CLARENCE H. MACKAY ANNOUNCES NEW SCIENCE BUILDING DONATION

Last Gift One of Greatest Which Benefactor Has Ever Given University of Nevada

Once again Clarence H. Mackay has shown his interest in the University of Nevada and its progress with the gift of the new Science Building. Fred DeLongchamps, Nevada architect, is on his way back from the East where he went to submit his plans to Mr. Mackay, and it is understood the plans will be completed for the building within the next month.

The site for the new Science Building will be the present site of the Physics Building, which will be torn down. The plans call for a building somewhat like the style of the present Mackay School of Mines, and will be two stories with basement. It will be approximately 170 feet long and 80 feet wide, with a lawn in front of it, with a cost of nearly $325,000.

Work to Start in May
The work of tearing down the present Physics Building will start about May 15, 1929, it being impossible to start during the fall and winter months. It is estimated that it will take thirteen months for the completion of this building, making the time for its opening in the fall of 1930.

It is very evident that Clarence Mackay is looking forward to the development of the University of Nevada, for the plans accepted call for a building large enough to accommodate an enrollment of 1400 or 1500 students in the University, and will be one of the best and most modernly equipped science buildings on the Pacific coast.

Clarence H. Mackay is the only one of the men who received millions from the mines in Nevada who has ever returned any of this wealth to the state, and Mr. Mackay has shown generosity and interest in the development of the University of Nevada as a school for higher education. Among his donations are numbered the Mackay School of Mines, the Mackay Training Quarters, Mackay Field, the Quad, the Mackay Statue, as well as the endowment fund which he has created for the Mackay School of Mines. He has made the Mackay School of Mines one of the foremost mining schools in the world, and has brought the attention of many eminent persons to the University.

University Blessed
It is very evident that the University of Nevada is blessed in having such a benefactor. For many years the need for a new science building has been felt, and many interested in science have dreamed of the time when Nevada should have the proper equipment to carry on work in this field. When the announcement was made by President Clark that this was to be the newest of Clarence Mackay's gifts there was an overwhelming silence in the bleachers. The crowd could scarcely realize that such a wonderful addition to the Campus would soon be accomplished. Truly Nevada is fortunate in having the interest and whole-hearted backing of such a man as Clarence H. Mackay. It should make the Campus realize that when other things go wrong there is one man who is behind us all the time and always working for Nevada and its students.

Pan-Hell Dance Plans Are Made

The annual Pan-Hellenic dance will be given this Saturday night in the gymnasium by the Pan-Hellenic Council, for all the women registered on the campus and their dates. Ray Hackett's orchestra will furnish the music and an admission fee of 75 cents will be charged.

The committee in charge has announced that the decorative scheme will be a novel one, with the programs carrying out the same idea. The committee also promises varied entertainment of campus talent during the dance.

MEN JOIN MINING FRAT

Sigma Gamma Epsilon fraternity held a meeting last Wednesday at 3:45 in the Mackay School of Mines building for the purpose of rehearsing their initiation ceremony. It was decided to have a banquet immediately following initiation. The following have been elected to membership: Victor Pimentel '27, Marlin Newlove '29, Weaver Solomon '29, and Oroville Moyes '30.

PROF IS JAILED AS NARCOTIC PEDDLER

At the last minute before the Homecoming Day parade, the need for fire crackers became apparent. Therefore, one of the professors in the mining department dashed off to Chinatown to purchase these innocent articles. But alas! They were never bought, for fate stepped in and followed the professor in the guise of a narcotic inspector. As the frantic seeker of explosives went from store to store in Chinatown, the inspector's suspicions were aroused and he proceeded to trail the man until he was quite certain that he was peddling drugs. Then he immediately arrested him and the professor soon found himself in jail minus the firecrackers, with the parade almost ready to begin. In spite of all his protests it was some time before his identity was established and he was permitted to return home as a respectable character and not as a peddler of dope. Needless to say he did not continue his search for firecrackers.

429 Delinks Are Handed to 275 Men and Women

Twenty-Eight Students Are "Called on the Carpet"

Miss Sissa, registrar, reports that 275 students of the University received 429 delinquent notices, which is nearly one-third of the total students enrolled. The number of men to receive 'cinches' was over three times the number given out to Nevada co-eds. Of the 275 students delinquent, 66 women were the recipients of 87 'delinks' and 208 men were mailed 342 notices.

In event a student receives a delinquent notice in a half unit course and has already received another notice he is listed among those given one "delink" at the registrar's office. There were 192 Nevada men and women in this class who were sent a total of 217 notices. Fifty-two of these were women and 141 were men, who were given 53 and 164 'cinches' respectively.

55 to See Deans
A total of 55 students were asked to see the deans of their respective colleges. Eight of these were women and were given 17 'delinks,' while 47 men were handed 112 reports of unsatisfactory work, making a total of 219.

Engle Is Elected Alumni President
Saturday night, October 27, the Alumni Association met at Hotel Golden for the annual Homecoming banquet, which was attended by over 100 members.

Four Seniors at Livestock Show
Four Nevada seniors left Reno last Tuesday, in the company of Professor Scott, to attend the Pacific International Livestock Exhibition in Portland, Oregon, where they will take an active part in the judging of stock.

Publication Will Make Award of Scholarship Cup

Nevada Desert Wolf to Give Trophy to Best Men's Group

The Nevada Desert Wolf has added a new trophy to the many which it has given, in its latest proposal to offer a large silver loving cup to be awarded to the leading fraternity or Lincoln Hall in scholarship each semester. Any organization which wins the trophy for three times will become the permanent possessor.

The new gift is being given by Tom Wilson '29 and Herb Jacobs '29, editor and business manager of the Desert Wolf and is to be known as the 1928-29 Nevada Desert Wolf Scholarship trophy. The two men are giving this handsome cup with the belief that it will further scholarship among the men of the campus, and will act as an incentive for high scholastic standards.

First Recognition
This is the first time in the history of the University that any scholastic recognition has been made of an organization nature. There is published every year the honor roll and with it the respective standings of the fraternity and sorority groups. Scholarships have been given for the individual students but any recognition which groups might deserve has gone rather unheeded. This cup is being offered, therefore, with the hope that it will not only stimulate scholastic endeavors but will also give a just reward to that group which takes consideration of the study value.

Lassen County Awarded Stock Judging Contest
Washoe County Team Finishes Close Second
Results of the stock judging contest held during the University ninth annual homecoming were unusually satisfactory. Each team finished with a very high score, making the contest very close.

Class in Drama To Pick Beauty
The campus beauty has again been chosen! This time Professor Duerr's Play Production class has attempted the task and their choice has met with the approval of Robert Caples, whose sketch appeared in the last issue of the Desert Wolf. The identity of the winning co-ed is being kept secret until the next edition of the Wolf when her profile sketch by Mr. Caples will occupy a full page.

Paris Invaded by Frat
The first fraternity to invade the European continent is Alpha Omicron chapter of Kappa Beta Phi, women's national legal sorority. Recently installed at the University of Paris, the group is also known as the Association of Women Jurists of France. It is the oldest and largest legal sorority.

NEW RULE MADE FOR VIOLATION OF TRADITIONS

UPPERCLASS COMMITTEE PASSES RESOLUTION FOR FROSH

At a meeting of the Men's Upperclass committee held October 4, the following resolution regarding Freshmen tradition breakers was passed: Whereas, the Men's Upperclass Committee, believing that disciplinary measures should be applied by the Sophomore class to Freshmen only on violation of Nevada's rules and traditions, and believing that the discipline should be applied as impartially and impersonally as possible.

Joint Conference
In case a Freshman denies guilt the Sophomore President, the accused Freshman, and the accuser shall hold joint conference to decide the issue. If these three cannot come to an agreement, the Sophomores shall be directed to turn the matter over to the Men's Upperclass Committee for consideration and decision.

3500 VISITORS ARE ESTIMATED AT AGGIE SHOW
POTATOES AND APPLES FORM MAIN BULK OF EXHIBITS
Vaunting Nevada's most prized agricultural product in the height of its glory, the Sixth Annual Potato and Apple show, sponsored by the Aggie Club on Homecoming Day, opened its U. of N. doors at 1:30 last Friday to a host of visitors from every section of the state and from many parts of California.

CO-EDS WILL RULE AT PAN-HELL SKID
At last the women have come into their own! It's Leap Year too! With all the co-eds having the upper hand at the Pan-Hell dance, it would seem that something ought to be accomplished. What a beautiful opportunity to have the men see themselves as co-eds see them.

Correction
Last week's Sagebrush contained the erroneous information that Judge Frank H. Norcross of the class of 1897 was a mistake as Henry Cutting also of the '97 graduating class is now very much alive in Piedmont, California, as a retired capitalist.

Song Contest Is Won By Sigma Nu
The Sigma Nu fraternity was chosen winner of the song contest held at the Aggie dance, Saturday night and was awarded the cup donated by the Reno Sporting Goods. Alpha Tau Omega received honorable mention. Other fraternities to enter were Delta Sigma Lambda and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. The judges were Prof. Chas. Haseman, Dr. J. C. Jones, Mrs. Walter E. Clark, Prof. and Mrs. Post. There was no sorority entered in the contest.

