THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA · RENO

Volume 85 No. 53

May 1, 1979

Dennis Myers

CARSON CITY — This is a review of every piece of legislation now before the Nevada Legislature which affects the University of Nevada System. In this, and a succeeding article, a variety of measures will be surveyed and discussed. Included are some bills which deal with subjects not directly related to the university but of interest to members of the university community.

An entry lists the bill or resolution number. The sponsors of the measure follow in parenthesis with the current status, and other relevant information after that.

Abbreviations used in this article are: A.B. — Assembly Bill; S.B. — Senate Bill; A.J.R. and S.J.R. — Assembly and Senate Joint Resolution; A.C.R. and S.C.R. — Assembly and Senate Concurrent Resolutions.

Athletic

A.B. 63 (Don Mello and 31 co-sponsors) — This bill provides for imposition of additional slot machine taxes at the state level following expiration of federal slot taxes. The proceeds of such a tax will be used to build two athletic "multipurpose pavilions," one located at UNR, the other at UNLV. To avert traditional north/south resentments over who has priority, the bill contains this clause: "The board of regents shall begin actual construction of the project on the Reno campus no later than on the Las Vegas campus, shall pursue both projects concurrently, and shall not cease construction on the Reno project before its completion unless it has also ceased construction on the Las Vegas project." Up to $30 million is involved in the UNLV project, and up to $26 million in the UNR one. (These subjects were discussed in earlier Sagebrush articles April 20 and 27.) This bill passed the Assembly last Tuesday. In the Senate, it went first to the taxation committee, which sent it out without a recommendation. It was then referred to the finance committee. It's still there.

S.B. 309 (Thomas Wilson) — This bill deals with the same subject as A.B. 63. It went first to the senate judiciary committee, which released it without recommendation, and then to the committee on taxation. Wilson's bill assigns slot taxes to capital construction as determined by the university board of regents, as opposed to Mello's bill, which assigns them to a specific construction project.

A.B. 150 (Nicholas Horn and 20 co-sponsors) — Limits blackouts of broadcasts of sporting or other special events. Excluded from the provisions of the bill are National Collegiate Athletic Association or Association of Intercollegiate Athletics for Women events. The bill passed the assembly on March 14 and is now in the senate commerce committee.

Bicycling

S.B. 481 (Wilbur Faiss and eight co-sponsors) — Introduced April 17 and not heard of since, A.B. 481 allows tax credit for installation of bicycle racks, adds to the fuel tax to pay for bike paths, and removes the sales tax from bicycles.

S.C.R. 31 (Wilbur Faiss and Cliff Young) — If passed, this resolution will provide for a study to be made before the next legislative sessions on ways to encourage bicycle transportation.

Community Colleges

A.B. 93 (Lloyd Mann and five co-sponsors) — Provides for a new Clark Community College campus. Introduced Jan. 17 and sent to the ways and means committee, there has been no action taken on the bill.

A.B. 136 (John Marvel) — Provides for a community college in Winnemucca. There has been no action since its referral to the Ways and Means Committee Jan. 19.

S.B. 199 (Norman Glaser and five co-sponsors) — The community colleges would become an independent system, removed from the university system. The bill was referred to the human resources and facilities committee Feb. 9.

S.B. 202 (James Kosinski and Norman Glaser) — Introduced the same day as S.B. 199, this bill would require each community college to have a president and each campus a vice president. No action.

S.B. 421 (Committee on Government Affairs) — Deals with Western Nevada Community College student fees used for payment of bonds for Reno subproject. It is intended to clarify language adopted in May 1977. It passed the Senate April 16, has received a favorable committee recommendation in the Assembly and is awaiting a floor vote.

S.J.R. 13 (Norman Glaser and six co-sponsors) — S.B. 199 provides for a statutory change. This resolution would begin the long process of amending the state constitution to remove the community colleges from the university system and the control of the board of regents and create an independent system. It passed the Senate March 29, and is in the Elections Committee on the Assembly side.

Desert Research Institute

A.B. 485 (Committee on Ways and Means) — Removes the D.R.I. from the university system. In the ways and means committee since its introduction on Feb. 28.

A.B. 495 (Joe Dini and Harley Harmon) — Ends the present requirement of an annual legislative audit of D.R.I. The bill has passed the legislature and been signed by the governor.

Fraternities and Sororities

A.B. 55 (Committee on Taxation) — The passage of Proposition 13 and its Nevada counterpart set off a flood of property tax relief measures. One would not have thought fraternities and sororities would have been fertile ground for these kinds of measures, since they are already exempt from having to pay property taxes. But the sponsors of this bill found a way. The bill makes it easier for the Greeks not to pay their taxes. It was drafted at the request of Assemblyman Steve Coulter. He then turned it over to the taxation committee, which gave it a committee introduction. It essentially eliminates the necessity of annually filing for the tax exemption. It has passed and been signed by the governor.

A.B. 740 (Jean Ford) — Extends free distribution of state supreme court decisions, statutes, and Nevada Reports to university libraries. Passed the legislature, signed by the governor. Takes effect July 1.

