Dr. Clark lectured for 12 years for the lecture system of the City of New York on economics. For two years he served in that capacity for the New York chapter of the American Institute of Bankers and the National City bank.

Dr. Clark was married in Hartford, Conn., in 1898. He has four children, the oldest boy and girl being freshmen students at the University this semester and the younger boy and girl in the high and junior high schools of Reno.

On coming to Nevada to take over the presidency of this University he gave up his economic studies in order to put his full time in the new field. During the 10 years that he has been active head of the institution the enrollment has increased 300 per cent, the building program has progressed rapidly toward completion and, in addition to this, Dr. Clark has won the confidence and friendship of the men and women who have registered at Nevada.

H. W. HILL TAKES TYPHOID CLAIMS LEAVE FOR YEAR NEVADA STUDENT

Dr. H. W. Hill, head of the University of Nevada English department, because of the ill health of his wife, has accepted a position in the English department of the University of Southern California.

Mrs. Kent who has been assisting in the department and who received her masters degree in English from Nevada, has been elected to give full time service this year under acting headship of Professor A. E. Hill. All of the courses started in the department will be carried on and such redistribution of sections among the staff is being made as will allot to others the courses scheduled to H. W. Hill.

Bob Annand, ex '29, died at his home in Ely Monday afternoon. During the whole summer the former Nevada student was troubled with a severe case of tonsillitis which ultimately developed into typhoid fever. He succumbed in spite of every effort made to save him.

Annand was a member of the class of '29, the glee club, glee club orchestra, glee club quartette, Lincoln Hall orchestra, and Lincoln Hall association.

Donald Bernstein '29, and Alden Copeland '29, left Tuesday morning by stage to attend the funeral.

Dean Leach said of him "He was a loyal, staunch and true Nevadan."

Taylor '24 Teaches
Ruel Taylor '24, former assistant instructor in mathematics, is teaching at the White Pine County High school this year.

Bleacher Hats will be on sale at the bridge all during next week, and it is expected that all students, especially freshmen, will have obtained them by the time of the rally on the fifteenth.

PROSPECTS GOOD FOR THIS YEAR TO SET RECORD IN ENROLLMENT

830 CARDS COMPLETED TO DATE WITH 849 TAKEN OUT

SPECIAL COURSES FOR TEACHERS PROMISE MANY MORE

With more registration cards taken out than at any other time in the history of the University, and prospects high for additional registration within the next few days, this semester promises to be a banner year, with more students in attendance than ever before known.

Latest figures from the registrar's office show 849 registration cards out, and 824 completed to date. Of this number, 509 are men and 323 women.

Frosh Class Largest

The freshman class holds the highest numbers, as usual, having 314 members in the class of '31. Sophomores follow with 197 enrolled members, Juniors number 193, and the Senior class records only 87 members, of which a high percentage will graduate, according to the registrar.

There are seventeen students taking graduate work in the various departments, twelve enrolled as special, and four registered as unclassified.

Last Year's Total

Last year at this time, the total number of cards taken out reached 814, with 791 completed. The total enrollment of the fall semester, when all registrations were completed, numbered 831. 846 cards were taken from the registrar's office last year, fifteen of which were never returned, which is a high percentage as most cards taken out are completed.

A comparison of figures to date between the two years shows a decidedly larger total in view for the present registration.

The largest enrollment in the history of the institution was recorded in the fall semester of 1925, when 837 students were registered in the various departments of the University.

Prospects High

President Walter E. Clark, in stating his opinion on the figures, said, "It looks very much as though this fall will show the largest enrollment with between 845 and 860 as the approximate total for the semester.

"These figures are taken as an estimate in view of the fact that the enrollment will probably make a considerable jump in the next few days, due to the announcement of special courses for Reno and Sparks teachers, offered in the late afternoon and early evening, to fit in with their teaching schedules, which were sent out last week. Customarily, these teachers are not able to enroll until the third week of registration, as local schools do not take up until that time, and they cannot arrange their duties as teachers in the range and high schools of Reno and Sparks, and have a definite program about which the courses on the Hill can be centered.

"In view of past interest taken in these courses by those for whom it is offered, the expected enrollment will be between ten and twenty-five, which would make a decided increase in the enrollment total now on record in the registrar's office."

Final Date Approaching

Registration cards may still be taken out, according to Miss Sissa, but the final date for enrolling is rapidly approaching, and those seeking to register late will find it impossible to do so.

HARTUNG WANTS CONTEST YELLS

New Nevada yells are still wanted, according to Bernard Hartung, varsity yell leader, and the contest to see which yells submitted will be used by the rosters this year is still on. All yells should be turned in to the Sagebrush office prior to September 14, and the winners will be announced at the rally on the day following.

Hartung also stated that the position of assistant yell leader was still open, and expressed the wish that any students interested in the place be ready to try out at the rally.

President Clark To Address Club

President Walter E. Clark will talk at a meeting of the Commerce Club to be held in room 200 Education building next Wednesday evening at 7 p. m. His talk will be "The Importance of an Understanding of Economics and Requisites for Business Success."

Before coming to the University of Nevada, President Clark was Extension Lecturer in Economics at Columbia University from 1916 to 1918.

This will be an open meeting for all majors and minors in the Business Department and all sophomores and freshmen planning on majoring in business. It will probably be the last open meeting of the year according to Archie Watson, President of the Commerce Club.

SALE OF APPLES WILL AID W.A.A. AWARD FUND

Beginning this week, the W. A. A. will maintain an apple booth in the gymnasium for all who are interested—or hungry. The funds derived from this venture go toward the W. A. A. Scholarship and members hope that the stand will be liberally patronized.