Men Taken Off First Team For Training Break

'Buck' Shaw Announces Suspension of Grid Stars

As a result of the verdict of Coach "Buck" Shaw that football captain "Jim" Bailey and "Nig" Newton be "kicked off" the squad for breaking training rules the campus has for the past several days been astir. Feelings both pro and con have been freely offered in defense of the men as well as the coach. Some believing an injustice has been done the men in that many such instances have occurred in the past while others hold to the view that the coach has done the only thing he could rightly do under such circumstances.

POTATOES AND APPLES FORM MAIN BULK OF EXHIBITS
Further, the committee recommends that a certain amount of punishment be listed for each offense and that amount only be applied. Freshmen shall be advised of the reason for punishment prior to its application.

Giant Tubers
Several of the giant tubers on display would have made a delicious meal for a family of five, with enough left over for potato salad the following day. The prize for the largest potato was won by V. L. Adams, Douglas county producer. His prize appetizer tempter measured twelve inches in length and five inches through its greatest diameter.

Apples Prominent
Apples this year in the Potato and Apple Show also played a prominent part in the exhibits and many of the prizes on display would do well toward keeping the doctor away for several days. Nineteen varieties of this choice fruit were displayed and the majority of producers were from Washoe, Lyon, Douglas and Churchill counties.

Mid Rushing Banned
Pullman, Wash.—Mid-semester football rushing has been banned by the Washington State College Pan-Hellenic. All formal rushing must be done at the beginning of the semester, either in September or in January.

OLD GRADUATES VOICE APPROVAL OF NEVADA'S HOMECOMING DAYS

AGGIE CLUB DANCE IN GYMNASIUM FORMALLY ENDS FESTIVITIES OF TWO-DAY PROGRAM

Frolic Program Delights Large Nevada Audience

Varied Acts Combined To Offer Public Entertainment

Homecoming Day at the University of Nevada is over for another year. Opinions voiced by many of the 350 old graduates in returned to the campus were unanimous in designating the occasion as the most successful in the eight years of the event's history. Credit for the two eventful days is due to the homecoming committee headed by Lloyd Moon '29, who was assisted by Claire Lehmkuhl '29 and the committee composed of Stanley Leach '30, Florence Mitchell '30, Wilbur Stodiek '29, Clark Nelson '31 and Lester Spangler '29.

Horseshoe Awards
Cups for the horseshoe tournament were awarded to the Brooks and Peckham team which won the trophy last year in the doubles event while a new contestant in the singles event defeated Brooks for the cup. Lafferty, an eastern tosser, copped the singles cup. The cup for the winner of the Interfraternity song contest was awarded to the Sigma Nu fraternity for their demonstration slightly previous to the presentation awards. Four fraternities competed at the dance but were out-gunned by the Sigma Nu group who were led by Hoyt Martin '28, A. S. U. N. song leader. Alpha Tau Omega received honorable mention.

Cups Are Given To Best Floats
The cups for the best floats in the Homecoming parade were awarded at the Aggie dance Saturday night. The Gamma Phi Beta sorority won the prize given the best sorority float. A swan was their idea and it was carried out very beautifully. The Phi Sigma Kappa Homecoming boxer won the fraternity cup. Jack Gregory '28 presented the cups. Alice Couch '31 accepted the Gamma Phi award and Mervin Little '30 represented the Phi Sigs.

Wolf Shows Much Labor By Staff
The Nevada Desert Wolf, the quarterly publication of the campus, under the editorship of Tom Wilson, made its first appearance this semester on Homecoming Day. The cover design, "Saint Football," drawn by Herndon Vaughn '31, is exceedingly clever in thought, colorful in effect and decidedly different in theme and the spirit it portrays, being one of the features of the book.

Success of Frolic Threatened by Pipe
A calamity took place behind the scenes at the Granada during the last rehearsal of the Wolves Frolic. Professor Haseman lost his pipe! Without it nothing could be done. The entire cast at once began to search desperately for the missing article. Scenes were shifted, costumes examined, dressing rooms explored, and confusion filled the theatre for some time. All work and practice was definitely called off until the pipe could be found. For ten minutes a furious search took place, and it seemed that the presentation of campus talent was doomed to be postponed until some later date. At last it was found in the orchestra pit, and once more restored to its fond parent and the rehearsal was continued.

Frolic Program Delights Large Nevada Audience
The biggest feature of the evening was "Perils of Peru" which presented the combined efforts of a number of campus organizations and the best of their talent. It was a burlesque musical comedy dealing with the kidnapping of the president's daughter and her rescue by the U. S. Marines. The marines were a daring lot and the rescue was effective. Dancing and singing choruses, a tango dance, and a jazz dance completed the act.

Nevadans Voice Opinion Pro and Con On Subject of Co-education

Majority Agree That Women Will Really Profit

Profs and Students Give Interesting Answers

Co-education is more advantageous to women than men. Such is the consensus of opinion on the Nevada campus. Asked if co-education was more advantageous to men or to women, but few of those interviewed gave the men the advantage. Professor Charles Haseman was the only one who gave the men any shade of advantage, saying, "I am very much in favor of co-education. I think association with the opposite sex is essential to the full development of the individual." Then, with a twinkle in his eyes, he added, "However, I believe co-education is especially good for bashful boys."

Professor A. E. Hill has a different opinion. "Co-education to some extent is a mistake for men. While they may gain some of the fitness of women's minds through co-education, women in general offer too many distractions for men in college," Professor Hill said.

Between classes and committee meetings, Professor E. C. Thompson said briefly, "Not much point there. Co-education is undoubtedly a good thing for both men and women. There is quite as much advantage in the society of women as in that of men."

"Subject Too Broad"

Miss Sissa, who certainly ought to know, merely smiled amusedly and said, "It's too broad a subject to cover in a few words, and I haven't any time to discuss it now." Dismissed!

Our A. S. U. N. president certainly ought to have some opinion on the subject, and made this statement, "Why, it's all in your point of view. Academically, the advantages are equal; socially, the advantages are for the women. A girl at boarding school has very little chance of association with men, and therefore is not as broad intellectually as her co-ed sister. Don't get the idea I'm so very conceited, but after all, men make up about half the population of the world."

Ellen Harrington '29, thinks that co-education has its advantages and disadvantages. "I guess it's really a good thing, though. It's a lot like life, though somewhat modified."

Jim Bailey '29, and one of Nevada's most prominent athletes, thinks that co-education is more advantageous to women. "Why, most of them really go to college for a good time. A girl's school does not offer the social pleasures of a co-educational institution. Women certainly have the advantage—but no Santa Clara for me!"

Frosh Version

And now for the Freshman idea. Why, Frosh met emphatically do have opinions, even though they don't get the chance to express them very often! Jane Harcourt '22, says, "Oh, the women have the advantage! Girls coming from boarding schools are either boy struck, or think men are terribly dumb, while the boy at a boys' school is allowed more freedom, and can have friends of the opposite sex outside of school. Through co-education women can understand men much better, and vice versa."

William Collman '20, in the midst of rehearsal for "He Who Gets Slapped," said tersely, "For real study, no women! For a good time and some knowledge, co-education." Oh, I learned about women from her!

Co-education Advantages

Also in the midst of rehearsal, Edith McLaughlin '30, between lines gave this opinion, "Co-education has educational advantages for women; socially, the advantages are not so obvious. The co-ed has a broader knowledge of life, and in a co-educational institution, often has better instructors than at a boarding school. But the Bryn Mawr or Wellesley graduate has a better social background. However, I would not be here if I did not think co-education a good thing."

Harold Bailey '29, is very outspoken in his views. The advantage is unquestionably the women's. Men go to college for a serious purpose generally—the woman goes for the social side of it. Of course this advantage is only temporary, but while they are at college, the women distract the attention of the men, and create a disturbance in general." Oh, Harold, do you really mean it?

"Love is that which a girl has when she goes with a man who doesn't have a car."

OUR WOLF PACK

Milt "Horse" Taylor is another member of the Nevada varsity who has never had any previous experience in high school.

Milt came to Nevada from Auburn and his first year he played end on the frosh team, he showed good form that season making his numerals. In his sophomore year he was prevented from competing at all because of injuries. During his third season Milt played with the Goofs learning more about the Notre Dame system so this year he was ready for actual varsity competition. Milt has been playing steady and consistent ball all year at end. He is big and rangy and has an ideal built for that position.

"Tip" Whitehead, our diminutive little sub-quarterback, had considerable prep school experience at three different schools, Sparks, Gardnerville and Hayward. Playing his last two years at Hayward "Tip" blossomed into a finished player.

He was the star of the 1920 frosh team and last year he played on the Goofs. This year "Tip" has seen lots of action and has acquitted himself well in all the contests he has played. In the Santa Clara game he was responsible for nearly all of Nevada's yardage through his spectacular runs. Although a little too small and light to be a star on the defensive he has few peers on the offense. Before "Tip" graduates his name will probably be a well known one on the coast.