S.C.R. 26 (Jean Ford and 17 co-sponsors) — Provides for a study of Nevada library services and information storage and retrieval systems during the interim between legislative sessions. Introduced March 23, it is still in committee.

New courses of study

S.C.R. 24 (Jean Ford and Floyd Lamb) — Urges the university board of regents to continue preparations for establishment of a law school.

On a 3 to 3 vote, this resolution failed Friday to pass out of the Senate Human Resources Committee. Sen. Wilbur Faiss was absent from the session. Should it eventually pass out of the Senate, it may face an even rougher time in the Assembly where there is a widespread belief the university system is handicapped by too many new programs. The view of many assemblymembers is that university resources are spread far too thin.

S.C.R. 27 (Committee on Human Resources) — Puts the legislature on record in favor of a school of architecture and urban and environmental design at UNLV, but does not actually establish the school. This resolution got out of Human Resources with a favorable recommendation. Action is pending in the Senate.

Nurses (Orvis School of Nursing)

A.B. 49 (Virgil Getto, Joe Dini, Nick Horn) — Increases standards for licensing of nurses and limits reciprocity of admission of foreign nurses. Passed the Assembly March 12, has received a "do pass" recommendation from the Senate Commerce and Labor Committee. Action pending in the Senate.

A.B. 50 (Virgil Getto and four co-sponsors) — Increases license fees for nurses, and increases compensation to state nursing board members. Passed the legislature, signed by the governor April 4. Takes effect July 1.

A.B. 51 (Virgil Getto and four co-sponsors) — Sets continuing education requirements for nurses. This bill passed the assembly in February. In April, it passed the Senate, but in a different form. The Assembly has refused to go along with the Senate's changes in the bill.

S.B. 145 (Committee on Human Resources) — Permits registered nurses to perform additional functions. Passed Senate, presently in Assembly commerce.

S.B. 312 (Committee on Commerce and Labor) — Authorizes registered nurses to perform certain obstetrical acts. No action has been taken on this bill.

University police

A.B. 167 (Lloyd Mann, introduced by request) —

This bill proposes to set them back again to four years. It is still in committee, where it hasn't moved since introduction March 1.

S.J.R. 12 (Norman Glaser and 11 co-sponsors) — Would amend the constitution to provide for appointment of the board of regents. They are presently elected. (There is a peculiarity in this measure. The summary states it provides for the appointment of both university regents and community college trustees — but the body of the resolution itself makes no mention of trustees.) The resolution has passed the Senate and is now in the Assembly Elections Committee. It was opposed editorially last week by the Reno newspapers.

Veterans

S.B. 22 (Wilbur Faiss and Gene Echols) — Provides means for veterans to obtain homes and farms. The bill was sent out of the Human Resources

Mackay Week is relived on pages 6 and 7 for those unable to attend, or just want something to remember it by....

UNR's Bill Wallace needed just one hit and he got it yesterday to break the single-season hit record. The story is on page 11....

Changes the title of a variety of security officers in school districts to "enforcement officers." Introduced in the legislature's second week, it was referred to the education committee and has not been heard of since.

A.B. 770 (Committee on Judiciary) — This bill would extend the authority of the university police into the neighborhoods and area surrounding the university. It was introduced at the 1975 session and died because of committee members' anger over irregularities in testimony presented on its behalf. This bill is opposed by Chancellor Donald Baepler. It was introduced April 18, and is now in the judiciary committee.

Board of Regents

S.B. 284 (Committee on Human Resources) — Shortens length of terms of regents of the university. The regents' terms were just lengthened to six years.

Committee without a recommendation and referred to the Finance Committee.

S.B. 126 (Keith Ashworth and eight co-sponsors) — Provides loan guarantee benefits for veterans. This bill has been in the Human Resources Committee since January.

WICHE (Western Regional Higher Education Compact)

S.B. 207 (Committee on Finance) — WICHE is an interstate body through which states swap resources. For example, students from Nevada, which has no law school, can attend law schools in other states with assistance from WICHE. This bill provides an appropriation of $11,000 to pay Nevada's dues in WICHE.

S.B. 287 (Thomas Wilson) — Repeals provisions for contributions and repayment by students under WICHE program. In Finance Committee.

Letters

ROTC is an integral part of UNR

Editor:

I take exception to Americo Chiarito's snippy letter in last Friday's Sagebrush. While he is entitled to his opinions, I hasten to remind him that ROTC is by definition an integral part of all Land Grant institutions such as this one.

The Nevada Constitution of 1864 contains, as John Whitehead has said, "one of the most elaborate plans for a university ever proposed in any state." This is something we can all take pride in. Article XI, Section 8, of the Nevada Constitution provides that revenue from federal land grants (under Morrill Act of 1862) be used "for a college for the benefit of agriculture, the mechanic arts, and including military tactics..." The ROTC program at this university is central to the plan which endowed this institution with the revenue from 90,000 acres of donated federal lands. Without ROTC, presumably, all federal funding to the University of Nevada would cease. Even Chiarito must be aware of what the loss of these monies would mean. I am surprised that a reference librarian has not considered the matter more seriously. The ROTC program is and always has been an important aspect of this university's curriculum.