FIELD DAY BATTLERS PATIENTLY AWAITING CONTEST TOMORROW

SOPHOMORES OUTNUMBERED THOUGH THEY HAVE ONE YEAR'S EXPERIENCE OVER FRESHMEN

The Sophomore and Freshmen classes will clash tomorrow afternoon on Mackay Field in Nevada's second annual field day. The opening feature of the day will be the heavyweight boxing match between "Dip" Cooley, '30, star tackle on the Wolf Pack squad, and Bob Cook, '31, giant fullback candidate. Both men pack a terrific wallop, according to all reports, and a real slugfest is expected. There will be two other boxing contests, with Pat Sanford, '30, meeting Clarence Dieterich, '31. These two fighters will be in the middleweight class. The contestants for the lightweight bout have not as yet been announced.

PLAYERS PLAN WIDE PROGRAM FOR THIS YEAR

SIX PLAYS SCHEDULED; 'KEMPY' SET FOR OCT. 6, 7

Immediate launching of an advertising campaign for the first play of the semester, "Kempy," was taken up at the first meeting of Campus Players held last Wednesday evening. With Russell Garcia '29, as manager, plans will be forwarded at once for the production and popularizing of the play, to be presented in the Education building October 6 and 7.

Further plans for the activities of the year centered about the six productions to be given throughout the two semesters, under the direction of Edwin Duerr, instructor in English. Casts have been chosen for the three plays of the first semester, and hopes are high for productions of stellar quality.

To Sell Night

Due to the fact of having two nights for each play, it was decided to sell the ticket concession for the second night to a hill organization, in order that cooperation between groups may be achieved, and benefits from the activities spread over a wider field, as well as providing wider advertising facilities. Bids have been received for the right of selling the tickets to the play, sharing the profits, by several organizations, and a managers' meeting will be held in the near future to make more definite plans.

The feasibility of holding a contest for the writing of an original one-act play by Nevada students was discussed and decided upon as a definite project of Campus Players for next semester or next year, according to the success of the present program.

Plans for a dance during the semester, and entertainment for meetings was discussed.

Practices for "Kempy" have started, according to Edwin Duerr, dramatic director, and a finished production is hoped for by October 6 and 7. Money from the plays will be used by Campus Players to improve stage sets and equipment for the use of all dramatic projects on the Hill.

CLASS OF 1928 TO HAVE BENCH

The class of 1928 is to have a new Senior Bench. A committee appointed to arrange for the new bench, composed of Betty Sue Shaw, Katherine Davidson, Frances Nelson, Archie Watson and Angue Bethune, held a meeting September 1. The space between the new library and the bulletin board was chosen for the location for the new bench.

The bench will be constructed of cement in the form of a quarter circle. It was first thought advisable to move the old bench, which was built in 1914, from its place in front of the old library to the new location, but upon investigation it was found that the cement was cracked and that the old bench would fall apart if moved.

Lyon Names New Staff Members

Members and tryees on the Desert Wolf staff met Tuesday afternoon to discuss plans for the first issue of the Nevada quarterly.

Close to thirty staff members and applicants attended the meeting and it was announced by Elmer Lyon '29, editor, that work on the publication will begin immediately.

Appointments to take charge of the various departments of work were made. Carol Cross '30 will supervise the joke department, Carol Smith '28, will have charge of the art department and Emily Richards '30 will conduct the poetry department of the book.

The first issue of the Wolf will be published Oct. 28, during the Homecoming celebration.

Seven Freshmen Hit Lake Waves

Seven freshmen were entertained at a water carnival last Wednesday, September 7, by the sophomore class. The event was held at Manzanita Lake.

The following freshmen guests were present: W. Baker, T. Merrill, Fleming, L. Hargrove, F. Perley, G. Berner, and B. Kellogg.

HILL DEBATERS TO CLASH WITH UTAH SCHOOLS

SEASON OPENS NOVEMBER; TEAM TO BE CHOSEN FROM TRYEES

Tentative arrangements for a debating tour including three Utah universities together with at least two engagements at home give promise of a busy season for the Nevada orators.

The forensic season opens officially on the first week in November when the Nevada team journeys to Utah to debate with Brigham Young University, University of Utah, and the Utah Agricultural College. Later the orators will take part in two home debates, engaging the University of Utah, and possibly, the University of Chicago.

Tryout Soon

The debaters who will represent the University of Nevada have not yet been chosen. The appointments will be made following try-outs scheduled for Tuesday September 20. Try-outs for the team will be held concurrently with try-outs for Clonia, university debate society, and members for both the team and society will be chosen as a result.

The question to be used in the try-outs will be posted on the bulletin board. Tryees are expected to prepare a ten minute talk whose merit will be the qualification for making the team.

ATHLETIC HEADS ATTEND MEETING

Dr. J. E. Martie, head of the athletic department at Nevada, Coach "Buck" Shaw and Emory Branch, general athletic manager, left last night for San Francisco where they will attend a meeting of the members of the Far Western Conference at the St. Francis hotel.

At this meeting a schedule for the coming basketball season will be drawn up and the officials for the coming football games will also be selected.

The members of the conference include St. Mary's, College of the Pacific, Fresno State Teachers College, California Aggie, St. Ignatius College and Nevada.

Your Artemisia

Next week we will make an important announcement concerning the studio and group pictures to appear in this year's Artemisia and we, the Artemisia Staff, want your support to put the plan over.

The business campaign of the book will start Monday with a meeting of all tryees at four p. m. in the Artemisia office under the direction of our new Business Manager, Carl Fuetsch, and everyone interested is requested to be present.

GRADS PLAN TO TEACH IN MANY STATE SCHOOLS

TWENTY-EIGHT FORMER STUDENTS RECEIVE APPOINTMENTS

With most high schools opening this week throughout the state, 28 graduates of the class of '27 are beginning their first courses in teaching. The majority of the graduates received their appointments during the early part of summer, while a few did not decide definitely on schools until recently.

