Whit Burnett once said "There are a lot of words in this world, and many of them are lying around loose." I have been reminded of this several times recently upon reading public statements about tenure at UNR. One of the loose words frequently used by those commenting on the subject is "deadwood," most recently by Mr. Banwart in the Sagebrush of March 5, 1974. If by "deadwood" is meant incompetent professors, then I suggest that even with tenure these can be removed after a charge has been made and a fair hearing given. If there are professors on this campus so incompetent that even the Chairman of the Board of Regents can make public charges ("deadwood" again) against them, I suggest that indiscriminate charges against a group, or a system, will not correct the situation. A fairer method would be the placing of specific charges against specific individuals and trusting to another system, our system of fair hearings.

I further suggest that it is not the system of tenure that is at fault. The system of tenure has served the cause of higher education in this country for over 80 years and served it well. If the product of the system is sometimes bad ("deadwood"), the fault lies not in the system but in the manner it is operated. A few years ago our democratic system of fair elections brought Mr. Nixon to the White House. I have read and heard of many attempts to correct the result of this election and of attempts to insure that it never happens again. I have not heard, however, of anyone seriously suggesting that we give up our form of self-government in favor of another just to get rid of Mr. Nixon and his companions.

Another facet of this discussion is that many of those who recommend doing away with the tenure system at the same time mention "job security" as a substitute. No system I know of has made "job security" more effective for the job holder than governmental civil service systems. I recommend the reading of our own Nevada state civil service provisions. In this system, it is almost impossible to get rid of someone after six months or a year. At least tenure requires a six-year probationary period.

ASUN Presidential Candidates

Ron Yee

Issues I will work for are published elsewhere in this Sagebrush, but these promises are only promises that I WILL WORK for these issues. Many of these ideas have coincided with those of former presidential candidates—MIKE WILSON and FRANK DELL'APA, THUS THEY HAVE GIVEN ME THEIR ENDORSEMENTS in the general election Wednesday. I will enlarge on several key topics and mention others:

- 1) ASUN concerts should have a minimum age restriction—this would result in a reduction in the number of concerts, but the quality of the concerts would be greatly improved by keeping the "teeny boppers" OUT!
- 2) The question of both men's and women's athletic funding should be settled.
- 3) More student services are needed.
- 4) Development of a "student" bookstore—the present bookstore should cater to the students' needs since it is funded by ASUN monies—which it does not. I am tired of being "ripped off" by the bookstore!
- 5) I would also like to see ALL parking lots paved.

PLEASE, TAKE TIME BEFORE YOU VOTE WEDNESDAY—BUT DO TAKE THE TIME TO VOTE!
Thank you,
Ron Yee

Tom Mayer

For the last two weeks I have made an effort to talk to many students about the role of the president. I have stressed my accomplishments as an Education Senator during the past year (working to abolish the foreign language requirement, the elimination of the $75 Student Teaching Fee, and my involvement on the Academic calendar system). I have tried to convey the importance of the next two semesters, the effect it will have on the students and the absolute necessity to have an ASUN president who is experienced and capable of expressing, representing, and responding to the views and opinions of the UNR students.

These are the important characteristics needed in an ASUN president, not the ability of making sensational campaign promises. My opponent has said that if elected he would try to establish a limited age for concert attendance. This would definitely hurt ASUN financially, because it would cost the students more. Besides, the ASUN president does not solely decide the policy of activities, but rather the V.P. of Activities. My opponent wants to develop a "student" bookstore. I can not understand how my opponent could have gone through a year of Senate without knowing that the Bookstore is owned and operated by ASUN.

I hope you will take the facts into consideration and VOTE ON WEDNESDAY, MARCH 13.
Tom Mayer

Presidential endorsements

For Ron Yee

The coming year will be one of the most important in the history of UNR. Our centennial promises to be a year of unlimited potential. A self-interested, unmotivated student government could squander this by bending under the thumb of the Board of Regents and by sponsoring uneventful and uninteresting activities.

I feel that if a student government isn't willing to "stick its neck out" for what it believes to be in the students' best interest, it is a non-functional, half-assed administration—inactive and undaring. This type of courage has been shown by ASUN President, Terry Reynolds, and I believe Ron Yee will continue undauntingly to exercise his responsibility to the students.

