"BRUSH" STAFFS TO HOLD BEST STORY CONTEST FOR BIG PRIZE

ENGRAVED LOVING CUPS
PRESENTED BY WOLF,
ARTEMISIA

MINOR PRIZES OFFERED; TO BE AWARDED AT ASUN MEETING

Announcements have been made this week to members of the Sagebrush staff to the effect that a contest for "best stories" is being conducted by the Sagebrush and the Nevada Desert Wolf, a handsome silver loving cup to be awarded to that member of the news or night staffs who wins the highest number of points in the writing of news stories.

Wolf Heads To Judge
Elmer Lyon '28 and Herb Jacobs '29, editor and manager of the Nevada Desert Wolf will judge the stories in conjunction with the editor of the Sagebrush and faculty members, each week upon the publication of the paper, and award three points to the best story, two to the second best, and one point for the third best story published. The judgments will be based upon content, style, diction, and adequacy of treatment of each article and the stories will be judged impartially, in view of the fact that the judges are in ignorance of the writers of the stories. The reporter holding the highest number of points at the conclusion of the time set, will win the prize.

The silver loving cup awarded by the Nevada Desert Wolf in this contest will be a cup of excellent quality and worth, equaling those presented as trophies for sport tournaments, and will be engraved with the name of the winner and the contest in which it was won.

The contest will start with the present issue, and continue through the week of January 27th, in which issue announcements will be made as to the winners of the contest, and the cup awarded at the following A. S. U. N. meeting. Second and third prizes of high quality are also offered in the best story contest, and all "Brush" staff members or tryes, excluding editors or heads of departments, are eligible for any one of the prizes.

In addition to this contest, a similar one will be held next semester by the Artemisia, at which time a beautiful loving cup will be awarded as first prize for the "Brush" staff member having the most points in a "best story" contest, and gold engraved Artemisias as second and third prizes. This contest will last from January 27th, until the week before Mackay Day, when announcements will be made concerning the prize winners, the prizes to be awarded on Mackay Day, at the Mackay Day Luncheon.

Sagebrush Contest
The Sagebrush is also formulating plans for the starting of a contest of similar nature, announcements to be made in the next issue in regard to the details of the contest.

Italic Ns are awarded each semester by the Sagebrush to the six most deserving members of the staff, these awards made at the last A. S. U. N. meeting of each semester.

The Sagebrush recently awarded prizes in the form of a bronze Nevada Wolf with the Nevada seal engraved upon its back to Frances Nelson '28, for work on the night staff of the paper, and to Julian Sourwine '31, for winning the point contest among the tryes, during the past eight weeks. The prizes to be awarded in the coming contests will be on display in the Clark memorial library in the near future.

MEN'S GLEE CLUB PLAN ARMISTICE ENGAGEMENT

The Men's Glee Club have added to their song schedule an engagement at the Granada Theatre on Armistice day, while the women will probably sing at the high school assembly some time in December.

Wonder if these frosh all take military that they can march in the Armistice Day parade?

NEVADA-U.C. TO DEBATE HUMAN VALUE OF JAZZ

BIBLE '30, WILSON '28 TO MEET COLLEGE OF PACIFIC

"Resolved: That Jazz Has a Human Worth Which outweighs Artistic Consideration." is the question of which the Freshman debate squad will uphold the affirmative side when they meet the University of California Freshman team Tuesday evening, November 15 in the Auditorium of the Education building at eight o'clock. The Nevada team is composed of Betty Burritt '31, and Julian Sourwine '31, who have both had experience on the Reno high school debating team.

Debate Free
The student body will be admitted free upon the presentation of A. S. U. N. cards, while the public will be charged a small fee. The debate will be informal, the audience decision deciding the debate.

Emerson Wilson '28 and Alan Bible '30 will represent Nevada at Stockton Wednesday, November 16, when they debate with the College of Pacific varsity on "Resolved that the Democratic ideal is a mistake in sentiments." This debate will also be judged by an audience decision.

No Stanford Debate
No debate with the Stanford women's debating squad will be held this semester, according to Reno Vogliotto '30 debate manager, because of Stanford's full schedule.

Next semester there will probably be three debates with three of the following colleges: University of Arizona, University of Colorado, Oregon Agricultural College, or Stanford, however, no definite schedule has as yet been arranged.

ROTARIANS HEAR DEAN R. H. LEACH

"The Pineapple Industry in Hawaii," was taken by Dean Raymond H. Leach as the subject of an address delivered before the Minden Rotary Club at a luncheon, held at the Minden Inn Wednesday, November 9.

A set of 42 slides as used by Dean Leach which illustrated preparation of soil, planting, gradual growth, spraying, factory processes and other phases of the industry from the time the ground is first broken until the product is loaded on boats. The slides were presented to Dean Leach and the history department by James D. Dole, who is generally known as the Pineapple King of the world.

Dorothy Leach sang two Hawaiian songs to her own accompaniment on the ukulele; the songs were: "Honolulu, I love you," by Harry Lauder and "Aloha oe," by Queen Liliuokalani.

CONVENTION FOR LAND
GRANT COLLEGES AT CHICAGO

The University of Nevada will be represented at the forty-first annual convention of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges which is to be held in the Congress Hotel, Chicago, November 15 to 17, by President Clark, Director S. B. Doren of the Agricultural experiment station, Dean F. H. Sibley, of the college of Engineering, and Director C. W. Creel of the Agricultural Extension Division.