Stanford Honor System Revised

Stanford University—(PIP)—Definite action toward the rehabilitation of the honor system at Stanford has been taken by the Men's and Women's Councils, who have decided that the honor split applies only to conduct in examinations or in any work that is used as a basis for grading—meaning "no cheating"—and does not apply to personal conduct on or off the campus.

The councils further decided that any student reported to them and found guilty of violation of the honor system would be dismissed from the university and that their names, heretofore not disclosed, would be published in The Stanford Daily.

The system has received much consideration by the university authorities this quarter, and a committee of seven students has been appointed to see if it can be improved or if it should be abolished altogether and the former method of "faculty police" be reinstated.

Huge Quantities Used for Meals

Washington State College, Pullman—(PIP)—Forty gallons of soup, 1700 rolls or 60 loaves of bread, 300 pounds of meat, four sacks of potatoes, 500 pounds of squash or melons, 25 pounds of butter and 70 gallons of milk make a most satisfying meal, and the figures are not exaggerated.

That is a typical menu for a single meal at the Commons building where more than 750 students from four residence halls on the campus, besides a large number of independents, are fed three times daily.

DRILLING CONTEST HELD

Students of the Mackay School of Mines held a drilling contest during Homecoming on October 26 at 2 p. m. in front of the Mackay School of Mines building.

The double hand contest, drilling with 3/4 steel and 8 pound hammer in Carson prison sandstone for a period of five minutes, was won by W. Solomon '29 and V. Pimentel '27 who drilled six inches.

The single hand contest drilling with 3/2 pound hammer for a period of five minutes was won by DiRico who drilled 4 15-16 inches.

NEVADA FROSH ARE VICTORIOUS OVER RENO HIGH

YEARLINGS PLAY GOOD GAME TO GAIN 38 POINTS

In the preliminary to the St. Marys-Nevada game last Saturday the Nevada Frosh met the Reno High Gridsters. The Reno team, because of their good showing in the Nevada Conference, were rated as possible winners but an unexpected one-sided victory for the Frosh left the High School team stunned.

For the first time this season the Frosh showed that they were capable of playing good football. The line opened huge holes in the Reno team which enabled the Frosh to win by a total of 38 points. Every man in the team had his work cut out for him and every man did his part well. The Frosh defensive which has showed up well all season proved to be a stone-wall, for the Reno gridsters were never once in the Frosh territory.

Frosh Stars

The Frosh showed that they had several real stars worthy to be mentioned as future varsity material. They were Lamt at fullback, Griffin at tackle and Blizz Johnson at end who unfortunately received a bad injury in a broken wrist and who will be sorely missed in the Frosh line.

The game marked the first time in many years that the Frosh team has so decisively beaten the Reno High school. Had Coach Gadda left his first line up for the second half the score would have been greater. High hopes are held for the game Saturday when the Frosh meet the Sacramento Junior College.

The Reno team, coached by Herb Foster, presented a rather light but a fast line up. They fought for every inch of the field but they were playing against a team that was out for blood. Tomkins at full and Brewer at tackle showed up particularly well.

Line-up

The starting line-up for Saturday was:

FROSH	RENO HIGH
S. Johnson	Secoy
J. Griffin	Law
Cooper	R.G. Gerow
F. Brown	C. Horschman
Phillips	L.C. Adams
Horton	L.T. Brewer
Blizz Johnson	E.L. Bossler
M. Adams	R.H. Luccini
T. Hanley	L.H. Nannini
R. Lani	F. Tonkin
Mitchell	Q. Boland

CHINESE CELEBRATE

Syracuse, N. Y.—Chinese students at Syracuse university recently celebrated their national holiday with an elaborate banquet of typical Oriental dishes at the Asia restaurant here.

The holiday, which falls on October 10 is to celebrate the firing of the first shot in the Chinese revolution in 1911. Thus it is to be compared with the Fourth of July in the United States.

Sorority Women Give Castor Oil To Small Boys

Doses of castor oil, paddings, and egg shampoos—all were administered to a dozen squirming, kicking small boys after they had besieged a sorority house for hours on Halloween night. Windows had been shattered, doors had been knocked off their hinges, and shrill yells and fierce war whoops had finally forced the co-eds into action. But what to do was another problem. Should the police be called or should they prove the independence of the modern woman by tackling the situation themselves. Needless to say, when they were thus appealed to, their pride sent them outside to round up the worst offenders.

The sorority sisters slowly crept out of the backdoor, and tiptoed softly around to the front yard where the invaders were all ready to attack. Then the battle began. Some of the boys were chased for blocks before they could be grabbed by their ears and dragged back to the house. There the breathless co-eds bound them with ropes, and proceeded to paint their faces with rouge, grease their hair with cold cream, and dose them with liberal portions of castor oil. Not until all possible hazing had been administered were the captives released.

Then the sorority house settled back into its usual peacefulness. The members were congratulating each other upon their success, when the war was suddenly renewed with a terrific stamping of feet on the front porch and a clattering of rocks against the windows. The battle had been fought in vain! The co-eds slumped down in their chairs and groaned. No one had enough energy left to raise her little finger against the marauders.

A resourceful sister suggested that a frat should be called in. Thereupon, an urgent phone message summoned a certain fraternity, and, in no time at all, high-powered automobiles filled with chivalrous frat men were roaring through Reno streets to the rescue. But the small boys had become cautious for when the cars reached the sorority they had already scattered to the four corners of the earth. The co-eds would have had an embarrassing moment or two if they had not been able to show broken windows and other actual activities of the battle.

The Colgate Banter, humor publication which was banned from the campus of the Colgate University last year because of undesirable material will reappear soon.

Dartmouth had a very good halfback in Al Marsters, a sophomore last year, and thinks he will be one of the sensations of the football season this year.

Palo Alto Coeds Are Cosmopolitan

Palo Alto, Cal.—Seven women students from various parts of the world are at Stanford University in order that they might aid their sex to be freed from the bonds of slavery of age-old customs and traditions. They are the first foreign women to attend.

One, a Persian princess, the daughter of a former Persian ambassador to the United States, Miss Marzieh Nabil, is anxious to get an international viewpoint that will enable her to aid the women of Persia. She is the daughter of Dr. Ali-Kuli-Khan, ambassador to the United States during the Roosevelt and Wilson administrations.

Three Chinese women, who wear a modified Chinese costume to classes, are also here with the intent of returning to China to assist in the education of Chinese women. Shu-Pan Wu, Lorna Liu, and Mrs. Daisy Law Hoh are the women. Mrs. Hoh and her husband live in Shanghai.

Liselotte von Usedom is from Germany. She, with the remainder of the women, lives in Roble hall, women's dormitory. Catharin Musante from Czechoslovakia, and Wahaka Domoto, from Japan, are the other two women.

Although these are the first women from foreign countries to attend this institution, hundreds of their countrymen have graduated or are attending it at present.

PLEDGES LEARN LINES

Norman, Okla.—Women of the University of Oklahoma have accused the fraternity men there of using "stereotyped lines."

Pledges, the women claim, are compelled to memorize set "lines" compiled for them by upper-classmen in the fraternity. Individuality in love-making has passed on, and the day of the standardized lover is upon us, according to the Sooner sorority women.

The Home Economic rooms in the Agriculture building were the scene of a Halloween party last Monday evening. The Nevada Normal School students acted as hostesses.

Games and dancing were enjoyed during the evening. Several musical selections were offered as entertainment.

Miss Edith Reubsam, assistant professor of Education, and Miss Cornelia Williamson, secretary of the School of Education were guests of the first and second year normal school students. Seasonal refreshments were served at the close of the party.

Tackle Plays, Then Preaches

Delaware, Ohio.—A football player Saturday and a preacher on Sunday morning—that's Norman Scribner, of Baltimore, Md., giant tackle on the Ohio Wesleyan football team.

Scribner played with the Wesleyan team against the University Saturday afternoon, and preached Sunday morning at the North Side Methodist Episcopal church in Cincinnati. Again Sunday evening he preached at the First M. E. church at Norwood.

Scribner, who is known among his teammates as the "fighting preacher," is the giant of Ohio intercollegiate football, for he is 6 feet 2 inches tall and weighs 246 pounds. His playing was a big factor in Ohio Wesleyan's recent victory over the University of Michigan.

PACK IS PRAISED By Old Captain

Ed Reed in a recent interview praised very highly the Nevada Wolf Pack for the wonderful fight it put up against St. Marys on Homecoming Day. He felt that all the students should be proud of this fighting Nevada team, and that the story would have been different if Nevada had not had the necessary reserves. He was very enthusiastic over the work of the entire line, and especially that of Jake Lawlor at tackle, McCullum at guard, and the ends, Moyes and Tomley. Reed was also very pleased with the punting ability of Captain Jim Bailey.

Ed Reed was captain and halfback of the 1920 varsity and was one member of the great passing combination Bradshaw to Reed or Reed to Bradshaw, the only combination that ever scored against the famous wonder team of California.