Six graduates who received teachers' diplomas last spring have secured other positions in various occupations. The following is a list of graduates, with positions they have accepted:

- Douglas Ackerman, Menlo Park School for Boys; Vincent Alexander, Piermont School District, Aurum, White Pine County; Naomi Ayers, Smith Valley High School; LeAnn Ballard, Poplar School District, DeWitt, California; Margaret Browning, Eagle Valley School, Ursine, Nevada; Raymond Ede, Sparks Junior High School; Tillie Evansen, Virginia City High School; Ray Frederick, Tonopah High School; Lawrence J. Fuller, Principal Golconda School; Amy Goodman, McGill Schools; Margaret Hill, Lam-cotte, Nevada; Proctor Hug, Sparks High School; Elsie Mitchell, Hamilton, White Pine County; Hannah Mitchell, Thompson School, Lyon County; Ada Moore, Austin High School; Grace Muran, Carson Schools; Vera Muran, Central District, Willow Point, Humboldt County; Nevada Pedroll, Lyon County High School, Yerington; Ely-the Peacock, Sunnyside, Nye County; Charlotte Porter, Lincoln County High School, Panaca; Wilma Squires, Clark County High School, Las Vegas; Dorothy Trimble, Franktown School; Pauline Wren, Kosloff School, Los Angeles; Frances Wright, Carson City High School; Gertrude Wyckoff, Ruby City School District, Arthur, Nevada; W. C. Higgins, Ontario, Oregon, High School; Hans Lohse, Principal, Paradise Valley School; John Agrusa, Elko County High School; Ethel Lunsford, Insurance, San Francisco; Thelma Pray, First National Bank, Reno; Ellen Stitt, Returned to University for post-graduate work; Cruz Venstrom, Extension Division work, Fallon; George Whitehead, Standard Oil Company.

ELECTIONS HELD IN NORMAL CLUB

Ethel Hines '31, was elected secretary and Mary Beanson '31, was elected treasurer of the Nevada State Normal Club at a meeting held in the Education building.

It was decided to charge each member 75c dues a semester, now payable. The time for regular meetings decided upon was the first Thursday in each month at 3:15, in the Education building; when plans and activities of the Normal school club will be discussed.

Wandering Student Breaks All Rules

There is a new student enrolled in the mining building who has been taken in as a special, and who, because he works so hard during classes is allowed long periods of rest behind the cupboard in the assay lab.

This new student seems very shy and retiring, and it is next to impossible to see him, unless one creeps upon him unawares. He very flatly refused to be interviewed, yet Walter A. Palmer, professor of metallurgy, called him his best student and says, in spite of his unsocial attitude, the new comer is expected to make a straight one average.

The young fellow seems averse to collegiate clothes and can be distinguished anywhere by the drab brown suit which he always wears. He also violates all Nevada Traditions by wearing a moustache.

It is rumored that Miss Mack threatened his life Tuesday morning when he wandered into Manzanita Hall by mistake and apparently sought a flirtation with Lucile McKenney, '30, who happened to be standing in the telephone booth. The young woman screamed and several of her fellow co-eds took up the cry. Miss Mack and Mrs. Mayer, rushed in, armed to the teeth with brooms.

The poor frightened young fellow rushed from the telephone booth, circled the hall, which had been vacated for his special benefit, and sought refuge behind a book case in the yellow parlor.

At first it was asked that his name be withheld from publication, but permission was finally granted to print it. He is known about the Campus as Lothario A. Mouse.

Students To Try Out As Teachers

Practice teaching in the Reno schools will begin next week with eighty-four students in the School of Education enrolled.

Twenty-four of these are students in the state normal school, and will teach in the elementary schools of the city. Besides these, eight seniors of the four year course will take elementary teaching this semester. These girls will begin their observation in the school this week, and their actual teaching will begin next week.

Professor Tranter is now working on the schedule of the practice teachers in the Reno Junior and High Schools. There are forty-eight students who must be placed in these schools.

With eight Senior taking elementary work there are a total of fifty-six candidates for the High school teachers' diploma, a great increase over the numbers of previous years.

Mrs. B. F. Chapelle Gives Valuable Gift

Mrs. B. F. Chapelle has presented to the university a perfect facsimile of the Declaration of Independence, being the last of such facsimiles permitted to be made from the original document. It is over 100 years old.

The document is now being framed and will be hung in the magazine room of the new library.

PLANS FORMED FOR AGGIE DAY SEPTEMBER 18

NEVADA'S GREATEST DAY DISCUSSED, EXHIBITS ARE ADDED

Plans for Nevada's greatest Aggie day celebration were discussed at a special meeting of the Aggie club called together by president Lee Burge '29 in the Agricultural building Wednesday night.

Reports were made by various committees for Aggie day which indicate that plans for all features of the event are well under way and progressing steadily. In addition to the usual exhibits it was decided to hold a poultry and a dog show as added attractions. Mark Mencke '29 was appointed chairman of the poultry show committee and Lem Allen '28 chairman of the dog show committee.

Mary Margaret Thompson '29 was unanimously elected secretary of the Aggie club.

The picnic committee's decision to hold the regular Aggie picnic at Donner Lake on Sunday September 18 was accepted by the club. An Aggie yell was accepted for the club and will be heard at the next A. S. U. N. meeting.

Candy Available At Stewart Hall

Campus sweet-tooths may be satisfied at the Y. W. C. A. booth at Stewart Hall.

The candy booth is under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A. cabinet and has for many years been one of the popular places on the campus. Last year the sale of candy bars averaged over 100 bars per day. At present the sales have not quite reached last year's record, but under the guidance of Verdie Pant '30, it is expected that last year's record will soon be broken. Candy bars of all kinds and also pencils are sold.

PLANS MADE BY 'HOME EC' CLUB

Programs for the year, and plans for Aggie Day were discussed at the first meeting of the Home Economics Club held last Thursday night in Agriculture building.