Representative of land-grant institutions from all over the United States are expected to attend this meeting. According to Prof. Doren, the purpose of the conference will be to establish closer cooperative relationships between the state institutions and to shape an administrative policy for the different divisions of the association.

NEW FRESHMAN COURSE PLANNED

A compulsory orientation course for all new arts and science freshmen has been suggested by a committee appointed by Dean Maxwell Adams to investigate the feasibility of such a course.

The committee consisting of Dr. Chas. Haseman, Dean J. W. Hall, Dr. F. C. Murgoon, Dr. Phillip Lehenbauer and Prof. A. L. Higginbotham, states that the purpose of the course will be to acquaint the incoming frosh to their new environment as quickly as possible. It will consist of lectures given once a week, by President Clark, Dean Raymond Leach, Prof. J. R. Young, Librarian J. D. Layman and others on the various phases of the life and work of the student.

The course will be required and will give no credit. It is slated for the 7:45 hour if possible according to plans.

The committee believes that by this means the new students would become orientated to their new surroundings much more rapidly than was formerly possible.

DEFINITE PLANS ARE MADE FOR SCHOOL DEBATE

NEV. FORENSIC LEAGUE TO ENLARGE SCOPE OF ENDEAVOR

In view of the augmented interest in debating and allied forensic activities increasingly apparent in Nevada during the past few years, enlarging its scope of endeavor, according to Mark Menke, high school debate manager. Definite arrangements have been completed for the annual state high school forensic tournament, and the plans as now made call for two entirely new contests in conjunction with the usual competition in debating, dramatic readings, extemporaneous speaking, and boys' and girls' declamation.

New Events Added
The new events to be added to the program will consist of contests in Shakespearean readings and the presentation of one-act plays. The readings may be selected from any of Shakespeare's works. They must be twenty-five lines in length, and are so memorized. The contest will be open to both boys and girls.

The one-act play contest will be open to all high schools of the state. Any type of play, lasting not more than half an hour, may be presented, and the number of characters who may take part has not been limited as yet. The plays will be judged upon selection, dramatic value, performance, and characterization.

Both the Shakespearean contest and the play contest will be sponsored by Campus Players, while the remainder of the program will be, as usual, under the supervision of Clifton.

Hughes Departs For Bay Region

Harold Hughes '24, former president of the university Alumni Association and secretary of the Reno Chamber of Commerce since graduation, has been selected as manager of the Junior Chamber of Commerce at San Francisco. He left Tuesday to take over his new position.

Hughes, at one time A. S. U. N. president, and student body yell leader, has been active in alumni affairs and the alumni magazine, and was one of the originators of the new Union building plan.

PINERO'S PLAY GIVES UNUSUAL PRODUCTION TO HILL STUDENTS

"ENCHANTED COTTAGE"
FIRST FANTASY

STAGE EXACT REPLICA OF MODEL MADE BY
SEMENZA '30

By JULIAN SOURWINE

Giving an almost faultless presentation of Sir Arthur Wing Pinero's celebrated fantasy, "The Enchanted Cottage," the Campus Players last night held enthralled an audience which packed the auditorium of the education building to capacity.

The interpretation of Sir Arthur's play which the Campus Players gave would have brought an ovation to any professional troupe, and when the fact is considered that the actors were but amateurs, their performance appears as nothing less than an inspiration. From beginning to end, there was not a let-down in the spell which these "amateurs" wove, and what might have been—would have been, were the performance actually in the least amateurish—an anticlimax, was so skillfully handled that no awkwardness was apparent, but only a moving prediction of future happiness. Perhaps the greatest tribute that could have been given to the players was that tendered by the audience, when they sat silent for a full minute after the final curtain, before breaking into sincere and spontaneous applause.

The play itself, a whimsical but poignant tale of a shattered veteran of the war and a girl, unbecomingly village drudge, who lost their disfigurements and ugliness and became gloriously beautiful by seeing each other through the eyes of love, is one which would tax the power of any group of artists who should attempt to do it justice. Its choice by an amateur organization was a decidedly ambitious decision, but one which was more than justified by the presentation last night. It was by far the most memorable amateur performance which this writer has ever witnessed.

Because no member of the cast failed to give a truly superlative performance, it is hardly appropriate to do more than name those who took part. Special mention should go to Edwin Semenza, Elmer Lyon, and Jack Gregory, however, for unusually sympathetic interpretations of decidedly difficult roles. Semenza, as Oliver Bashforth, the crippled veteran, had perhaps the one part which required most subtlety and real emotion in its dramatization, and gave a characterization which was remarkable, coming from a university undergraduate. Lyon, as a blinded ex-soldier, and Gregory, in the delicate role of a slightly foppish, rather affected, but altogether human moron, showed, not flashes, but a sustained evidence of dramatic ability which gave much toward making the play the outstanding success which it was.

The others in the cast, all of whom deserve no small amount of praise, were Katherine Mergen, Patricia Harding, Herbert Rountree, Eva Adams, Gwendolyn Pierson, and Whyne Webb.

The play will be presented again tonight, in the same place, at eight-fifteen, and is quite certain to play to a "standing room only" crowd, for those who saw it last night cannot fail to spread the news of its excellence. And it is this writer's opinion that among those who will attend tonight will be many who have already witnessed one production of the play.

CAMPUS ENTERS HOLIDAY PLANS

Campus organizations will play an important part in the Armistice Day celebration tomorrow, according to Prof. C. H. Kent, who is in charge of the program.