Football Takes Front Rank As Cash Producer In Universities

Harvard's Team Turns In $1,000,000 Last Year

Gridiron Sport Crowds Other Activities Into Rear

Harvard University's receipts from football in 1924 amounted to more than a million dollars, of which nearly $300,000 was spent on various intercollegiate teams, traveling expenses, coaches, rubbers, trainers, doctors, uniforms and supplies. In the same year, according to a report to the National Collegiate Association by Prof. Thomas French, of Ohio State University, Ohio spent $18,000 for intramural athletics, and $127,017 for a $1,600,000 stadium.

And this proportionate expenditure is by no means unusual, says John R. Tunis, in the current Harper's Magazine. "During the same year Stanford University's athletic receipts were $194,000, and after paying for a football stadium, a basketball stadium, team expenses and equipment, it spent the generous sum of $7,500 on intramural sport," he states.

"When a college spends $74,000 for coaches, $5,000 for rubbers, and $6,000 for medical services in one short season of two months, it might appear that intramural athletics would be likely to receive less than their share from the remainder. Strong and powerful as is the Great God Football, signs are not wanting to show that American college undergraduates are beginning to doubt its divinity.

Class Feeling Dies Out

"Intense class feeling began to die out years ago. Classes today are far too large in the great universities to permit of much class feeling or class loyalty being shown. The feeling so wrongly called 'college spirit' is losing ground in many of the large educational institutions throughout the country."

Seventeen per cent of the men and twenty-eight per cent of the women at the University of Chicago attended no football games during a recent season, according to the 1925 report of the Faculty-Student committee on the Distribution of Students' Time, to which Mr. Tunis refers. "If so many students had been absent from a football game twenty years ago the situation would have called for a football revival meeting.

"To the sports follower football is more than merely a game, it is a religion. It might almost be called our national religion. Dean Willard Sperry, of the Harvard Theological School, said that the only true religious spirit to be discerned among large bodies of undergraduates today, is in

LATIN 41 STUDENTS SCRUTINIZE PILLARS

Armed with notebooks and an air of meditative criticism the Latin 41 class has gone out for the study and improvement of the campus architecture. Several have been seen standing before the Ed building while they seriously observed the shape, form and proportions of the Ionic pillars. It seems that they are all wrong according to the tradition of the classics. The artistic temperaments of these coming architects is quite upset at the faults they have discovered during the past week, and unless they find some reason for deciding that these defects won't prove fatal to the survival of the buildings, something might happen. They may even in the future be seen attempting to tear down the offending pillars. With genius waxing this enthusiast, who can tell what they might do?

the football stadium. So fundamental is the craving of man for ritual in one form or another, one college president said, that when churches do away with ritual it springs up in other and most unlikely places. Ritual has so prevailed football that it is fixed and standardized from Maine to California.

Many Officials

"There are almost as many football officials as players upon the field, and they are handpicked for each game by a High Commissioner who receives a salary of ten thousand dollars for the job; a job which does not appear to be working out over well. Last season more than three thousand dollars was spent for spies to watch the officials and report upon their fairness and the quality of their officiating. This fall there is talk of spies being set to watch the spies at an additional cost of three thousand dollars.

"Colleges are waking up to realize that what they have on their hands is a first-class octopus which is strangling many of the legitimate pursuits of the educational institution. In most American colleges there are two factions: football and anti-football. The football faction is well organized, powerful, articulate, embracing most of the students, the athletic directors, their staffs, many of the influential graduates and members of the board of trustees, and occasionally even the president himself. There is no denying the fact that a winning football eleven is a great help to the president of every college. After winning everybody is in such a good humor that things run smoothly and quietly among students and professors.

The greatest pleasure in the world comes from the consciousness of having done a worthy thing worthily.

Exam Answers of Students in File at Boston

Queer Answers Related in Quizzes of Scholars

BOSTON.—In anticipation of another year's crop of student "howlers" or queer answers written to college examination questions, a regular file for them is contemplated in the history department of College of Liberal Arts at Boston University. Here are a few collected for the file from last year's quizzes:

What countries are on the other side of the Jordan? That depends upon what side of the Jordan you are. Enumerate three kinds of Romans. Number one, number two, number three.

What was the result of the first crusade? Many Turks were killed, but that was not permanent.

What was the chief clause in the Magna Charta? No free man should be put to death or imprisoned without his own consent.

Give an account of Martin Luther's death. He was excommunicated by a bull.

What are the duties of the minister of war? He is a clergyman who preaches to the soldiers.

What were the results of the War of 1812? The war started a competition between farming and agriculture and so raised the price of labor.

Students also stated that: "The sugar act was very distasteful." "Rome fell because she was founded upon the declining Greek power and earning" and "The book of common prayer

Interfrat Tennis Finals This Week

The play in the interfraternity tennis tournament, which has been going on for the past several weeks, has reached the finals and the championship games, both singles and doubles, will be played off some time this week. The S.A.E. team will play the Phi Sig team for the doubles championship, and Hoyt Martin, for the Sigma Nu's, will play Douglas Bussey, of the A.T.O.'s for the singles title. These two are both hard, fast players, and a tough and exciting match should result when they meet.

One match has been tentatively arranged for the team representing Nevada this fall. This is with San Mateo Junior college, and will take place on Nov. 17. The team which will compete in this match has not yet been selected, according to "Doc" Martie.

NO SPECIAL SITTINGS FOR SENIORS THIS YEAR

The sorority and fraternity sittings at the Riverside Studio will end Wednesday, November 7. Thursday, Friday and Saturday will be for the Juniors, and Sunday, Monday and Tuesday the seniors. This year the seniors will not have special sittings, so only those seniors who have not already had their pictures taken need go. Those already taken must be in a fraternity or a sorority panel. If the seniors and Juniors put this off until a later date the regular late sitting charge of $1 is assessed those students. This is necessary because of the lack of studio time.

On Wednesday, November 14, as already announced, special sittings will begin. There will be Whelps caps, Coffin and Keys caps, Block N and Gothic N sweaters, Cap and Gown and Sundowners sweaters at the studio, but to insure a perfect fit each individual is asked to bring his own wearing apparel. The Junior requirement for the panel is a University junior standing at January 1. The senior requirement is seven semesters of attendance at January 1.

The Artemisia staff asks the students to give their utmost cooperation in this work to assure complete satisfaction for all concerned.

SWIMMING TESTS ARE GIVEN TO LOCAL CLASS

Tests were given to both the beginning and advanced sections of the women's swimming classes. Out of a possible 47 scores the average total was about 43. The test consisted of strokes, kicks, holds, breaks, entries, floating surface diving and endurance swimming. The advanced swimmers have also been working on pulling ten pound weights from the bottom of eight feet of water.

The beginning class has mastered the crawl stroke and are now working on the side stroke and on surface diving and plunging.

The tests for life saving will be given the advanced students the third week of November by licensed life saving examiners. Those passing the tests will be allowed to take fancy diving, and those who do not pass the test will be coached further in life saving work.

and will be allowed to take it again just before the close of the semester. Those who do pass will be presented with a life saving cross.

Freshmen at McGill University have taken to marching to classes in groups to protect themselves against hazing.

MACKAY'S LATEST GIFT

Once more Nevada's greatest benefactor has proven his faith in the University of Nevada by a splendid and needed gift. Clarence H. Mackay last week telegraphed President Clark that he would be willing to donate $25,000 for a new building that would house the chemistry, mathematics and physics classes of the University; the work to start as soon as conditions permitted.

The telegram came as a result of plans that had been drawn up by President Clark and Architect DeLongchamps, and submitted to the approval of Mr. Mackay during DeLongchamps' recent visit to New York. The telegram proved to be one of the biggest and most unexpected features of Nevada's Ninth Annual Homecoming and gave the students and grads a lot to talk about.

Clarence Mackay and his mother to date have been the only ones that have returned any of the great sums of money, that were taken from the state during the boom days, back to the state in any way. Mr. Mackay and his mother have certainly chosen the best way to return the money to the state in helping to give education to that state. To date Clarence Mackay and his mother in perpetuating the name his father John Mackay have given at various times many gifts to the university. The extent of these gifts can be appreciated when we name the Mackay School of Mines and endowments for its running, the Quadrangle, the Mackay Statue, the Mackay Field and the Mackay Training Quarters as the gifts from the mother and son.

All Nevada, and every student in the university, are thankful to Clarence Mackay and to his mother, who died recently, for their interest in the university and the donations that mean so much to the student life and education at Nevada.

A CONSTRUCTIVE STEP

Captain Bailey and "Nig" Newton have been kicked off of the football team for breaking training, but Bailey and Newton aren't totally to blame for their breaking of rules. In the past and up to this time, students, seeing members of the various athletic teams break training have merely smiled and assumed that we had pretty good men who didn't train but still played a good game of football. They didn't stop to think that these men were chosen to represent the whole of Nevada in sports, but thought rather, in false loyalty, what a black eye they would give themselves by carrying any news to the coach about the men. The women, too had their share of keeping the men from training, accepting dates and getting a thrill out of thinking that a man would break training for them. The fraternities, also come in for their share of keeping up the general attitude, by knowing that their fraternity brothers broke training and keeping it secret, both for their own good name and because the player happened to be their closest friend.