As for Cari Lockett's letter opposing "forced military conscription," I only hope she attended the lecture last Thursday evening in the Pine Auditorium of the student union. Commander Hunter, who is with the Department of Defense's manpower and logistics division, gave an inspired and inspiring account of the success of the all-volunteer force which composes today's American armed forces. It was much like attending a stockholder's meeting: Hunter is obviously proud of the achievements of the department and was, I think, able to convey some of that sense of accomplishment to those citizens who came to hear him speak.

With such intelligent, level-headed and incisive individuals as Hunter in positions of responsibility, I think all Americans can take pride in our armed forces. Commander Hunter appeared under the auspices of The Center and UNR's ROTC Department, and I wish to take this opportunity to thank them both for bringing him here to speak.

Sincerely,
Tim Gorelangton

THE UNIVERSITY OF NEVADA AT RENO

Employment is up, so enrollment goes down

Greg Koelfgen

Northern Nevada's recent employment boom is reflected in a decrease of Washoe County residents attending UNR in the past year, according to the first spring 1979 enrollment figures from the Registrar's Office.

In a comparison of current semester figures with those of Spring 1978, it was found the number of Washoe County students on campus declined from 4,446 to 4,220, a decrease of over five percent. In addition, the number of Nevada students at UNR has decreased by about four percent.

Virginia Rassuchine, supervisor of Admissions and Records, attributes the declines to growing employment in the state, especially in Washoe County.

"Where employment is high, enrollment goes down," Rassuchine said.

She feels the decline also reflects the overall decrease in UNR enrollment and the growth of Nevada community colleges. They attract students, Rassuchine said, because of their flexible class schedules and lower fees.

Although local and state enrollment has decreased, Clark County students are attending UNR in increasing numbers — up almost five percent from last spring.

Rassuchine explained it is believed the increase of Clark County students occurred because UNR has more of a "campus atmosphere, especially with regard to on campus living arrangements" than UNLV provides. Also, paying in-state tuition while going away to school appeals to southern Nevadans, she said.

Out-of-state enrollment also showed an increase in the past year. It is up over 10 percent, from 856 students last spring to 945 this semester. Enrollment for Californians has increased by almost the same percentage.

"A large number of those students are junior college transfers from northern California," Rassuchine explained.

Like many other American universities, UNR has experienced a large influx of Iranian students. Enrollment figures show a 50 percent increase in Iranians — from 48 students in 1978 to 72 this semester. Total foreign student enrollment is up approximately 15 percent.

Rassuchine feels the increase is due to the fact that "UNR has been very receptive to foreign students." She added that a "grapevine approach" leads foreign students to persuade their relatives and friends to attend the school. "There's been a fabulous increase in foreign mail (applications) in the past year," she said.

Most of the schools within UNR felt the effect of the overall enrollment drop. However, the schools of Business Administration and Engineering showed increases in the past year, with engineering showing a gain of over 10 percent.

Only one more weekend remains for the UNR Repertory's production of "Charley's Aunt." The play will run Friday and Saturday nights at the Church Fine Arts Theater.

Class of '29 hosts reunion

UNR's Class of 1929 will hold its Golden Reunion Saturday, May 19, following the university's commencement ceremony.

The class will be recognized during the ceremony, and a luncheon will be held in their honor after the graduation reception in the Ed Pine Auditorium of the Jot Travis Student Union.

Some 90 members of the class have been invited back for the celebration, sponsored by UNR's Office of Alumni and University Relations.

Most of the golden reunion class reside in Nevada. Others will travel from as far away as New York, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Georgia, Texas and Mexico.

One notable graduate attending the celebration will be Reno area doctor Louis Lombardi who has served on the University of Nevada Board of Regents for 28 years.

Others include former state representatives James C. Bailey and Warren L. Monroe; Leland M. Burge, former employee of Nevada's Department of Agriculture and Leo. F. Sauer, former Washoe County commissioner. Elbert B. Edwards, director of the state's retirement board; Byron Stetler, former superintendent of instruction for Nevada and David Burns, former owner of the Holiday Hotel, will also be in attendance. Homer Raycraft, retired Reno newspaperman; William C. Sanford, attorney and Board of Trustee of Hastings Law School; and Dr. Edwin C. Streng, Reno optometrist, will be present.

The Associated Women Students (AWS) of UNR held their "Women's Night of Honor" April 23. There they recognized the academic achievement and involvement in campus activities of numerous service organizations, sororities and individuals during the 1978-79 school year.

AWS also installed new officers during the proceedings. They are: president, Lolene Schwartz; vice president of activities, Laurie Kalanges; vice president for publicity, Ginny De Rosa; and secretary-treasurer, Laurie Robertson.

Wendy Wilson was selected outstanding senior woman, and Lisa Barbash was selected Gamma Phi Beta outstanding Greek Woman.