Classes will be discontinued all day, in accordance with the proclamation issued by Governor Fred Balzar to the effect that Armistice Day is a state holiday, and students will thus be enabled to attend the public exercises which will be held down town.

At 9:30 the University Cadet corps and band will march from the Campus to the state building and take the leading position in the parade, which is under the direction of Prof. J. E. Martie. The parade will start at 10 o'clock, and at 10:45 patriotic exercises will be held at the Granada Theatre, at which Judge J. A. Sanders, of the Nevada Supreme Court will make the principal address. The Men's Glee club will render two number on this program.

ADAMS SPEAKS TO COMMERCE CLUB ON AUTOS

"OVERHEAD" COSTS ARE
POINTS TO WATCH
CAREFULLY

Following the policy outlined by the Commerce club to have some leading speaker give versions on different phases of the business world, Brewster Adams, talked before the organization on the subject, "Business Ethics." Rather than was the supposed topic, but Adams who avowed that he has always made it a policy to give the fellow what he is not expecting, briefly outlined the largest business in the world; the automobile industry.

Auto Game Hazardous
Claiming that a small capitalization is probably one of the highest dividend payers, he traced his association with a local automobile enterprise. He further pointed out that the automobile industry was a very hazardous one, showing how the stock has gone up the scale and how it has depended on inward boosting for its success.

Keep Stock Down
"Watch your overhead," was his main advice, the keynote of the entire talk. "If one would keep his stock down, he will keep his dividends up," he followed.

Brewster Adams in his usual witty manner followed out these defects and cited the small local dealer as the strength of the general organization and further showed that carelessness in assembling and service overdone has caused bankruptcy among numerous local agencies.

Harking for the moment upon the business ethics of the industrial world, Adams concluded that absolute honesty, frankness and good will were essential for any successful business man. A regular business meeting followed the talk.

JUNIORS' DANCE GIVES SURPRISES

"Be sure and do not miss the Junior Prom this year or you will be missing the best dance of the semester," is the warning given by Milton Taylor, chairman of the Prom committee. It is to be held on the evening of November 12th in the Gymnasium. Plans were first made to hold the dance in the state building, but this was made impossible by a new ruling of the state concerning the use of that building for state functions only. However the committee reports plans for extensive decorations and clever entertainment that will please everyone.

Dan White and his seven-piece orchestra will furnish the music and a male quartette and several soloists add to the entertainment for the evening, and from preparations this Prom promises to be one of the best dances ever given on the campus and one that you will not soon forget.

At least the signs and artistic posters for the dance seem very popular for the committee complains that they are not able to keep them on the bulletin board because of their apparent demand. They ask that all others desiring them will refrain from taking them until after the dance for they are a great deal of work and when carefully made take much time. If they do not stop disappearing no more artistic ones will be made.

FAMOUS EDITOR TO BE SPEAKER

The editor of one of the largest feature syndicates in the United States will speak before the Journalism classes early next month. He is coming to Reno to visit Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and it is through Mr. Vanderbilt's efforts that he will talk while here.

'IDEAL WOMAN' ASSUMES MANY AND SURPRISING QUALIFICATIONS

PERSONAL BEAUTY MORE DESIRABLE THAN MENTALITY BRUNETTES GIVEN EDGE OVER BLONDES IN MEN'S CHOICE

The men on the Nevada Campus lack one qualification of a gentleman in that most of them prefer brunettes. One of our prominent campus "dishwashers," states that his ideal woman must be distinctive looking but not flashy. She must have dark hair and eyes and be of medium stature. She may be a gold digger, however, since I like to see them want something they can't get. She must not have big feet, not a butterfly. She may smoke if she is physically fit and even drink a cocktail now and then, as long as she doesn't get noisy for then I would lose all interest in her. She must have a certain amount of intelligence but keep it in reserve because we men do not like to feel inferior; however, she must use her own judgment about this and at all times she must show a sense of humor.

Non-Smoker
A hill Demosthenes is not particular whether his lady is fair or dark, but she must be of medium height and of course pretty (but we all know that love is blind). "She must be socially inclined and be able to raise the 'dickens' once in a while but certainly not all the time. She would have a little spunk but show her sense of humor when I am five minutes late. I prefer that she don't smoke and I forbid her to drink."

Wants Impossible
An aspiring journalist from another state, describes his ideal woman thus: "Her Madonna-like face framed by blue-black curls is made more beautiful by her ivory skin and flashing black eyes. Her long hair done in a psyche knot on her lovely neck is made even more striking by her black velvet gown which conceals a graceful and well-poised form. Though accomplished and aristocratic she must have democratic ideas; though effeminate, she must be a good sport at all times; but above all she must have 'IT,' and know how to handle men diplomatically. One can see her dancing divinely through life and making an acceptable fourth at any table of bridge."

A girl prominent in W. A. A. and A. S. U. N. also likes a black curly haired arid but her ideal has blue eyes offset by a fair complexion. "Her friendly smile discloses a pleasing personality and the fact that she is an all around girl is shown by her many and varied friends."

Socially Inclined
A wee dark actress much prefers a dainty graceful coed about five feet six inches in height. "Her black eyes are all the darker in contrast with the whiteness of her skin and the reddish brownness of her hair. Her particular type is best brought out by vivid colors. Though aristocratic, not overbearing; though reserved and hard to get acquainted with, her friendship is well worth striving for, as those things to

JONES DISPELLS BELIEF IN HORSE

When the head of a horse was recently dug up in excavations on Newland's Heights and brought to the Geology students, who thought that they had gained access to a rare and valuable fossil, Professor J. C. Jones, however, soon dispelled their hopes when he stated that the horse was a common, ordinary horse of comparatively recent origin.