Bailey and Newton may be called victims of circumstances, their cases alone coming before the coach and they have to bear the brunt of the whole attack on the school's athletes. There is however a silver lining to the case, in that, as long as we have started to clean up this spirit of placing crowns on the heads of players that can break training and still play football (not their best football), it can be said that future teams and years might profit by it.

Several people have accused Shaw of starting too late in the season to do any good by kicking men out for not training. But these people don't realize that Coach Shaw has been playing a lone hand in finding out those who are breaking training and that it is nearly impossible to get students or even downtown people to tell on the offending members. Of course Shaw and all of us have heard rumors of the team breaking training, but there are only a few of us that have actually seen them, and It's kind of tough to get back to writing this here column after the taste that my Home Coming celebration left in my mouth. But, as the old saying goes, "Faint heart never won in a crap game," so here goes!

Of course, to start things off right, we must have our little fling at the Wolves Frolic, and naturally—the first thing called to mind is the Thetas and their little performance. What is still a question in everybody's mind is how could the Thetas give such a live act with such dead material?—meaning of course the green grass for their garden scene which we understand they obtained from a local undertaking parlor.

Well, anyhow, what the sorority choruses lacked in technique they made up in legs. And spell that last word with capital letters and throw particular emphasis on each syllable! Too bad that Earl Carroll or Flo Ziegfeld don't live here.

It all happened during "The Perils of Peru." The piano player broke into a hotsy tune and a talented (?) dancer commenced the opening steps of a Spanish fandango or Spanish padoza (the latter dance is done only at bull fights). "How perfectly shocking!" warbled a gray-haired old lady in the sixth row in the balcony and immediately got up from the electric wire she was sitting on. (Curtain.)

The other day the play production class of which Ed Duerer is in charge, took a vote to see who was the most beautiful in the class, but as it turned out all the women voted for themselves and no decision was reached.

Seems as to how little Oswald and several of his helpers are going to let another Pan-Hellenic dance go by them without getting a bid. That is unless we can call some little girl up an Manganita like a certain S. A. E. did and talk her into taking us and paying for the taxi, the grub, and then getting to slap her wrists, etc. etc. etc.

"I've had just about enough of your blowing," chirped the Lincoln Hall man as another fuse went out.

And now, along with Clarence Hungerford Mackay's gift of a $25,000 Science building comes the announcement from Silas Feemster that he is going to give gratis to all undernourished students attending the University, one-half pint of warmed-over goat milk. FEEMSTER, THE GREAT HUMANITARIAN! GIVE HIM SIX BIG ONES, GANG!

AT LAST! THE BIG POPULARITY CONTEST IS UNDERWAY! Since this contest is sponsored by "Hill Hisses" all votes will be gathered and counted by Oswald Peeper. The winner of this contest will be announced at a big melted-cheese and huss radish blowout at Becker's and will be recognized as "Miss Nevada" or "The Spirit of the Wide Open Spaces." Names will not be received any later than two weeks from the opening of the fall semester of last year. At present two Engineering Profs have handed in their names but Oswald has bared them from the contest as he feels these two men cannot qualify for "Miss Nevada." Horseshoe McDonnell is soliciting votes for his gal under an assumed name. Beware of fakes! It isn't fair to organized labor!

Ever since the Desert Wolf came out we sort of been wonderin' who this gal Trebizond is what spent all her time trying to soo some of the prominent people of the Campus in her little story titled "Is It Possible." In her story she says "she's a NICE girl; just an INNOCENT little girl trying to get along in this world." Yestiddy Oswald discovered that she is a Theta—A NICE INNOCENT LITTLE GIRL!

S.O.S. Southernland, economist par excellence, suggests that the men of this institution give their gold-digger-coed-friends a bank account. It would save the men writing out checks themselves. The girls get it in the end anyway.

SOMEWHERE hidden away among the stories in this issue is one telling of the Desert Wolf Scholarship trophy donated by honor students Herb Jacobs and Tom Wilson. It does seem that scholarship is getting worse every year, particularly with these two offering a cup. WERE STILL WONDERING IF THIS IS A SCHOLARSHIP CUP.

The following case should be looked into by the Student Affairs committee at their earliest convenience. Car tracks were found leading over the grass to the corner of Artemesia hall where they came to a stop under the window of a certain well known coed. Now, who was driving that car or why it ever stopped there is still an unsolved problem. However, it's a stiff proposition and demands investigation.

Here is another case that demands investigation—24 bottles of scotch at the hospital. Oswald is going to do a little of his own private investigation in that case and if any evidence is uncovered it will be quickly downed.

Speaking of exhibitions, what about that trick horse and trick rider which performed last Saturday between halves at the football game? That nag seemed to be a cross between a plow horse, a stallion, and a holstein, and must have a pedigree that extends there are none of us who would bring witness and facts to bear against any of the men. So you can judge for yourself that one man, without "stoolpigeons," and not going around snooping as if he distrusted his men, can learn about their habits and training and what facts he can gather to ditch them from the squad. Shaw did the only thing he could do and would have fired the whole team if they broke training and he had evidence of it.

The school should realize that Shaw has done something real constructive for the university and should back him to the last. The students should further realize that they brought about the blow to our team and hopes themselves, and should show in the future that they don't respect a man who is carrying Nevada's colors and hopes on the athletic field and breaks training for the pure braggado of the thing.

The whole of Nevada doesn't drink and the whole of the football team didn't break training, but if people see one or more persons doing such things, they immediately considered that the whole does whatever the parts do, consequently all the students are drinkers at Nevada and our football team doesn't train. Such reasoning and impressions are erroneous but the only way we can break them is by having the teams train and have the student body work to keep the teams in training, not do their bit by offering encouragements to break training and smiling whenever they see them breaking training. But rather they should assume the attitude that any man they see breaking training they will turn in, not because they want to be tattletales but to protect and keep clear the good name of our University.

A number of grads were entertained at the Sigma Nu house over the week-end. Those returning for Homecoming were: Ray Henrichson '27, Robert Ketchum '27, Ray Fredricks '27, Archie Watson '28, Mike Lawlor ex-'28 and Glenn Ebran ex-'28. Judson Levensaler '29, Jimmy Skeene '27.

The Delta Sigma Lambda's entertained at an informal dinner on Sunday afternoon at the chapter house on Lake street. Those bidden to enjoy their hospitality were: Misses Saralee Clark, Jane Harcourt, Marian Allison, Marjorie Timm and Mesdames F. C. Snooks of Ogden and Ruth Robison ex-'27.

The Aggie Club held their annual Homecoming dance last Saturday night at the University gym. Jazzy music was furnished by Dick Hillman and his orchestra. Later in the evening the usual apple cider was served to all guests.

The Kappa Alpha Theta's entertained their visiting alumnae on Homecoming day at a luncheon given at the Riverside hotel, and at tea at the chapter house after the Nevada St. Mary's game.

The Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity held a banquet Saturday night, October 7, at the chapter house on Lake street, in honor of their visiting alumni.

The Gamma Phi Beta sorority gave a luncheon at their chapter house Saturday, October 27, in honor of their visiting alumni. The house was decorated in autumn colors and the pledges entertained with clever songs.

The Sigma Alpha Omega sorority held Monday evening at the Bulmer home at 128 Talston street, Beverly Bulmer announced her engagement and the intended date of her marriage of November 19th, to Arthur Cox. Mrs. Cox is a member of the Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity.

After the announcement which was carried out in a clever Punch and Judy show, refreshments were served in Hallowe'en colors.

THE EBONY IDOL
Skillfully carved of pure ebony by aged hands and deft. Every feature alkened by the truthness the magic hand of art had left.
Aloft it stands on its foundation through the wind, the storm, the rain, Unmarred, graced by true perfection, the hand of art had striven to maintain.
Men hesitate in wonder of its beauty, lifting hardened countenance of awe.
They grope about for some stupendous meaning centered round some man-made law.
But few, there are, who know the occult secret, and few will ever live to understand
The beauty of the ancient idol was artistry inspired by God's own hand. —Vlou.

THE Panama Canal diggers had engineering brains and money aplenty. But they were blocked by the malaria and yellow-fever bearing mosquitoes, which killed men by thousands.

Then Gorgas stamped out the mosquito. The fever was conquered. The Canal was completed.

The importance of little things is recognized in the telephone industry too.

Effective service to the public is possible only when every step from purchase of raw material to the operator's "Number, please" has been cared for.

This is work for men who can sense the relations between seemingly unrelated factors, men with the vision to see a possible mountain-barrier in a molehill—and with the resourcefulness to surmount it.

James F. Skene '27, now with the San Francisco del Oro, at Chihuahua, Mexico, is spending a few weeks with his mother in Reno. Mr. Skene, who is a graduate of the Mackay School of Mines, has given the museum many interesting ores and relics gathered during his engineering practice in Mexico and South America.

He also brings back word from another Nevada graduate A. M. (Doggie) Dixon, who is employed as engineer for the same company and who is doing very good work for them.

Harold Coffin '28 is now editor of the "Hawaii," a monthly magazine put out by the Hawaii Tourist Bureau at Honolulu. This bureau is the official publicity and information body for all the Hawaiian Islands.