We must elect a man that is not in this race to further his own glory and ambitions, which I believe is Mr. Mayer's sole reason for trying to obtain the ASUN Presidency. Ron would not be using the office of ASUN President as an aid for acceptance to law school, but instead would unselfishly use the power of the office to further the needs of the student body.

We must elect a man that has the experience and know-how to get the job done. This man is Ron Yee. Even if Ron didn't have his experience in the ASUN Senate and various ASUN committees to call on to make decisions, he has the personal drive and integrity to get the job done without any thought of what personal gain might be derived from holding this office.

Fellow students, I know both of the candidates for this office and I can state—without reservation—that Ron Yee will use every means open to him to help ASUN through what will be the most important single year in its history. On Wednesday, I will cast my vote for the man that is by far, the most outstanding man for the job. My vote will be for Ron Yee—ASUN President.

Sincerely,
Mike Wilson
ASUN Presidential Primary Candidate

For Tom Mayer

This Wednesday, two candidates, Tom Mayer and Ron Yee, will be running for ASUN President. As an active observer (Senate President) of this year's Senate, I strongly believe that Tom Mayer is the better qualified candidate for this office.

I observed both candidates from a standpoint of their interest with student affairs. Tom Mayer has been the most active senator this year; he has done more than just answer the attendance roll call. Mayer pushed for the foreign language requirement abolishment which was passed by Senate in December. Although he's an Education Senator, Mayer believed it was unfair for the students of Arts and Sciences to have a foreign language requirement. His opponent, a Senator from the College of Arts and Sciences, remained silent on this issue.

Mayer has ideas and plans for ASUN President, if elected. I believe that Mayer will do an exceptional job in this position. The post requires someone who will be active and represent the students . . . not one who will remain passive.

During the past few years, Mayer has represented the student's views on various committees. As a member of the campus-wide Centennial Committee, and as chairman of the student Centennial Committee, he is planning and coordinating the students' activities for the Centennial year. The Centennial will be one of the biggest events for the University of Nevada.

Now Mayer's opponent has refused to debate him on the issues. If Yee is too passive to represent his own views, then how effective will he be representing the students' views to the Board of Regents? Do you want to be represented by a person who won't represent your views?

Tomorrow, look at the candidates and their past records. You'll find that only one candidate represents the students . . . Tom Mayer.

Steven R. Ranson
Senate President

ASUN Vice-Presidential candidates

Brad Stone VP - Finance and Publications

Many people have asked me why I want to become vice-president of finance and publications, and my first response is always the same: I feel that there is more to a University Education than just coming to class and earning credits. You can get more from your University experience by getting involved.

I choose this means to get involved because next year is a legislative lobby year and ASUN will conduct the student lobby. We, as students, need to work to improve student services in the following areas:

- 1) Counseling and advisement.
- 2) Better programs and services to the dorm students.
- 3) More adequate staff for the Veterans Affairs Office.
- 4) A much improved ethnic studies program.

We can get these improved student services and more by conducting an effective STUDENT LOBBY.

Also next year will be the Centennial year for UNR and I will work toward making the centennial year a memorable one for the students at UNR, and one that represents the students views.

Still the regular job of conducting ASUN business must be done. I have the experience to do the job. I am presently an ASUN Senator from business, a member of the Program and Budget Committee, and a member of the Finance Control Board.

I take this opportunity to ask that you VOTE on March 13 for BRAD STONE, Vice-President of Finance and Publications. Thank You.

BRAD STONE:

- 25 years old.
- Veteran.
- Majoring in economics.
- ASUN Senator from the College of Business.
- Past president of the UNR-veterans Association—helped to bring about the establishment of a Veterans Affairs Office and a full time Veterans Coordinator.

Daemon Filson VP - Finance and Publications

The allocation of your money into publications, organizations, clubs, boards and every other financial aspect of the ASUN is the responsibility of the vice-president of Publications and Finance and the boards on which he serves.

The importance of the position is evident; its creative as well as administrative potential cannot be over emphasized. A good position such as the vice-president of Publications and Finance must be continually aware and responsive to the student needs and wishes. It becomes an inoperative office if the financial sector of the job is not blended with the publication sector. This year's publications may be the first to actually inform the student of his government, how his money is being spent and poll the students for their individual interest. The quality of our publications this year has brought local, state and national acclaim. But to stop at the progress already achieved and call it sufficient would be a mistake. There can be advances made in allocation of funds to organizations as well as publications, which spell less expense to the students with no sacrifice in quality.