Professor Jones added that many years ago, before the development of Reno, Newland's Heights was the reposing ground for many dead horses. At that time all dead horses' bones except the heads were shipped to sugar factories to be used in the refining of sugar, which probably accounts for the fact that the rest of the bones were missing.

But the most important thing is that she be interested in the things that I am interested in. She may be brilliant as long as she

Apple Week Now Being Observed

She should be a good dancer, but I want her to be interested in the things I am interested in. and be rather quiet, but must be sociable. She must make a good appearance and go over big and as a result of this have many friends. I'd like to see her go out for athletics but she must not be mannish."
Good Cook
The athletic manager states that "My ideal future better half must be a brunette of medium stature. Though socially inclined she must be dependable, and keep her breakfast dates on time, then I'll be sure to have something to eat to start the day on. You know that's essential because the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. She must dance like a nymph, go places and do things in a big way. She may smoke but not to excess. A cocktail once in a while is 'okay' but drink-ink in public is unsightly. I like an attractive woman but personality counts too. I want a girl that other people like. We are all affected by people's opinions no matter how bohemian we may seem."

"Green Plan" Taboo
"Your Order Please," prefers an attractive, curly haired brunette, tall, slender, and graceful. She should rise to all occasions and if supposed to be at home, be there. There is nothing more disgusting than calling for a girl when she said she would be home and find her out, perhaps with another man. We men don't like to be kept waiting, and if we are well try to get it back sometime. She must be attractive and have curly hair because I couldn't stand to look at a homely girl with kid curlers in her hair, three times a day for three hundred and sixty six days a year, rain or shine. That's my idea of terrible."

STRONG JUNIOR COLLEGE TEAM DEFEATS FROSH

MUDDY FIELD HINDERS FAST PLAYING OF BOTH TEAMS

Playing on a muddy field, the University of Nevada Frosh were defeated for the first time this season by the strong Sacramento Jr. college eleven. The final count was 26 to 6 in favor of the Sacramento griders.

In the first quarter, the Jr. college team opened with a deadly passing attack which the Freshmen were unable to cope with. All but the first score made by the Californians came as a result of the use of the forward pass. However, the heavier Sacramento team could make but little progress through the yearlings forward wall.

Riordan Stars

"Speed" Riordan, fleetfooted frosh halfback was easily the big star of the entire contest. In the third period, he caught a short pass from Sidwell and raced 53 yards through the entire Junior college eleven to the one foot line, from where Deltrich bucked it over for a touchdown on the next play.

Zerich, sub halfback for the Junior College was the star for the Sacramento team, scoring three of the touchdowns for his team. Fumbles were numerous on both sides, because of a slick ball.

On Armistice Day, the first year men will journey to Susanville where they will play the northern Californians in a return game. The frosh defeated the Lassen team 14 to 12 in their first game and they are anticipating another victory next Friday.

STUDENT RALLY SENDS PACK OFF

An unusual number of Student body boosters saw the Wolf Pack and the Babes off to their respective contests, College of the Pacific, and the Sacramento Junior College, last Friday night with a volume of cheering rending the air. Under the peppy leadership of yell leader, Hartung, a spirited send-off was given to the Nevada teams.

Besides the large turn-out of Nevada rooters, townspeople joined in the rally and helped put Nevada first.

Freshmen at the University of Cincinnati were put through a "shoe rush" by the sophomores. All the men were required to throw their shoes into a pile and then attempt to retrieve them.

Plump Figures Cry Out At Cold Days

Plump figures shiver and these same plump figures sigh, "Oh, it's cold!"

"Ready? One, two three, four, faster! Hold. Again, one, two, three, four, down, out, pull, push! That's better. Now I ask you, is anybody cold?"

"No," puff the plump ones who shortly before were shivering. "All ready, again."

And so it goes for one half-hour. Soon the reducing class emerges in a body from the gym and, walking arm in arm down the shadowed brick walk, one says, "now really, this weather is much too cold. What do you say we dispense with our daily half hour of squirming?"

"Very good idea," chimes in the rest. "It isn't good to lose weight in the winter anyway." And with one last farewell the reducing ends on the Post Office steps.

CLUB PRESENTS "BITS OF PARIS"

What the well dressed College Girl will wear at all times was shown last Saturday night when, at the Granada Theater, members of the Junior Century club presented "Bits of Paris," with a cast which included many university students.

Renee Duque, a French modiste, was showing her creations to Ruth Malone, an American girl buying her trousseau. With singing and dancing, sport clothes, bathing suits, negligees, and formals were shown by Jess Roy, Evelyn Turner, Phyllis Balzar, Ellen Harrington, Marchand Newman, Belya Murphy, Bessie Davies, Donna Dove, Eloise Walker, Ida Mary Robinson, Isabel Loring, Mary Johnstone, Helen Webb, and Gretchen Watson. Ruth Malone, another University woman, directed the show.

Dance by W. A. A. At Theatre Soon

Plans are being made by W. A. A. to present several clog dances at the Majestic Theater early in December, in conjunction with the usual presentation by George Breese and his orchestra. The dances will be directed by Miss Sameth, instructor in Physical Education, and the money earned will be used for a scholarship.