Committee appointments were made by the president for the management of a Rest Room, and a new original booth to be conducted by the Home Ec club, the nature of which is as yet undecided, altho it will probably be for money-raising purposes.

Miss Jessie Pope, instructor in the Home Ec department, spoke to the new members of the club about the Honor Society, Sigma Sigma, to which all members are eligible in their Senior year.

A social hour concluded the meeting.

Walsh '29 Forced To Quit School

A. Walsh '29, business manager of the Sagebrush will not return to school this semester. He is under the doctor's care at the present time and is unable to see visitors.

Walsh was enrolled at the university as an engineering student. He was also a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity and was connected with Campus Players, university dramatic society.

Fallen Tree Bodes Ill For Frosh Men

Say Frosh did you see that tree in Manzanita Lake? O, Yes, well what of it? What of it? If you don't stop talking to those pretty Frosh girls you will be lying with it. How would you like that?

The Frosh deigned no reply, only sighed deeply and drew his coat closer around him. The Frosh girls were sadly neglected.

Many a man who refuses to believe the truth swallows a lie.

ENGINEERS ARE PLANNING FOR ARDUOUS YEAR

STUDENTS AND SPEAKERS TO BECOME BETTER ACQUAINTED

A welcome to the incoming engineers was given by Leslie Clover '28 who acted as chairman in the absence of Pres. Knopf, '28 at the first Electrical Engineers' meeting held Wednesday night. The purpose of the A. S. E. E. was thoroughly explained by the old members of the organization.

Professor S. G. Palmer pointed out the need of personal contact of the Engineers both among themselves and with the speakers at the meetings as an asset which should not be overlooked. He further stated that while scholarship, of course, was the primary purpose of education yet social relationships were very beneficial and something which should be encouraged.

Semester Speakers Suggested

No definite plans were made concerning the schedule for the ensuing semester other than talking over the prospective speakers for the meetings. W. C. Smith of the General Electric, who spoke here before, will likely be among the speakers for this ensuing year. P. E. Garrett and W. E. Martin, both of Westinghouse; G. L. Webber, secretary of the telephone Company of Sacramento; D. I. Cone, and ex-governor Scruggs, former dean of Engineering, were also suggested favorites as speakers for the A. S. E. E. meetings. These discussions will deal with technical and practical problems of both the power and communicative industries.

Pamphlet to be Published

The publication of an engineers' pamphlet which has been talked of for a considerable time will likely make its appearance some time in December of this semester. This pamphlet will contain views of the campus, emphasizing in particular the engineering buildings and pictures of the men in the different engineering associations. This pamphlet will be sent to those students who are interested in Nevada and especially in the engineering course which it has to offer.

Plan to Intrest High Schools

As a further means of advertising the engineering course it was suggested that the laboratories be opened during the high school tournament so that these students might better acquaint themselves with the opportunities on the east side of the campus.

Whelps Call For Nevada Slogans

The Whelps held their second meeting of the year last Thursday in the Aggie building.

Two new men were voted into the organization; Jack Albin '30 and Merle Peters '30. Plans were also discussed for the bleacher pep rally which is to be held the day Nevada's coaches take the field. Bleacher hats have been ordered and will be ready for sale sometime next week.

A box is also to be placed on the campus soon to catch all slogans that students wish to contribute for this year's slogan.

FREE TICKETS TO 'PROFS' FAVORED

In a recent survey, on student opinion as to the granting of complimentary tickets to the faculty for athletics, the majority seemed to favor the giving of the tickets. The following opinions were gathered in the survey:

Vernon Canton, '28, president A. S. U. N. "I think it is a splendid idea and I am absolutely in favor of it. I believe it will give the professors the student's viewpoint and bring about a keener interest in athletics."

Tom Rayercraft, '27, "I'm all for it. I think the professors on the link ought to be brought in closer contact with the athletes."

Betty Coleman, '28, vice-president A. S. U. N. "I think it is a good idea because it will create more interest in athletics among the professors."

Reynold Hanson, '28, Football Captain, "I think it is a very fine idea. I think a few of the professors on the link need a little athletic education."

Claire Lehmkuhl, '28, "They make more money than we do."

James Sherritt, '28, "I think anything that will interest the professors in the students more is to be commended."

Genevieve Spencer, '28, "I think it is an excellent idea to create interest among the professors and to bring them in contact with the students."

Ellen Harrington, '29, "I think it is a good idea to try but I don't think it should be made permanent until it has proven successful."

Bud Stevenson, '28, "I am all in favor of it because it will stimulate interest in athletics among the professors and I believe this is essential for greater athletic success. They will look at the absences of football players in a different light, when they see them representing the University on the football field."

Hoyt Martin, '29, basketball manager. "It seems to be a very good idea. I believe in trying anything that will bring about a closer relationship between the professors and students."

Leland Hinckley, '28, "I can't see that it makes much difference either way but for courtesy's sake it seems a good idea."

Students Teach In Reno Schools

According to plans now being made by Dean J. W. Hall, dean of the College of Education, second year students of the Nevada Normal school will begin practice in the Reno public schools September 12.

Each student is required to teach an hour a day for a period of six months, before being eligible to a first grade elementary certificate.

"ONE OF OURS"

There is nothing so tragic as the death of youth. Youth, with the promise of fulfillment of manhood, the promise of a useful, clean and beneficial life to be lived. It seems queer that those meaning most to us, should most often be the ones to fall before the advance of the grim reaper, that those who have most deserved a happy and prosperous life should be the first to go. But such was the case with Bob Annard, our fellow student, dragged down a few days ago by a death-bringing malady which has taken him from us for good.

With the broader avenues of life just opening ahead of him, the rewards of this world toward which he had been striving just beyond his reach, his possibilities unrealized, Bob's death has cast a shadow of gloom over the entire University.