My name is Daemon Filson; during 1973-74 school year I am serving as Business Manager of the Sagebrush and a member of the Publications Board. I work closely with the entire staff of Sagebrush, Artemisia, Brushfire, and work indirectly into student government through the decisions of the publications board. Because my experience has allowed me to operate on the administrative as well as participatory section of government, I am aware of the strong points of ASUN funding and publications as well as the weak. I am currently compiling an extensive research paper on the business and social function of the Sagebrush and Artemisia. The information gained in this report will mean better allocation of funds and responsive content of publications for the student.

I feel that making a lot of promises concerning the position of vice-president of Publications and Finance would be fruitless at this time. The job demands a day to day awareness and evaluation. I will say that emphasis on evenly spreading funds among the different organizations and attending their meetings to better understand their particular wants and needs, will be my primary objective along with further advancement of publications.

It must be understood that the office is more than funding, budgeting, supervising and bookkeeping—its working with people. Please support Daemon Filson for Vice-President of Publications and Finance at the Polls. Thank you.

Karl Hahn VP - Activities

I have chosen to run for re-election because I feel I know the function of the office of Vice-President of Activities, how to best perform those responsibilities, and experience.

I am committed to providing as many activities as is physically, financially, and lawfully possible for the students.

Some people have made an issue of the youngsters at concerts. Some have called for a minimum age. There are reasons why there is no minimum age. For one, not enough of the student body buy tickets to the concerts to support them sufficiently to stop downtown sales and limit the gate only to students. This means that ASUN could not financially support many concerts unless the students were willing to pay upwards of $8 per ticket—for a mediocre show. Good ones would cost more. There is also a good case why we cannot exclude the younger ones for the same reason we cannot discriminate against people on grounds of age, race, color, creed, national origin or sex.

I think in general that our activities have been good this year. Remember that we will have more concerts this year than any year in the past. We have also had good movies, plays, speakers and a great Winter Carnival. I hope to continue these kinds of activities and to expand them and add new ones.

Thank you,
Karl Hahn

Craig Bonds VP - Activities

Posters everywhere. New-found friends. Sensationalism. Backstabbing.

I overheard a statement that I wouldn't make a good Vice-President because I'm not familiar with procedures. My answer to this is how long does it take to learn, for the most, unnecessary necessities. Besides, I'd like to believe everyone is a little bit more concerned with increased quality activities rather than procedures. We have wasted time and money on worthless activities that have affected no one. Is it any wonder that students are apathetic? Beyond concerts and major weekends such as Winter Carnival, there are few programs sponsored by ASUN that offer any stimulus to students. It is time that we open our minds and budgets to new ideas.

Karl Hahn is going to graduate in December. If he's elected this will leave vacant a very influential position during a most important year. With the advent of UNR's centennial year, activities can not continue to be unplanned, eventless occasions due to a disinterested, easily molded, inactive student government as was the case this past year and obviously will be the case next year if Hahn and the status quo are not defeated. Don't let next year be "Just Another Year."

Activities Board

The March 6 meeting of the Activities Board was called to order at 5:10 p.m. Tyler Shepherd was excused from the meeting. The minutes of Feb. 27 were approved.

Budget Requests—The board heard a request for $100 to help defray costs to bring Professor Kenneth Porter to campus to speak. Professor Porter is from the University of Oregon, and has written books on black history. Dr. Rusco, presenting the request, explained that he has received funding from three other sources. Anne Zappettini moved to approve the request. Terry Reynolds seconded the motion, and it carried with none (0) opposed.

Old Business—Paul Wilford, chairman of Winter Carnival, presented his final report. He said that the majority of comments he received about the Carnival were favorable. The board thanked and commended Wilford for his work.

The board reviewed concert offers for the remainder of this semester. Of particular interest was an offer from Cheney Productions for the group, "Grateful Dead," on May 10 or 11 with a ticket guarantee of 1,500 at $4. Pete Perriera pointed out that the Coliseum is not available during those dates. However, an outdoor concert would be possible in Mackay Stadium. The board was interested in this concert but wished to lower the guarantee. Mike May moved to approve the "Grateful Dead" concert for May 10 or 11 outdoors with a 1,200 ticket guarantee at $4. Bill Mecham seconded the motion, and it carried with three in favor (Joan Baker, May and Zappettini), two opposed (Pat Archer and Linda Bowman) and one abstention (Mecham).