The 10 outstanding senior women were Barbara Carlsen, Carrie Karzas, Nancy Seufferle, Cheryl Lane, Lisa Barbash, Jolane Anderson, Wendy Wilson, Marcelle Prina, Lisa Barbary and Virginia Zuniga.

Living group scholarship awards — honoring academic achievement in dormitory groups and sororities — were also announced at the program.

For the spring 1979 semester the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority took top honors in the overall academic excellence category, as well as in the active members category. Pi Beta Phi sorority took awards in the pledge and academic improvement categories.

All 1978 living group scholarship awards were dominated by Kappa Alpha Theta in all areas except academic improvement, where Gamma Phi Beta took the award.

The SPURS sophomore service organization also announced the winners of the "Spur of the Year" and "Spursonality" awards. Spur of the year was Tammy Durbin, and Spursonality honors went to Debbie Prina.

The SPURS also announced new members for 1979-80. They are Tammy Argeres, Peggy Berney, Karen Real, Paula Edgington and Lori Foote. Virginia Fung, Debra Hatch, Roberta Hiatt, Jane Lazovitch, Catherine Lentini, Nancy Long and Caroline Orcutt are also new members. Also joining are Lori Osgood, Shari Perkins, Lori Phelps, K. Pringle, Karen Raven, Diane Sekiguichi, Melissa Sharp and Jeanne Sparks. Catherine Starrett, Diane Stern, Christine Thomas, William Trigerro, Tricia Westergard and Laurie Bissett are also new Spurs.

The Sagens service organization also announced their new members at the program. They are Jill Holderman, Peggy Klaich, Andrea Podell, Lisa Butler, Marcene Capurro, Valerie Heleck and Marisa MacNelly. Dawn Carter, Stephanie Brown, Anella Pennola, Jamie Newpher, Mandy Meeker, Candi Jackson, Janice Williams and Laurie Chapman also joined. Tammy Durbin, Tamela Romelli, Leslie Barcellos, Kathy Porter, Anne Willie, Mary Jacques, Kris Short, Tammy Abernathy, Laurie Robertson and Katy Pastrell are also new members.

New Mackay Misses are Susie Gray, Debbie Prina, Loni Harriet, Kathy Saulisberry, Theresa Ponton, Bobbie Wiley, Tammy Durbin, Tami Morgan, Kitty Mentaberry and Anella Pennola.

New Colonel's Coeds are Theresa Hinen, Sue Kearny, Shelly Lewis, Anella Pennola, Tami Romelli and Anne Willie.

Short Takes

Get your "s" senses together

"Size, Shape, Symmetry, Sense and Smell" will be explored at the Chemistry Seminar and High School Awards Ceremony at UNR May 4.

Sponsored by the Sierra Nevada Section of the American Chemical Society (ACS), the event will feature Dr. Lester Friedman of the AMVAC Chemical Corp as guest speaker.

The seminar will focus on the molecular aspects of olfaction: how the size, shape and symmetry of molecules are related to how we perceive their odor. The seminar is of a general nature, providing an introduction and overview to this interesting topic.

Preceding the 4 p.m. seminar will be a reception in the Chemistry Lecture Building, Room 3. It will begin at 3 p.m. and refreshments will be served.

The awards ceremony will begin at 3:30 p.m. and will honor this year's ACS High School Chemistry Award winners. The winners were chosen from area high schools on the basis of their performances on an examination written and graded by the Nevada ACS section.

Dr. H. Eugene Le May Jr., an associate professor of chemistry at UNR and secretary-treasurer of ACS, said the public is invited to attend.

twofold: to lecture and to observe Harrington's experiments in relation to his own theories of genetic material.

Prior to Manning's professorship at Harvard, he taught chemistry at the University of California-La Jolla and Rutgers University.

Harrington said the public is invited to attend the lecture.

Hall govt.

Nominations for 1979-80 Interhall president, secretary and treasurer will be held May 8 at 6 p.m. in the Jot Travis Mobley Room.

According to Interhall adviser Vada Trimble, being an officer in the inter-dorm council is an excellent opportunity for residents to spend Housing funds on dorm functions.

Further information may be obtained at Housing or from Interhall President Becky Johnson.

Sniff a flower

There will be two Sierra Club trips this weekend. Saturday Margie Sill will lead a wildflower trip. Call 322-2867 for details. Sunday there will be a strenuous trip up Bronco Creek. Call Jack Hathaway, 358-9298.

Fling a nurse

The Orvis School of Nursing Alumni "Spring Fling," honoring 1979 graduates, is scheduled for May 10.

The formal reception after a business meeting will be the first social event for the newly formed alumni group. It will be at 5 p.m. in the Pine Auditorium of the Jot Travis Student Union, according to school officials.

All Nursing School alumni are requested to contact the school for reservations.

Jot Travis Student Union, and the public is welcome.

Students receiving awards were chosen by military science faculty and by their fellow ROTC cadets.