Plans as to the exact date of this performance, and who will take part in it, have not yet been completed.

Women Turn Out For Rifle Team

About twenty women turned out for the first rifle practice of this season last Wednesday. As everyone who had signed up for the course was not present, and it is still not too late to enroll, a much larger number is expected to the meeting on Monday.

While a definite schedule has not yet been arranged, matches with other colleges will be shot during February and March.

According to the intelligence tests of Princeton this fall, it was found that the entering class was more intelligent than any other class before them.

A NEVADAN

The following composed part of an editorial published in the "Sagebrush" on May 8, 1924, the concluding issue of that year, and was entitled "Harold Hughes."

"Harold Hughes, student body president, happens to be one of the writer's fraternity brothers and that's unfortunate.

"Under the circumstances, of course, the writer must say nothing in the way of appreciation of the services rendered the University by Harold Hughes who is to turn the A. S. U. N. presidency over to his successor next week.

"The writer can't say, for instance, that he thinks Hughes has done as much, if not more, for the advancement of the University of Nevada than any one member of the present student body. He can't remind the readers of this paper of the two years that Hughes served as varsity yell leader—of the dozens of rallies that he successfully 'put over'—of the new year he introduced and the new spirit—of the visiting teams that never once were neglected during their stay on the campus.

"Concerning Hughes' work as president of the A. S. U. N., the writer must also hold his peace. It would be a terrible 'faux pas' to even hint of the vast amount of business that Hughes has efficiently handled since he called his first meeting to order. How he drafted the amendment to the constitution providing for the competitive selection of athletic managers for all major sports, how he ably represented the University at the annual convention of the Pacific Coast student body presidents last fall, how he has uncomplainingly given hours of his spare time to tasks not in his direct line of duty.

"Next week Harold Hughes will present the gavel to the president-elect, and may then take his seat with the realization that he has served Nevada faithfully and well throughout his four active years on the Hill. The writer believes that Hughes has served with more than ordinary faithfulness, that as president of the A. S. U. N. he has executed the duties of his office exceptionally well."

Last week Hughes presented the gavel to another Nevada alumnus, this time as president of the Alumni Association. Wednesday he left for the coast where he will take over the position of Director of the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce. We hope that this has not put too great a gap between Hughes and the University of Nevada. We don't believe it has.

Such service as he has given it, such loyalty as he has shown through his untiring efforts for its advancement, the interest that has kept him in such close touch through the years since graduation that he knows personally almost every enrolled student, cannot be done away with or forgotten in any short while.

Hughes has just concluded a term as president of the Nevada Alumni Association, a banner year for that group. He has reorganized it till it is now a thoroughly cooperative group. He has backed the University of Nevada on every possible occasion and in every possible manner. His fight talks have cheered the student body in time of slump and he has rejoiced with them when Nevada has been victorious. And, lastly, he has been among the initiators of Nevada's latest dream, a Student Union Building, and has succeeded in bringing that dream to a point where it now seems close to realization.

In conclusion it can be said, as in the former, that Hughes has filled his office and served his university exceptionally well. It is to be hoped that the distance now existing between him and Nevada and the lack of active office will not cause any difference. And, in a loyalty such as that possessed by Hughes, it won't.

By NOMIAL

We are pleased to announce a brand new department of this department, to be known as—

"THE PERFECT U. OF N."

Every week we will print one or more suggestions as to ways of making this campus more pleasant and home-like for the students. This week's suggestion will be known as No. 1, and next week's, oddly enough, will be designated as No. 2, and so on.

NO. 1

Install elevators, or, better still, escalators (and if you don't know what they are, you needn't expect us to tell you. We never give away trade secrets.) in all the buildings except those intended for the exclusive use of engineers, who can walk upstairs or stay away—it makes no difference to us. And particularly are they needed in Morrill Hall. Of course, there should always be two elevators or escalators—one going up and the other coming down.

If the Board of Regents will watch this column carefully they'll get a lot of bright ideas.

THE SMART SET

Nevada is unusually blessed by having numbered among its freshmen women a few who can be designated as the "smarter set."

In the last week's A. S. U. N. meeting when called upon to offer a skit before the student body as punishment for tradition breaking, they distinguished themselves by a very smart, and if one might lean toward prevarication, a very clever play. The unusual theme of a fashion play was chosen, and ably produced by the well known smarter set.

The lassies were so impatient to gain glory for themselves that President Cantlon's raps for order in the meeting were mimicked by them; this being the best done of their acting as it required little thinking. Repeated reprimands by President Cantlon went unnoticed and added much to the prestige of these modern marvels. Cantlon demanded a public apology, to which these spirited and clever women responded quickly and with an excellent showing of spirit by refusing to appear. Clover and T. Raycraft then braved the uncivilized in their den and after a lengthy harrangue they came forth voluntarily, that is they appeared one at a time. Their apologies were indeed clever, the tone of voice, the magnificent portrayal of sorrow and sincerity made a lasting effect on the audience. The apologies were well received if the "boos" can be taken as authority.

The skit itself was worthy of the actors, not a clever line or clever bit of action was discernible in the few minutes of valuable time they took up. The entrance and the attitude on the stage is especially worthy of commendation. Originality and poise was shown in their characterization from bathing to flapper.

Nevada men being soft hearted gave them a copper and nickel shower splurged with a little silver, instead of the donations that are usually given such presentations, namely over-ripe fruit.