So many are born into the world who prove themselves of no asset, whose lives are of such little profit either to the world or themselves, that the loss of one such as Bob is a real blow. His death is a stinging reminder of the insecurity of this life, his memory something to be cherished.

We feel your loss, Bob, but we don't feel that you are wholly lost to us. We are richer for having known you and for having possessed a friendship such as yours.

THE TRUE TEST

Next Monday is Bid Day. And Bid Day is the culmination of the rushing season.

Monday, approximately one-third of the new women on the campus will accept the bid of some sorority, and henceforth be known under that banner, share in the pleasures and sorrows of that group, and enter into a new sphere of friendship, with perhaps a sigh of regret for the friend who "went" something else, or the House whose bid was not received.

Bid Day also marks the return to normalcy of college life, unbroken by unnatural relationships between rushees and house women unhampered by the three-minute talking rule on the campus, unembarrassed by anxieties, dates, indignation meetings, and covetous scanning of the horizon for indications this way or that. The hectic rush of rushing will be over.

There will be many who will have no shining pledge pin to display Tuesday morning; and among these many will be a high percentage of women who are equal to many of the new pledges—many who are entirely as worthy of the honor as those who accept it all so nonchalantly. The newness of the pledge pin will wear off, and all will once again be on the same basis, wherein the essential goal is the proving of that true worth of character and self which makes college women of the highest merit.

The new pledge will have her sorority behind her, egging her on to new fields, instilling initiative, dispelling loneliness, giving help, and acting as a stimulus toward the attainment of a well-rounded college life in social, scholastic, and extra-curricular activities at Nevada. The woman who was not pledged will be more on her own—and what she wins will be entirely her own. Her task will be the development of her own initiative—her privilege will lie in her independence—and her measure will be her own yardstick of values, pointing at the opportunities ahead, to be taken or left behind on the road of college life. Within each individual, whether rushed or ignored, lies the power of proving just how much worth of character lies on the inside.

Three more days remain in which to make the final choice—which must be adhered to from Monday on. The sparkle of the shine-which-was-put-on-for-company may wear off; the jollity of the rushing-party will settle down into a grind of serious work and play; and the "line" of the rusher will melt off into the truer qualities of the woman underneath—all of which makes more and more important the careful choice of today—the close discrimination between surface and real values.

The "chosen few" will have to retain a sense of balance—there are many reasons for the "Choosing." They can be proud of the honor—but the test will come in the proving of themselves as worth such an honor.

And above all—above a pin, above a house, above an honor—stands the University. Beside it and what it means, sororities

CAMPUS ANGLES

By Zip

As for that new roof I've been promising for so long, the art department has been making me look like a say just about long enough. Hereafter, nothing will be said in these columns about the matter until I actually have something with which to back up any statements I may make.

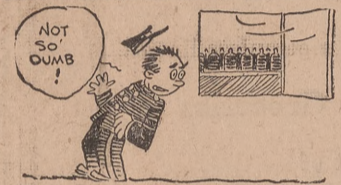

I wash my hands of the whole affair. The art department can stir its stumps and send me a roof or not, just as it pleases. I don't care.

I'm feeling pretty discouraged this week, anyhow. First there was that unpleasant roof affair, and then there was the Campus Players business.

I'd fully intended to try out for Campus Players again this year—had been getting in practice every Saturday night last summer, in fact—and then they published the list of plays to be given and I saw that there'd been dirty work SOMEPLACE!

"CAUSE, HECK! YOU HAVE TO KNOW HOW TO ACT NOW!"

So I went out for Coffin and Keys instead.

We will now sing a little ditty dedicated to the Hertz Driveyourself Auto Company, and en-tit-tled, "Though You Belong to Somebody Else, Tonight You Belong to Me."

This is Captain Ezekiel Kuzkwick, champion peaknifer of Europe, Asia, and the southern part of Oshkosh, Michigan. The captain's average rate of speed is about forty-one whole peas and one split pea per knife-ful, and thirty-six, or thereabouts, gnifefuls per minute; which makes considerably more peas per minute than he would be likely to get at the Gow House in an hour.

He can give any Lincoln Hall man a handicap of one hundred peas and THEN beat him and have time enough left over to walk down to the Wolf Den for a piece of Cherry Pie.

When asked to what he attributed his great success in his chosen profession, Captain Kuzkwick replied emphatically: "To the fact that, my mother being cook in a fraternity house, I was brought up where I could observe and profit by the mistakes of others."

Captain Kuzkwick is ninety-six years old and drinks nothing stronger than Listerine.

For the benefit of the class of 1931, I have instituted a

QUESTION AND ANSWER DEPT.

Question: What is a Fraternity pin?
Answer: A fraternity pin is a brilliantly ornamented medallion usually worn on the left side of a man's vest, but oftentimes used to get on the right side of a female.

Question: Why aren't there any electric lights on the Tram?
Answer: Mind your own business!

"Oh, Pshaw," she screamed in a passion, "my sugar daddy went sour on me!"

Els Bells says to clear the way for the clown who wanted to call the Marigold the College Inn, because then he could always call it Gin.

Way back in the very first column I wrote I promised a continued serial concerned (more or less) with college life, written by one of our most distinguished coal-heavers, who should know whereof he speaks. The time has come when something has got to be devised to fill up space in this and fraternities are petty in their little worlds. And the true man or woman will realize that the true test—the big honor—comes in the attainment of all that is best from the four years on the campus. Bid Day will mean new things, but the BIG day will mean achievement in the world of bigger values of REAL things in University life.

Socially Speaking

Tri Delt Party

The Delta Delta Delta sorority held their rushing dinner Saturday evening from 5 to 10 at the home of Mrs. Gosse on Court street. The keynote of the entertainment, which took place between each course, was an aeroplane trip, taking the guests over various countries of the world. The placecards were miniature aeroplanes attached to menus of sorority colors, while the favors were small powder puffs in tiny air mail sacks.