Top awards include the Governor's Medal, the President's Medal, the Wisam Memorial Scholarship, the George C. Marshall Award and the ROTC Distinguished Military Graduates.

Cop grads

Two university police officers will graduate from the Nevada Highway Patrol Academy at 10 a.m. Friday. The ceremony will be at the Naval Reserve Center at Stead.

The graduates, Charles Carpenter and Daniel Boomgaarden, will continue working full time with the university police, Chief Keith A. Shumway said.

Pin a nurse

A traditional pinning ceremony sponsored by the Orvis School of Nursing for its 1979 graduates is scheduled for May 18 in the Pine Auditorium of Jot Travis Student Union.

Dean Vera Brand will present each graduate with a school pin. Nancy Gilman's Flute Trio will perform.

The ceremony will be at 7:30 p.m. Relatives and friends of students will be admitted by invitation.

Mackay results

Bob Wines was chosen as Pa Mackay, Kathy Saulisberry as Ma Mackay and Omega Xi fraternity won the overall trophy as the 1979 version of Mackay Week wended to a close last Friday.

Omega Xi tallied 52 points to win the trophy easily. Kappa Alpha Theta sorority copped the women's trophy with 27 points.

The runners up in the Ma and Pa Mackay voting were Mark Evasovic for Pa and Charlene Clark for Ma.

UNR's Military Science Department will present 68 awards to outstanding ROTC cadets at its annual ROTC Awards Day Thursday, May 3.

The ceremony will be held at 3:30 p.m. in the Pine Auditorium of UNR's

Gambling craze

The Fifth Annual Casino Night, sponsored by Interhall, will be held at 8 p.m. to midnight Saturday in the dining commons.

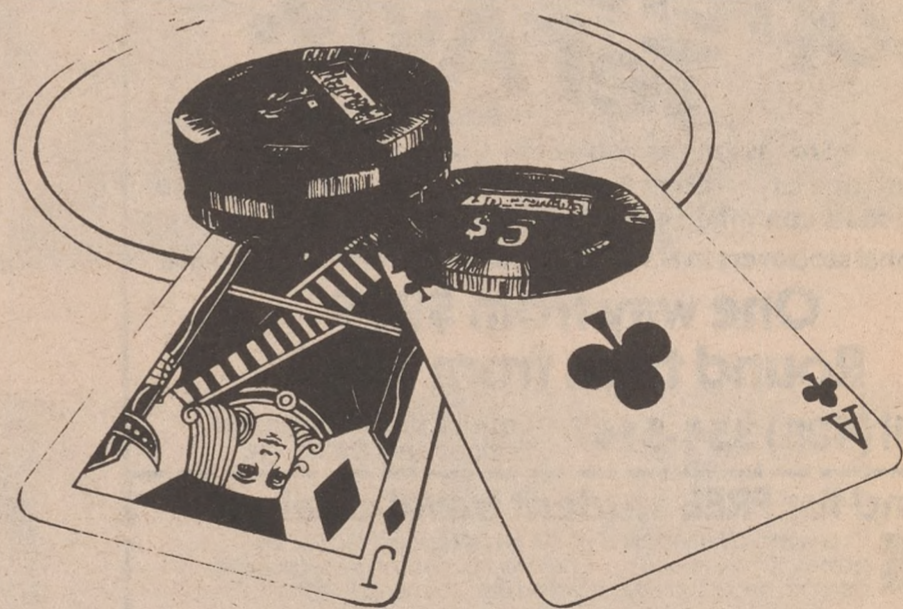

For 25 cents dorm residents will be given $1000 play money to gamble at blackjack, poker, bingo and other games. The event will be complete with lounge entertainment and refreshments. It will culminate with gamblers spending their winnings in an auction for many valuable prizes.

Harvard heads

A Harvard University chemistry professor will discuss "Applications of Polyelectrolyte Theory to Chromatin Structure" at a lecture Thursday.

Regarded as a leading young researcher, Dr. Jerry Manning is a theoretical chemist interested in applications of physical chemistry to the structure of the genetic material in living cells.

According to Dr. Rodney Harrington, UNR professor of chemistry, Manning's visit will be

Hill's top 10: Like 'em or leave 'em

This week I would like to share with you some of my all-time favorite albums. I chose 10, most from my collection, that I could listen to day and night. Some of them have seen better days, but what the heck. I can always get a new stylus...

1. DAVE MASON — "Alone Together" I've had this album at least three different times. Originally the album came out in a collector's edition. It was a multicolored disc, like a kaleidoscope. Songs like "Look At You Look At Me," "Only You Know And I Know," were very fine, and contain a nice blend of acoustic and electric guitar. He came out with subsequent albums which contained these songs but they couldn't compare with this fine studio album. Since I've had my third copy since 1975, it has a lot of scratches but is worth playing.

2. EMERSON, LAKE & PALMER — "Trilogy" (1972) First time I heard this I was a green high school sophomore. Emerson's synthesized keyboards were quite advanced, the title track being one of the most awesome I've heard. Greg Lake in "From The Beginning" has been a reliable tune. Aaron Copeland's "Hoedown" has great arrangement. Lots of keyboards and fine instrumentals.