Karl Hahn reported that the Nikki Giovanni lecture was well received, and that about 500 people attended. Reynolds informed the board of the dinner-reception being planned by the Chancellor and the Regents for Clark Kerr, the ASUN speaker for March 14. It was pointed out that it would be impossible to have the customary dinner with the board, because of a time limit. Reynolds will ask for three more students to attend the reception-dinner, so that members of the board can attend.

Bowman passed out the new bumper stickers advertising the musical 1776. Further discussion followed about the complimentary ticket list of the play. No action was taken; the board will resume discussion at the next meeting.

New Business—Hahn reminded the board of Mackay Day, which will be held April 29 through May 4. Anyone interested in being on the committee should apply as soon as possible.

The board heard a request from Bob Morrison of the Arts Festival Board to use the $1,000 allocated for the Festival for part of the costs of the "Renaissance Feast." The total cost of the performance and presentations will be $2,000. There will also be food served, which will be optional to the audience, at $5 per person. No charge will be made for the actual presentations.

Perriera explained that Dick Trachok has requested that the board choose one of the following dates for Homecoming 1975: Oct. 11 or Nov. 1. Perriera recommended Nov. 1, so that the committee would have more time in which to plan the events. The board concurred with this recommendation, and approved Nov. 1 as the date for the 1975 Homecoming.

ASUN Senate

The March 6 meeting of the ASUN Senate was called to order at 8:07 p.m. Garth Colwell was excused from the meeting. The minutes of Feb. 27 were approved.

Report of the ASUN President—Terry Reynolds informed the Senate that he will have a full written report on the National Student Lobby Conference at the next meeting. He next reported on the Union Expansion Committee. He explained that the committee is currently discussing plans for relocation of the Health Service. He announced that another candidate for UNR President will be on campus to speak and meet with students Thursday at 11 a.m.

Report of the Vice-President of Activities—Vice-President Karl Hahn reviewed the Feb. 27 minutes. Linda Bowman pointed out that the section regarding complimentary tickets for the play, 1776 should be deleted, as the board wishes to have further discussion on this matter. A further correction was made to item D under new business (Delta Sigma Pi recognition) to read as follows: "... which opens membership to all students within the business college." Steve Shuss moved to approve with the deletion of the section on complimentary tickets and the correction to item D. Mike May seconded the motion, and it carried with none (0) opposed.

Under the actions of Activities Board of March 6, Hahn informed the senators that there was only one item requiring approval. The item was a recommendation from the board that Mackay Misses be recognized. Tom Mayer moved to approve the action of recognition for Mackay Misses. Bowman seconded the motion, and it carried with none (0) opposed.

Report of the Senate President—Hank Nuwer of the Sagebrush was present to ask the senators' opinion regarding a photo of the "streakers" on campus this week. He explained that this particular photo was a frontal view of the streakers. A hand vote was taken regarding this matter, and five (5) senators were in favor of showing the photo of a back view only, six (6) were in favor of showing the frontal shot, but with certain appropriate areas blacked-out, and one (1) senator was in favor of the frontal view with no black-outs. Nuwer stated that the photo would be run with the appropriate areas blacked-out.

Steve Ranson presented his recommendation regarding housing for the athletes. It was pointed out that no action should be taken regarding Juniper Hall, as it is being considered for future union expansion. Mayer moved to refer this recommendation to the Student Services Committee. May seconded the motion, and it carried with none (0) opposed.

Steve Kent asked the senators to register their votes regarding a constitutional amendment about election of the Senate President after the meeting, so that this measure can be placed on the ballot for next week's election.

The Students International Meditation Society is presenting an introductory lecture on Transcendental Meditation as taught by Maharishi Mahesh Yogi on Thursday, March 14 at 7 p.m. in the Hardy Room of the Student Union Building.

Maharishi Mahesh Yogi first began teaching this simple mental technique in the West over 13 years ago. Since that time over 5,000 individuals from all parts of the world have studied under the Maharishi to become teachers of T.M.

The purpose of the technique is to allow one's awareness to go within in a natural and spontaneous manner to tap the source of creative intelligence, thereby strengthening and enriching the thinking mind. At the same time it produces a deep state of restfulness in the mind and body thus allowing for the release of deep rooted stresses and tensions. T.M. is enjoyed for 15 to 20 minutes daily. The net result of this over a period of time is a rapid and natural growth towards the full expression of one's inherent potential and the harmonious integration of all aspects of life.