Entertainment included songs by Eloise Harris and Jack Kellog, violin selections by Mrs. Heddin and a number of dances representing the different countries of the world, by members of the sorority. The musical accompaniment was played by Mary Duffey.

Beta Delta Rushing Party

On Thursday evening of last week a party was given by the Beta Deltas at the home of Helen Fox '28 for their rushees.

The evening was spent with old fashioned games and dancing, stunts were presented by members of Beta Delta.

Patronesses were Mrs. Ericson, Mrs. Mangotten, and Mrs. Palmer.

S. A. E. Pledges

Jask Thatcher was host last Saturday evening when he entertained members and guests of Sigma Alpha Epsilon with a dancing party at his home. Evergreen formed the decorative scheme and Ray Hackett's orchestra furnished the music for the occasion. "Tut" Inlay, California football man and member of the California chapter, was one of the guests.

Beta Delta Reception

Beta Delta entertained with a reception last Saturday evening. The affair was given in honor of Mrs. Lizette Willis, Mabel Russell, Kathleen Carey, and Betty Brush of Los Angeles and Oakland.

Afternoon Tea

Monday afternoon, the Alumnae of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained members of that sorority and their guests with a late afternoon tea at the George Thatcher home on Nevada Heights. Elizabeth Dove '28 played several numbers and Ellen Harrington '29, accompanied by Florence Billingshurst '27, sang a few selections.

Honored

Sigma Nu fraternity entertained Saturday evening in honor of their pledges with a dance at Maple Hall. The hall was artistically decorated with streamers and balloons in the fraternity colors, black and gold.

Bride-To-Be Feted

Mrs. John Humphrey entertained with a kitchen shower in honor of Marcia Carter '22, whose engagement to Elmer Boyne was recently announced. The marriage will take place some time this fall.

Featured

Members of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority entertained a large number of rushees Friday evening from 6 to 10 at their house on Etevenson Avenue. The affair was in the style of a railroad trip beginning with a dinner served by negro waiters in pullman car fashion. From the sorority house the guests traveled to the home of Mrs. Patrick B. Patrick on Arlington Heights where they were entertained by an artistic tableaux and a scientific railroad robbery. The conclusion of their journey was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Reid where a Hollywood atmosphere prevailed and "Our Gang" entertained.

Informal

During the early part of the week Mrs. Russell Trachten was hostess at an informal tea given at her home her guests being, Marchand Newman, Frances Hilborn, Genevieve Williams and Margaret Beverly.

Informal

The Delta Sigma Lambda fraternity house was the scene of a house party Saturday evening for members and pledges. Flowers were used for decoration.

Mr. and Mrs. Lohse will make their home in Paradise Valley, Nevada, where the bridegroom will take up the duties of the principalship of the Paradise Valley high school.

Manzanita Gives Dance
Saturday night Manzanita Hall Association entertained with an impromptu informal dance Miss Mack and Mesdames Aiken and Mayer chaperoned the party. Punch was served during the evening.
Sigma Nu Informal
Friday evening, September 2, members of Sigma Nu fraternity entertained their pledges and guests with an informal dancing party at Maple Hall. Lou Eastland was featured in a monologue number. The hall was decorated with the fraternity colors and balloons served as favors. Members of the Sigma Nu Mother's Club were the patronesses for the occasion.
Dinner At Donner
Members and guests of Beta Delta Sorority motored to Donner Lake Sunday, September 4, where they spent the afternoon and evening.

BOOK REVIEWS

"The Old Countess" by Ann Douglas Sedgewick, is a story in which the setting is first established with a correct amount of subtle suggestion of the theme. Next, the characters are introduced, and from then on the story proceeds evenly to the end. Although the conclusion of the story is melodramatic to some extent, and is criticized as being too convenient to be entirely credible. Still, the tale is skillfully and effectively written.

The theme is woven about four characters: the old countess, sinister and evil; the beautiful girl, her companion; and a young artist and his wife. The plot involves the destinies of these four people and is so craftily blended with the setting that it can be safely called a worthy successor to "The Little French Girl," Mrs. Sedgewick's greatest novel.

"Twilight Sleep" by Edith Wharton is another critical novel of society life. This story is not, however, the usual type in which some reckless member of the younger generation sees the errors of his ways and becomes unbelievably proper before the end of the book. Every member of the family takes part in the action of this story. The characters are exaggerated, but are interesting, nevertheless. Perhaps the most outstanding character of the book is Pauline Manfred, the mother, who has so divided her time into fifteen-minute periods of committee meetings, facial massages, eurythmic exercises, and mental uplift study, that she has no time to talk with her own daughter.

The book deals with dissatisfied men and women who are bound for tragedy, but who, even after the blow has fallen, evade the issue in concealment from each other.

The story is told by implication rather than by direct statement, and is written with a noticeable lack of enthusiasm. This novel has been a decided success and is very close to the top of the list of the best books of the summer.

Under the Tonto Rim, Zane Grey. Those who are regular readers of Zane Grey are doomed to disappointment. Although this book follows Grey's blood-and-thunder style in a general way, it is decidedly slow-moving. This characteristic does make the book a relief from the violence of its kind, but there is no ingenuity of plot; no originality of character portrayal; and much more elaboration of detail and superfluous talk than is needed.

The book concerns a beautiful young woman who goes to the southwest on a welfare mission. There she is very successful—especially with a strong, handsome, bee-hunter. There is the typical exciting Zane Grey courtship after which the story comes to a happy ending.

To those who are ardent Zane Grey admirers, "Under the Tonto Rim" will encourage an appreciation of some of his other books which, until this book was published, were called his worst.