Band to Present Program for KOH

The University band has received an offer to broadcast a half-hour's program over KOH, local broadcasting station, this evening. Although the band has been fulfilling a large number of engagements lately it is probable that the offer will be accepted as the band has ready for presentation a number of suitable numbers, including an overture, several marches, and the "Triumph Hymn." The broadcasting of such a program would be an advertisement for band and university and, according to Professor Post, will be accomplished if several minor difficulties can be overcome.

Lights that Fill the Skies with Commerce

THE air map of America is now in the making—on the ground.
Ten years ago, there were 218 miles of air mail routes with two station stops; to-day, a network of sky roads bridges the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.
Can you imagine this growth without electricity—without illuminated airports—without trunk lines studded with electric beacons?
Men of vision are building for increasing traffic of the air. Soon, the skies will be filled with commerce.
Just as electricity is helping to conquer the air, the land, and the sea to-day, so to-morrow it will lead to greater accomplishments in aviation and in every human activity.

Mr. McMurray Waxes Poetic over Tobacco

Carrollton, Texas
May 15, 1928

Larus & Bro. Co., Richmond, Va.
Gentlemen:

Having been a user of Edgeworth for over eight years, I can truthfully say that it is the best on earth. I am enclosing a little ditty that I believe expresses my sentiments entirely:

Old Man Joy and Old Man Trouble
Went out for a walk one day.
I happened to pass when they met
on the street
And I overheard them say,
Said Old Man Trouble, "She's as
wrong as she can be,
There ain't no fun in anything to me, why
I was just talking' to Old Man
Sorrow,
And he says the world will end
tomorrow."
Then Old Man Joy he started to grin,
And I saw him bring out that
OLD BLUE TIN,
Then OLD JOHNNY BRIAR was next on the scene,
And he packed him full from the
OLD BLUE TIN,
And I heard him say as he walked away,
"You have to have a smoke screen
every day.
When a man gets the blues, and he needs a friend,
He can find consolation in the OLD
BLUE TIN,
And I jist don't believe on all this
There's a thing that'll match good old EDGEWORTH."
Yours very truly,
P. H. McMurray

WOLF PACK TO MEET CAL AGGIES ON SACRAMENTO FIELD SATURDAY

NEVADA TEAM ENTERS FOURTH CONFERENCE GAME WITH MUCH BATTERED GRID SQUAD

By GUS NEWMAN
As the 9:05 train pulls out tonight on its way over the Sierras it will have tucked away in one of the Pullman's a greatly changed lineup of Wolves who are headed for Sacramento and the land of the California Aggies.

With "Jim" Bailey and "Nig" Newton dropped from the squad, "Buck" Farnsworth forced out with a broken collar bone, and Hal Overlin laid up with a bad shoulder, Coach "Buck" Shaw has found it necessary to build an entire new team in one week. Bailey and Newton were suspended for having violated training regulations and with that suspension went two of the strongest men in the Nevada lineup. Jimmy was just getting into shape again from the injuries suffered in the St. Ignatius encounter and would undoubtedly have been in the lineup this week. With Bailey definitely out and Ambrose in bed suffering from an attack of flu backfield coach "Chet" Scranon has had to spend his time grooming a new man to fill the position of left halfback. During the last week he has been alternating "Speed" Rordan and Doug Ford in the art of tiding the ball. Neither of these two men have had a chance to participate in any varsity games this season and might prove a bit inexperienced in the Aggie encounter, however they have been working hard nightly and both Shaw and Scranon are confident that they will be able to perform their required duties. It is probable that Ambrose will make the trip if he is sufficiently strong after his sudden illness.

Walters Center
With Farnsworth out of the lineup Shaw has moved Walters into the position of first string center. McCullom has been shifted from guard into reserve center and Shaw has been busy grooming "Lefty" in the art of snapping the ball. Last year McCullom played regularly at center but held down the berth of right guard throughout the entire season this year. Art Brewster and Walden Kline have been alternating at right guard in McCullom's place. Both of these boys have been working hard of late and either of them might start against the Aggies tomorrow afternoon.

Kinnon Tackle
Bill Kinnon has been filling the shoes of "Nig" Newton at right tackle. Kinnon is a big man and although not as experienced as Newton knows how to handle himself when it comes to disposing of the opposing linesman. "Tip" Whitehead will work out at the position of quarterback. The little giant has been called upon time and again to substitute for Hal Overlin when he was forced from the game and each time Whitehead has shown himself to be a fine field general. Dick Tupper has been limping around on his injured ankle the last couple of nights and has been doing a little signal calling himself. If his injured member is sufficiently strong Tupper may accompany the team on its trip to Sacramento.

At the wing positions Shaw still has Moyes and Tomley, both of who played classy football against the Saints last Saturday. Moyes is a tough man and plenty fast for his size. He has been a great help to Nevada so far this season and should make the Aggie quarterback think twice before starting any end runs his way in the game tomorrow. Tomley hasn't performed to any great extent this season but from the showing "Les" made last Saturday he is a cinch to work at left end against the Cal Aggies.

Lawlor O. K.
"Jake" Lawlor will still be in his position at left tackle tomorrow. The big Irishman is about as hard a player as the Wolves have. "Jake" is plenty fast and when once he gets his huge bulk under way he's pretty hard to stop. The St. Mary's linesmen and backfield men are still nursing the bruises administered them by Lawlor when he crashed through to stop plays before they were hardly started. Lawlor figures on leaving the same impression among the Aggies after tomorrow's game is through and when "Jake" decides upon a thing he generally carries it through. Chris Stockton will be flanking Walters on the left side. Stockton is another man

FROSH TO HAVE TOUGH CONTEST IN SACRAMENTO

ENDS WEAKENED BY LOSS OF ALEX WILSON AND BIZZ JOHNSON

With a clear record of five games played with three won and two tied, the Frosh will enter into their toughest game Saturday against the Sacramento Junior College. This game each year has been the toughest contest that the Frosh schedule, and the Sacramento men always have the edge and the odds, as they have this year again. The game will be here at home and the Frosh are expected to put up a good battle against the stronger team. The fact that the Frosh romped all over Reno High last Saturday does not mean much, for the Reno team this year is not up to the standard that it has set for itself during the last four or five seasons.

Two Men Lost
Two very valuable men to the team will not be in the plays due to injuries which will keep them out for the rest of the season. Wilson, quarterback, is out with an injured ankle and his loss to the team will be felt in the running Saturday. "Bizz" Johnson, the other man out, has a broken wrist which he received Saturday. This will mean that the left end, which Johnson has been handling masterfully all season will be weakened a great deal. Johnson is an outstanding man on the team and it is extreme hard luck for him and the squad at best, to be forced out of the game when he will be needed most and would have a chance to face opposition that is conceded to be better than any the squad has met with this season.

Ahern and Sharp, both frosh ends, will be the two to fight it out in Johnson's place at the left wing. The rest of the men who will get into the game are: Brown and Waller, centers; Griffin, Horton, Blundell and Gregory, tackles; Cooper, Phillips, Ben Johnson, Hearst, Usnich, guards; Stan Johnson.

who, although not having received much credit for his work, has been in there doing things which demand recognition. "Chris" will undoubtedly do his share for the Pack tomorrow.

Other linesmen who have been showing plenty of form in nightly scrimmages and who may make the trip tonight are Harry Oliver, "Red" Baldini and "Walt" Linehan. Oliver is a frosh this year, weighing in neighborhood of 190 pounds. He has been laid up for several weeks with a badly dislocated shoulder but is now in the position of tackle and may take Kinnon's place in the starting line up. Baldini has been little heard of by football fans since he has not had a chance to perform at end in any games so far. "Red" is a go-getter and it is possible that Shaw will put him against the Aggies. Several times this season Linehan has substituted at guard for McCullom and although a little green at varsity football has made a showing that marks him as a comer in Nevada football circles. Linehan has been suffering with the flu the last week but will go on the trip if his condition warrants it. "Tommy" Towle will make the trip as fullback while along with him will go either Scott or Mohorovich as substitutes. Towle's kicking in the game against the Saints last week was a treat to those in the bleachers. The big "red head" got away some beautiful punts, one of which sailed for 60 yards. "Tommy" will do the booting for the Wolves tomorrow. Scott and Mohorovich both are big men with plenty of speed and either man may be called upon by Shaw to make the trip.

New Team Almost
Although a new team has been built up in a single week the Wolf Pack is not going down to Sacramento in a weakened condition. Most of the men are experienced in varsity football and have jumped right into their new positions with little difficulty at all. No matter how strong the Cal Aggies are they will have their hands full with the bunch representing Nevada.

Tomorrow's game will be the first meeting of the two teams since 1926 when the Aggies came to Mackay Field and took a 45 to 7 trouncing. Last year the Aggies presented a powerful aggregation and copped second place honors in the Far Western Conference. At the opening of the season this year these same Aggies journeyed up north and held the Oregon Aggies to a 12 to 0 victory. St. Ignatius who dropped Nevada with a 12-0 score had difficulty in beating the Cal Aggies 14 to 0. The Gray Fog disposed of Nevada and the Aggies with two touchdowns each, except in the latter case the Ignatians made their conversions good.