Tarnished Silver

Maybe the University of Nevada should just skip 1974 and go on to 1975. Why? UNR's 1974 sports activities have gotten off to a disappointing start. The Silver and Blue have lost four of its five 1974 debuts.

These initial losses seem to be affecting the morale and the play of these teams.

It started in early January when Nevada's ring team was upset by the Golden Bears from the University of Berkeley, 6-3, in Nevada's 1974 debut. Although some aspects of the match were controversial, they still lost. The Pack ringmen ended their regular season with a disappointing record of 2-3. This initial ring encounter with conference foe, Berkeley, got the Pack boxers off to a poor start and eventually to a poor season's record.

The Wolf Pack baseballers had troubles opening their 1974 season on a successful note also. The Pack dropped a double-header to the University of Davis on Feb. 16. Since then the Pack nine has compiled a season record of 4-5.

Nevada lost a week of practice due to bad weather. This setback played a major role in the Pack losing its double-header with Chico State, March 5, and its game with San Francisco State March 8.

1974 has taken its toll on the Wolf Pack nine, but first year coach Barry McKinnon has a team filled with talent and a 1975 league championship is not impossible.

The UNR women had their debut troubles also. They traveled to Berkeley Jan. 26 and lost to the highly touted Bears. Nevada presently has a record of 1-4, which has recently been overshadowed by history making efforts by the Pack women. They placed sixth in the recent Northern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference basketball tournament—the highest a UNR team has ever placed in tournament play.

It's already March and some people are starting to give up hope for Nevada's sports, especially after the Nevada netters' debut was spoiled Saturday by the Fresno State Bulldogs, 7-2, on the Pack's home court. The loss overshadowed the fine talent that Pack coach Bob Fairman has on the tennis team. Freshman Bill Gardner was the Pack's lone singles winner, beating Fresno's Mike Ryan, 7-5 and 7-6.

The other Pack winners were Bob Wright and Tom Wood of the doubles team. The Nevada duo beat Fresno's Lew Brewer and Joe Hively, 1-6, 6-4 and 6-2.

The first two months of this year looked pretty grim for the Wolf Pack. But it's going to have to change and soon. Nevada's track and field team proved this Saturday in the Fresno meet.

UNR's team, with its perennial gifted ability to win, started its spring season off by compiling 113 points in the meet. Its nearest threat was host Fresno, who had a lonely 42 points. Fresno City College was third with 35 points.

This convincing victory by the Nevada trackmen could be the turning point for other Nevada teams to recover from early poor showings. Nevada will have to recover quickly from these earlier setbacks. The next couple of weeks will determine how Nevada will fare in the spring of 1974.

Pack holds Frisco at Bay

The previously silent Wolf Pack bats echoed loudly Saturday in the stillness of the Bay Area atmosphere, as the Nevada nine broke a 26-inning scoreless skein by thumping San Francisco State 7-3 and 7-4.

After losing to SF State Friday, 3-0, Nevada broke out of its hitting slump with Mike Torres and John Staley leading the way.

In the first game, rightfielder Torres tagged three hits and drove in three runs to give the Pack the victory and break the three-game losing streak that had started on March 5 with the Chico State Wildcats.

Stew Colton and Rich Tucker joined together to limit San Francisco to six hits in the first game. Colton, an Illinois native, picked up his second win of the season. His record now stands at 2-1.

In the second game, shortstop John Staley went three for three at the plate in leading the Pack to victory. Staley, a San Jose product, scored twice in his first perfect game at the plate this season.

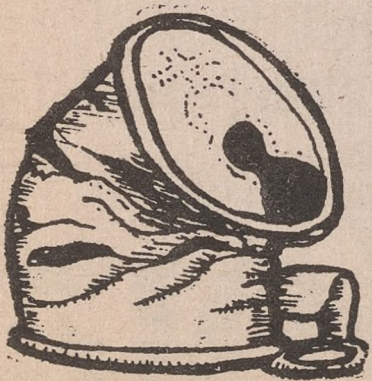

Senior Gary Kendrick, with help from freshman Rich Jamison, improved his mound record to 2-0.

Nevada, now with a 4-5 record, travels to Stanislaus today for a 1 p.m. double-header.

UNR's first league games begin Friday at St. Mary's University to take on the Gaels in a three-game set Friday and Saturday.