In conclusion I am tempted to repeat that Nevada should feel proud of the spirit and talent of the "smarter set." It offers the campus a fine example of the comparison between the right and wrong spirit. A. R. C.

We sincerely hope and trust that not everyone will, upon reading the story in last week's 'Brush, rush up to the top floor of Morrill Hall and proceed to inscribe their names inside the little cupboard door.

We understand that Delta Delta is to be universally organized. Well, anyway we noticed a number of new pledges to the bovine chapter the other day branded DDD grazing in a field north of Reno. Artless says they're better than cats, however.

Do you want your party to be a big SUCCESS? Just hire us to entertain your guests. We are ingenious and untiring, and guarantee to keep the party in a continuous uproar. We're especially useful at destroying that feeling of restraint at formals. Call or phone the S. A. E. house for quick service.

And then there is that sad little letter that we received—

DEAR BINOMIAL—

The Gamma Lambda house has been forced to close.

boo hoo

Interrogatingly yours,

LUMPY.

As usual the Gamma Phis have done nothing so we can't get any dirt on them. It is said that they made good use of the signs left at Hallows' on for firewood. To think that such a noble emblem should serve such a base purpose, an A. T. O. was heard to remark about one of the signs.

MANY MEN LOOKED NATURAL DURING THE LAST SUNDOWNERS INITIATION.

Gus the hired man suggests that the secretary of the A. S. U. N. either hire a boy to read the minutes for her or get a megaphone.

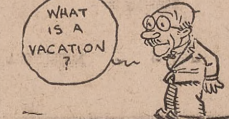

The Phi Phis held open house for the S. A. E.'s last week. Owing to the fact that all frosh would be tubbed that didn't attend, a large turnout was noticeable. It's said the Phi Phis wrote on the bottom of the initiation: "Believe it or not."

Now, it wasn't really necessary, was it, for the Campus Players to TELL us their party was a Kid's Party?

IT WAS PLEASANT TO NOTE HOW VERY DOWNCAST THE FRESHMAN TRADITION BREAKERS WERE WHEN THE APOLOGIZED IN ASSEMBLY LAST WEEK. SUCH HUMILITY IS REFRESHING.

Ain't love grand—One freshman is reported to have made a severe verbal attack on the A. S. U. N. president for the demanding of an apology from a certain woman at said meeting.

What with the number of Fridays without school we've had this year it will no longer be a surprise to professors when we don't come to class on Fridays even when there is school. This will be a real comfort.

We continue to reserve our opinion as to dirt in the column until we gather more data on the subject. There wasn't much this week anyhow, so it was easy to refrain.

Scholastic averages of Northwestern fraternities and sororities were higher during the past year than any time since the war.

NEVADA VARSITY DEFEATS TIGERS IN LAST PORTION OF SPEEDY TILT

FIRST WOLF VICTORY OF SEASON STOWED AWAY BY PACK

PACIFIC HOMECOMING CROWD SEE BAILEY, LAWLOR STAR

The 1927 Wolf Pack that "found" itself in the Santa Clara game Homecoming Day, last Saturday illustrated the fact to College of Pacific fans in Stockton that it does not intend to get lost again this season. Playing before a colorful homecoming crowd of approximately 5,000 persons, the Wolves, led by Captain Reynold Hansen, came back after a rather gloomy first quarter in which the Pacific eleven scored 7 points in the first two minutes of play to rush the Tigers off their feet and amass a total of 19 points to the Californians' 18.

C. O. P. Scores First

Pacific scored a touchdown in the first two minutes of play after a long forward pass and were unable to score again until a Nevada fumble on her own ten yard line gave the Tigers the ball in the last minute of play. A five yard penalty and four tries at the Nevada line to gain the necessary five yards gave Pacific their second score. Nevada scored one touchdown in each of the second, third, and fourth quarters. The last seven points came as a result of a 45 yard run, when Jim Bailey, Wolf half-back, got away on an off-tackle smash only to be downed on the four-yard line. On the next play, Bailey ran around left end for a touchdown.

Lawlor Stars

"Mike" Lawlor also played a stellar game. On two occasions he ran around the Pacific left end for over twenty yards. His line plunging helped account for many of the Nevada first-downs.

Stoltz and Dishrow in the Pacific backfield gave the Wolves plenty of trouble. Puls, Tiger center, played a good game on both the offensive and defensive as did Captain Jones, quarterback for the Stockton aggregation.

The work of the Nevada line was very good in nearly all stages of the game. In the first half the entire team looked a little slow but they came back to display excellent form in the third quarter.

Defense Improved

Nevada's defense against forward passes was improved considerably over that displayed in the Santa Clara game but still looked a little weak. Nevada completed four of her passes out of seven attempts.

The original "Iron men" who played the full game against the Broncos were in the starting line against the Pacific team. Gadda and Moyes, ends; Captain Hansen and J. Lawlor, tackles; Larsen and Anderson, guards; Farnsworth, center; Overlin, quarter; Bailey and M. Lawlor, halves; and Crew, full; lined up for the first kick-off.

Nevada's substitutions were: Newton for Larsen, Connolly for Lawlor, Elston for Bailey, Overlin for Lawson, Lawson for Overlin, McChillum for Farnsworth.

NEW DEVICES FOR TROJAN VARSITY

No longer shall water buckets be seen on the Stanford Farm. At least not on the varsity gridiron. Early in the season individual drinking cups carried on a special tray were used on the field by Trainer Wallace Denny. Last week a new one was sprung. Candidates for football managery were seen wheeling a contraption resembling a miniature fire-engine on the sward at the call for water.