3. THE DOORS — "The Doors" This debut album was a milestone for rock. It contained one of the first extensive jams, "Light My Fire." You'll remember at the time it was a number one hit, in full and 45" length. Many good songs on this album. Definitely an album for everyone's collection. Vocalist Jim Morrison and keyboard man Ray Manzarek combine for some super material: "Break On Through" and "Take It As It Comes" are two songs which feature the band in its best moments. Morrison, one of the foundations of rock, comes alive on this album. Get it if you don't have it.

4. PINK FLOYD — "Dark Side Of The Moon" A Christmas gift from a sister this album can be listened to with scrutiny to this day. The 1973 release boosted Pink Floyd near the top of the rock scene. "Time" and "Money" are two top cuts of this album. David Gilmour's guitar leads are outstanding and his backup of Richard Wright on keyboards, Nick Wright on percussion and Roger Waters on the bass combine for a sound that is ideal progressive rock. "Us And Them" is a great song that is equipped with great solos by Gilmour and Wright. This album changed my life and made me aware of music on the other side of the spectrum.

5. TOM SCOTT — "The New York Connection" (1975) This album, song for song, is one of the best jazz LPs I've heard. Saw the man at the Cal Neva Lodge last year and he put on a complete show consisting of songs from this and other albums. He is very versatile as writer, performer and arranger. Entirely instrumental "Uptown and Country," "Dirty Old Man" and "Midtown Rush" are the fine selections from this always listenable album.

6. LED ZEPPELIN — "IV" This album gets off to a rocking start with "Black Dog" and is unrelenting thereafter. "Stairway to Heaven" is one of rock's all-time greatest hits and is the leader on this album. "When The Levee Breaks" is another of the Zeppelin's balls-out tunes. Jimmy Page and Robert Plant make a prominent combination in the rock and roll scene.

7. THE BEATLES — "Rubber Soul" I wish I had this album. I consider it one of the best by the Beatles. It came out when Lennon made the remark that that the band was more famous than Jesus...remember that? "Michelle" and "Norwegian Wood" are my favorite songs on this album which has the splendid vocals and harmonies and the versatile teamwork which made the band the greatest in history.

8. ALAN PARSONS PROJECT — "Tales of Mystery and Imagination" Heard this for the first time in Nye Hall in 1977. This album caused a sensation from within. Starting with "The Raven," this album is as off-the-wall as you'd want to find but quality as well. "Dr. Tarr and Prof. Fether" cap a great first side. Subsequent works by this writer-producer can't reach the pinnacle this one achieved.

9. THE ROLLING STONES — "Sticky Fingers" Great album jacket. This album begins with red-hot "Brown Sugar" and continues with my favorite Stones song, "Can't You Hear Me Knocking." Jagger, Richard, Wyman and Watts cook throughout this album and take a breather with "Wild Horses," five minutes of introspective greatness.

10. THE WHO — "Who's Next" This powerful album has it all. Non-stop pounding from one of rock's greatest bands including drummer Keith Moon. Townshend, who wrote most of it and Daltrey, who performed most of it, sound in top form. "Baba O'Reilly," "Bargain" and "We Won't Get Fooled Again" are high-energy rockers which erode one's willingness to conform. Saw these guys in concert once. Daltrey, with his microphone-swinging act, along with Townshend's methodical guitar licks, Entwistle's business-like approach, can't compare to Moon's wild antics on stage. Woodstock was when the band destroyed most of its equipment on stage. Simply a tremendous album. A must for everyone.

I realize I left many fine albums out of this list. Jeff Beck's "Blow By Blow" could make a poor phonograph sound like a $2,000 model; it has great fidelity. Boston's debut album was something special. The Doobie Brothers "Captain and Me" album contained some of their greatest hits like "China Grove," "Fragile" and the "Yes Album" were two fine albums by that great English band. Supertramp's "Crime Of The Century" album launched them to success. The Pat Metheny Group was one of jazz's top releases last year.

Many great albums have come and gone through the years. You have your favorites. Hold on to them.

Problems, problems, problems

Dear G.T.H.:

Is it better to squeeze a zit or leave it alone?

Signed,
Bump City

Dear Bump:

Leave it alone...if you can. For bad cases, go see Dr. McClintock at the Student Health Center.

Don't squeeze in public,
G.T.H.

Dear G.T.H.:

I'm really getting "wired" with finals coming up. My roommate does TM and swears by it. Seems a little weird to me, what do you think?

Signed,
BM or TM?

Dear Wired:

TM (Transcendental Meditation) has been scientifically proven to accomplish a number of physiological changes, all of which are relaxing. Brain waves slow down, as does muscle tension, breathing, heart rate, etc. It accomplishes not only central nervous system relaxation but also autonomic nervous system relaxation. I think it beats the hell out of taking tranquilizers!