VARSITY MEN HANDLING WORK TILL COACHES TAKE FIELD

With the second week of hard, snappy football drilling drawing to an end, the future looks brighter and brighter for Coach "Buck" Shaw and Coach Harry O'Boyle, 1927 Wolf pack coaches. New men are constantly battling to the front for positions that are being fought for by former varsity men.

The end positions are the ones that afford the greatest opportunities for both old and new men. Lem Allen, the fast little end with former experience on the varsity squad bids fair to take a permanent berth on this year's team. Tommy Rayercraft, of cinder patch fame is going after an end position this fall. Tommy is a big man and capable of breaking through much opposition and he has the speed to keep up with him. George Gadda, another man of experience, is rumpling neck and neck with Allen and Rayercraft for one of the end positions. Besides these three who are working for the end positions are four new men who are out for positions on the wolf squad for the first time. These contenders are Fred Perley, an ex-San Mateo Junior college star, "Beard" Montgomery, who shows great possibilities, "Hoopie" Thompson, a Salinas High school star and Bob Harris, and All-California end in 1922 and 1923.

Players Coaching

Until Coach Shaw takes over the field, the varsity men of last year's team will continue the handling of the rest of the contenders for berths on the varsity.

"Whitey" Lawson, varsity quarterback and brains of the 1927 squad is drilling the men who are out for back-field positions. Here seven new men are outstanding and competition for regular places will be keen. Dietrich and Ellison, first semester men, have become excellent prospects during the past week, against such men as Mery of Reno, Thompson of Los Angeles, Elston High, Fred Cook of Los Angeles and John Bradley, a high school star from Pennsylvania.

Line Strong

Harold "Nig" Newton and "Swede" Anderson are handling the tackles and guards. Here, besides former varsity men and a number of goofs are four outstanding prospects. Young Newton otherwise known as "Mixer" is already something of a sensation. Thorup, an all-state man from Salinas High and young Dixon from California are two more of the go-getters who are likely to find a niche in Nevada's line. Fred Morrison, younger brother of "Monk" Morrison, the well known basketball star, has been showing his stuff the past week. Plumbly, one of the goof squad is rapidly working his way to the front.

Kline and Larsen, former varsity men are making tough competition for the new men who are trying for the guard positions.

"Che" Seranton, who is coaching the main body of frosh is trying out men for end and tackle positions and is drilling them all in shifting and go-

COACH O'BOYLE TO TAKE POST EARLY IN WEEK

NOTRE DAME STAR HAS ENVIABLE RECORD IN VARIOUS SPORTS

Harry O'Boyle, letter man on the famous Notre Dame eleven, will arrive in Reno the early part of next week to assume the position of assistant coach to the Wolf Pack this year. Picked as an All-American full-back in 1926 and substitute for Crowley of the Four Horsemen in 1924, O'Boyle will be welcomed to the coaching staff of the Nevada squad. He will replace Phelan, last year's assistant coach, who has left for the east to coach in high schools.

During his high school days in Des Moines, he played full back of the East High School team. Leading sport writers picked him during his high school days on numerous All-Star elevens and declared him as "the greatest inter-scholastic football player ever produced in the Middle West. Besides football in his pre-college days, O'Boyle was a letter man in the other two major sports at East High.

Pro Offer Made

In 1925 and 1926 he held down the kicking position under Rockne. Besides having several offers from professional football teams, he was picked by sport writers on the New York Sun for the position that he held so well at college.

At present he is playing center-field with the Des Moines baseball team in the Western League and is showing the "cornhuskers" from Iowa that he knows something about the national game as well as football. But the call of the pigskin is too strong for the good looking Irish halfback and he is giving up the game of the diamond to come to Nevada and assist Shaw in the development of the Pack for the 1927 season.

Other Sports

Being too light for inter-collegiate basketball, O'Boyle turned to other sports and is no slouch in a game of tennis, golf or hockey. He was also a letter man on the Notre Dame baseball nine, serving in the position of center field for three years and closing his baseball career with a batting and fielding average that is to be envied by some of the leading baseball players of the country.

With two men, guiding the destiny of the Wolf Pack this season, who have had their training under the famous Rockne, there will be very little foolishness in the ranks and a winning team can be looked forward by Nevada's ardent fans.

Policemen are kept so busy listening to the troubles of others that they have but little time to think of their own.

ing through some of the common Nevada movements; actual scrimmage work will not begin until the middle of next week.

HOCKEY TURNOUT LOW THIS YEAR

Lack of freshmen women has hindered the forming of hockey teams this year and the recruiting of more women has been started by the hockey manager, Sheila Parker. This sport is usually one of the most popular on the campus and the failure of women to turnout is regarded as a surprise.

W. A. A. points may be earned by playing Hockey and anyone wishing to join any of these teams should see the manager at once.

WOLF GRIDDERS RECEIVE HONORS

Six Nevada varsity stars received recognition in the Spalding football guide by its editor, E. K. Hall, who is known as an authority on football, as leading players of the country during the 1926 season.

The six receiving recognition were Max Allen, captain of last year's team, Reynold Hansen, captain of this year's eleven, Jimmy Bailey, Mike Lawlor, "Dip" Cooley, and Max Larsen.

All of these men with the exception of Allen are back this year and should cause the rest of the teams in the conference no end of trouble by demonstrating just why they were mentioned by this famous authority.

Women Sign For Clogging Classes

Many students have already taken advantage of the clogging and interpretive dancing classes being offered this year by Miss Elsie Sameth, head of women's physical education department, according to news from that office.

University credit will not be given to freshmen but points for W. A. A. may be obtained in this way.

The difference between the millionaire and the pauper is just about one million.

MAX ALLEN TO JOIN RANKS OF PROFESSIONALS

FORMER NEVADA STAR IS EIGHTH NEVADAN TO TURN PRO

Max Allen, last year's varsity Wolf Pack captain and one of the greatest fullbacks ever to carry the ball for Nevada, may sign to play professional football for Talma "Tut" Imlay, former University of California football captain, who was in Reno last week, said.