The water wagon is the invention of Dr. George A. Storey, director of Physical education department. Water

PREP SPORTS

The state high school football season, entering the last lap of the race, is now narrowed down to four teams, with any one of them having a good chance to sneak away with the title. The four teams are: Stewart and Lovelock, both of these teams so far have been undefeated, although both of them have been tied, and Sparks and Reno, both of which teams have suffered one defeat so far.

Upsets of the season were found in Sparks beating Reno in the first game of the season and Lovelock pulling a surprise two weeks ago by handing Sparks their first setback of the season.

Easterners Favored

At present the schedule rather favors the lads from the Eastern end of the state as they do not play any of the strong teams. They do not meet Sparks again and have no games with either Stewart or Reno. They meet Fallon next week-end and they will have quite a game in this one, as Fallon held them to a tie earlier in the season. Reno should have more or less of an easy game next week-end when they meet Carson. The boys from the Capital City have yet to win their first game, but they may pull a surprise on the big Red and Blue team. Carson has been more or less handicapped this year by the lack of experienced men and the injuries that they have suffered, but they can be depended upon to play their best game of the season when they run up against their old time enemies from Reno.

The most vital game of this week-end, will be at Stewart where Stewart and Sparks come to grips. Sparks has been beaten once this year while the Indians have yet to taste defeat. After this week the middle toward the championship should be a little clearer and a more definite view of the champion should be had.

Co-Eds Football Rumor Is False

"Gee, is there going to be women's football team?" said the Prosh.

"No, silly!" said the Soph . . . and another war was on.

The cause of all this was an announcement on the bulletin board regarding a meeting of all women interested in football. It seems that W. A. A. is sponsoring a series of talks on football to be given by a number of men interested in athletics on the campus, such as Chet Seranton, Tom Raycraft, etc. Those signed up are to be taught the fine points of the game and will receive special coaching in the art of not screaming on the opposite sex's patients. Examinations of all kinds will be done away with so that we may no longer hear a piping voice say when Bailey runs off another 60 yard run to a touchdown—"Oh! why don't they stop him?"

is under pressure in a tank and one merely has to press a spring to release a spray.

NEVADA WOLVES SURROUND Y. M. I.

"COWBOW" SMITH, the boy receiving the pass will be in the Y. M. I. lineup against Nevada. It will not be his first competition against the Wolves, as he is a former St. Marys star. Needless to say, the others are: Captain Hansen, Moyes, about to tackle Smith, "Jake" Lawlor, in the crouching pose, Larsen with the wicked grin, and "Jim" Bailey, in the act of passing.

FALL TRACK IS GREAT SUCCESS

Roll call will be taken in the fall track class for the last time in the season this afternoon. All of the men who have been taking track for P. E.

will be excused from the regular 7:45 classes in that subject for the rest of the semester.

The fall track season is usually light compared with the regular spring training period, but this season, due to the training for the cross country race by the tracksters. Several weeks ago that was held on Homecoming Day, a team of the track men played a game the work has been quite hard and con-

STAR TROJAN INJURED

Injuries sustained in the U. S. C.-California game will probably keep Harry Edelson, star Trojan fullback out of the Colorado game on Nov. 12. He is expected to be in shape for the Washington State game on the 19th. Edelson received an injured knee cartilage during the Bear battle.

Besides some of the distance men, not many of the varsity men have been on the track themselves for training this fall. A few of them showed for training for the cross country race, however.

Silver Team Is Winner in Hard Fought Battles

Mrs. Clark Entertains W. A. A. by Unique Contests

Straining valiantly through a series of hair-raising and strength-taking stunts, the field meet held by Mrs. Clark Tuesday night, in which the members of the Women's Athletic Association took part, ended in a victory of 59 1/2 to 32 1/2 for the Silver Star team, who won the loving cup presented that evening.

Upon arriving at Mrs. Clark's house the women were impartially handed score cards first a silver and then a blue. When the teams were finally lined up Idel Anderson '30, was chosen for the captain of the Blue, and Mrs. Barnard was chosen for the Silver captain.

House Cleared for Action

After a delightful dinner, the house was cleared for the track meet, and the various entries lined up, with their silver and blue score cards slung rakishly around their necks, proclaiming loudly the respective merits of their teams, singing appropriate songs, and giving yells for their women.

The meet started off with a foot race in which the blue entry took first place, successfully putting the shoe on the foot of the person to whom it belonged, while she was temporarily without the use of her sight.

The "Broad grin" took place next and there was much discussion as the entries lined up for the event. Juanita Lowe, '28, one of the Silver women, distinguished herself and her team by having a grin which measured three and three-quarters inches. Eva Adams '28, silver, and Mae Bernasconi '28, silver, took second and third places respectively with grins three and a half and three and one quarter inches.

Horton Stars

The 220 yard dash, the shot put, and the high jump, followed in quick succession, putting the sidelines into hysterics and convulsing the players. The silvers won the shot put, Barbara Horton '30, of the Blues, assisting them by placing one of the three beans which landed, accurately in the plate of a silver entry. Geraldine Green '31, a Silver, chewed the 220 yards of string and reached the prune for first place in the dash.

Perhaps one of the best features of the meet was "Puddin'" Summerfield '28, who brought the silvers 20 points by her excellent exhibitions of laughing and crying. Miss Summerfield trilled, chortled, roared, wept, wailed and sobbed her way into the hearts of the assembled onlookers.