However, there are some drawbacks to TM. First, is the expense. Something so simple need not cost so much. In fact, by purchasing a book by Herbert Benson, M.D., called "The Relaxation Response," you can teach yourself to reach the same relaxation levels for just the cost of the book. People who pay a lot of money for something tend to use it more, and this may be the only justification for the expense of TM. Second, TM is a little weird by Western standards, but not weird enough to keep you from learning a valuable skill. And finally, some TM practitioners seem to go overboard, and get a little too kicked-back...all things in moderation, as the saying goes.

G.T.H.

Dear G.T.H.:

I was trying on a bikini top the other day at Macy's and noticed one of my breasts was larger than the other. Should I go see a doctor?

Signed,
Lop-sided

Dear Lop:

Nope. One is supposed to be larger than the other. While we're on the subject of breasts, I hope all of you ladies are doing self-breast exams (or teaching your boyfriends how...men detect more breast cancer in this country than women do).

If you don't know how to do a breast exam, go find out, or you risk a radical mastectomy! Guys who learn how could have a new line for the first date.

Pleasant prevention,
G.T.H.

Choral music featured

A program of choral music featuring works from the Renaissance, Baroque and modern musical periods, as well as a selection of American and European folk songs, will be performed by UNR's University Singers and the Washoe County High School Honors Choir at 8 p.m. Wednesday, May 9, in the Ed Pine Auditorium of UNR's Jot Travis Student Union.

The program is sponsored by the Music Department at UNR, and is open to the public with no admission charge.

Dr. Perry Jones, director of UNR choral activities, will direct.

Jones said the University Singers will perform a selection of Renaissance and Baroque oratorios and a mixture of Slavic folk songs by the Hungarian composer Bela Bartok. Also featured will be an arrangement of the American Shaker folk song "Simple Gifts," which incorporates choralography into the music.

Choralography is a series of body movements that accompany a choral composition, Jones explained. He said while similar to a dance, it is not quite a dance.

The University Singers will also perform an avant-garde composition by American composer Hanley Jackson titled "A Child's Ghetto." Jones said it is a composition for chorus and magnetic tape which achieves some very unusual tonal effects using a tape recorder.

Featured soloists for the University Singers will be Evelyn De la Rosa, soprano; Dellora Zajic, contralto; Terry Flannigan, tenor; and Steve Knapp and Scott Koepf, bass.

Jones said the 24-voice Washoe County Honors Chamber Choir will perform a selection of madrigals by various composers and two folk songs by Johannes Brahms during the program intermission.

Dr. Perry Jones is the newly appointed director of choral activities at UNR, and has held similar positions at South Dakota State University and Michigan State University. He holds a bachelor's, master's and doctorate from the University of Iowa.