The fact that the California Aggies appear as another obstacle in the way of a victory has not effected the spirits of the Wolves a particle and the game is being fought with the idea that the Aggies are going to be one team that comes out on the short end of the score.

Kansas Men Will Meet Australia

Lawrence, Kan.—University of Kansas debaters will open their season with an international debate December 17 with the University of Sydney, Sydney, Australia. The subject will be "Would the world be better off without the movies." Two years ago a debating team from the same school visited Kansas, and won a popular decision on the question "Did the World War tend to strengthen peace?"

Merriman and Cole, ends; Lani and Taber, fullbacks; Hamley, Dubey, Jackson, Gotschalk and Bankoff, halfbacks; Mitchell (Capt.), Adams and Wilson, quarterbacks.

The preliminary game will be played by Reno High against the Susanville high team.

Sigma Nu's Take Frat Tournament

The first inter-fraternity volleyball tournament was won by the Sigma Nu's. The tournament was played under the double elimination system which ruled that any team losing two games would be eliminated. During the course of play the Sigma Nu's defeated Lincoln Hall, Delta Sigma Lambda, Kappa Lambda and the Phi Sigma Kappa. Before meeting the Sigma Nu's in the finals the Phi Sig's defeated the Independents, A. T. O. and Kappa Lambda. The Independents defeated Lincoln Hall, while the Sigma Phi Sigma won from Beta Kappa and the Independents. The A. T. O. beat the Delta Sig's and S. A. E.'s and the S. A. E.'s won from Sigma Phi Sigma. Kappa Lambda defeated the B. K. in the first round of play. The inter-fraternity council decided not to give an award for the winner of volleyball tournament this year. The Sigma Nus, wishing to see that their merits as volleyball players receive due recognition, decorated their sugar bowl with the inscription "Inter-fraternity Volley Ball Champions, 1928," and placed it among their trophies on the mantel.

ST. MARYS VICTOR OVER WOLVES IN HOMECOMING DAY STRUGGLE

SCORE OF 22 TO 0 IS NO INDICATION OF HARD BATTLE PUT UP BY NEVADA MEN

By BILL HERBERT

In the hardest fought game played on Mackay Field this season, the Nevada varsity was subdued by the powerful St. Marys team last Saturday 22 to 0, which score was no indication of the closeness of the struggle.

Both teams used defensive tactics throughout the game, choosing to kick on the third down on nearly every occasion. The Wolves showed plenty on the defensive, holding the Gaels to a 2-0 score until the final quarter. In punting, the Saints were forced to concede a slight edge to Nevada, their kicks averaging about 40 yards, while Towle and Bailey average close to 45 yards with their boots.

Nevada's chances for a victory, or a closer score suffered severely when Buck Farnsworth was forced from the contest in the last quarter with a broken collar bone. At the time of his removal the score was still 2-0, but without Buck the line was weaker, and the Gaels were able to push through for long gains.

Moyes Outstanding

Moyes at end for Nevada had the honor of playing against the great Iko Franklin, the Gaels' best All-American prospect, and holding a slight edge over him. Moyes was the outstanding player on the field, despite the high rating of the St. Marys' man in the same position.

Jack Lawlor also outplayed a possible choice of the mythical eleven, Captain Al Tobin of the Gaels has been pointed to by the coast critics as a possibility for this honor, but Jack showed better in this contest than did the great St. Marys' tackle.

Tomley, freshman end, has been showing more in every start, and big things can be expected of him in the future. Towle at fullback turned in his best game so far this season. He was the outstanding back on the Nevada team, both on offense and defense, and his kicking was a large factor in the Wolves' fight to hold the powerful Gael attack at bay.

Play by Play

Lawlor kicked off for Nevada, the ball going to St. Marys' 10 yard line, and it was returned by Boyle to the 35 yard line. Rooney was held for no gain at center. Rooney got 2 at left end. Rooney kicked to Bailey who was downed on Nevada's 2 yard line. Farnsworth's pass went over Bailey's head, and the ball rolled into the zone behind the Wolves' goal posts, giving St. Marys two points for a safety.

TO THE PRESIDENT, FACULTY AND STUDENTS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have had the opportunity by representing you in the United States Senate during the past fifteen years to visit many Universities and address the student bodies of such universities on various subjects. Through this contact and association I have been able to study the work and standing of these Universities and Colleges. There are few Universities of a higher scholastic standing than the University of Nevada, and none, in my opinion, that gives the student a better opportunity of acquiring that training, both scholastic and social, which has been established as the ideal of all modern Universities and Colleges.

I have come to the conclusion that, whilst large Universities may offer a broader field of study, they are deficient in their close contact between teacher and student so essential to the moral, social and mental development that is attainable in smaller Colleges and Universities.

I am happy that the University of Nevada has achieved such a high position among the Universities of the country. Considering our small population, this achievement is indeed remarkable and reflects honor and glory upon the President, Faculty and Student Body.

I am personally proud of the high standard of the University and the reputation it bears throughout the entire country.

I hope and expect that this good work will continue, and that the graduates will always, as now, make their mark in every enterprise and field of endeavor wherever opportunity may lead them.

Sincerely,
KEY PITTMAN.

Over 200 Grads Return to Hill For Homecoming

All Classes Except 1922 and 1923 Represented

Every graduating class since the first in 1891, with the exception of '22 and '23, was represented by at least one and even as many as 26 members as evidenced by those who signed the alumni register at the Barracks during the ninth annual Nevada Homecoming.

Although 189 graduates and former students actually signed their names, it is estimated that at least forty more returned to the Campus, but neglected to register. The tabulation of names shows that about as many men were present as women, as the figures are 92 and 97, respectively.

Of the 167 returning alumni from Nevada, 113 are living in Reno, and the remaining 54 come from seventeen different towns in the state. Next to Reno, Carson and Yerington were represented by eight alumni each, Elko with seven, Fallon with six, and Minden with five. The twelve California alumni were divided between Sacramento with three, Los Angeles and Berkeley with two, and Hollywood, Quincy, Susanville, Fort Bidwell, and Johnsonville each with one.

The most recent graduates came back in the greatest numbers for 15 men and 11 women of both '26 and '27 returned.

Norcross of First Class
The name Judge Frank H. Norcross of Reno on the register is of great interest as he is one of the two survivors of the first graduating class of 1891. One of the first graduates of the Normal school, Mrs. Lottie Shaber Rockey '90 of Reno, also signed the register.

The list of alumni shows the following members of the earliest classes: '91, Frank H. Norcross; '94, Lucy V. Parker; '95, Peter Frandsen, Louise Lewers, and Grace V. Ward; '96, Laura Smith Adamson, Mrs. F. M. Durkee, Louise F. Seiler, and Belle Rubison Small; '97, Kate Reigenthal; '98, Sam Doten, John J. Sullivan; '99, Louise H. Julien, Della Boyd, and Martha Watts, all of Reno.

FOOTBALL FODDER

Nevada will buck up against a team of nearly equal strength when it engages the California Aggies at Sacramento this Saturday. The Aggies are in the Far Western Conference and so far this year their record has not branched them as a possible winner. They were defeated by St. Ignatius 14 to 0. This was the same number of touchdowns that the local gridgers were downed by when they invaded the lair of the Grey Fog. If these two scores can be taken as an indication the game is bound to be a close tilt.

Last year the California Aggies were runners-up for the conference. In speaking of their accomplishments, the Spalding Official Football Guide says, "California Aggies presented a well balanced team that won two out of three league games." Two of the Aggie gridgers were picked on the All-Conference team.

Outstanding among Nevada's line-men last Saturday in the game with St. Mary's were "Jake" Lawlor and Orville Moyes. These two men played one of the greatest games they ever have. Whenever a St. Mary's play was stopped behind the line of scrimmage it was almost a sure thing to find Lawlor or Moyes extricating themselves from the pile-up. The Cal Aggies will hear more about these men in tomorrow's game.

The Pack gave a demonstration of real football last Saturday. Although they were fighting with their backs against the wall most of the time the Wolves time and again held the Gaels to their four downs and forced them to kick. Nevada's defensive was exceptionally strong and more than made up for the rather weak offensive the Wolf Pack displayed.

"Buck" Farnsworth, Nevada's stellar center, is out of the rest of the season with a broken collar bone received in a little mix-up with Herrin, St. Mary's guard. Just what the trouble was is not known. Somehow the boys had a falling out; strange, too, it was, as both of them are good sports.

Judging from the five losses chalked up against no victories the 1928 ball season seems to be a big flop for the Nevada Pack. But is it? Although the boys have lost every game this year they have not disgraced themselves in the least. Teams have improved in the last few years and the Wolf Pack has met some exceptionally strong aggressions this year. It's certainly no disgrace to be beaten by the types of grid teams the Wolves have met so far this season.

Cadet Officers End Squad Drill

The Cadet officers who have had charge of drilling the separate squads of the first year military class since the beginning of the semester's work report now for this drill only on Friday. This is the one day of the week when both the first and second year military classes drill at the same time on the field.