The meet ended in a relay race, which was taken by the Blues, after an excellent exhibition of ducks given by Jane Eaton '30, Idel Anderson '30, Dora Clover '31, and Euphemia Clark '31, in a swimming scene.

Costly Award

The closing scene of the meet was a ceremonious presentation of a loving cup to Mrs. Barnard, captain of the Silvers by Mrs. Clark. The loving cup is a beautiful, agate-ware coffee pot of eight quart ability. The trophy will probably be placed with others won by the Women's Athletic Association in their various meets.

Miss Weber, athletic instructor, Mrs. Clark, Mrs. Hall and Miss Sameth, acted as judges in the various events.

MANZANITA HALL HAS LARGE AUCTION SALE

"Step right this way, ladies—Everything sold at a bargain—Now's the time to do your Christmas shopping!" Thus, boomed the ringing tones of the auctioneer through the doors of Manzanita Hall Saturday afternoon. Women elbowing and pushing each other, the craning of necks to see each new prize, frenzied bidding over some very choice article, the "going, going, gone!" of the auctioneer, and the triumphant bidder searching a thin pocketbook for elusive pennies, and wondering whether or not she was stung. The articles up for auction were those which had been confiscated by Mrs. Mayer, during the course of the last three semesters, and were all sold—even to an antiquated gym garment which one enterprising young lady purchased to serve as a dust cloth.

Handkerchiefs were much in evidence, and went like hot cakes. There were over a hundred of them—everything to please the most fastidious taste. White cotton stockings, bureau scarves, embroidered pillow slips and gingham dresses, miniature face towels and big wooly bath towels—all disappeared; and according to Juanita Lowe '28, acting auctioneer, Manzanita Hall is now richer by nearly nineteen dollars as a result.

HARWOOD TALKS BEFORE CLONIA

At a meeting of Clonia Tuesday evening it was decided that since only two inter-collegiate debates were scheduled for this semester Clonia should sponsor campus debates to which students outside of the club should be invited.

Mark Menke '29, was appointed to attend the centralized control council representing the interest of Clonia.

The members were entertained by a reading and a mock debate after which Debate Coach, Harwood gave an interesting talk on the Oxford debate system and the conduction for debates between English universities.

WOLVES FROLIC SUCCESS FROM GATE RECEIPTS

CAST IS LARGER THAN IN PREVIOUS YEAR; 150 IN ACT

The Wolves Frolic this year obtained the largest returns that have ever been received in the history of the frolic, clearing altogether $1195. The money has always been used and will be used this year for the purpose of helping to pay the assistant football coach's salary.

Every seat in the house was sold except 27 reserved ones. In the number of sold seats, the members of the Nevada football squad and members of the visiting squad were given as has always been done, complimentary tickets.

Cast of 150

About 150 students participated in the acts. This number exceeds the number of participants in any Wolves Frolic of previous years.

The Blue Key fraternity managed the affair handling the advertising and ticket sale. This organization alone had an advance sale of almost 600 tickets.

The Wolves Frolic is now an established tradition and this year did credit to the stunt committee, Vernon Cantlon '28, Instructor Duerr and Prof. "Charlie" Haseman, who was the originator of the tradition many years ago and who, since then, has always rehearsed the acts and helped make it a success.

RHODES MEN TO ENTERTAIN KERR

Philip Kerr, English Secretary of the Rhodes Scholarship trust, will be in Reno next Tuesday November 15th, visiting the following Rhodes Scholars now in Reno:

George A. Whitney, U. S. Attorney; W. S. Unsworth, appointed 1918, now assistant at Reno Public Library; Charles M. Chaffield, appointed in 1921, Fellowship in Chemistry here; Paul A. Harwood, appointed in 1923, instructor at University of Nevada.

The purpose of Mr. Kerr's visit to the Universities in the West and South is to get acquainted, first hand, with former Rhodes Scholars, and various educated men in the county. He is coming here from San Francisco and will leave Tuesday night for Salt Lake City.

The local Rhodes men are planning a luncheon for Mr. Kerr, formerly aide of Lord Milner in the administration of South Africa after the South African war and Secretary to Lloyd George during the latter part of the World War and during the Peace Conference. Dean Maxwell Adams will represent the University in the absence of President Clark.

It costs a lot, but Camel must have the best

It is true that Camel is the quality cigarette, but it costs to make it so. To make Camel the favorite that it is, costs the choicest crops of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos grown. It requires the expense of a blending that leaves nothing undone in the liberation of tobacco taste and fragrance.

But the fame that Camel has won is worth all the trouble. It has brought

When Prof. Plato was teaching his famous philosophy course back in the halcyon days of Hellas, with Aristotle for a bright Sophomore, the chances are the students wore their classic draperies in a distinctly college style.

And from then on, probably, to the days of trunk hose and the time trousers came in, and ever since, college men have worn clothes that differed from those of the mere laity.

As much as ever nowadays! There's an air about today's college style that's unmistakable. But it has to be exactly right or it's all wrong.

It takes a college man (or a clever clothier) to detect the important differences. And Zeus defend the clothier who tries to purvey to his collegiate patrons any but the right thing!

We've been very fortunate that way ourselves. We have the right clothes and college men recognize them as precisely the sort they want to wear. Clothes made strictly for college by Society Brand. Drop in and see them when you're picking out your new draperies.