If Allen joins the professional ranks this will make a total of eight ex-Nevada players that have turned pro.

Jimmy "Rabbit" Bradshaw, Nevada's greatest star, was first to forsake the amateur ranks and last year he shone as one of the best of them. He was rated as the best quarterback in the pro game by both Grange and Pyle. The other Nevadans who have been numbered among the pros are "Potsy" Clark, Neville Wright, "Red" Dungan, "Dick" Gridley and "Om" Wraith.

Imlay is at present in the East where he has signed to play halfback for the New York Giants. Later he expects to return to California and organize a professional football squad to meet pro teams which will visit the coast during the winter.

WOMEN'S TENNIS ATTRACTS COEDS

Women's tennis promises to be one of the main sports of the year, according to Isabel Loring '23, manager. A large number of both new and old students have signed up for the sport and started practice on Tuesday.

As yet no matches have been arranged, but as soon as definite practice is established, strong competition is expected with the material present this year.

FORMER VARSITY STAR TRIES OUT FOR O. C. BERTH

FROST JOINS OLYMPICS AFTER 3 YEARS ON WOLF PACK

Harry Frost '27, former Wolf Pack halfback star, and A. S. U. N. student body president last year, is a candidate for a halfback berth on the Olympic Club football squad this season, it was learned here today.

According to reports, the ever popular "Frosty" has been completely overshadowing the host of ex-college stars trying out for the O. C. Backfield which will include stars from all over the Pacific Coast.

Frost for three years was a shining light on the Wolf Pack squad, was very prominent in campus activities, and a member of Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity.

OFFICERS' CLUB ELECTS LEADERS

At a meeting of Scabbard and Blade, honorary local officers' organization for students of advanced military training, held Saturday morning, Harney Archias '28, was elected president of the organization for the coming year. Other officers chosen were Tom Towle '29, vice-president, and Tony Blum '28, secretary-treasurer. At the meeting plans were discussed for the selection of an honorary 1 for the military department. The election will be made from among women of the campus and will be conducted in the manner of a popularity contest. A committee will be appointed at the next meeting to take charge of the contest and to determine whether or not the student body will decide by vote the most popular girl.

BAND WILL TAKE PART IN PARADE

The university band probably will lead the military department in parade, which has been planned for the Lindbergh celebration on September 18, according to Professor Kent, although no definite plans have been made as yet.

A new song for the celebration has been written by Mrs. B. W. Coleman, wife of Supreme Court Justice J. Coleman, and composer of "No Battleborn". The glee club is preparing to respond in case a request is made for this number, with the possible accompanist.

Initial Clonion Meeting Set

Clonion, university debating society, held its initial meeting of the year Wednesday evening in the Education auditorium, plans for this year brought up and discussed.

Paul Harwood and Edwin Due, student body officers, gave short reports in which they outlined the forensic program for the ensuing semesters. Lenard Sledge '30 was elected vice-president to fill the vacancy left by Ben Dieringer '28, who did not return to school this semester.

Granddaughter Visits With "Geology" Jones

Midnight. A ceaseless walking up and down, up and down the carpeted floor. A tuck. Muffled curses. A long wail. And hours later a sleepy gurgle. That is the explanation of J. C. Jones nodding over his books lately in classes.

Yes, "Geology" Jones is a granddad, and his small granddaughter paid him a visit last week. The small girl tyrannized the Jones household while she was in Reno, and grandpa spoiled her so that mother, Alberta Jones Brown, '27, had to take her back to Fallon where she now resides.

"But anyway," adds Jones with a happy grin, "she gained two pounds in two weeks, and that is surely going some."

CORVIN ELECTED CLUB PRESIDENT

The resignation of Marvin Robinson '29 as president of the Square and Compass society, Hill Masonic organization, was accepted at a meeting of the club held last night, and J. W. Corvin '28, was elected in his place for the coming year.

J. Travis Anderson, graduate worker in the U. S. Bureau of Mines, was elected to fill the vacant position of vice-president.

Plans for activities of the coming year were discussed, as well as the feasibility of taking in new members at this time. This meeting was the first of the year, and a definite time

MEMBERS OF 12 RELIGIONS ARE ATTENDING U.N.

ROMAN CATHOLICS LEAD WITH ONE HUNDRED TWENTY-EIGHT

A tabulation of the various religious denominations represented on the Nevada Campus shows 476 students who claim membership in or stating a preference for 12 religious organizations. Those students who state no religious preference number 266.

Of the students residing in Reno there are 128 Roman Catholics, 93 belonging to or preferring the Episcopal church, 71 Methodists, 50 Baptists, 35 Christian Scientists, 15 Latter Day Saints, 13 Lutherans, 4 belonging to the Jewish church, and 2 to the Greek Orthodox church.

In Sparks there are 9 Episcopalians, 2 Methodists, 1 Christian Scientist, 15 Catholics, 1 Lutheran, 8 Baptists, and 2 belonging to the Christian Missionary Alliance.

During registration of each year, students are asked to make a statement of their religious preferences for the enlightenment of the clergymen of the city.

Voluntary Laking Is Taken By Chevrolet

There were some worried looking Aggie upperclassmen about the laking grounds, Wednesday afternoon, when the victim of a strange laking refused to come out of the water on his own accord. The help of the service car was finally enlisted, cables attached to the offender and he was pulled out.

There was much speculation as to what crime this poor Frosh had committed. Was he queening on the campus? Rumor had it that he had been smoking behind the Aggie building, but, murder will out, he had committed the greatest offense—he was wearing cords.

Prior to the laking these Aggie men were planning on attending a class at the Aggie farm. They drove the offender into the lake. Yes, he happened to be somebody's Chevrolet.