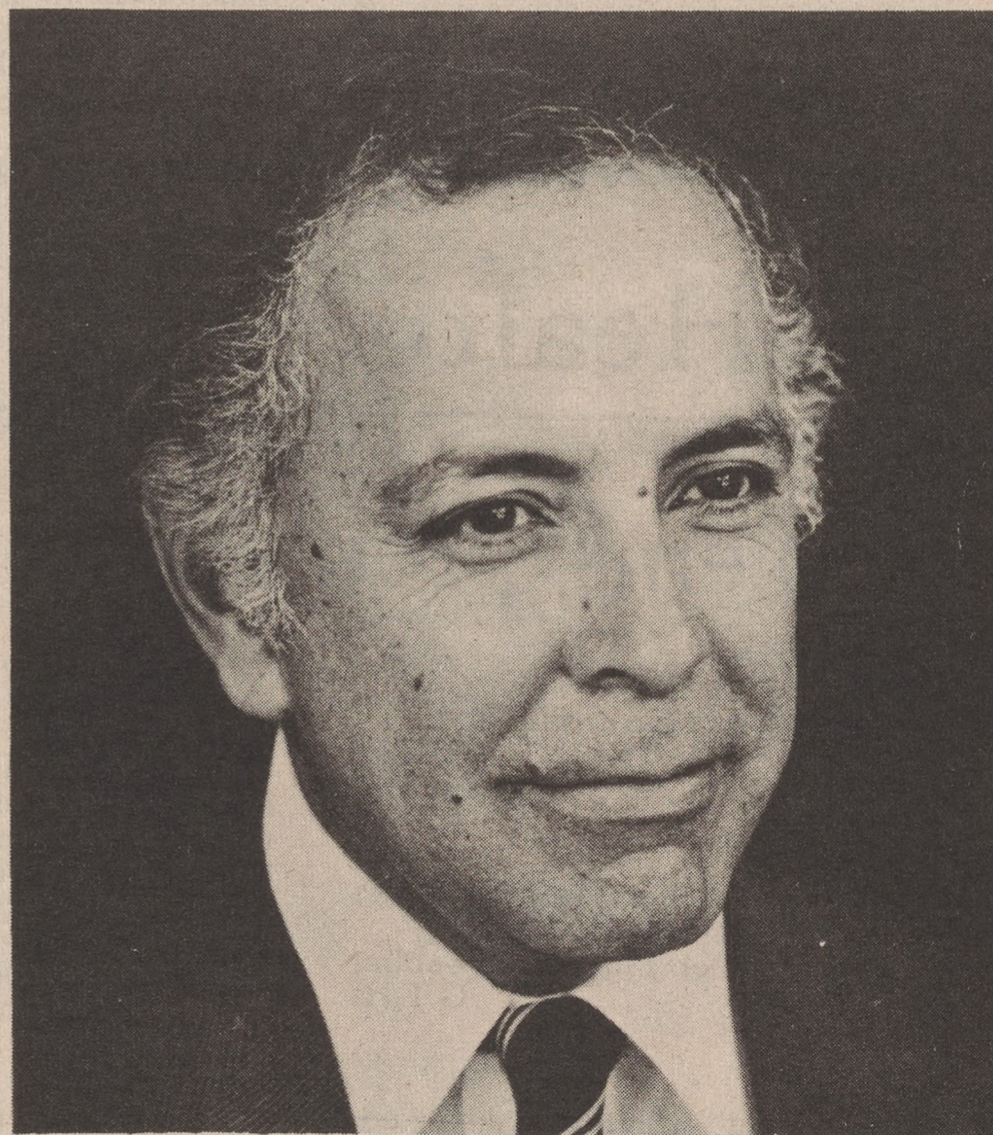

Jones has written numerous choral pieces, and published articles for several professional journals. In addition, his choral groups have toured throughout Europe.

Candidate to speak

Ben Fernandez, a Republican candidate for president of the United States, will speak at noon tomorrow in Jot Travis Student Union. His appearance is sponsored by the UNR Spanish Club. A question and answer

The article continued: "He identified as the 'four fundamental values' of the American system 'the work ethic, freedom of choice, opportunity and free enterprise.'" period will follow his presentation.

A lifelong Republican, Fernandez

Known as "Mr. Hispanic Republican," Fernandez hopes to be the first American president of Spanish heritage. According to an article appearing in the March 23, 1979, Reno Evening Gazette, he is one of 10 Republican campaigns registered so far with the Federal Election Commission.

According to a story appearing in the Nov. 30, 1978, New York Times, Fernandez "outlined a conservative philosophy that he said placed him to the left of Ronald Reagan, the former California Governor, and Rep. (Philip) Crane" of Illinois, whose candidacy was announced last August.

was born of Mexican immigrant parents in a boxcar in 1925 and became a millionaire management consultant. "In 1972," according to the Gazette article, "he volunteered to set up the National Hispanic Finance Committee to re-elect the president and became chairman of that arm of Richard Nixon's finance organization.

He later testified before the Senate's Watergate Committee, denying allegations he had solicited campaign contributions from a Florida contractor by offering him government help. According to the Time's story "Fernandez said that he was completely and fully exonerated" by the committee.

Wallace breaks record

Chris Healy

Bill Wallace tied a school record for hits in a season Saturday when he rapped out three, including a two-run double, to lead the Wolf Pack to a victory in the second game of a doubleheader with the University of San Francisco. The Dons won the first game 4-3.

The double was the 61st safety of the season for the first baseman-designated hitter. One more hit and Wallace will pass former Wolf Pack star Ron Ball who set the record in 1977.

Al Kirby went the distance in the second game, a 6-1 victory, to claim his eighth victory of the season without a loss.

Four UNR errors in the first game of the twin bill enabled USF to gain their first conference victory of the second half. Wolf Pack pitcher Gary Ghan was the victim of the shoddy defense in the 4-3 defeat. A ninth inning rally by the Pack fell short when Don right-fielder Dave Luhrs robbed Stan Lyons of a potential game-winning double with two runners on base.

UNR took two of three from the Dons in the weekend series. The Pack won Friday's game 4-3 in 10 innings. It was extended to the extra frame after shortstop Don Biehle's error in the ninth inning.

Biehle made up for the blunder when he doubled in Mike Wallace from first base with the winning run in the bottom of the 10th. The game-winning hit would have only been a single but the rough outfield turf on the Wolf Pack's home field caused the ball to hop over the USF leftfielder's head and roll to the fence, ending the game.

The Wolf Pack's season record now stands at 23-21 going into the final two weeks of play. Today, the Pack plays Chico State in a noon doubleheader.

Intramural soccer

Intramural indoor soccer competition at UNR began its second season last week at the Lombardi Recreation Center.

Seventeen teams are competing in three leagues — fraternity, national and international. The season will last two more weeks.

"The enthusiasm is there but unfortunately the season falls at a bad time of the year," Terry Day, principal organizer of the intramurals, said. "The season conflicts with final exams and there is little time to play."

Day noted that since indoor soccer requires the use of a whole gym, the season could not be moved up because it would conflict with intramural basketball. He hopes to move the season to the fall semester and to introduce coed participation.

LATE FLASH!

Bill Wallace collected the needed record-breaking hit in yesterday's loss against Cal-Davis at the UNR field. The hit pushed Wallace ahead of Rob Ball with his 62nd hit of the 1979 season to establish the new single-season hit mark.