The first year work at present consists mostly of platoon and company drill, with a single officer in charge. In each squad however, there has been a corporal appointed who is responsible for his particular group of men. This corporal takes care of the roll call in his squad and turns in a report of the absences and lateness to the sergeant every week. He also gives special squad orders whenever necessary in the drill.

HOOVER LEADS PRESIDENTIAL P. I. P. A. VOTE

SIX COLLEGES ENTERED IN HOOVER, SMITH STRAW BALLOT

Member papers of the Pacific Inter-collegiate Press Association on Wednesday of this week, October 31, conducted a presidential straw vote, believing that a fair estimate of the vote that will be polled on November 6 by Pacific college students could be had. The straw vote held by six coast collegiate publications resulted in a grand total of 11,887 straw ballots being cast. Of this total, Republican presidential nominee Herbert Hoover received nearly twice that of his Democratic opponent Al Smith. Hoover was given the majority in every school vote was held, and the total votes cast in his favor was 7936 while Smith received but 3951. However a good part of the majority accorded Hoover was given by his own college Stanford. It must also be remembered that most of the schools which held the balloting were California schools, the home state of the Republican nominee.

Berkeley Vote Close
Of all reports received by the Sagebrush, the Daily Californian, at Berkeley, records the closest vote for the two men. Smith had 1101 ballots cast in his favor with Hoover slightly nosing him out with 1107. At California a number of minor candidates were placed on the ballot and received the following vote: Thomas 52, Rogers 52, W. C. Campbell, president of the University of California '31, and other minor candidates 23, making a grand total of 2366 votes cast.

The Idaho Argonaut, Moscow, Idaho, cast 1056 votes and gave Hoover 761 against 295 for Governor Smith.

At the University of Washington at Seattle, the University of Washington Daily reported 1115 as that for Hoover ballot and 736 as that for Smith, a total vote of 1915 being balloted, the remaining votes being given to Thomas.

Hoover Leads
Results of the vote of the Willamette Collegian at Salem, Oregon, are: 357 votes cast, 309 being for Hoover and 66 for Smith.

From Palo Alto comes the report that Hoover was given a lead of more than three to one, with forty percent of the students and forty-seven percent of the faculty having voted. Hoover was given 1045 by the students and 192 by the faculty, while Smith received but 300 from students and 35 faculty votes. Total vote cast 1572.

Hoover was awarded 3125 and Smith 1470, at the University of California at Los Angeles, in the vote conducted by the student publication, the California Daily Bruin.

EXCITEMENT AT ANNUAL CONTEST SINGLES FOR HORSESHOE PITCHING ARE WON BY RAFFERTY

The horseshoe pitching contest held during the Homecoming celebration was won by Rafferty who came through the finals with a sensational win over Brooks. The winner of the hotly contested match was awarded the singles cup, donated by the Barber Jewelry Co.

The tourney was opened by a game between President Clark and Dean Stewart who finally won the match after President Clark had upset the dope by giving him a hard battle. The score was 21 to 17.

Singles Champ
In the state single championship tourney two black horses came into the limelight, when Hunter gave W. Brooks a tight run in the semi-finals. Each threw twenty-four ringers in the one game.

Runners-up in the doubles were McIntosh and Nelson, Washoe county ranchers. They were outclassed and had but little chance in the finals, losing two straight games.

The tournament has grown in the last three years to such an extent that many amateur players have discontinued their efforts. Many of the players who shot this year would make a creditable showing in any of the bigger state meets.

Undue stress on sports was the reason for the expelling of West Virginia university from the Central association of colleges.

POP OFF VALVE

I have noticed recently editorials in both the Sagebrush and the Desert Wolf regarding the matter of college spirit. I was especially interested in the editorial in the "Desert Wolf," entitled "An Even Break" in which the editor discusses the matter of promiscuous pledging and the effects of such pledging. He draws a very realistic picture of the deplorable conditions resulting from the present system of pledging and goes still further in suggesting second semester rushing as a means of overcoming the present difficulties. This he says will bring a number of protests and introduce several new problems to be solved regarding rooming accommodations for the freshmen men.

There is one way in which the whole problem can be solved successfully to the advantage of the freshmen, the organizations, and, of the greatest importance, to the University itself. This is to have another men's dormitory. In this dormitory all the freshmen men, with the exception of course of the students whose homes are in Reno, would be required to live during their first year in college. The benefits of this plan is at once evident. If the men were required to live together for their first year in college they would be welded together as far as class spirit and cooperation is concerned, and of the greatest importance, would come to see the university through university eyes rather than through fraternity eyes. The men would come to know each other individually and this would surely make for a stronger and better school spirit.

This would also make for better scholarship among the entering students due to the personal supervision possible only in a dormitory, which the students need. It is a significant fact that, for three consecutive semesters, the Lincoln hall men have had the highest scholastic average of any organization on the campus.

It is true that the organizations would experience one lean year, one year of financial difficulty, but after that there would be no further trouble. It seems to me it would be the best thing, not only for the University itself but for the fraternities as well. It would give the different houses time to look over the men before pledging them, and it would also give the men time to look over the houses and decide for themselves their individual choice of fraternities. It would be of the greatest advantage to the students individually and to the university as a whole if this new dormitory plan for the freshmen men could be carried out.
—DEAN LEACH.

TWO OF NEVADA ALUMNI ARE GIVEN JUDGESHIPS

Judge Frank H. Norcross '81, of the supreme court of the State of Nevada and Judge Harold Lunderback '05, of the supreme court of the State of California were both confirmed to judgeships on the same day, April 18, 1928, and according to a statement made to Dr. Walter E. Clark, president of the University of Nevada, this is the only college or university in the country to have two of its alumni confirmed to judgeships on the same day.

AVIATION OPEN TO UNIVERSITY MEN AND WOMEN

OLD DEHAVILLAND-4 TO BE EMPLOYED FOR GROUND WORK

An opportunity to study aviation is going to be given university students with the opening of a class immediately by three Reno men. All university students, regardless of sex or college in which they are enrolled, are invited to attend this class.

The details of the course are now under discussion, and will be announced as early as possible. Students interested may enroll at the office of the Nevada School of Aviation at 303 Byington building, tomorrow and all next week, where all information will be available. Classes will commence in the afternoon of November 6, using the old DeHavilland-4 owned by the engineering department of the university for ground instruction.

Plane Needed
Actual flying may not be undertaken with this plane under the regulations governing its gift by the government to the university and in order that students may take the air as soon as possible arrangements are being made to secure a new plane of well-known make at an early date. Prominent well wishers of the university have promised their support, and it is proposed to raise the balance of the cost by a series of dances and other activities, to be announced later.

Instruction will be under the auspices of the Nevada School of Aviation, who are furnishing licensed pilot instructors. This is the first time that the University of Nevada students have had an opportunity of this type, and a record attendance is looked for.

MINES SCHOOL GIFTS

The Mackay School of Mines has received several specimens of high grade gold and silver ores from Canada by gift from Mr. J. Redelius, formerly of Cobalt, Ontario District, Canada. The samples consist of native silver ores and sugar quartz containing free gold.

The museum is also displaying a number of rare specimens of calcium aluminum silicate minerals given by Mr. L. B. Spencer of Hawthorne, Nevada.

Cross Country Cup Is Won By A. T. O. Frat Men

Fred Lohse Sets New Record For Sparks, Reno Run

Twenty-three men, representing four fraternities, Lincoln Hall and an independent team, took part in the second annual cross-country run from Sparks to Reno on Homecoming Day. Fred Lohse '28, running for Kappa Lambda, crossed the finish line on Mackay Field far ahead of Harold Bailey '29, second place runner. Lohse broke the record made by Clover '28 by two minutes 19 and 4-5 seconds. His time for the four mile course was 21:34 1-5.

Lohse's teammates were not so fast and the A. T. O.'s won the cup by placing three men across the tape first. Sigma Phi Sigma took second in team honors with Delta Sigma Lambda third.

Four complete teams entered the race while Lincoln Hall and the independents each had two men entered. A. T. O. was represented by Vargas, X. Lamb, W. Dumble, Tank Smith and Doug Busey. Sigma Phi Sigma entered Hannibal, Bryan, Stoll, Horton, Germain and Wilson; H. Bailey, L. Bailey, and Geyer ran for the Delta Sigs; Kappa Lambda was represented by A. Lohse, Newman, Linde, Stuart.

Many Enroll In Soccer Classes

About forty coeds have signed up for soccer, according to Jane Eaton '29, soccer manager. Sections for beginners and advanced classes are held at 3:45 on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and at 4:30 on Tuesday, Thursday and Friday and will begin promptly on Thursday of this week. Both beginners and advanced classes must be out on Friday and three periods of practice a week are required.

A soccer meeting was held Tuesday afternoon at the Physical Education gym under the direction of Jane Eaton, Mae Bernasconi, W. A. A. instructor, distributed to those who attended the meeting, health cards. After she explained their importance and other details and F. Lohse, Odell and Reimann ran for Lincoln Hall while the independents entered Jones and Gardella.

The inter-fraternity council trophy, a silver cup, was awarded to Alpha Tau Omega at the Homecoming Day dance in the gymnasium Saturday.
